Clean Goods. Clean Business Methods.

Our celebrated Double Extra (10 wire) Tapestries are for Novelty of Treatment and Superb Color Effects a Revelation in the Art of Tapestry Carpet Manufacture. Brussels and Axminster Effects can be seen to perfection in this Line. It is conceded by the trade that our line leads.

OUR WILTON VELVETS HAVE MORE THAN DOUBLED THEIR SALES IN THE PAST TWELVE MONTHS.

Our different grades have been greatly strengthened this season, and our trade mark [Patented October 6th, 1885,] (Wilton Backs) which we are now putting on our two lower grades of Tapestries is increasing the demand for these goods.

Being among the Largest Manufacturers of Tapestry Carpets in the world, shrewd Buyers will inspect our line before placing their orders.

Spring Announcement, 1896.

PHILADELPHIA, having taken a leaf from the book of experience of European cities, has erected a MAMMOTH EXCHANGE BUILDING entitled "THE BOURSE," in the business heart of the city, which manufacturers generally have been quick to take advantage of as affording them an opportunity to offer and sell their products to the merchants of the country without the latter being compelled, as heretofore, to travel over the great distances of the mill district.

CARPETS OF EVERY CLASS, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, LACE CURTAINS, OIL CLOTHS, &c., can be purchased DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS represented in the building.

Our magnificent offerings for SPRING, 1896, are now on show at

Rooms 602 & 603 "The Bourse" Building,

LOWELL MANUFACTURING CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Wiltons, Brussels, Ingrains.

LOWELL CARPETS have been justly celebrated for more than half a century. For the guidance of buyers the word "Lowell" is woven in white capital letters in the back of our Wiltons and Brussels at each repeat of the pattern. The fabrics are of the best quality, designs and coloring.

Our Middlesex Wiltons have the word "Middlesex" woven in the back. The word is registered as our Trade Mark in the United States Patent Office.

The popular Lowell Ingrains are wound on a hollow stick made in two solid pieces, with the words "Lowell Man'g. Co." stamped within, a patented United States Trade Mark.

Chicago Carpet Co., Ltd.,
Chicago, Ill.,

The direct successors to the firm of Allen, Mackey & Co., which was identified with the history of Chicago prior to and after the great fire.

In 1868 the above mentioned firm succeeded to the Carpet business of Potter Palmer, and after many years of business sold out to The Chicago Carpet Co. in 1876. Since that year the Carpet Co. has occupied its present site, and has made an enviable record as a reliable and enterprising house.

The Logic of Facts.

We have recently said something regarding the quality of our Linoleum, not the least feature of which was the reference to oil. THE FACT IS, WE ARE THE ONLY MAKERS OF LINOLEUM WHO ALSO PRODUCE LINSEED OIL, and we therefore positively know the kind of oil used in our Linoleum and that it is the best. The logic of facts is demonstrated in the composition of the BLABON LINOLEUM. The ingredients are of a superior kind, the thickness standard, and the patterns and colorings representations of advanced art in Floor Coverings. . . .

Blabon Linoleum.

The statements that thickness does not count are delusive. The more cork and linseed oil used the greater the thickness and cost and the better the goods. We have seen some Linoleum (imported) that could not stand on end in the roll; it lacked substance because the materials were not there. You cannot make Linoleum by simply painting a textile fabric. Toughness, Elasticity and Wear are obtained in the Blabon Linoleum. Any goods sold at lower prices than ours are far more inferior in quality than they are lower in price. When you buy of the Jobber ask for BLABON'S Linoleum, and be assured by us that you are getting unbeatable value.

Floor Oil Cloth.

The same care and attention referred to as being applied to the production of our Linoleum is likewise given to the manufacture of our Floor Oil Cloth. Our own make of linseed oil goes into our Oil Cloths, and our equipment of plant for rapid and economical manufacture is unsurpassed. We will not say here that we are the largest makers of Floor Oil Cloths, but we can justifiably enter any contest for that designation. In Styles of Oil Cloths, too, we invite any comparison.

Bigelow Carpet Company,

ORIGINAL POWER-LOOM MANUFACTURERS OF

WILTON AND BRUSSELS

CARPETS.

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1878, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements, and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Wiltons or Body Brussels.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT, PAGE 49.

☞Our readers are urged to remember that we are always desirous to receive communications of interest to the carpet or upholstery trades, such as changes in firms or managers, the building or opening of new stores, improvements in old ones, the adding of new departments, improved methods of doing business, new inventions, suggestions as to the cutting, making and laying of carpets, the designing and fitting of draperies, or inquiries and dissertations relating to the technical or commercial details of the trades to which this periodical is devoted.

THE TRADE SITUATION.

ORDERS are being taken in fair volume on the road, but the Christmas trade and stock taking have of course interfered seriously with the efforts of the carpet salesmen, and especially in the department stores. In view of the large number of these establishments which do a carpet business, and the well-known unwillingness of their buyers or proprietors to look at carpet samples during the holiday season, it seems hardly wise for manufacturers to send out salesmen so early.

The Lowell Company has issued its price list, which appears elsewhere in this issue. It makes no change in prices. W. & J. Sloane have notified the trade that Moquettes will be advanced 5 cents a yard on the 20th inst.

The new tariff bill, which has passed the House, provides for a duty on carpet wool and higher duties on carpeting. If the bill becomes a law, which is somewhat doubtful, the duty on wool will result in a material advance in prices of carpeting. The wool market is now very firm, and the general situation is exerting a stiffening tendency on prices of wool and all other raw materials of carpet manufacture.

THE TARIFF SITUATION.

THE full text of the new tariff bill passed by the House on the 26th ult. is given elsewhere in this issue. If the bill should become a law the carpet trade would be materially affected, as the bill provides for the restoration of the McKinley rates on carpet wools and for new specific rates of duty on carpeting to compensate for the higher duties on wools used in carpet manufacturing. The bill calls for duties on such wools as follows :

Class 3. Donskoi, native South American, native Smyrna, Russian camel's hair and similar wools, 32 per cent. ad valorem on all wool valued at 13 cents or less, 50 per cent. ad valorem on all wool valued at over 13 cents.

Noils, shoddy, top waste, ring waste, roving waste, garnetted waste, and all other wastes, wholly or partly of wool, 18 cents per pound.

The specific duties which the bill adds to the ad valorem duties now imposed on carpeting are as follows :

Saxony, Wilton and Tournay Velvet, Axminster, Moquette and Chenille carpets, Oriental and Berlin rugs, 60 cents per square yard.
Brussels carpets, 44 cents per square yard.
Velvet and Velvet Tapestry carpets, 40 cents per square yard.
Tapestry Brussels carpets, 28 cents per square yard.

Treble Ingrain, three ply and all chain Venetian carpets, 19 cents per square yard.

Wool Dutch and two ply Ingrain carpets, 4 cents per square yard,

Druggets and bockings, 22 cents per square yard.

Felt carpeting, 11 cents per square yard.

The bill also provides for a horizontal increase of 15 per cent. on goods classed under certain schedules in the present tariff, and among the schedules referred to in this connection is N. The free list is included in this schedule, and as straw matting is now free of duty it is important for the trade to know whether it is the intention of the bill to make matting dutiable. In answer to a direct question put by THE REVIEW, Mr. Dingley, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, telegraphed as follows :

WASHINGTON, December 27, 1895.

Bill which has passed House adds to present duty an equivalent of 15 per cent. of existing duty on all articles now on dutiable list, except sugar and manufactures of wool.

In the course of a previous statement made to the press Mr. Dingley used these words : "The committee had not the time to treat articles separately, and hence a horizontal increase became necessary as to all articles now on the free list."

On the other hand a careful reading of the section to which Mr. Dingley referred in the foregoing words seems to justify the idea that the bill itself does not call for any duty on straw matting.

The matter is of serious importance to all importers or jobbers of Chinese or Japanese mattings, for the larger part of the sales for the coming season have already been made, the prices being of course fixed without any doubt that matting would continue to come in free of duty.

But there is now a strong probability that the bill will not become a law.

MOQUETTES ADVANCED IN PRICE.

W. & J. SLOANE have issued the following circular announcing an advance of 5 cents a yard on Moquette carpets :

NEW YORK, December 24, 1895.

GENTLEMEN—We beg to advise you that the price of Moquette carpets will be advanced 5 cents a yard, to take effect on Monday, January 20, 1896. There will be a further advance at the same time of 15 cents on J rugs, 5 cents on E rugs and 2½ cents on E mats.

The improvement in the quality of Moquettes, requiring so much better materials than formerly, and the higher cost of everything that enters into their manufacture, positively forbid any further delay in advancing their price.

We shall continue to ship all we possibly can up to the date above mentioned, at the prices in effect from January 1, and shall be glad of an early intimation of any change you may wish to make in your order. W. & J. SLOANE, Broadway, Eighteeenth and Nineteenth streets.

C. E. GREEN, buyer for the rug department of Joseph Horne & Co., Pittsburg, has gone to Europe and the Orient to purchase new goods.

TIRED HUSBAND—I've had a terrible day at the office and I'm mad clear through.

WIFE—Now would be a good time for you to beat those rugs.—Truth.

LOWELL COMPANY'S PRICE LIST.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON, January 1, 1896.

GENTLEMEN—Herewith we submit present prices for the Lowell Manufacturing Company's carpets, subject to change without notice. Orders will be taken only at value when received :

Wilton, five frame	$1.75
Wilton, Middlesex, five frame	1.65
Brussels, three ply	.97½
Super, three ply	.67½
Extra Super	.47½

Terms—Thirty days, less 2 per cent.; 2-4 and 5-8 Brussels borders will be charged at 7½ cents, and 2-4 and 5-8 Wilton borders at 10 cents per running yard above proportion.

Difference on Frames—Wiltons, 7½ cents per yard; Brussels, 5 cents per yard. No claims allowed on Brussels for sprouting.

SMITH, HOGG & GARDNER.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

"PROSPERITY," says Bacon, "is not without many fears and disasters, and adversity is not without comforts and hopes."

In the year that is beginning we wish for our readers much prosperity, with few fears, and the smallest measure of adversity, with abundant hope.

LAST CALL ON THE REMNANT SUPPLEMENT.

IN our issue of the 15th ult. we notified dealers that lists of remnants intended for publication in our Remnant Supplement should be forwarded to us at once. A large number of the trade have responded promptly to our call, but some firms who are certain to ask for a place in the supplement have failed to send in their lists.

We must therefore urge them to delay no longer if they expect to be represented at all in the Supplement, for the 15th inst. is the latest date at which the Supplement can be kept open for them. No lists which reach us after that date can be used.

In preparing lists please write on only one side of the paper, beginning with the higher grades of goods and have borders follow bodies of the same make in order as follows : ¾, ⅝, 2-4 and 9 inch.

CHINA AND JAPAN MATTING FOR 1896.

THE American ship Centennial has arrived at Baltimore with a full cargo of matting and China goods for Lyon Brothers & Co., importers and shipping merchants, Baltimore. This firm established their line of sailing vessels in 1894, and quick passages have been the rule among the high-class ships composing the line. One of them made the voyage in eighty-nine days, and so far the longest passage has been 110 days. The Centennial is being followed by the ship Fred B. Litchfield, due in January, and another ship is due in March. All these vessels are loaded from keel to deck with China matting for the enterprising firm of Lyon Brothers & Co., who are certainly well situated to interest any buyer of matting, as they run their own vessels and have other exceptional and important facilities for meeting the demands of the trade.

THE law abolishing days of grace in Pennsylvania goes into effect to-day, January 1.

GLEANINGS IN GOTHAM

Happy New Year !

Have you learned to write it 1896 yet?

Among the mercies of the new year do not forget the new tariff.

Swear off everything, but keep up your subscription to THE REVIEW.

John J. Falahee is closing out his carpet and furniture business at 632 Eighth avenue.

J. Baumann & Brother, now at 1313 and 1315 Third avenue, will open their new store at 1479 to 1483 Third avenue in a few months.

If you know any sin stricken soul who has written 1895 about sixteen times, warn him against the thumb as an eraser. Steel is best, but rubber will do.

Wilmerding, Morris & Mitchell have reconstructed their White street establishment. Their business offices have been moved upstairs and other changes and improvements have been made.

Chauvet & Meyer, designers, 217 Sixth avenue, have dissolved partnership. Louis Chauvet will continue the business at the old stand. Julius S. Meyer will be found at 471 Sixth avenue.

Morris Phillips, carpet and furniture dealer, who recently opened a store at New Brunswick, N. J., has given up his store in this city at 111 Avenue B, and will give his entire attention to the New Jersey establishment.

Among the Brooklyn subscribers to the fund for procuring a silver service for the cruiser Brooklyn are the following: William Batterman, $25 ; Joseph Wechsler, $10 ; C. H. Medicus, $10 ; S. B. Chittenden, $10 ; H. Liebmann, $5 ; Samuel Stinson, $10.

The Quaint Club, an organization of feeders modeled after the Clover Club of Philadelphia, had its first dinner of the season at the Waldorf on December 18. One of the principal members of the "interruption" committee was a prominent Brooklyn carpet dealer.

Chas. T. Root, president of the Textile Publishing Company, has entered a complaint before the Police Board against the firm of D. Lendenborn & Co., auctioneers, 7 and 9 West Twentieth street, this city. Mr. Root complains that certain newspaper reporters have been forcibly ejected from the auction rooms of this firm. One form which the agitation against alleged "fake" rug auctions has taken is the stationing of reporters to watch the proceedings in auction rooms where rug sales are being held.

Extensive improvements have been made in the salesrooms of Reune Martin & Sons, the carpet commission merchants, 114 and 116 Worth street. The improvements include a new steel ceiling, replacing the old style plaster one.

When an officer went to arrest Mrs. Lulu Escher, of West Fifty-eighth street, the other day on a charge of buying carpets and furniture for which she had not paid, she appeared with only a single garment on, and, jumping into bed, defied him to take her to court in her fig leaf condition. When he threatened to take her in an ambulance with the bed clothes around her she capitulated.

Mrs. Catherine Coyne, widow of John Coyne, has issued a notice to the trade under date of December 20, stating that the firm of John Coyne & Co., carpet and furniture dealers, 534 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, will hereafter be known as the John Coyne Furniture Company, E. C. Lichtenstein and A. Wagner having retired from it. The business in future will be carried on by Mrs. Coyne as sole owner.

On the 18th ult. the General Term of the Supreme Court in an opinion affirmed the decree of Judge Ingraham rendered in an action brought by Lillie J. Earle, wife of Gen. Ferdinand P. Earle, to restrain the foreclosure of a mortgage given by the General to secure the payment of promissory notes for silverware and other merchandise purchased from W. & J. Sloane, the Gorham Company and the Phœnix Furniture Company.

There was a break in a steam pipe in the basement of Ehrich Brothers' dry goods store on the night of the 21st ult., and Albert Kanski, the assistant engineer, was so badly scalded that he was removed to the New York Hospital. Although the store was crowded at the time, none of the customers was aware of any trouble. The burst pipe was in the female employees' lunch room, and no one was in the room at the time of the explosion. Kanski went in there to stop the escape of steam.

Dennis Sullivan, thirteen years old, of 213 East 107th street, was employed as an errand boy by Joseph Hyams, of 59 East 108th street, in laying new carpets and oil cloths in some flats in 108th street. The boy stole a roll of oil cloth, valued at $3, from one of the flats on the 23d ult., and sold it for 50 cents to the captain of a sand schooner lying at the foot of East 113th street. The boy confessed his guilt when arraigned before Magistrate Crane at the Harlem Police Court on the 24th, but Mr. Hyams refused to prosecute him, and he was discharged.

Among the buyers in town during the holiday season were: Messrs. A. H. Dainty (retail), for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago; A. J. Eilers, of McKean, Eilers & Co., Austin, Tex.; Mark Henry, for Schlesinger & Mayer, and C. Wilcox, for Mandel Brothers, Chicago; J. A. Corcoran, for W. L. Milner & Co., Toledo, Ohio; Lee Douglas, of Douglas, Thomas & Davison, Atlanta, Ga.; David C. Beggs and C. Centner, of D. C. Beggs & Co., Columbus, Ohio; J. Higgins, for T. Kingsford, Oswego, N. Y.; Justus Goebel, of Lowry & Goebel, Cincinnati; W. A. Boyd, for the Julius Lansburgh Furniture and Carpet Company, Washington, D. C.; C. E. Green (rugs), for Joseph Horne & Co., Pittsburg; Robert Cruickshank, for J. N. Adam & Co., Buffalo, N. Y.; G. M. Crippen, of the Saratoga (N. Y.) Dry Goods Company.

CHICAGO CARPET NOTES.

CHICAGO, DECEMBER 24.

Some of the roadmen are coming back to spend Christmas here. They do not speak enthusiastically of trade thus far, but the general opinion is that it has been fairly satisfactory. Among those who are here are A. J. Moore and James Flanigan, representing T. B. Shoaff & Co., and Messrs. Hunter and Taylor of W. & J. Sloane's staff.

It is said that Siegel, Cooper & Co. have offered $80,000 to be released from a contract to lease a business building in San Francisco in which they were to open a big department store.

Henry Noe, who had charge of the Chicago Carpet Company's cut carpet department, has gone into business for himself in that line. He has opened an office opposite the J. V. Farwell Company on Market street.

The bad weather has killed what little there was of the carpet trade for the last few weeks. Most of the large stores sacrificed space and help in their departments to meet the trade in departments that are more popular at this season of the year. A good trade in rugs is reported.

Mr. Cunningham, who has been manager of Siegel, Cooper & Co.'s carpet department, has resigned his position. He will be succeeded by W. D. Porter, now one of Mandel Brothers' salesmen and formerly their manager. Mr. Porter came here several years ago from Rochester, N. Y., to take the management at Mandels'. Mr. Cunningham has nothing in view at present. R. H. H.

In the case of the Lowell Company against M. J. Whittall for alleged infringement of a carpet design, the United States Circuit Court has decided that upon the plaintiff making certain amendments to its bill it is to have an injunction and $250 damages.

A Noticeable feature of the spring line of Worcester Carpet Company's Wiltons and Brussels is the many purely original designs, effects absolutely different from those seen in any other line. The Worcester Company have had excellent success in their radical departures in styles during the past year and have extended their efforts in that direction for the spring. These original designs are patented, too, and therefore can only be made by Wm. J. Hogg. T. J. Keveney & Co. show the samples.

....The carpet stock of Jacob Crouse & Son was sold by the sheriff on the 30th ult.

....Geo. W. Hill, of the old house of Boyd, White & Co., has just returned from a trip to Europe.

....John & James Dobson have had a big run on Tapestry carpets during the past month, the result of Manager Coloney's judicious advertising.

....The formal dedication of the Bourse took place on the 31st ult. Speeches were made by Mayor Warwick, Dr. Pepper and John F. Lewis. On the night of the 30th ult. a banquet was held at which addresses were made by Senator Hawley and others.

....The big street car strike while it lasted almost paralyzed the holiday trade, as the tie-up was so complete as to cut off all communication with distant parts of the city. West Philadelphia was nearly isolated. Many of the large stores where great preparations had been made felt it severely.

....Hon. William Potter, of Thomas Potter, Sons & Co., Philadelphia, and late Minister to Italy, is taking an active part in the movement to reform the municipal administration. Mr. Potter acted as chairman of a mass meeting of citizens held in this city on the night of the 28th ult. in aid of the reform cause.

....The International Steamship Company were so well pleased with the manner in which their ships St. Paul and St. Louis were furnished by Strawbridge & Clothier that they have awarded the contract for furnishing the steamship Ohio, of the same line, now lying at Cramps' yards, to the same firm. Strawbridge & Clothier have also secured the furnishing of the United States battleship Massachusetts, now nearly completed.

....Edward C. Read, Lehigh avenue and Howard street, is working on very good spring orders for Extra Supers, Cotton Chains, medium, all wools, Unions and 10 pair Cottons. In materials, weave and styles Mr. Read's productions are of the most desirable character, and purchasers can rely upon getting the best possible value in these goods. The samples are shown at the mill, and also at Room 672, Bourse, where D. H. Wolfe is on hand to display the samples from 9:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. every week day.

The Kairio rug is the designation given to the improved quality of Japanese rugs now offered by E. T. Mason & Co. They are selling well and will be appreciated by every buyer on inspection.

S. C. Wilber will start out this week on his spring trip for Darragh & Smail, the cocoa mat and matting manufacturers. The business of Darragh & Smail is going on as usual and no changes in its operations have been made since the death of Thos. F. Bryce.

OBITUARY.

George W. Ennis.

A career full of wandering, adventure and of considerable and valuable achievement without great results for self ended in the death of George W. Ennis at Reading, Pa., December 27. He was stricken with a fainting spell while showing the samples of the rug department of Arnold, Constable & Co. a week before, and was taken to the Penn Hotel, where he died of heart failure and other complications resulting from Bright's disease. Very little is known of Mr. Ennis' early life. He was born in Indiana, ran away from school as a boy and made his way to New York, where he formed the acquaintance of a young man named Morgan, son of the head of the Southern Steamship Company, who persuaded him to take a trip to New Orleans, which he did. Once there he soon found himself without funds and worked his way up the Mississippi, and for a long time led a roving life in the West, eventually drifting back to New York, where he obtained employment in a carpet store. In 1863 he was with George W. Jenks in the carpet department of A. T. Stewart & Co. After two or three years' service he left to take a position with C. M. Plum & Co., San Francisco. He remained on the Pacific Coast some time and went thence to Canada. He was afterward with J. H. Pray, Sons & Co., of Boston, and W. & J. Sloane and Arnold, Constable & Co., in this city.

GEORGE W. ENNIS.

He went to Philadelphia in 1871, and at once made arrangements with McCallum, Crease & Sloan, then at 509 Chestnut street, and was for years one of the most successful men on the road. His next engagement was with John Bromley & Sons. At the time that firm was largely engaged in manufacturing Brussels and Ingrain carpets, and Mr. Ennis was unusually successful in distributing their goods over the Eastern section of the country. He was very largely instrumental in influencing John Bromley & Sons to embark in the manufacturing of Smyrna rugs, which industry has proved so highly successful with them.

On leaving Messrs. Bromley Mr. Ennis embarked in the manufacturing of Smyrna rugs himself, and for a time was quite successful, but misfortunes overtook him and he was obliged to relinquish the business.

The mill property was bought on May 19, 1887, by James Pollock, who, with several other gentlemen well known in the trade, organized the George W. Ennis Manufacturing Company, with Mr. Ennis as president. This venture also proved unsuccessful.

The old "Star and Crescent Mill" which he occupied is still standing at Front and Lehigh avenues, with the original sign attached.

After his retirement from the rug business his health became impaired and he remained for nearly a year in the Saint Joseph Hospital, at Fifteenth street and Girard avenue, Philadelphia, from which he was discharged much improved. He subsequently spent much of his time at the West, engaged in the mining business in Alaska and British Columbia. Returning from there he again made Philadelphia his headquarters and subsequently went on the road again for McCallum & McCallum, covering his old territory in New England.

This engagement, however, was brief and he soon relinquished it and once more accepted a position with Arnold Constable & Co., in whose employ he died.

Mr. Ennis was a man of unusual business energy and tenacity, and was at one time in a fair way of being a very prosperous manufacturer.

The remains were brought to New York on the 30th and interred on the 31st ult. at Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn.

John Miller.

One of the most deservedly esteemed and popular gentlemen who ever represented the carpet manufacturers of Great Britain in this country was John Miller, whose death at London on the morning before Christmas it is our painful duty to announce. Over a quarter of a century ago Mr. Miller first came to this country as the agent of Cook, Sons & Law. That connection he has ever since maintained, and at his death he was a member of the firm of Cook, Sons & Co., of 12 Friday street, London, manufacturers and jobbers of carpets. During the time when we were large importers of English goods he was one of the most prominent in the ranks of those English salesmen who came twice a year to offer their wares to the American dealer. He was always a welcome guest, and though of late years his business has been confined mainly to the Canadian provinces, he never failed to receive on his way north a hearty greeting from his old-time friends in the trade of the United States. How long his acquaintance with that trade had continued can be imagined by the fact that his last trip was the 109th he had made across the Atlantic. He arrived here in September last on his way to Canada, and at the time was evidently in poor health. On December 7 he sailed for home, looking in better form than for many years past. On the voyage he caught a chill, which settled in his left lung, and after his arrival in London was obliged to take to his bed. He rallied and was apparently improving, but disease had taken too strong a hold, and on December 24 he succumbed to pneumonia at the age of sixty-five. His wife died about two years and a half ago. He leaves four daughters, one married, and a son, John M., who for several years has been with T. B. Shoaff & Co., of this city, and whose American training and wide acquaintance on this side will eminently fit him to follow in his father's footsteps.

John Miller was a cosmopolitan. Contact with the world had rubbed off every angle of insularity and he was an all around man of the world. It was no trouble for him to make friends wherever his paths led him. They came unsought. His death will be sincerely mourned and his name long remembered by all who ever had the good fortune to meet him.

Addison A. Jayne.

One of the veterans of the carpet business, Addison A. Jayne, died at his home in Orange, N. J., on December 14, at the ripe old age of eighty-three. Coming from his native place, Smithtown, L. I., in his fourteenth year he entered the employ of the Methodist Book Concern, where he remained for ten years, when, with Benjamin Young, he formed the firm of Young & Jayne and embarked in the carpet business in Pearl street. About 1856 they moved to the corner of Broadway and Franklin street, where a year later they went under in the crash of '57. For twenty-five years afterward Mr. Jayne was cashier of the J. B. & J. M. Cornell Iron Works, retiring from active business in 1885. He had lived in Orange for over forty-five years and was the oldest commuter on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.

In the days before the war Mr. Jayne was a red hot Abolitionist, and his house was one of the stations of the underground railroad over which slaves were carried to Canada and freedom. Naturally he joined the Republican party at its birth and preserved his political faith to his death. He was twice married and leaves a widow and five adult children.

Mary C. Crompton.

Mary C. Crompton, widow of George Crompton, the founder of the Crompton Loom Works and of the old Crompton Carpet Company, died at her home in Worcester, Mass., December 17, in the sixty-second year of her age. Mrs. Crompton came to this country with her father, Charles Pratt, from Cork, Ireland, and in 1853 married Mr. Crompton. Since his death in 1886 she has been president of the Loom Works and more recently treasurer of the Crompton Associates, which controlled the family's real estate interests in and around Worcester. She was also president of the Star Foundry. Her offices in these corporations were not mere empty titles, but she was actively interested in the conduct of their affairs.

Mrs. Crompton was prominent in all local non-sectarian charities and a large donor to the parishes of St. John's and St. Paul's. Both during the lifetime of her late husband and after his death her gifts were numerous and valuable, and in addition to such charities as from their nature must have come under public notice she had a large number of private beneficiaries. No case of destitution was ever brought to her notice in vain, and her kindly disposition made these benefactions all the more grateful to the recipient.

Mrs. Crompton's death was the result of heart trouble. She had been ill since early in the fall, but her death was none the less unexpected, as she had been out on the previous Sunday, and her family thought her looking better. Even on the day of her death she was about, attending to family duties, and signed some checks as president of the Loom Works. At 10:30 in the morning she was seized with an attack more serious than any previous one, and rapidly failed until the end came at 1:15 in the afternoon. Right Rev. Mgr. Griffin called at noon when she was conscious and recognized him. Nine children survive her and all were present at her death.

The funeral services on the 19th ult. were largely attended.

The mercantile agencies announce the death of R. M. Wright, of Wright & Durden, Saulsbury, Tenn.

James Watt, a carpet weaver at 855 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., died on the 19th ult. He was seventy years of age.

Daniel Steele, Sr., member of the firm of Daniel Steele & Son, Jersey City, N. J., died at his home in that city on the 24th ult., at the age of sixty-five years.

CARPET WOOLS IN 1895.

In its annual review of the wool trade and market for 1895 the American Wool and Cotton Reporter of the 26th ult. says that in volume of sales 1895 has broken all previous records. The amount of domestic and foreign wool disposed of in the three principal markets of the United States up to December 12, 1895, amounted to 347,060,105 pounds, as compared with 261,667,229 pounds December 15, 1892.

The receipts of carpet wools at Boston were 24,658,150 pounds.

The recorded sales have amounted to 10,629,100 pounds. There have gone directly to the mills at least 10,650,250 pounds of which no mention has been made in the weekly market reports of the year. Consequently, the stock of carpet wools of every description in the Boston market must amount to 3,378,900 pounds.

The stock of carpet wool in New York is estimated at 7,275,500 pounds, and Philadelphia has 4,124,000 pounds. The course of the carpet wool market during the year is shown in the following table :

	Jan. 3. Cents.	April 4. Cents.	July 4. Cents.	Oct. 4. Cents.	Dec. 19. Cents.

We respectfully direct the attention of all buyers of linoleum and floor oil cloth to the superb insert page of the Geo. W. Blabon Company in this number. We are glad to note that the company are forcibly setting forth the meritorious claims of their linoleum and oil cloth. When a producer is positively certain that the ingredients used in his goods and the methods of manufacture and styles are the very best obtainable he is surely in a position to unqualifiedly assert the merits of his goods, and his claims of superiority will bear telling in the most emphatic manner. This is what is done by the Blabon Company in their special announcement, and the reading and remembrance of the statements made will be of value to every handler of linoleum and oil cloth.

A LARGE THREAD HOUSE.

The quantity of thread any one upholstering or shade manufacturing house uses may seem an unimportant item, but in the aggregate the consumption of cotton, linen and silk threads annually amounts to a very imposing sum.

One of the biggest thread manufacturing and wholesaling houses in the country is John C. Meyer & Co , who have just moved into enlarged quarters at 87 Summer street, Boston. They now occupy 6,000 square feet of floor space, or three times the space recently occupied. They have 125,000 square feet of shelf capacity, and have a system of matching shelves that is a marvel of completeness. By this system they can match colors in the quickest possible time. They carry everything in threads and silks used in upholstery, drapery and window shade work, and also are sole manufacturers of the Meyer carpet thread. They can also make to order any kind of thread not regularly produced.

THE HARTFORD CARPET COMPANY.

On page 75 of this issue Reune Martin & Sons call attention to the fact that a higher tariff on wool means higher prices for carpeting, and also remind the trade that the complete line of the Hartford Carpet Company as prepared for the coming season is on view at the salesrooms, 114 and 116 Worth street, New York. The new line comprises all the well-known grades manufactured by the company, including Wiltons, Brussels, Manchester Brussels, Axminsters, Saxony carpets and rugs, chenille rugs, Extra Supers, Three Plys, Art Squares and Pile Terries. The Messrs. Martin have every reason to be satisfied with the line they have now on view, for it embraces an immense variety of choice and novel effects which cannot fail to make a highly favorable impression upon all buyers.

For the bargains that can now be obtained from Albert Graff & Co., 609 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, see page 112. Everything mentioned in their announcement is offered at less than regular prices, and a call at their store will disclose other attractions for close buyers.

Beggs.—D. C. Beggs, of D. C. Beggs & Co., Columbus, Ohio, was in New York lately. His firm have furnished carpeting for several large hotels recently.

Brightson.—G. E. Brightson, of the H. B. Claflin Company, is almost as well known in the carpet department as he is on his own floor. On the voyage in which the St. Paul came within five minutes of the Campania's time he presided over a very successful concert.

Carroll.—J. M. Carroll, treasurer of the Fries-Breslin Company, Camden, N. J., and Mrs. Carroll left on the 26th ult. for a six weeks' tour of the South. They will visit the Atlanta Exposition, and thence go to Florida and New Orleans. Mr. James Carroll and family, of Brooklyn, and Miss Mary Carroll, of Newburgh, N. Y., accompany them.

Chesnutt.—James T. Chesnutt, of Shellas & Chesnutt, the Brooklyn carpet and furniture dealers, has been re-elected as trustee of De Long Council No. 725, Royal Arcanum, which numbers among its members several men prominent in the carpet and furniture trades of that city and New York.

Gall.—Many members of the trade will regret to learn that Albert Gall, of Indianapolis, has met with a sad bereavement in the death of his wife after a brief illness.

Harrison.—Polaris Council No. 617, Royal Arcanum, gave an entertainment on the 17th ult. in honor of the ladies, and W. F. Harrison, with Morris & McKay, New York, who has quite a reputation as a humorist, gave a recitation. Mr. McKay is also a member of the same council.

Hunter—Whitcomb.—Wm. Hunter, American agent for Alex. Morton & Co., and Mr. Whitcomb, his associate in the selling department, sailed on the 28th ult. on a visit to the firm's mills at Darvel, Scotland.

Hutchinson.—B. P. Hutchinson, "Old Hutch," widely known to the trade as the originator, with his son-in-law, E. A. Lancaster, of what is now the Chicago Carpet Company, is seriously ill in Chicago.

Holmes.—Henry Holmes, the Philadelphia Ingrain manufacturer, was in New York a day or two before Christmas and paid his respects to Santa Claus.

Kilborn.—P. C. Kilborn, of the well-known carpet firm of W. T. Kilborn & Co., Portland, Me., is going to take a vacation in Europe the coming summer on his wheel and he wants a party of fellow carpet men to join him. To this end he has issued a small circular telling all about his plans and would be pleased to send it to anyone who would enjoy such a trip.

Kilmartin.—A. K. Kilmartin, formerly with Lord & Taylor, has been engaged by Hilton, Hughes & Co. to look after hotel and theatre trade.

Miller.—John M. Miller, the death of whose father, of Cook, Sons & Co., London, is announced elsewhere, will sail for England on January 4.

Shortle—Meeker.—W. J. Shortle, who for the past seven years has been chief measurer for B. G. Latimer & Sons and their successor, the B. G. Latimer & Sons Company, Brooklyn, N. Y., is now in charge of the concern's cutting department, succeeding Bigelow Meeker, whose thirty years of service with this old-established house terminated last week.

Tobey.—Major Bennett Hyde Tobey, of the H. B. Claflin Company's carpet department, has been elected treasurer of the Civil Organization of the Fourteenth (Brooklyn) Regiment.

Watson.—Alfred Watson, recently with H. C. F. Koch & Co., of 125th street, New York, succeeds John Grayhurst as head of the carpet department of Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn. He was formerly of the firm of Irvine, More & Watson, on Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn.

THE BISSELL-GOSHEN DECISION.

In the December 15 number of The Review was reported the decision of the United States Court of Appeals affirming the decision of the Circuit Court that the Goshen Company had infringed the patents of the Bissell Company on the "broom action" device. Further information regarding the decision and its bearing upon the future action of the Bissell and Goshen companies is given in the following article, which was taken from the Grand Rapids Democrat :

The final decision in the long legal contest between the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company and the Goshen Carpet Sweeper Company, of this city, was announced yesterday in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, now sitting at Cincinnati. The decree was in favor of the Bissell Company, affirming the decision of Judge Brown and also the decision of Judge Severns. By yesterday's decision the Goshen Company is restrained from equipping carpet sweepers with the Bissell patent or device by which the brush of the sweeper can be pressed to the floor, making a broom motion. It is claimed this will give the Bissell Company a monopoly of this kind of sweeper, and an advance in prices is already predicted. On this point, however, officers of the Bissell Company would make no statement. When Arthur C. Denison, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, was seen he said: "Yes, the United States Court of Appeals has sustained the decision of the judges who passed on the case here. We will now proceed to force an accounting, as in addition to restraining the Goshen Company from further manufacturing the court yesterday ordered an accounting." At this point C. B. Judd, of the Bissell Company, and who was present with Mr. Denison, said: "Yes, and it will probably cost us $15,000 to force this accounting. It will necessitate a big fight, as the Goshen Company will probably not produce their books until they are compelled to, but they will produce them. We will compel them to pay us damages for every sweeper they made under the patent in question."

"To obtain this accounting," said Mr. Denison, "we will at once begin proceedings before the master in chancery. There is no resort from the decree of yesterday. It is final, being a court of last resort.

"We do not care to state what amount of damages we expect to obtain, but we propose to receive just compensation for the damages sustained.

"They have not yet been assessed. In fact we cannot assess them until we learn how many of these particular sweepers the Goshen Company has manufactured and sold." Francis Letellier, president of the Goshen Company, was seen at his residence, and to questions asked he said: "This decree will affect only two of the eight styles of sweepers made by the Goshen Company—the Star and Perfect—and if such a decree has been granted we will probably be compelled to cease the manufacture of them. But we have patents pending which will produce the same action without interfering with the Bissell patent.

"All who have purchased the Star and Perfect from us are amply protected by a bond we have filed in the United States Court."

ROLLING ON.

A TURN WITH TRAVELERS.

Young
Ninety-Six has now unfurled his banner o'er the globose world; thus time rolls on, and so do we, though let us not "high rollers" be: in whate'er rôle one may be cast, he surely ought not roll too fast; in going 'round, one must keep "straight," though hard 'tis thus to circulate; be circumspect from day to day on your circumferential way; to always hold your circuit try, and never at a tangent fly; be cheerful as the sunny orb, and all the good of earth absorb, beware of rings—except to wed, and don't have wheels within your head. Another year we now begin, and hope to see good trade roll in; dispose of goods for all they're worth, yet do not think to get the earth, nor ask, with brazen impudence, to have it circled with a fence; but still, whate'er may be your sphere, the ball keep rolling

BUSINESS FAILURES IN 1895.

"Bradstreet's" report of business failures for the year 1895 shows that the total number of failures in the United States in that year was 13,013. Contrasting with 12,721 in 1894 this shows an increase of 2.2 per cent. This is the largest number of failures ever reported since the record was begun, with the single exception of 1893, two years ago, when the aggregate was 15,560, compared with which year the falling off in 1895 is 16 per cent.

The total amount of liabilities of failing firms, corporations and individuals in the United States during 1895 amounted to $158,842,445, more than $9,000,000 in excess of the total in 1894, an increase of less than 6 per cent., or three times the rate of increase in the total number of failures. The grand total of assets of failing firms, corporations and individuals during the year amounted to $88,115,530, or more than $8,000,000 in excess of the like total one year ago, an increase of more than 10 per cent., showing a relatively greater degree of solvency of those embarrassed than in the preceding year. This record of the total number of failures, together with gross liabilities and assets for 1895, makes it plain that the after effects of the panic of 1893 were more far reaching than anticipated one year ago. During the past four or five months, reaching back to a period when business generally was more active than at present and when prices generally were higher, serious embarrassments in commercial and industrial lines have been showing a previously unsuspected increase.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

The new tariff bill as prepared by the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee, and passed by the House on the 26th ult., reads as follows :

A bill to temporarily increase the revenue to meet the expenses of the Government and provide against a deficiency.

Be it enacted, &c., that from and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all imported wools of classes one and two, as defined in the act hereinafter cited, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, and on all hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other like animals, except as hereinafter provided, and on all noils, shoddy, garnetted waste, top waste, slubbing waste, roving waste, ring waste, yarn waste and all other wastes composed wholly or in part of wool, and on woolen rags, mungo and flocks, a duty equal to 60 per centum of the duty imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations of said act ; and on all wools and Russian camel's hair of class three, as defined in said act approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, there shall be levied, collected and paid the several duties provided by such an act approved October 1, 1890, and paragraph 279 of schedule K, and also paragraph 685 in the free list of an act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, are hereby suspended until August 1, 1898.

Sec. 2. That from and after the passage of this act and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all imported articles made in whole or in part of wool, worsted, or other materials described in Section 1 of this act, except as hereafter provided, 60 per centum of the specific pound or square yard duty imposed on such articles by an act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty now imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894 ; and on carpets, druggets, mats, rugs, screens, covers, hassocks, bedsides, art squares, and other portions of carpets or carpeting, made in whole or in part of wool, the specific square yard duty imposed on each of such articles by said act, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty imposed on such articles by said act, which became a law August 27, 1894.

Sec. 3. That from and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1896, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all imported lumber and other articles designated in paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive of an act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, a duty equivalent to 60 per cent. of the duty imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations of said last named act ; but pulp wood shall be classified as round, unmanufactured timber, exempt from duty ; provided that in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon pine, spruce, elm or other logs, or upon stave bolts, shingle wood, pulp wood or heading blocks exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon the lumber and other articles mentioned in said paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive when imported from such country shall be the same as fixed by the law in force prior to October 1, 1890.

Sec. 4. That on and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all the imported articles mentioned in schedules A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, and N, of an act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, a duty equivalent to 15 per centum of the duty imposed on each of said articles by existing law in addition to the duty provided by said act of August 27, 1894. Provided, that the additional duties imposed by this section shall not in any case increase the rate of duty on any article beyond the rate imposed thereon by the said act of October 1, 1890, but in such case the duty shall be the same as was imposed by said act. And provided further, that where the present rate of duty on any article is higher than was fixed by said last named act, the rate of duty thereon shall not be further increased by this section, but shall remain as provided by existing law.

It may be stated in explanation that tariff schedules A, B, C, D, F, G, H, I, J, L, M and N of the act of 1894, specifically mentioned in Section 4, on which a duty equivalent to 15 per cent. in addition to that imposed by the present law shall be added, are the schedules pertaining to chemicals, earthenware and glassware, metals, manufactures of woods, tobacco, agricultural products, spirits and wines, cotton manufactures and flax, hemp and jute, silks, pulp, papers and books, and, lastly, sundries.

In commenting on the bill Mr. Dingley, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said :

The bill is limited to two and a half years, the expectation being that by that time the Republicans will be in full power and able to revise the tariff on their own lines. Wools are taken from the free list, and clothing given a duty of 6 4-10 cents (60 per cent. of the duty provided by the act of 1890), and woolen goods are given a specific compensatory duty, 60 per cent. of what they had under the act of 1890, in addition to the ad valorem duty of the present law. Carpet wools are placed where they were under the act of 1890, and the same specific duty given to carpets as under the act of 1890, in addition to the ad valorem duties of the present law. The articles of lumber placed on the free list of the tariff of 1890 are transferred to the dutiable list, with 60 per cent. of the duty that they had under the act of 1890. Then all the other dutiable schedules (except sugar, which is not touched) have all the duties raised 15 per cent. The committee had not the time to treat articles separately, and hence a horizontal increase became necessary as to all articles now on the free list.

THE JAPANESE MATTING MARKET.

In their last circular from Kobe, Japan, Shewan & Co. say :

Since our last printed advices the price of straw has steadily risen and the effect of this has been to virtually make business impossible for the present for anything except high grades, and for a few parcels of market lots still on offer. We are quite unable to forecast the future of prices and for the present quote nominal rates. We must, however, expect prices to keep high. We hear that all Kobe buyers are considerably short on present season's contracts.

Walking Delegate—And you have no objection to find with your employers ?

The Union—None whatever.

Walking Delegate—And your hours of labor are none too long ?

The Union—Oh, no.

Walking Delegate—And your wages are entirely satisfactory.

The Union—Perfectly.

Walking Delegate—Then nothing remains but to order a general strike.—Truth.

BALTIMORE AND THE SOUTH.

BALTIMORE,
DECEMBER 26, 1895.

Among the enterprises started in this city is one of importance—the United Merchants of Baltimore—whose incorporation took place the 19th inst. It is a combination which already numbers among its stockholders more than fifty of the most representative wholesale merchants and manufacturers in the city in all lines of trade. The officers are: E. E. Thomas, president; J. A. Hughes, secretary, and Robert G. McDowell, treasurer.

The Maryland Division of the Travellers' Protective Association met the 18th inst. at the Carrollton Hotel, W. Edgar Jenkins presiding. A committee was appointed to consider plans for inducing all traveling men to unite with the association. The meeting also considered the question of 5,000 mile railroad tickets and an increase of free baggage. A bill was passed by the last Congress authorizing railroad companies to issue such tickets, with as much free baggage as they are disposed to allow. The National Association and the State Association of Travellers will now unite in endeavoring to induce the railroad companies to increase the baggage allowance.

A. M. Stratton, Arlington, Va., was stricken with paralysis last week.

The warehouse of J. A. Digby, Digby, Ga., was entered by burglars last week.

R. B. Payne, Markham, Va., committed suicide last week by shooting himself with a pistol.

L. C. Mandeville, Carrollton, Ga., has sold his entire stock of goods to George W. Roop, of Roopville, same State.

The store of F. L. Peduean, Jarratt's, Va., was burned last week. Loss on stock and building, $8,000; insurance, $3,000.

Joseph F. Walker, for many years a salesman with J. R. Read & Co., is now with the Mutual Carpet Company, Charleston, S. C.

The "Chicago Merchandise Company," North Charles street, disposed of their stock of carpets, rugs, &c., by public auction the 23d inst.

The business dispute between the carpet and furniture auction firm of Weeks & Klank, which was taken into court, has been amicably settled.

The store of Keedy & Co., Orianna, Md., was burned to the ground recently. Burglars are thought to have robbed the building and then set it on fire.

The carpet store of Bovey & Munson, Hagerstown, Md., was damaged to the extent of $1,000 or more by water during a fire on the Public square the 15th inst. Insurance, $6,000.

Imwold, Kaiser & Co. have added furniture, cushions, &c., to their line, and have devoted the building connecting with their carpet store on West Lexington street to this department.

The carpet, furniture, and other merchants of South Broadway have started a line of free 'buses along Broadway, from Preston street to Canton avenue. Tickets are furnished gratis by every dealer on that thoroughfare when a purchase is made.

The stock of carpets, furniture, &c., of Joseph Benesch & Son has been closed out by the trustee, realizing, it is said, about $2,300. The book accounts are valued at several thousand dollars, but is thought that they will not realize anything like this amount. I. Block, son-in-law of Joseph Benesch, has opened in the furniture business on North Gay street.

E. M. Clemm, Edinburg, Va., was burned out the 21st inst. Loss on stock, $5,000; insurance, $3,000.

The bark Fred. P. Litchfield, from Hong Kong for Baltimore, with a full general cargo for Lyon Brothers & Co., passed Anjer November 4, thirty-two days out. The Amy Turner arrived at Hong Kong the 10th inst., thirty-three days from Honolulu. She will also load for the same firm.

J. A. Foster & Co., dry goods and carpeting, Greenville, S. C., who bought out the Whitmire Company in July, were closed the 16th inst. by the sheriff under mortgage held by R. C. Foster and the Whitmire Company, amounting in the aggregate to $1,940. They state that their united liabilities will not exceed $3,500. Their assets amount to $1,000 or $1,200.

A deed of assignment was admitted to record in the clerk's office the 16th inst. from Umstadter & Co., dry goods and carpets, Norfolk, Va., to John Neely, trustee, conveying the stock of goods of the firm to the latter, to be disposed of for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are upward of $100,000; assets not stated. The firm say that they will pay out 100 cents on the dollar. Creditors are preferred to the extent of about $42,000.

HOW ONE COMPLAINT WAS SETTLED.

BY A DIPLOMAT.

THE DOCTOR—The carpet on my front room is 4 inches too large all around, and is a disgraceful piece of work.

THE SALESMAN—Oh, no, the reason of that is it is a "wool back Axminster," which contains more wool than any other carpet. Now when the first rain comes the wool will shrink, therefore we make them all a little large. But after the first stormy day we will send up and have it refitted.

THE DOCTOR—Ah, yes! I see your explanation is perfectly satisfactory. I know wool will shrink, but had not thought of that.

Exit salesman with all honors.

ST. LOUIS CARPET TACKS.

ST. LOUIS, DECEMBER 22.

H. L. McGee, who travels for the Trorlicht, Duncker & Renard Carpet Company in Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky, is sending in some big orders from his section of the country.

Louis Sicher, the Franklin avenue carpet dealer, finished another big job recently at Moelig's hotel, Eighth street and Washington avenue, the entire place being furnished with inlaid linoleum.

Guitterman Brothers, carpet and furniture dealers, 1112 Olive street, have sold out to D. Sommers & Co.

Louis Kaltwasser, the South St. Louis carpet merchant, is being boomed by his friends for election to the position of school director from that section of the city.

John H. Tiemeyer has just finished a nice job at the Zion Lutheran Church, Twentieth and Benton streets. It required about 3,000 yards of fine Wilton velvets to do the work.

The Mueller Brothers Furniture and Carpet Company, of South St. Louis, is making some extensive improvements at its store to accommodate the increase of business.

Among the travelers here last week were John Rogers, representing Joseph Wild & Co.; D. W. McClain; J. F. Norman, for the E. S. Higgins Carpet Company, New York, and George Coon, of Keefer & Coon, Philadelphia.

The carpet and upholstery firms of St. Louis did some lively bidding last week for the contract to fit up the new headquarters of the Merchants' League Republican Club at Eighteenth and Olive streets. The matter ended with Kroeger & Linde getting the contract for carpets, matting and linoleums, while Louis Kaltwasser was promised the contract for wall paper.

Capt. Henri Duncker, of the Trorlicht, Duncker & Renard Carpet Company, made some interesting observations while abroad recently. He visited England, France, Germany, Italy and other countries, but he says: "In none of these countries is the carpet industry what it is here. Few people over there use carpets, as they look upon them as a sort of luxury. Many of their first-class hotels have nothing but mattings and rugs. They talk about the extreme poverty existing among the poorer classes in Europe. I must say that during the three months we were over there we never met a beggar. The people there seem better fixed than we think they are, but they don't use carpets, which fact impressed me very much and made me shake hands with myself that I was living in America. I am now thoroughly convinced that America is the greatest carpet producing and carpet using country of the world."

MRS. CROSSEYE (bursting with envy)—It 's—er—very nice indeed, Mrs. Bricktop, fer—fer—Brussels. By the way, I nearly forgot what I came for. I wish you would lend me your lawn mower a few moments.

"Lawn mower? Why, certainly. But what on earth can you want of a lawn mower at this time of the year?"

SILAS C. CROFT, whom Mayor Strong has recently appointed one of the Commissioners of Charities, is a well-known member of the carpet trade, being one of the firm of Croft Brothers, 26 East 125th street, New York.

The Messrs. Croft have been prominent for many years in the retail carpet business of this city. Mr. S. C. Croft acquired his first experience in the trade in the store of the old-time carpet dealer the late Reuben Smith. The daughter of Mr. Smith by his first wife was married to Mr. S. C. Croft, and Mr. Smith's second wife is a sister of the Messrs. Croft.

Mr. S. C. Croft takes an active part in political affairs and is the Republican leader of the Thirty-first Assembly District.

THE imports of British carpeting into the United States during the eleven months ending November 31 amounted to 593,600 yards, valued at £106,138. For the corresponding period of 1894 the imports were 136,600 yards, valued at £25,612.

EXPORTS of carpeting and kindred goods during the past fortnight were as follows: CARPETING—Southampton, 61 bls., $2,170; Antwerp, 25 bls., $975. CARPET SWEEPERS—Antwerp, 3 cs., $35; Rotterdam, 2 cs., $24; New Zealand, 3 cs., $66.

ON page 113 of this issue A. A. Vantine & Co make some pertinent references to the opening of the new year and call attention to their offerings in Oriental rugs and carpets, Chinese and Japanese mattings and Oriental fabrics for upholstery purposes. Vantine & Co. are especially conspicuous as importers of such goods, and their offerings for the coming season are so extensive and attractive that no buyer can afford to disregard them.

ROYAL AXMINSTER CARPETING.

AND now I will describe the peculiarities of weaving the carpets known as Axminsters, which are the sole product of these huge works. These are made by two entirely distinct processes, the Royal and Aristo Axminsters being woven by a very complex loom invented in America by Halcyon Skinner, while the chenille Axminsters are woven chiefly on an ingenious loom invented by W. Adam, of the firm of Tomkinson & Adam, many years ago. Although to describe the machine so as to give a layman any adequate notion of its construction and the meaning of its divers parts would be a hopeless task, it may be possible to record the impression it gives on a first visit. The attendant, standing in front, has beneath her hands the end of a piece of the woven fabric, the other end passing down below the platform on which she stands, and gradually winding itself on the growing roll of carpet in a hidden receptacle. The linen threads of the warp are stretched before her, until they are lost to the spectator in the ordered confusion of machinery, among which they quiver. In front of the attendant hangs suspended, like laths in a venetian blind, a series of long rods—looking like ordinary window blind rollers, covered with striped yarn in various colors. These spools are arrayed upon an endless chain. You see them hanging from the level of her hand up, roller after roller, for a considerable distance. There, as the height required for so vast a number (between 200 and 300) would be probably unmanageable, they spread out on either side and are carried along horizontal racks. All these horizontal layers, however, are like the vertical rods upon the same endless chain, and pass out of sight, only to traverse the circuit until they appear once more to fulfill their allotted part in the scheme. As each spool reaches the lowest place before the operator, you see that the threaded portion (spoken of earlier in this paper) projects towards the operator. At the given moment automatic hands of metal (I know not their technical name, they appear too human to call them anything but hands) catch the spool as it leaves the chain. Then it is moved forward, the thread of the warp passes over the yarn, which is unwound to a rigidly defined length, a knife cuts it off, and the spool is, by the same hands, restored to its place in the chain, while the yarn itself is doubled up, and slides forward on the threads of the woof, to take its place as part of the fabric. Another knife sweeps across it and cuts the pile to a smooth velvet-like surface, and the operation is complete; or, to be more correct, the dozens of operations which the untechnical observer overlooks have also taken place.

Chenille Axminster, although presenting little difference in its appearance to an untrained eye, is really produced by an entirely distinct process; or, to be more accurate, by two kindred processes that are worked, the one on the old hand loom, the other on the power loom invented by Mr. W. Adam. The yarn of chenille, with its passages of color prearranged to fall each into its right place in the pattern, is prepared beforehand for both these looms by a distinct operation. Roughly speaking it is first woven into a loose fabric which is cut in strips by an ingenious machine, which strips are then bound into a V shape, so that in place of being a double fringe of colored yarns with a fine thread running down the centre to keep the thread lengths of wool taut, it becomes a series of thick tufts of wool side by side, firmly threaded upon the aforesaid stout twine. This chenille, which forms the weft, is laid across the cross threads of the warp and woven into place. If you were to pull the hearth rug to pieces you would find its weft formed of one huge chenille that crossed and recrossed the warps from end to end in a complete rope of colored tufts. Although this chenille is prepared in a completely different way the process which rules the arrangement for the Royal Axminster pattern is also found governing the distribution of colors in this.

In the hand loom, which is still employed largely and used for all wide carpets (up to 24 feet in width), the chenille is guided to its place by the workman's hand, and each crossing is combed, so to speak, tightly into line with its predecessor before it is woven into the fabric. Although the power loom, which simplifies and accelerates this process to a marvelous extent, is largely employed—not only in these works where it is conceived and perfected, but also by the Glasgow firm of Messrs. Templeton, who manufacture all their Axminsters upon hand or power looms, and do not use the American Royal Axminster "Skinner" loom previously described—it has not driven out the older process, which is used, as I have said, for hearth rugs and for carpets made wider than the standard of 27 inches, that is employed for all normal patterns. Until you see the hundreds of patterns of rugs turned out in these works you hardly realize what a very important branch of the carpet industry they represent. At one time, indeed, the Axminster processes were almost entirely devoted to hearth rugs, which were made in colors and designs to match the Brussels, Tapestries and other varieties made by other firms.

In weft weaving you see the first process for the manufacture of the chenille carpets and rugs, and in the patent power loom (Figure 7) and the old hand power loom the final stage. At the right hand of the latter are huge banks of the chenilles ready to be woven into the large loom, which, worked by two men, produces very wide carpets.

The ingenious machines for shearing the carpet so that its pile is absolutely even; the appliances for brushing it, for starching the backs, and a dozen or more processes must be merely mentioned. The final touching up in the finishing rooms yields most picturesque groups (Figure 8), as the bright colored fabrics are rapidly examined inch by inch by girls who stand ready with needle and thread to supply any defective spot.

Cashier—Have you heard, sir, that John Jones is a bankrupt?

Banker—Well, that 's good news. We'll now get a little of what he owes us, whereas if he had remained in business we'd never have got a cent.—Fliegende Blaetter.

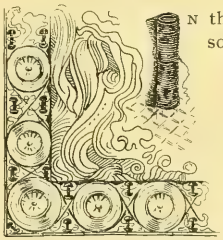
McCALLUM & McCALLUM.



In their offerings for the coming season Messrs. McCallum & McCallum have surpassed all their previous efforts, and this remark applies with special force to their lines of Glen Echo Wiltons, Brussels, Extra Supers and Byzantine rugs. In all these goods the assortment of patterns is larger than ever before, and embraces a superb range of new, original and artistic effects. The firm's Glenvale Mills Ingrains are also strongly represented in the new line, the offerings comprising Cottons, Extra Cottons, Unions, Glenvale Extra Supers and X Extra Supers in a great variety of new and handsome patterns.

The Messrs. McCallum's offerings comprise also their new Glenvale 10 wire Tapestry carpets in special patterns, and likewise Roxbury, Sanford and Higgins Tapestries, &c.

In rugs the firm show their choice Byzantines, a highly attractive line of double faced jute rugs called the Sakai, in fine Oriental effects, and also their popular Brusseline, Crescent and Madras rugs.

McCallum & McCallum's offerings are shown at their Philadelphia store, 1012 and 1014 Chestnut street, their New York salesroom, 1 and 3 Union square, and through their travelers on the road.

Senior Partner—I told Penwiper he could be gone on his wedding trip a month.

Junior Partner—But how can we spare him that length of time?

Senior Partner—Don't worry. He'll be back inside of ten days.—Ex.

SIEGEL, COOPER & CO.'S NEW YORK STORE.

We present herewith a cut showing the exterior of the great department store of Siegel, Cooper & Co., Sixth avenue, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, New York, as it will appear when completed.

The building covers an area of 184x460 feet. Its height when finished will be six stories and basement, in addition to a portion of a seventh story and a tower 250 feet in height.

The building will be strictly fireproof and will be constructed largely of brick and steel. The first two stories will be of polished granite and large show windows will face on the three streets on which the building fronts. Above the second story white brick will be the principal construction material, although polished and cut stone will enter largely into the make-up of the structure. The Sixth avenue front will be particularly handsome in material, and the best of polished granite will be used on that front. In the interior of the building will be marble staircases, with a large marble fountain in the centre. The main aisles of the main floor will also be of marble. There will be twelve passenger elevators and seven for the hauling of freight.

The entrances to the building will be decorated with fanciful designs, and the large arches above the doors, constructed of stone, will be illuminated with electric lights. Plans have been made for 5,000 incandescent lights for the purpose of illuminating these arches and the tower. The roof of the building will be lined with a row of lights which will be lighted each night. In order to maintain these lights and also for the purpose of running the elevators by electricity, an electric plant of 1,500 horse power will be placed in the building. The roof will be formed into some attraction, such as a summer garden. The scheme for this has not been entirely laid out, but it is understood it will be something novel. The tower, 250 feet high, will be used as a place of observation. One of the ideas is to have a photograph gallery in it. The tower will be constructed of copper. The building is expected to be completed by September, 1896, and its cost will be $1,750,000.

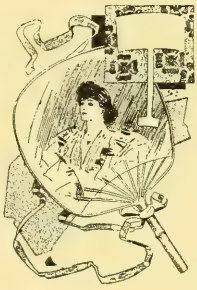
Friend—Why do you write "dictated" at the top of each of your letters? You have no amanuensis typewriter.

Business Man—No; but I'm a mighty poor speller, and if there are any mistakes in my letters the recipient will blame it on the stenographer.—Puck.

A PATHETIC BALLAD.

Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma has some carpets to beat; she's got all the furniture out in the yard, from the front door clean out to the street. The stove must come down and be put in the shed, and the yard must be cleared of some grass, for it's time to clean house, and the devil 's to pay—and the front windows need some new glass. Father, dear father, come home with me now, and bring some bologna and cheese, it 's most twelve o'clock, and there 's nothing to eat—I'm so hungry I'm weak in the knees. All the dinner we'll have will be cold scraps and such, and we'll have to eat standing up, too, for the table and all are out in the back, oh, I wish housecleaning was through. Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma is as mad as a Turk; she says that you're only a lazy old thing, and that she shall put you to work. There 's painting to do and paper to hang, and the windows and casings to scrub, for it 's housecleaning time and you've got to come home and revel in suds and cold grub.—Exchange.

THE WEARY DRUMMER.



The hotel 'bus from the midnight train
Brought only one passenger through the rain—
A traveling man, tired, weary and sad;
For he had toiled all day and trade was bad.

Not a single order was on his book;
The disgust he felt was shown in his look.
With a careless hand he wrote his name
On a page of the book unknown to fame.

The drowsy clerk the signature scanned,
Then a letter placed in the drummer's hand.
See how he starts, while a smile of delight
Comes o'er his face at the welcome sight.

Thus clouds of despair that will ever appear
To the traveling man sometimes in the year
Are often dispelled by such simple means
As one friendly letter — how queer it seems!

So, wives and sweethearts, brothers and chums,
If you know where we'll be when Sunday comes,
Write to us there, if your time will permit;
Draw on us at sight, and we will remit,

Our Thanks.

Job Lott—One never loses anything by keeping his engagements punctually.

Kirby Stone—My experience is he is apt to lose half an hour's time waiting for the other fellow.—Puck.

LITTLE CLARENCE (who reads and profits thereby)—Pa!

MR. CALLIPERS—Well, my son?

LITTLE CLARENCE—Isn't it singular, pa, that it takes about ten times as much identification to cash a check as it does to get lynched?—Puck.

"COURAGE, papa!"

The ruined merchant raised his head and gazed into a loving daughter's eyes.

"You know I took lessons in elocution. I will recite; that will at least keep the wolf from the door!"

A gleam of hope shone in his eyes.

"It will that!" he said. And with a lighter heart he turned to his task of formulating a compromise with his creditors at 20 cents on the dollar.—Puck.

Current Carpet Chat.

BOSTON BUDGET.

Boston, December 26, 1895.

H. A. Belcher, of the firm of R. H. White & Co., has retired from business.

Mr. Frothingham, of H. H. Cotton & Co., has been on the sick list, but is again at his post of duty.

The traveling salesmen for C. C. Bailey & Co. are W. E. Forsaith, Frank J. Woodman and Geo. A. Ordway. They are now out on the road through New England with the full spring lines.

Frank S. Chick, of John H. Pray, Sons & Co., continues to hurl "chunks of wisdom" at the New England trade in circular form. His latest brochure has the caption: "Read This! It Is an Object Lesson."

The executors of the will of the late Eben D. Jordan have filed individual bonds in $8,000,000 in the Probate Court. They expressed a belief that the real estate will not exceed $2,500,000, and the personal property $4,500,000.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. will open in the latter part of January a department devoted to draperies and upholstery goods. It will be under the management of E. B. Barney, who was formerly with Meekin, Packard & Co., of Springfield, Mass., and later with R. H. White & Co., of this city. The department will be located at the rear of the second floor, and be reached by commodious elevators.

John D. Nichols, of the firm of W. W. Corson & Co., started on the road again after Christmas. He had been confined to his home by illness for two weeks previously, but is now recovered and will visit all his regular trade in ample season.

Whittall's Brussels are well represented among the wholesalers of Boston. They are carried by C. C. Bailey & Co., 90 Canal street ; Thos. O'Callaghan & Co. and John H. Pray, Sons & Co. Boyd, Harley & Co. also carry samples at their office, 611 Washington street.

I ran in to the handsome salesrooms of C. C. Bailey & Co., 90 Canal street (successors to Bailey & Rankin, of Summer street), the other day, and found they were much pleased with their new quarters. They carry a fine stock of carpets, oil cloth, mattings, mats and rugs, and report a growing business.

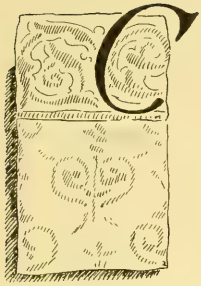
Bennett & Brickett, the manufacturers' agents, have re-removed from 564 Washington street to 26 Chauncy street. Besides selling from samples they intend to carry some stock and to deal in drives or jobs in floor coverings. Their salesroom is on the ground floor, and they will carry stock in the basement.

W. H. Reid, 611 Washington street, has been very successful in establishing a permanent business as a selling representative of manufacturers. His accounts include Samuel White's Ingrains and Smyrna rugs, W. T. Smith & Sons' chenille curtains, table covers and specialties ; Foulk's Art Squares, Lawson Brothers' lace curtains, and Wm. Morris' floor oil cloths. Mr. Reid covers the New England territory on these goods, and his persistent efforts and close attention to business will doubtless bring much greater results during the new year.

"Buy your Roxburys from Boyd, Harley & Co." are the words set out in bold letters on a small poster issued by Frank Hubbard, from Boyd, Harley & Co.'s office, 611 Washington street. The New England trade should remember that the palm for being the largest jobbers of Roxbury Tapestries lies between Boyd, Harley & Co. and a New York house, and that the former cannot be beaten on price or assortment. New England orders on Roxburys are shipped by Boyd, Harley & Co. from Boston, and no one can deliver these goods quicker.

W. W. Corson & Co. have made an excellent start on spring business, and the orders so far recorded are far ahead of either last fall's or spring's business. Mr. Corson has been a very busy man since the season opened, and has proved more than ever that he holds the trade's favor and confidence. Mr. Corson says his customers' appreciation of buying direct from the manufacturer is increasing every season. They have now tried the system thoroughly on Park Mills Ingrains, Sampson's floor oil cloths, Schofield, Mason & Co.'s Brussels, Fries-Breslin Company's rugs and the other goods carried by Corson & Co., and have obtained first-class goods at the most advantageous prices. In the matter of matching or interchanging on any of these makes the goods are so thoroughly distributed through New England that any dealer can easily obtain his wants in cut goods by telephoning another dealer, if he is in a great hurry.

A MODEL TRAIN.



Commencing Sunday, January 5, and daily thereafter, the popular New York and Florida Short Line Limited will be resumed between New York and St. Augustine, via Pennsylvania, Southern and Florida Central and Peninsular, leaving New York at 3:20 P. M. The train will be composed of Pullman's latest compartment cars, sleeping, dining, first-class coach and smoking cars from New York to St. Augustine. For grandeur and solid comfort there is nothing in the world that surpasses this train. The compartment car is a model of perfection. The entire train is most elaborately furnished, and the country through which the train travels is rich in magnificent scenery, and the single day which is consumed in the trip can be spent most advantageously in taking in the beauties of nature. The announcement of the new train several years ago was one of the great achievements of the Southern Railway "Piedmont Air Line," and the public are highly grateful and have shown and will continue to show their appreciation, to the evident satisfaction of those instrumental in reducing the time between New York and Florida to a minimum. Excursion tickets South have been placed on sale at very low rates, and those contemplating taking a trip to the sunny lands should call on or address R. D. Carpenter, general agent, or Alex. S. Thweatt, Eastern passenger agent, 271 Broadway, New York.

EMBLEMATIC RUGS.

The business started only a few months ago by H. A. S. Read in emblematic rugs has grown even faster than anticipated, and the outlook is that Mr. Read will establish a permanent and very successful trade in these goods. Mr. Read was formerly a leading designer with the Hartford Carpet Company, and personally designs all of the rugs offered, and therefore his patterns are entirely exclusive and cannot be obtained elsewhere. The Emblematic Rug Company now offer Axminster rugs in 27x54 inch size in the following patterns: Masonic, Mystic Shrine, Grand Army, Royal Arcanum, Yale College, Princeton College, League of American Wheelmen, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows. Ingrain Art Squares, 9x9 feet, are made in the Brownie, Yacht Race and Masonic patterns. Special designs will be made to order for societies, lodges, &c., and dealers can take orders for this kind of work and safely intrust them to Mr. Read.

Another successful specialty of the Emblematic Rug Company is the illuminated Mentone art squares. These are Ingrain squares in which the coloring effects are greatly amplified over what is possible to secure by the regular method of weaving. Mr. Read can provide any number of colors desired and produces an appearance altogether different from the ordinary Ingrain square. An illustrated colored sheet of the emblematic rugs and Art Squares will be sent on application to 1193 Broadway, New York, and we advise all dealers visiting the city to call on Mr. Read and see the beauties of his Mentone Art Squares.

KIYOSHI SUGAWA,

NATIVE SUPERINTENDENT OF E. T. MASON & CO.'S JAPANESE FACTORIES.

The above portrait is a good representation of a modern Japanese. Mr. Kiyoshi Sugawa is the native superintendent of E. T. Mason & Co.'s Japanese rug and matting factories, and is thoroughly skilled in all the technique of manufacturing, besides possessing managerial business ability to a noted degree. He has been with Mason & Co. for the past six years, and previously was professor of a college in Nagaya, Japan. His headquarters are at Kobe.

Hugh Bowes & Co., wool brokers, Liverpool, England, in their last circular say:

Confirming our report of the 12th inst., the wool markets have since fairly well maintained their previous steady tone, scarcely affected by any other consideration than the approach of the holidays and the annual stock taking. When these are concluded we may expect a renewal of recent activity, for there is little, if any, lack of confidence as to the future, and the American question in evidence just now is looked upon as capable of an amicable settlement before long. The trades using East India wool continue to be well engaged, and we see little reason to expect other than the maintenance of November rates at the auction opening here on January 31, when probably about 27,000 bales will be available.

If the remnant stock of a carpet department is kept tightly and evenly rolled and conspicuously ticketed so the salesman can catch at a glance the yardage, the loss on remnants will be very largely, if not altogether, avoided. Any stock can be easily so kept by the occasional but persistent use of an Allyn measuring and winding machine. The cost of this machine may be saved easily in one season in this way alone.

The H. B. Graves Home Furnishing House, Rochester, N. Y., has just issued the Christmas edition of "Beautiful Homes," a handsomely illustrated paper devoted to home furnishing and household hints. The publication is interesting in itself and also an excellent advertising medium for the house which issues it.

Kerr, Siebecker & Co., dealers in carpets, draperies, &c., Scranton and Carbondale, Pa., whose dissolution of partnership was announced in The Review of December 15, have been succeeded by S. G. Kerr, Son & Co. Mr. Siebecker, the retiring partner, has formed a new firm under style of Siebecker & Watkins, who have opened a carpet and upholstery establishment at 406 Lackawanna avenue, Scranton.

The incorporation of the business of Barnes, Hengerer & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., under the style of the William Hengerer Company, as previously announced by The Review, was accomplished on the 23d ult. The capital is $765,000, divided into $100 shares. The directors of the company are William Hengerer, Clarence O. Howard and Edmund D. Robinson, of Buffalo. The subscribers to the capital stock of the company are: Wm. Hengerer, 4,000 shares; John C. Nagel, 1,500; Clarence O. Howard, 500; Edmund D. Robbins, 100; Calvin F. Budd, 50—all of Buffalo; Harry S. Barnes, Harriet S. Barnes and Herbert S. Barnes, all of New York city, 500 shares.

The dry goods and carpet store of Huber & Chittenden, New London, one of the largest in Eastern Connecticut, was robbed on Christmas Eve, the burglars taking all the cash in the store, but leaving the goods. Entrance was effected by way of an alley off Bank street. The thieves passed over several low wooden buildings to the rear of the store, on State street, pried the iron screens from the windows, and entered. Rolls of carpet, velvet, draperies, &c., were saturated with water and piled against the safe. Dynamite and fuse were used and the front of the safe was blown out. The firm had deposited its receipts at noon, but a bag containing $77 in silver and $600 in bills in the safe were taken. Two men who were in the store in the evening are believed to be the thieves. A good description of them has been given the police.

The Savannah (Ga.) News of the 22d ult. says: Lindsay & Morgan are exhibiting a most unique Christmas design. A room is arranged in one of their large windows, in which, among the usual accompaniments, stands a handsome brass bedstead all done up in white. In this are seen sleeping two little negroes, whose black skins are in striking contrast to the surrounding immaculate appearance. By the fireplace hang their Trilby-like stockings to be filled by Santa Claus. The design was arranged by Mr. Copper and the decorations were by Mr. Shivers.

THE CARPET SWEEPER DECISION.

The following is the decree of the United States Circuit Court, affirmed by the United States Court of Appeals on December 10, in the Bissell-Goshen carpet sweeper case. The decree is in favor of the Bissell Company.

JUDGE SEVERN'S DECREE.

Upon the final hearing upon the pleadings and proofs this court orders, adjudges and decrees as follows:

That Adelmer D. Plumb was the first, original and sole inventor of the improvements in carpet sweepers described and claimed in letters patent of the United States, issued to him October 19, 1880, and numbered 233,371; that the complainant is now sole owner of said letters patent and of all claims for damages caused by the infringement thereof, and for all claims to profits derived by infringement therefrom; that the said letters patent are good and valid in law and secure to said complainant the exclusive right to manufacture, use and vend the invention described and claimed in the second claim thereof.

That the said defendant has infringed the exclusive rights so secured to the complainant, by the manufacture and sale at the said city of Grand Rapids and elsewhere, of carpet sweepers called the "Banner," "Star" and "Perfect" sweepers, which sweepers embody the invention secured to the complainant by the second claim of said letters patent.

That the said defendant, its officers, agents, employees, salesmen, servants and workmen do absolutely desist and refrain from directly or indirectly making or causing to be sold, or using or causing to be used, carpet sweepers in any manner embodying and imitating the said invention so secured and described and claimed in the second claim of said Letters Patent No. 233,371; and particularly that they, and each of them, desist and refrain from so manufacturing, using and selling said sweepers so manufactured by them and known as the "Banner," "Star" and "Perfect" sweepers, as well as any other sweepers of the same form and construction, but which may be known upon the market by different names; and that a writ of injunction do issue accordingly.

That the said cause be referred to John S. Lawrence, Esquire, master in chancery, to take an account of the gains and profits which have accrued to the said defendant, and of the damages which have resulted to said complainant by reason of said infringement, such accounting to be taken according to the rules and practice of the courts of equity, and the said accounting when completed, together with the evidence taken by him, to be reported by said master to this court with all convenient speed. All the evidence heretofore taken and introduced in the case may be used before the master without being again introduced, so far as the same may be pertinent to the accounting, and both parties shall be at liberty to produce such further evidence as they desire.

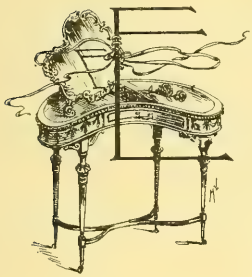
M. M. TERRY'S AFFAIRS.

The committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the late M. M. Terry, carpet and furniture dealer, Brooklyn, rendered their report at a meeting of the creditors on the 23d ult. The report showed that collections were progressing favorably and that the inventory of stock taken at the time of Mr. Terry's death was correct. The liabilities are $47,359.89, and the nominal assets are $74,034.63. No proposition to effect a settlement with creditors has been made by the executor or executrix, they stating that it is too early in their administration to form a definite opinion as to any offer they would be warranted in making. Attention is called to the fact that the estate is in the hands of the executor and executrix under the will of the decedent, and that they have eighteen months from November 1, 1895, in which to settle its affairs.

The Rector—Did the congregation decide to have new cushions in the pews?

The Curate—No, sir. They unanimously decided on mattresses.—Puck.

THE UPHOLSTERY MARKET.



EVEN thus early in the season the returns from the salesmen on the road indicate a prosperous spring business. The tariff agitation seems to have very little effect upon buyers; those who believe in the protection policy feeling assured that there will at least be no reduction in duties while the Republican majority continues in Congress, while those who oppose it are not disturbed in view of the fact that the operation of the proposed bill is limited to a fixed date so far ahead and so clearly defined that merchants can do business with a certainty of no sudden or unlooked for changes.

Should the bill go into effect before spring importations have passed the custom house, which at this writing seems doubtful, the advance in lace curtains would be 7½ per cent.

The year just ended has been marked by few changes and few important failures.

On the whole even those dealers who ordinarily "have not made a cent" concede that the business of the year has been a fairly prosperous one.

With some exceptions the salesmen have made their engagements for 1896. Few changes in the personnel of firms are noted for the new year.

A MEETING of the Wood Pole Association was held at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, last month, which was attended by the Eastern and Western manufacturers. Mr. Hussey, of the Toledo Molding Company, acted as chairman and Mr. Parish, of C. P. Parish & Co., as secretary. A new schedule of prices was adopted for the spring season which shows a slight advance on wood curtain poles and trimmings. Among the concerns agreeing to this new schedule are the Gould-Mersereau Company, Henry Reubel Company, H. L. Judd & Co., and John Kroder, of New York; Geo. S. Stewart Company, of Cleveland, and Norwalk, Ohio; Toledo Molding Company, of Toledo, Ohio; Ed. Roos Manufacturing Company and Chas. P. Parish & Co., of Chicago.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION IN CUSTOMS RULES.—In the case of August Pollman against the collector at New York the Board of General Appraisers decided as follows:

The entry in this case was liquidated by the collector at the port of New York on Tuesday, March 28, 1895.

The protest was filed on Monday, April 8, 1895, but the collector declined to entertain it on the ground that the paper was not filed within the time specified in Section 14 of the Customs Administrative Act, which limitation is required to be "within ten days after * * * such ascertainment and liquidation of duties."

The question raised for decision by the board is whether Sunday is to be excluded or included in estimating the statutory period of ten days where the last day on which a protest is ordinarily required to be filed falls on Sunday.

The precise question in controversy has been determined by the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York in the case of Shefer v. Magone, 47 Fed. Rep. 872, where Judge Lacombe in construing Section 2,931 of the Revised Statutes, United States, decided that the whole question is one of statutory regulation by Congress and that its legislation is necessarily exclusive and does not permit the tenth day to be excluded when it falls on Sunday.

The Circuit Court accordingly held that a protest filed on the Monday following came too late and was not a sufficient compliance with the statute.

Protest in this case accordingly overruled.

REPRESENTATIVE NORTHWAY, of Ohio, introduced in the House on the 24th ult. a bill directing the Secretary of Agriculture to establish six silk, flax and ramie experimental stations, to be located one in the Middle States, one in the Northwestern States, one at Washington, one in the North Pacific Coast States, one in the South Gulf States and one on the Pacific Coast. The bill provides that the work at the stations shall be carried on by appointees of the Secretary of Agriculture.

For some time experiments in growing ramie have been going on in the public grounds of Washington, D. C., and it has been shown conclusively that ramie can be grown successfully in this latitude, three crops of excellent quality having been grown the past summer at the Botanical Gardens.

Duty on Linen Tidies.—In the case of Van Blankenstyn & Hennings against the collector at New York, the Board of General Appraisers decided as follows :

The merchandise in these cases consists of linen squares or tidies assessed for duty at 50 per cent. ad valorem, under paragraph 276, act of August 28, 1894, but claimed to be entitled to entry at 35 per cent. ad valorem under paragraph 277 of said act.

These cases were docketed for hearing November 4, 1895 ; there was an appearance, and testimony was offered in verification of samples of the merchandise in controversy, and in support of the contentions of the protests.

An inspection of the samples in the record shows that they are neither made in part of lace, nor embroidered, nor tamboured, and the testimony supports this triple proposition. The articles are tidies, and they are known commercially as renaissance or Battenberg linens. The illustrative sample marked Exhibit 3 shows the method of manufacture of the articles represented by samples marked Exhibits 1 and 2. It consists of a pink cotton square containing the design to be wrought partly worked out with the braids and rings used in working it out. These samples, including the illustrative sample, constitute the best evidence in the case; and warrant the following finding of facts :

1. That the tidies in controversy are made of linen.

2. That they are neither embroidered nor made wholly or in part of lace.

3. That the samples in the record are truly representative of the merchandise in controversy.

The protests are sustained and the decision of the collector in each case is reversed, with an order of reliquidation of the following invoice items, to wit :

Invoice No. 4,054, pattern No. 7,429, described as "linen squares."

Invoice No. 17,571, pattern Nos. 5,057, 5,009 and 5,001, described as manufactures of flax, in accordance with the contention of appellants G. A. 2,103, 2,165, 2,176 and 3,009.

During the past fortnight these buyers have visited the market : Messrs. A. J. Eilers, of McKean, Eilers & Co., Austin, Tex.; B. L. Young, for D. McCarthy & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; E. C. Lines, for Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago ; D. F. Greenawalt, of the Greenawalt Company, Cumberland, Md.; J. A. Corcoran, for W. L. Milner & Co., Toledo, Ohio ; D. C. Theall, for W. S. Butler & Co., Boston ; J. Dives, of Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Reading, Pa.; Lee Douglas, of Douglas, Thomas & Davison, Atlanta, Ga.; David C. Beggs and C. Centner, of D. C. Beggs & Co., Columbus, Ohio ; J. P. Johnston, of Johnston & Shurts, New London, Conn.; E. J. Jones, for Field, Mahler & Co., St. Paul ; J. Edward Bird, of J. Edward Bird & Co., and Ralph Sachs, for S. Kann, Sons & Co., Baltimore ; Robert Cruickshank, for J. N. Adam & Co., and John McLaren, for the William Hengerer Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. J. Wheaton, for H. S. Barney & Co., Schenectady, N. Y.; H. B. Strong, for Brown, Thomson & Co., Hartford, Conn.; J. Russell Johnston, of Elder & Johnston, Dayton, Ohio ;

THE BRASS GOODS ASSOCIATION.

The Association of Manufacturers of Brass Goods, Curtain Poles and Upholstery Hardware have opened an office at Room 513, B. & O. Building, 415 Broadway, New York, and have appointed Jas. P. Allen, recently with the Henry Reubel Company, as commissioner. Mr. Allen will be in charge of the office, and will generally superintend the workings of the association. This association was formed last April, and has since accomplished a great deal of good by abolishing the ruinous competition that had previously existed in the staple lines which formed the larger part of the business. The prices have again been revised, and the new schedule goes into effect on January 1, and will show a slight advance in some lines. The main object of the revision, however, was to obtain a comparative equality in the prices of different kinds of goods.

The members of the Brass Goods Association are H. L. Judd & Co., Gould-Mersereau Company, Henry Reubel Company, John Kroder, Incorporated, American Pin Company, Tucker Manufacturing Company, Turner & Seymour Manufacturing Company, T. C. Richards Hardware Company, American Ring Company, Scoville Manufacturing Company, Waterbury Manufacturing Company, Winsted Metalliform Company, Brinkerhoff Company and Ann Arbor Manufacturing Company, which list includes practically all the makers of upholstery brass goods, curtain poles, &c., in the country.

NEW PRICE LIST OF SCOTCH HOLLANDS.

The importers of John King & Son's Scotch hollands held a meeting at the office of the late I. R. Macpherson, 486 Broadway, on the 20th ult. and adopted the following new price list for the spring season :

John King and Son's Scotch Hollands.

In Effect December 23, 1895.

Widths Inches.....	28	30	32	34	36	38	40	42	45	48	50	54	60	72

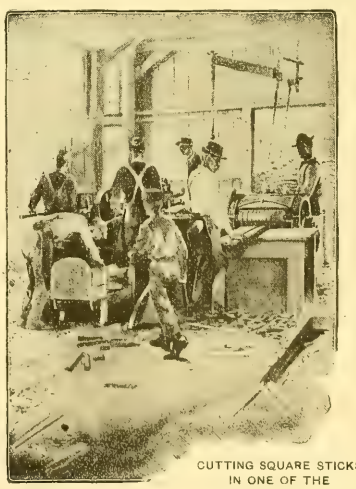
The new list shows an advance of 2 cents per yard on the popular colors in 36 inch widths, and a general advance is made on all colors and widths.

THE HARTSHORN ROLLERS.

The Stewart Hartshorn Company, manufacturers of the famous Hartshorn shade rollers, open the new year with some interesting remarks on page 67 of this issue, and in this connection it is pertinent to congratulate the company on the great success of their exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition, where the Hartshorn roller was awarded a gold medal and a special diploma of honor. The stockrooms of the company are at 486 Broadway, New York, and 203 and 205 Jackson street, Chicago. The main office and factory are at East Newark, N. J.



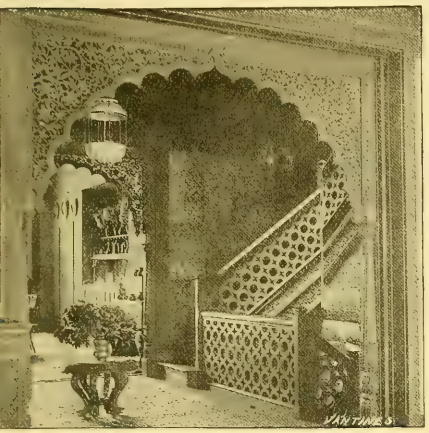
CUTTING SQUARE STICKS IN ONE OF THE HARTSHORN FACTORIES.

A BOSTON TURKISH ROOM.

A BOSTON lady recently entertained her friends at dinner and afterward led them to a new smoking room which she had been preparing for her husband.

Upon the finely polished hardwood floor was a large Turkish rug in predominating colors of deep red and blue. A table in the centre of the room, with cover in damask in Turkish designs, bore a massive jar filled with red and yellow chrysanthemums, and here a curiously carved censer burned sweet incense.

The feature was the canopied couch upon a raised platform at one side of the room. The couch, of fine damask, is luxuriously supplied with silken cushions. The bagdad forming the background for the couch also furnishes the canopy, which is upheld at the corners by massive spears. At the head of this couch stands a carved figure in ebony and gold, and from one of the spears hangs a jeweled lantern. In another corner of the room is a cozy corner.



AN ORIENTAL SUGGESTION.—Vantine's Monthly.

The couch of bronze velour is well supplied with cushions in exquisite tones of silk, while Turkish crape forms the background and the canopy above.

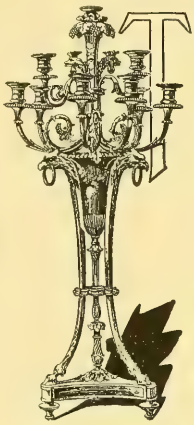
Throughout the room are placed Turkish divans in richest velours, while beside them stand tabourettes inlaid with pearl, upon which stand quaint vases filled with delicious perfume. A reclining couch in old gold, dull blues and reds, with cushions galore, is neither chair nor couch, but an Oriental luxury, rarely found but in that land.

Upon the walls are pictures of the Orient, and everywhere the attention is called to the collection of rare Oriental bric-à-brac. The room is lighted from above with a jeweled centrepiece, while quaint lamps are hung at artistic points. The sensuous air was delicately set to music by the æolian harp. The three entrances to this room are hung with Turkish crape draped picturesquely with golden rings.

The room was furnished by John H. Pray, Sons & Co., under direction of Mr. Havens, manager of the upholstery department.

The travelers for the Henry Reubel Company for the spring season are Chas. W. Ellis, New York State, Canada, Upper Ohio and Michigan; Frank Cable, Pennsylvania, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and Norfolk; E. E. Bliss, New England; L. Jarrett, Geo. Deckelman, Louis Dickinson, New York city and vicinity; C. A. Baker, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and Missouri; T. H. Coffee, store trade. Mr. Reubel and Mr. Angier will make special trips.

ABOUT LACE DRAPERIES.



THE growing favor enjoyed by Renaissance curtains is evidenced by the fact that so good a judge as W. H. Fletcher has ordered unusually large quantities for the spring season, and does not hesitate to express the opinion that it is the coming curtain. Of course he bases that opinion on the fact that, being made of linen, it is the most durable of lace fabrics, and is in reality the most stylish of curtains. Arabians also seem to be in renewed demand, but instead of starting at $30 they now begin at about $5. Antiques and Clunys likewise appear to be coming back to favor, as their durability exceeds that of any other goods made of cotton. In all these grades W. H. Fletcher & Co., in recognition of this condition of things, have ordered long lines in desirable patterns.

In Brussels and Irish points, from the lowest to the best, the assortment now shown by the concern is larger than any house formerly carried of Nottinghams.

Marie Antoinettes are peculiarly the French curtains, and, as everybody knows, the French produce the styles wanted. Although in the background for a time the goods are very much in evidence this spring. The line is the widest in range and the cheapest ever offered.

W. H. Fletcher & Co. are at the top of the Nottingham business, a position which they claim their foreign and domestic connections enable them to maintain easily. They also assert that their line for spring cannot be touched in amount, variety or price.

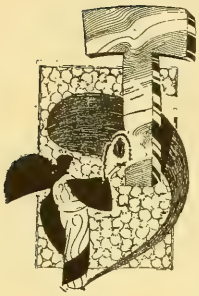
Muslin curtains, so extensively used for cottages, are largely sought in the low and medium ends. In these goods the many new styles and effects make them peculiarly desirable for cheap decoration.

Fancy nets, both plain and with scalloped edges, continue to be held in great favor; in fact the East is selling more fancy nets and frilled curtains than ever before, and this spring the orders for the Eastern territory are double in quantity as compared with those of former years.

L. E. Russell is at 611 Washington street, Boston, and represents Wm. & J. Robertson, New York, silk draperies and upholstery goods, and W. E. Meats & Co., Nottingham, lace curtains and nets. Mr. Russell believes New England is the chosen land of this country, and made his arrangements for the year 1896 so as to be able to have his home in that section.

We understand that Henry Offerman, successor to Wechsler Brothers & Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., will resume control of the upholstery department at an early date with a complete new stock. The department has heretofore been conducted by Kaempfer & Watson, with C. Watson as the manager. It is more than probable that Mr. Watson will remain in charge of the department under the new régime.

MAURICE F. HORAN & CO.



The firm of Blaisdell & Horan, Boston, was dissolved on December 7, and was succeeded by the new concern of Maurice F. Horan & Co., who will continue the business and settle the affairs of the old concern at the same location as heretofore, Nos. 189 Devonshire street and 52 Arch street, Boston. Maurice F. Horan was a member of the firm of Blaisdell & Horan and its predecessors from their start in business some ten years ago, prior to which time he had been a well-known salesman with the old Boston upholstery wholesalers, Hart & Young. He gained a reputation as a successful salesman years ago, and since being a principal in the business has proved his possession of notably good judgment and executive ability, and has originated many popular specialties in upholstery and drapery fabrics. The firm of Blaisdell & Horan had become well known throughout the country as headquarters on corduroys, and made a big hit in placing on the market the mottled effect in corduroy, produced by extracting the color. They always made a specialty of plain corduroys, and the new firm of Horan & Co. will continue that feature and carry an exceptionally large range of colors in plain corduroys. They show these goods in both narrow and wide wales, and also in a variety of colored figures as well as in plain. The figured velour which was brought out by Blaisdell & Horan a year ago is steadily increasing in favor, and is shown for spring in new patterns. Mr. Horan will aim to follow out the course which brought success to the old firm of Blaisdell & Horan —that is, the introduction of specialties in fabrics and effects not shown by other houses.

KAISER CLOTH.

This fabric is not an imitation of Scotch spots, but is made on the same class of machine as that on which the Scotch goods are woven. Each figure is raised, as in the Scotch or Swiss fabric, and the Kaisers are sold at a lower price than the foreign goods can be landed at. Imitations are made in America on the old box looms, but in no instance are the figures raised as in the Kaiser, Scotch, and Swiss goods. W. H. Fletcher & Co. are the sole agents.

J. A. Brittain & Co. are being congratulated all around on the acquisition of such spacious and handsome quarters as they will have in their new salesroom at 434 to 438 Broadway. They expect to occupy it about the end of this month, and in the meantime will be found at the old stand, 413 Broadway.

The salesmen of W. E. Meats & Co., lace curtain manufacturers, of Nottingham, have started on the road with the strong line of new patterns the firm are now showing for spring trade, and will doubtless make their calls interesting to the buyers. Stephen Wallis is in charge of the New York office, 33 Howard street, and is always on hand to welcome visiting buyers.

MOUND CITY MEMS.

ST. LOUIS,
DECEMBER 22, 1895.

F. E. Little & Co., at 701 North Main street, sole manufacturers of the Star brand odorless feathers, down quilts and down cushions, are coming to the front at a two minute gait. Their latest designs are made up in satine or silk coverings.

All the upholstery men of the Trorlicht, Duncker & Renard Carpet Company are now out on the road, and are sending in some big orders. The firm has secured a big stock of choice spring goods, which, as usual, are going at popular prices.

J. F. Armstrong, the new manager of the upholstery department of Siegel-Hillman & Co., will have the entire fourth floor after the first of the year. Among the new lines which Mr. Armstrong and his assistants will handle will be straw mattings, art furniture, rugs and all kinds of upholstery goods.

The temporary injunction applied for by the Ely & Walker Dry Goods Company, the J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Company, and the dry goods firm of Rice, Stix & Co., to prevent Insurance Commissioner Waddill from enforcing the uniform fire insurance policy law enacted by the last Legislature, has been granted, and the case will now go to trial at the January meeting of the court. The law limits the amount of insurance to three-fourths of the value of the property insured, and the complainants contend that it is unconstitutional and void, because it delegates to the insurance commissioner and the companies the power of the Legislature.

At the notable Busch-Von Gontard wedding recently, which cost over $100,000, the decorations were of the costliest kind. The bridal suite at the Planters' Hotel was furnished by the Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Company.

I. Dreyfus, of Dreyfus Brothers, New York, was here the other day.

H. E. H.

The salesmen of Cushman Brothers & Co., the Boston shade roller and shade manufacturers, are Frank Hemmenway, James Conlin, E. L. Mudge, William Smith and Joseph Killea. George T. Wells, of the firm, has general charge of the firm's selling department, and will be found on hand daily at the store, 121 Kingston street, Boston, to welcome buyers.

W. R. Pitman is now making his headquarters at the new New York store of the American Bedstead Company, 260 Canal street. A large stock of all the patterns is now carried at this store and the trade will save time by sending in their orders to this address. A stock of woven wire mattresses with iron frames will also be carried. C. H. Bingham, from Westboro, Mass., is in charge of the office business at the new store and will also meet the trade.

Francis McFarlan, for the past nine years with J. H. Lane & Co., retires from his connection with that firm on the 1st inst. to enter the commission business on his own account, with an office at 54 and 56 Worth street, New York. He will do a general commission business in cotton goods and will interest the upholstery trade, especially in interlinings, table felts and a patented extension and reversible shade roller bracket. Mr. McFarlan had charge of the Americus shade cloth account for J. H. Lane & Co.

REMOVAL OF T. I. BIRKIN & CO.

T. I. Birkin & Co., the lace curtain manufacturers, will remove from the loft at 29 Mercer stret, which they have occupied since establishing a house in this country, to the imposing new building on the southeast corner of Broadway and Grand street, and numbered 458 Broadway. They will be located there by the 15th inst. and be ready to meet the visiting trade in greatly improved quarters.

Their new loft is 30x100 feet, with a perfect north light, and will give them about three times more space for stock than heretofore and an equal increase for showroom. The building is only just completed, and the modern passenger and freight elevators will supply quick transportation to their floor.

The new location is also a landmark in the lace curtain business, for within a block on the north and south are situated the majority of the big houses in the trade. J. W. Smith, the store and financial manager ; Harry Bosler, the selling representative, and T. F. Bernard, the city salesman, will have up-to-date facilities in every direction for prosecuting the business.

Have you secured any of J. B. Ryer, Son & Co.'s 42½ cent lace curtains or $2.65 tapestry curtains? If not you should send in an order at once to 167 Canal street, New York.

An advice from John King & Son, Glasgow, under date of December 21, states that they have not yet decided on a new American agent to succeed the late I. R. Macpherson, but they expected to do so shortly.

W. E. Meats & Co. have made a large addition to their line of fish net and other net patterns, and are carrying the newest effects in stock at 33 Howard street, New York, for spring trade.

John M. Hassall, the manufacturer of net and frilled curtains, has taken into partnership his brother, James L. Hassall, and the firm name is now Hassall Brothers. They have recently removed from Tremont street to larger quarters at 11 Hayward place, Boston, where they are now showing many new effects for spring trade.

BALANCING DAY. THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR.

The Buffalo Fringe Works have now ready their new hanging map of the "Decorative" rope portière, which shows the different designs produced, and in the centre of which is a handsome colored reproduction of the portière. Morris Bernhard, proprietor of the concern, has been at considerable expense to produce a map that will be an ornament in any upholstery department, and as this very ornate hanger can be obtained for the asking we advise all dealers to secure one by sending their name and address to the Buffalo Fringe Works, 457 Washington street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Barney.—E. B. Barney, recently with the M. J. Cornell Co., Butte, Mon., has been engaged as manager of the new upholstery department of Thos. O'Callaghan & Co., Boston, which will be opened the middle of this month.

Brebner.—J. D. Brebner, manager of the H. B. Claflin Company's upholstery and lace curtain department, returned from Europe on the 21st ult.

Cable.—Frank Cable has retired from his connection with the Gould-Mersereau Company, and takes a position January 1 with the Henry Reubel Company, for whom he will travel over his old territory.

Clinch—Donaldson.—Joseph Clinch, of Joseph Wild & Co.'s Boston office, is to be married in Brooklyn to-morrow (January 2) to Miss Hattie M. Donaldson.

Cohen.—Benj. Cohen assumed a position in the curtain department of Stern Brothers on the 30th ult. Mr. Cohen was formerly the assistant manager in B. Altman & Co.'s upholstery department, but has been out of the upholstery business for the past year.

Ellis.—Chas. W. Ellis, who has been with the Gould-Mersereau Company and their predecessors for the past twelve years, transfers his services January 1 to the Henry Reubel Company and will travel over the same territory as heretofore.

Emden.—G. Emden, of Emden, Gerstlè & Co., arrived from Europe per the Lucania the 29th ult.

Kurr.—Louis Kurr, the new manager of B. Altman & Co.'s upholstery department, sailed for Paris per the La Bourgogne the 28th ult. He expects to return before February 1.

Luth.—Peter J. Luth, with Hunninghaus & Lindemann, is now on the road booking some of his old-time orders for spring. With Mr. Luth's popularity and the reputation of Hunninghaus & Lindemann's goods the trip ought to beat all previous records.

Mehan.—R. J. Mehan, formerly with Arnold, Constable & Co., is now representing De Turck, Bassett & Co., Philadelphia.

O'Connor.—Lawrence O'Connor, recently with the American Pin Company, is now with Wight & Lackey, and will carry their laces and chenilles through parts of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Sullivan.—J. J. Sullivan, manager of the American Pin Company's New York store, spent Christmas in Boston, and started out immediately after to see some of the big trade. Mr. Sullivan keeps in active practice as a salesman with the trade outside of as well as in New York.

Wiler.—Wm. Wiler, the veteran brass goods dealer, 225 South Fifth street, Philadelphia, met with a severe injury a few days ago by being thrown from a trolley car as he was mounting it. A severe scalp wound was the result, but he is now, we are happy to say, convalescent.

Wormser.—M. E. Wormser, with Emden, Gerstlè & Co., has recovered from his severe illness with typhoid fever, which has kept him from business since October 1. He will be out shortly over his old territory—Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pennsylvania and New York State.

It is rumored that a stock company is being formed in Cincinnati to engage in the wholesale dry goods business.

It is reported as we go to press that R. J. Mount, recently manager of B. Altman & Co.'s upholstery department, will assume charge of Stern Brothers' upholstery department January 2.

CUSHMAN SHADE ROLLERS.

The many years in which Cushman Brothers & Co. have been manufacturing shade rollers are a guarantee of their thorough skill and knowledge in the production of these goods. They have a modernly equipped factory in one of the suburbs of Boston, and have facilities for a large output of rollers. Their productions consist of the Cushman self acting roller, a thoroughly satisfactory self acting roller, offered at prices to compete with anything in the market; the Cushman self acting tin rollers, made in all sizes, and the Cushman-Knapp balance rollers. The latter is the only perfect balance roller on the market, and those who have used it in its long years of production are fully aware of its merits. To those in the trade who have any idea that balance rollers are no longer manufactured we would suggest that they send in a sample order for some of the Cushman-Knapp rollers, which will prove that these goods are made even better than heretofore, and that the prices are away below what they were in former years.

A feature to be borne in mind by the trade is that Cushman Brothers & Co. have concentrated all their energies in manufacturing on shade rollers and mounted shades, and that during the past year their system of doing business has been greatly improved, so that the trade will receive prompt shipments and every attention for their orders. Mr. Chas. Cushman personally visits the factory every day, and Mr. Geo. T. Wells is at the store, No. 121 Kingston street, Boston, giving his entire and able attention to the selling department. The firm of Cushman Brothers & Co. has been very popular throughout the country for many years past, and with the knowledge that they are now again seeking trade from every quarter we believe that most of their old customers will find pleasure in sending them in a New Year's order. The firm will cheerfully furnish prices on all makes of rollers and mounted shades, and the prices will be found interesting. Try them and see!

I. Preston Taylor severed his connection with the carpet department of Lord & Taylor, New York, on the 31st ult.

The Hollins Mill Company are sending out shipments on the orders for their Scotch hollands taken by Charles Paterson last fall, and we have heard some very complimentary allusions to the quality and finish of the goods received. The Hollins Mill hollands are growing steadily in favor with the American trade, and every dealer ought to have some of them in stock.

The Gould-Mersereau Company intend to discontinue the manufacture of brass beds and confine their attention hereafter to carpet and upholstery brass goods, curtain poles, &c. The tools and machinery for manufacturing brass beds will be disposed of as soon as possible. It is reported that W. T. Mersereau will continue the manufacture of brass beds alone if his plans to that effect can be consummated.

Henry L. Butler, founder of the New York dry goods house of Butler, Broome & Clapp, and for many years a prominent resident of Clifton, S. I., died December 22 at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Parmele, at New Brighton, of pneumonia. Mr. Butler, who was seventy-three years of age, had been retired from active business for several years, and lived recently in New York city. He leaves a widow, four sons and two daughters.

EMDEN, GERSTLE & CO.

With preparations in styles all completed for the spring season Emden, Gerstlé & Co. confidently feel that they are in a position to command a greatly increased share of the lace curtain business for the coming season. They have the assortment of styles, an immense stock and attractive prices. Believing in a big turnover, they are willing to sell goods at the lowest possible margins, and think they have demonstrated this fact to a large part of the trade. Mr. G. Emden arrived home from Europe the 29th ult. and brought with him a batch of the very latest effects, so that the spring line is now equipped in every possible direction. The traveling men will be out this week, and the goods are on show at 451 and 453 Broadway, New York.

The Merchants' Central Club, which at present has quarters in the building at Grand and Wooster streets, New York, will occupy its new rooms in the building corner of Broadway and Broome street about February 1.

Since W. E. Meats & Co. bought out the late firm of Henry W. Rice & Co., Limited, they have made great improvements in the range of patterns of lace curtains. Many of the new ideas were sent over to the factory from the New York office at 33 Howard street, and were designed to especially meet the requirements of the American market. These ideas have been very ably carried out by the efficient staff in the Nottingham works, and the result is a variety of styles that no buyer can afford to miss. Prices remain the same as heretofore, notwithstanding the advance in cotton.

We received the following announcement from the Pinney, Casse & Lackey Company too late for insertion in our advertising columns: "For the spring season of 1896 the Pinney, Casse & Lackey Company offer a line of staples and novelties in window shades that has never been equaled by any competitor. First in quality of fabrics, first in designs and workmanship, and first in the appreciation of all dealers who want the best. See our line of imported shade laces. The largest and best assortment ever shown. We have other goods. Anything you want." The company speak strongly, but justifiably, for their experience of the past year shows that their goods are unsurpassed in favor with the trade.

The traveling men of Rieser & Co., the lace curtain manufacturers and importers, are now on the road and everything in the house is in shape for spring business. Shipments of the new spring novelties have already arrived and henceforth will come regularly, so that the firm will have their new goods on hand earlier than usual. The tendency of buyers lately has proved to be for a better class of goods, and stocks of lace curtains in the hands of retailers are now very low. During the past few years the output of the lower priced goods has aggregated a larger share of the total business than previously, due to the fact that most everyone felt or really was poorer in pocket than prior to 1893, but now the improved conditions of business are shown by the increased inquiry for finer goods. Rieser & Co. are in an excellent position to satisfy this demand, and at the same time to continue to give novel and stylish goods at popular prices. No buyer should come to New York without visiting their salesroom, 480 Broadway.

THE BRUSSELS TAPESTRY COMPANY.

At the New York salesroom of the Brussels Tapestry Company, 337 Broadway, Mr. S. A. Williams is showing the new line for the coming season, and buyers will find that it will well repay inspection, being in all respects the finest the company has ever produced. In tapestry curtains the line comprises very attractive tinsel effects at low prices, and a marked feature of the entire offerings is the elegance and high tones of the patterns in all grades, embracing fine work in shadings and other details not usually found in any but the highest priced goods.

Among the notable effects are gros grain and satin stripes, and also a variety of medallions and other figures. There is a fine assortment of old tapestry effects in rich, heavy goods, and a large variety of elegant novelties in the finer grades. Among the new things are some choice patterns in tinsel effects, with plain centres and richly colored borders, and a number of rich patterns in Turkish, Japanese and other Oriental styles, some of which are particularly striking. The line includes likewise some very artistic effects, with elegant friezes and borders. The offerings in tapestries are notable in every grade for the wide range of styles and tasteful handling of color combinations.

In tapestry piece goods the company shows a remarkably strong assortment of novel and taking effects, comprising Persian stripes, choice cashmere effects, a fine line of detached figures, &c. The line of silk damasks is notable for the great variety of handsome and attractive conceptions in low price goods, ranging from choice, delicate shadings to rich, heavy colors, and the line is particularly strong also in the finest grades of all silk goods. In silk curtains Mr. Williams shows a highly attractive assortment in cross stripes and all-over effects.

Of the offerings as a whole it may justly be said that it is highly creditable to the Brussels Tapestry Company, and furnishes a striking illustration of the perfection which has been reached in the United States in this branch of upholstery and drapery manufacture.

STOCK FOR THE NEW ENGLANDERS.

For a supply of leading and desirable makes of floor coverings near at hand we recommend the New England trade to consult C. C. Bailey & Co., 90 Canal street, Boston. They carry complete stocks of everything offered and can assure the quickest possible deliveries. They can also supply their customers with cut quantities of goods previously bought, and offer them every accommodation obtainable from a large retail stock, as Bailey & Co. conduct an extensive retail department in Boston in connection with their wholesale business.

C. C. Bailey & Co. offer the following attractive lines for the spring season :

Sanford's Velvets and Tapestries, of which they carry a big line and make a specialty ; Higgins' Two Star and Ten Wire Taps., Whittall and Burlington Brussels, Norris Mills and Wakefield Extra Supers, Reeve floor oil cloth, Nairn linoleum, rugs, straw mattings, &c. Buyers visiting Boston will find it well worth their while to visit the spacious and handsome warerooms of C. C. Bailey & Co. at 90 Canal street, near the Union Depot.

DRAWBACKS ON EXPORTED GOODS.

The complicated character of the drawback system is illustrated in the following letters of instruction to customs collectors :

Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary, Washington, December 12, 1895.

Collector of Customs, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Sir—On the exportation of Zanoni rugs and Zanoni velvets, manufactured by Harrison Townsend & Co., of Norristown, Pa., in part from imported Botany worsted yarns, a drawback will be allowed equal in amount to the duty paid on the imported worsted yarns used in such manufactures, less the legal deduction of 1 per centum.

The quantity of imported worsted yarn used in the manufacture shall be determined by allowing for every 100 pounds of Zanoni rugs exported 67.6 pounds of 2 | 2 | 52s Botany worsted yarn, and for every 100 pounds of Zanoni velvet exported 61.4 pounds of 2 | 2 | 52s Botany worsted yarn. The net weight of the exported Zanoni rugs and Zanoni velvet will be ascertained by the United States weigher, and whenever ordered by the collector samples of the rugs and velvet will be taken by the inspecting officer and submitted to the appraiser for verification of the percentage of worsted yarn contained therein and the loss incurred in the process of manufacture.

Respectfully yours,
C. S. Hamlin, Assistant Secretary.

Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary, Washington, D. C., December 14, 1895.

Collector of Customs, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Sir—On the exportation of Wilton rugs, manufactured by Harrison, Townsend & Co., Norristown, Pa., from imported Botany worsted yarns, a drawback will be allowed equal in amount to the duties paid on the imported worsted yarns so used, less the legal deduction of 1 per centum. The quantity of imported worsted yarn used in the manufacture shall be determined as follows : For every 100 pounds of the net weight of the exported Wilton rugs, to be ascertained by the United States weigher, allow 27 pounds of 2 | 3 | 16s. Botany worsted yarns, 27 pounds of 2 | 3 | 15s. Botany worsted yarns, and 27 pounds of 2 | 3 | 14s. Botany worsted yarns.

Whenever ordered by the collector, samples of the rugs entered for export will be taken by the export officer and submitted to the appraiser for verification of the percentage of worsted yarn contained therein and the loss incurred in process of manufacture.

Very respectfully, C. S. Hamlin,
Assistant Secretary.

THE INDISPENSABLE REMNANT SUPPLEMENT

New York, December 28, 1895.

The Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review :

Will you kindly inform me when your next Remnant Supplement will be issued ? I find on taking charge of this department that this firm have never had it, and having been accustomed to use it I find it very hard to get along without.

Geo. W. Raymond,
Manager of the carpet department of Jordan, Moriarty & Co.

"Look this prisoner up in Bradstreet's," said the judge.

"May I ask why your honor gives such extraordinary instructions ?" asked the prosecuting attorney.

"Certainly," said the judge, "I wish to ascertain whether he is a thief or a kleptomaniac."—Harper's Bazar.

The dry goods jobbing firm of Hugh Harrison & Co., Minneapolis, will go out of business about January 1. Their entire stock has been sold to Lindeke, Warner & Schurmeier, of that city, who took possession of the store of the former firm and will retain it till the middle of January, and that of the stock which is unsold then will be taken to the store of the purchasers. The purchase price of the stock is stated to have exceeded $100,000.

NAUMANN'S NEW SALESROOM.

A. Naumann will occupy this week his new salesroom in the new building 106 to 112 Spring street, corner of Mercer street, New York. Being situated on a corner, the salesroom is superbly lighted from the north, and in that respect is a great improvement over the former salesroom on Greene street. Everything will be in readiness for the earliest buyers, as Mr. Naumann's spring novelties in lace curtains have all arrived and are now on view. They are also being shown by his salesmen on the road. Besides the attractions of tasteful and exceptionally stylish effects Mr. Naumann quotes prices that will certainly appeal to every careful buyer, and states that in values no one can possibly beat him for the spring season.

Arthur G. Graham, Grand Rapids, Mich., is manufacturers' agent for tow, burlaps, excelsior, twines and cordage, paper, rags, waste and moss, and can offer strong inducements to the trade. Write to him.

M. Claviez, for many years technical superintendent of the great plush works of Wilhelm Vogel, of Chemnitz, is about to start a great factory to manufacture plushes, carpets, covers, &c., on a new loom, which, it is thought, will revolutionize the entire method of making these goods. The new firm will be known as Claviez & Co., and will be backed by the Allgemeine Deutsch Credit Anstalt, of Leipsic, one of the strongest financial institutions of the Continent.

Lonsdale Scotch hollands have sterling merits which have made them popular wherever window shades are used. They are shown in all desirable widths and colors, with the genuine beetled finish, and every yard is guaranteed perfect. All wholesale window shade houses sell them, and the demand for them is steadily increasing. Converse, Stanton & Cullen, 83 and 85 Worth street, New York, and 62 Franklin street, Boston, are the sole selling agents to the wholesale trade.

Hunninghaus & Lindemann open the trade for the coming season with strong attractions for all dealers in window shades, shadings, &c. They manufacture the popular Diamond hand made opaque and transparent shadings, also spring rollers in wood and tin, and are large importers of John King & Son's Scotch hollands. Their offerings comprise also Bancroft Sun Fast hollands, Lonsdale Scotch beetled hollands, machine made opaques, Hudson water color opaques, felt shadings, Imperial dead finish hollands, best glazed hollands, window shade laces, fringses, spring rollers, rug fringes, &c. The firm's offerings are on view in their spacious store, 510 Broadway, New York.

The H. W. Ladd Company, one of the largest dry goods firms in Providence, R. I., and of which ex-Governor Ladd is the head, assigned on the 30th ult. to James W. Scott. The assets amount to $354,613.78, and the liabilities $227,589.81. The assignment was caused by business complications with the Burrows estate. Caleb S. Burrows, father-in-law of ex-Governor Ladd, died some time ago without providing for some notes he indorsed for Mr. Ladd. Trouble between the firm and the trustees of the Burrows estate resulted and the firm found itself unable to meet all demands. The firm was organized in 1871 under the name of Ladd & Davis, and some years later was changed to the present company. It is believed the company will continue in business.

JOHN CROSSLEY & SONS' BUSINESS.

The Kidderminster (England) Shuttle of the 21st ult says :

The directors of John Crossley & Sons, Limited, Dean Clough Mills, Halifax, have decided to recommend that after providing for the payment of the dividend on the preference shares at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, there be paid a dividend of 7s. 6d. per share on the ordinary shares, which, with the dividend of 2s. 6d. per share paid on them in August last, is equal to 10 per cent. for the year ending December 7, 1895. The profits, including the sum brought forward from last year, amount to £84,810 16s. 5d., to which it is proposed to add from the No. 2 reserve fund £5,000, making a total of £89,810 16s. 5d.; the above dividends requiring £89,097 15s., leaving a balance of £713 1s. 5d. to be carried forward to next year. The dividends will be payable to all shareholders upon the company's register on December 24, and the transfer books will be closed from that date to January 10.

On the Instalment Plan.—Mrs. Winterbloom—I fared so nicely this Christmas! Harold, take Mrs. Van Twiller into the parlor and show her the curtain your papa gave me.

Mrs. Van Twiller (returning)—What a beauty! if you will pardon my saying so; such an expensive present, too!

Harold—Pa says it 's only $8 a month.

James Furfey, a veteran in the manufacture of cocoa mats and mattings, having been in that business for forty-eight years, has retired and is succeeded by his son, James A. Furfey, who has been associated with him for the last nineteen years and has been manager of the business for several years past. The factory is at Cambridgeport, Mass., and James A. Furfey will make several important improvements in the plant and will endeavor to increase considerably the output during the coming year.

The Gowing Carpet Sewing Machine Company have removed from 39 Kingston street to 118 South street, Boston, Mass., and the manufacture and sale of the machine are now under charge of W. H. Fowler. Mr. Fowler is a practical machinist, and has superintended the production of the Gowing sewing machine for several years past. He proposes very shortly to being out a very important improvement on the machine, which will be offered as a separate fixture and will cover a wider field in stitching than has been done heretofore. Further reference to this improvement will be made in a later issue of The Review.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals held, in the recent case of Alms & Doepke Company v. Shackleford et al., that mere inadequacy of price, unless such as to import fraud, is not sufficient ground for setting aside a commissioner's sale of land upon exceptions to the report, nor would the fact that creditors, to satisfy whose debts the land was sold, offered an increased bid authorize the chancellor to set aside the sale, there being nothing to show that there was anything to prevent them from bidding at the sale; that appraised at $4,000, in which the wife had a potential right of dower estimated at from $500 to $1,000, having been purchased by the wife at $2,700, there was not such inadequacy of price to import fraud, and that the property of a debtor being bid in at a commissioner's sale by the debtor's wife, the fact that other persons were, through sympathy for the debtor's family, deterred from bidding, was not sufficient ground for setting aside the sale upon exceptions, there being no effort made to prevent others from bidding.

A PROGRESSIVE BRASS GOODS CONCERN.

THE HENRY REUBEL COMPANY'S RAPID RISE IN BUSINESS—ITS ORGANIZATION FOR THE YEAR 1896.

THAT the Henry Reubel Company made a very marked advance in its position in the brass goods, curtain pole and upholstery hardware business during the year 1895 is evident. Mr. Reubel and Mr. Angier, the active members of the company, believe in progression and unabated activity, and doubtless their success is mainly due to the exceptional energy and enthusiasm applied to their work. Two important additions have been made to the company's selling force for the year 1896, Charles W. Ellis and Frank Cable, both for several years with the Gould-Mersereau Company, which, with an enlarged stock and assortment, are bound to bring a substantial increase in sales.

G. EVERETT ANGIER.

While the foundation of the Reubel Company only dates back to November, 1893, its managers and leading salesmen are old figures in point of service in the brass goods line, and yet are all young men in years.

The officers of the company are Geo. Reubel, president; Henry Reubel, treasurer, and G. E. Angier, secretary, and the founder and head of the company is Henry Reubel.

FRANK CABLE.

Henry Reubel was born in New York in 1863, and his occupation of such an important business position at the early age of thirty-three is a tribute to his grit and energy, and his naturally brilliant business talent. He entered the employ of the old firm of Krickl, Gould & Co. in 1877, and his whole business career therefore has been in the carpet and upholstery hardware and curtain pole line. When the firm of Krickl, Gould & Co. dissolved in 1885, and Robt. S. Gould continued the business, young Reubel became an important factor in the business, assuming duties in its management and operation that gave opportunity for his marked abilities. Robt. S. Gould died December 17, 1887, and as a result a stock company was formed to continue the business known as the Robt. S. Gould Company, of which Mr. Reubel became a stockholder, and subsequently secretary. He remained in this connection until the end of 1892, when he retired from the Gould Company and launched into business for himself in the firm of Reubel & Taylor, and afterward, as heretofore stated, founded the Henry Reubel Company in 1893. Besides his success as an executive manager Mr. Reubel has a thorough knowledge of the practical parts of the brass goods business, and has invented several articles now largely used by the trade. Among these are the Perfection extension pole bracket, Perfection pole socket, Eclipse vestibule bracket and socket, the Reubel extension vestibule rod and the Reubel improved Leslie traverse ring.

HENRY REUBEL.

Personally Mr. Reubel is a man of quiet parts, always courteous and agreeable, and is universally esteemed. He is secretary of the Brass Goods Association, and has aided largely in consummating the objects and aims of that association.

CHARLES W. ELLIS.

G. E. Angier, secretary of the Reubel Company, is another young veteran in the brass goods and hardware line, and during his career as a traveling salesman he has covered from Halifax to San Francisco, and from Victoria, B. C., to the city of Mexico.

Mr. Angier was born up the Hudson in New York State forty-two years ago, although for years he has had that appearance of winter lingering in the lap of spring that comes from gray hairs over a young face. He became connected with the general hardware business in New York as a boy in 1870, and entered the carpet and upholstery hardware line in 1877 with W. T. & J. Mersereau. Prior to that he had purchased goods of the latter firm, and of Turner, Seymour & Judd while in the general hardware store. He made his initial trip on the road in the fall of 1879, going through New England, and continued to travel constantly in about every section of the Union for the Messrs. Mersereau up to 1888. Mr. Angier is one of the best known brass goods salesmen in the country, owing to his extensive traveling, and has probably utilized more kinds of conveyances than any other man in the trade. He has made long journeys on stage coaches and was in the city of Mexico when the first through train from Chicago reached that city.

In 1888 he went with the Robt. S. Gould Company, and a year later returned to W. T. Mersereau & Co. and stayed with them until January 1, 1891. He remained out of the brass goods business from the latter date until July, 1894, when he returned to familiar scenes and connections by becoming a stockholder in the Henry Reubel Company, of which he has since been secretary and associate manager with Mr. Reubel.

Charles W. Ellis, who joins the selling force of the Reubel Company January 1, has spent seventeen out of the thirty-six years of his life in the hardware and brass goods business. He was born in 1860, and, like Mr. Angier, has long been distinguished by early gray hair.

He started in the employ of H. L. Judd & Co. in 1879 and after serving them for four years went with Robt. S. Gould and commenced his career of traveling. He has practically made no change in his house during the past twelve years, having traveled uninterruptedly for Robt. S. Gould and his successors, the Robt. S. Gould Company and Gould-Mersereau Company, and has gone over the same territory, New York State, Canada, upper Ohio and Michigan. Mr. Ellis is universally acknowledged to be a successful salesman and is extremely popular with the trade. He will start out shortly over his old territory for the Henry Reubel Company.

Frank Cable is a Brooklyn born boy, and his initiation into the brass goods business is not far off from that of the other three members of this trade quartet. It only requires a glance at his portrait to show that Mr. Cable also has a noticeable feature about his pate which is not a measure of age, as he is yet in the vicinity of forty. He joined the store sales force of W. T. & J. Mersereau in 1881, and shortly after started on the road, and has been traveling steadily since, generally covering the territory east from Buffalo and Pittsburg. Mr. Cable remained with the Messrs. Mersereau and the W. T. Mersereau Company up to a short time before the latter concern went out of existence, and then went with the Gould-Mersereau Company. He is a most persistent and faithful worker, and has for years been one of the leading and most successful brass goods salesmen. Mr. Cable will cover Pennsylvania, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and Norfolk for the Reubel Company from January 1.

The offerings of F. H. Lapsley & Brother, 12 South Charles street, Baltimore, are especially extensive and attractive. The Messrs. Lapsley manufacture window shades, shadings, spring rollers, fringes, mosquito canopies, &c., and are large importers of John King & Sons' Scotch hollands. They show also Bancroft's Sun Fast hollands, Oswego shadings, floor and table oil cloths, linoleum, curtain poles, stair rods and buttons, &c. With a stock so varied and extensive they have no difficulty in meeting the demands of any class of trade.

Chas. N. Fowler, manufacturer and jobber of window shades, 38 Bedford street, Boston, offers for the coming season all kinds of mounted shades, plain or decorated, and opaques, hollands, &c., by the piece. Mr. Fowler can interest any buyer. Write to him for prices.

Chas. Emmerich & Co., 175 to 181 South Canal street, Chicago, deal in feathers exclusively and offer all grades, cleaned and cured by their own patented process and guaranteed sweet and pure. They also make a specialty of pillows in all grades. Buyers of such goods will find that it pays to deal with Emmerich & Co.

Robert Lewis, manufacturer of curtains, draperies, table covers, &c., Richmond and Franklin streets, Philadelphia, shows a highly attractive line for the coming season. His offerings include satin derby and tapestry table covers, derby curtains and draperies, Marseilles portières and couch covers, Tabreez draperies and couch covers, and Royal Mitcheline quilts. The goods are shown in Chicago by W. E. Rogan, American Express Building.

Pantasote has been used for upholstery purposes in covering seats and backs of lounges in the steamship St. Louis. It has also been used on the United States steamship Columbia, and by the Herreshoffs in yachts for the international races. The increased cost of leather has greatly stimulated the demand for pantasote, and it is now being uced as a substitute for leather in all parts of the world. Clarence Whitman & Co., 39 and 41 Leonard street, New York, are the sole agents for pantasote.

F. E. Little & Co., 701 to 705 North Main street, St. Louis, are especially prominent in the feather, quilt and cushion trade. Their offerings comprise the Star brand odorless feather, odorless down quilts and cushions and summer cotton quilts, made up in the latest designs of sateen or silk coverings. St. Louis is headquarters for live geese feathers, and Little & Co. are leaders in this line of trade. Write to them for prices.

As sole agent for the Columbia Lace Company Thomas Wilson, 48 White street, New York, shows the company's new line of lace curtains, nets, bed sets, &c., and it is one which will well repay examination. The great progress which lace manufacture has made in this country is well illustrated in the superb assortment of new and original styles which Mr. Wilson is now offering for the coming season.

The Singer Manufacturing Company manufactures for upholsterers' purposes machines for hemming window shades, for binding lace curtains, for ornamental stitching and for binding awnings, &c. These machines are notable for durability, efficiency and economy, and every upholsterer should make himself acquainted with their merits if he is not already using them. They can be seen in operation at the company's New York store, 385 Broadway.

The Sanitary Feather Company, Chicago, Ill., are large dealers in feathers and feather pillows exclusively. They control a new sanitary process for cleaning and curing feathers, and can offer exceptional inducements to all dealers in such goods. Write to them for their price list, for they are in a position to strongly interest every buyer.

No. 551,510. Jacquard Apparatus.—Rowland C. Richardson, Philadelphia, Pa., assignor to himself, William O. Rowland, and Albert E. Schmidt, same place. Filed July 7, 1894. Issued December 17, 1895.

Claim.—1. The combination in a Jacquard apparatus of two or more sets of griffs, means for operating the griffs successively to raise selected hooks, hooks adapted to be operated by the griffs, an indicator mechanism adapted to indicate hooks operated by all the griffs before any of the griffs are operated to regulate a pick, and means for maintaining the hooks in their indicated position after the indicating mechanism is withdrawn and before the griffs are moved to govern a pick.——2. The combination in a Jacquard apparatus, of a plurality of griffs, hooks operated by said griffs, and an indicator mechanism for selecting the hooks to be operated by all the griffs before any of said griffs are actuated, and means for preventing the unselected hooks from engaging the griffs after the indicating mechanism has been withdrawn and before said griffs are actuated.——3. The combination, in a Jacquard apparatus, of griffs, means to operate them alternately, hooks operated by said griffs, and mechanism for simultaneously indicating the hooks to be operated by all the griffs, and means for preventing the hooks which are not to be operated by the griff that is latest to act from engaging said griff after the indicating mechanism is withdrawn and before said griff is actuated.——4. The combination, in a Jacquard apparatus, of two sets of griffs, means to operate them alternately, hooks operated by said griffs, and a card presenting cylinder for simultaneously indicating the hooks to be operated by both sets of griffs, and means for preventing the hooks which are not to be operated by the set of griffs that is latest to act from engaging said set of griffs after the withdrawal of the pattern and before said set of griffs is actuated.——5. A Jacquard apparatus consisting of two sets of griffs, hooks operated thereby and an indicator mechanism for indicating simultaneously the hooks operated by both sets of griffs, in combination with means for raising both sets of griffs for a short distance substantially for the purpose specified and then lifting first one and then the other set of griffs to make two consecutive picks.——6. A Jacquard apparatus consisting of two sets of griffs, hooks operated thereby, a cylinder, and pattern cards for indicating simultaneously the hooks operated by both sets of griffs, in combination with means for raising both sets of griffs for a short distance, for the purpose specified, and then lifting first one and then the other set of griffs to make two consecutive picks.——7. A Jacquard apparatus consisting of two sets of griffs, hooks actuated thereby and a card presenting cylinder for indicating simultaneously the hooks actuated by both sets of griffs, in combination with a power shaft, cams arranged thereon, and connections from the griffs to the cams, the said cams being formed so as to lift both griffs simultaneously to a height which will not be sufficient to govern a pick, but which will be sufficient to prevent the indicated hooks from springing back on to the griff knives on the withdrawal of the pattern card, and then to lift first one and then the other griff to make consecutive picks.——8. A Jacquard apparatus having two independent sets of griffs, hooks operated thereby and indicator mechanism for simultaneously indicating the hooks to be actuated by both sets of griffs in combination with means for moving said griffs simultaneously during a portion only of their upward travel and independently during the remainder of said travel, whereby the hooks that are not to be actuated are prevented from engaging the griffs after the pattern card withdraws and before the griffs begin to form the shed.

No. 551,862. Curtain Fixture.—William J. Hewitt, Coytesville, N. J. Filed August 31, 1895. Issued December 24, 1895.

Trade Mark.

No. 27,543. Shade Rollers. — Stewart Hartshorn Company, Harrison, N. J. Filed November 5, 1895. Registered December 24, 1895.

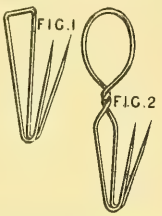
Essential Feature.—The words "Ivy Leaf." Used since September, 1891.

Patented in England.

No. 13,062. July 5, 1894. Brackets for Curtain Poles, &c.—H. J. Haddan, 18 Buckingham street, Strand, London. (T. H. Klein, Cincinnati, Ohio, U. S. A.) Issued December 4, 1895.

The bracket is cast as one piece in preferably malleable cast iron. The fixing point a is slightly inclined to to the flange a^3, and the flange a^3 on the shorter point a^2 is set a little back relatively to the upper flange. When the points are driven in as shown in Figure 4, the two flanges a^3 are snug against the window casing, &c , and the bracket is perfectly horizontal.

No. 13,128. July 6, 1894. Curtain Hooks.—T. Gaze, 64 Whiting street, Bury St. Edmunds. Issued December 4, 1895. A curtain hook is bent from stiff wire to the shape shown in Figure 1. The prongs are passed through the curtain, which rests on the cross piece, and after being squeezed together are inserted in the eye of the curtain ring. The form shown in Fig. 2 is a combination of hook and ring, the curtain resting at the bend of the prongs.



No. 13,457. July 12, 1894. Wire Fabrics.—W. Waterhouse and T. W. Blantern, Acocks Green, near Birmingham. Issued December 4, 1895.

Two sets of parallel spirals, a, a^1, cross each other at an angle of about 30°, and interlock at the crossing point a^3. The spirals may be equidistant from each other or otherwise. A closer fabric may be formed by laying in the grooves on one side of a body fabric, b, Fig. 6, formed as described above, spirals a, which are secured by similar spirals, a^1, laid in the grooves on the other side interlocking with them. The fabric is applicable for bedstead bottoms and sackings, mattresses, seats, blinds, mats, machinery belting and dress belts and braces.

Siebecker & Watkins have opened an upholstery and carpet store at 406 Lackawanna avenue, Scranton, Pa.

Taylor & Ellis, dealers in bedding, supplies, &c., New York, will remove about the current date from 246 to 261 and 263 Canal street.

POST-HOLIDAY NOTES.

ROBERT LEWIS, the well-known manufacturer of satin, derby and tapestry table covers, derby curtains and draperies, &c., shows a great variety of choice novelties for the coming season. His curtains comprise French armures and tapestries, with fringed valance tops, reversible goods, heavy Ottoman ribbed all over designs in two tone effects, &c. In table covers Mr. Lewis offers seven grades in patterns and prices adapted for every class of trade. The line is shown at the mills, Richmond and Franklin streets, Philadelphia; at the Chicago office, 9 American Express Building, and on the road by Wilber C. Hyde.

Hyndman & Moore's new lines of chenille curtains and covers, tapestry curtains and piece goods are now on view in the salesroom of their agent, John Black, 115 Worth street, New York, and will well repay examination. In the table covers animal patterns are especially numerous and are likely to be in large demand. The line of chenille curtains is very strong in the low priced grades. Cotton derbies are shown in a fine range of new styles, and the metallic tapestry curtains are certain to win wide favor in the trade. In tapestry curtains and covers Messrs. Hyndman & Moore make a specialty of high grades and artistic styles, and Mr. Black offers also a large assortment of lower grades from other manufacturers. The large demand for Hyndman & Moore's products has obliged them to add new looms recently to their plant. Mr. Black shows also G. Josephs' new and attractive line of satin derby curtains and covers.

UNIFORMITY of fabric is a special feature of the Scotch hollands manufactured by the Hollins Mill Company, this being positively assured, as the company spin the yarn and weave the cloth from which the hollands are made, in their own works.

Several newspapers have published recently references to a lawsuit brought against W. B. Lowenberg, of Wabash, Ind., by a concern manufacturing window shades. According to the story as published, Mr. Lowenberg bought some goods of the Opaque Window Blind Company, Burlington, Vt., but refused to pay for them on the ground that the goods were damaged when they reached him, and the lawsuit followed. The fact is that there is no such concern in existence as the Opaque Window Blind Company of Burlington, Vt.. There is a company called the Burlington Venetian Blind Company, at Burlington, Vt., but it has no interest whatever in the suit referred to, which, we are informed, was brought by an entirely different concern, namely, the Opaque Cloth Company, of Pullman, Ill.

C. B. YOUNG & Co., 86 and 88 Worth street, New York, as agents for the Eden Manufacturing Company, show a highly attractive line of light weight novelty curtains and tapestry curtains and covers in new and choice effects, which must be seen to be appreciated. These goods are thoroughly artistic in designs and colorings, and are offered at popular prices. Buyers who are looking for handsome, quick selling novelties are advised to examine the line of the Eden Manufacturing Company.

The trade are advised to send to the Buffalo Fringe Works, 457 Washington street, Buffalo, N. Y., for the new hanging map of the "Decorative" rope portière designs, with colored centre plate. The rope portières made by this concern have proved a great success, and every buyer should see that they are represented in his stock.

AFTER the closing of business in the store of A. I. Namm, 432 Fulton street, Brooklyn, on the 21st ult., Miss Gussie Phillips, the cashier, counted up the day's receipts, about $5,400, and put them in a safe. Most of the sum was in bills. These were placed in an iron box in the bottom of the safe and on top of it was placed the silver in canvas bags. Mr. Namm was present all this time and is sure that the safe was locked. When Miss Phillips went to the safe on Monday morning she found it was open, and that the iron box was gone. She promptly notified Mr. Namm. Detectives could find no evidence that the store had been broken into or that any violence had been used in opening the safe. In a cellar Detective Reynolds stumbled over the missing iron box. Seven of the canvas bags, containing between $700 and $1,000, were missing. Several bags remained, and the bills in the bottom of the box had not been disturbed. No clue to the thieves has yet been secured.

R. H. Macy & Co., New York, have leased for a long term of years a ten story brick store building at Nos. 53 to 57 West Fourteenth street. The work on the new building is already progressing, and when completed it will extend through to Nos. 54 and 56 West Fifteenth street. The improvement will cost $250,000. The building will be opened on August 1 and will be run as an annex to Macy's Sixth avenue store. The site of the new store will be that of the old Scotch Presbyterian Church.

F. P. Bhumgara & Co., 524 Broadway, New York, continue to bring out novelties in all grades of East India art goods. Elsewhere they illustrate a striking hand screen in peacock feathers. Their catalogue should be in the hands of all dealers.

Steam pouring through gratings in the sidewalk in front of Henry Offerman's immense store on Fulton street, Brooklyn, one morning last month caused great excitement in the street until it was learned what the trouble was. It was thought at first that the building was on fire. An examination soon settled the excitement. It appeared that the engineer in charge of the machinery in the basement noticed a leak in the pipe leading to the boiler. He was about to prepare to bank the fires so as to fix the leak when the nipple of the feed pipe was blown out and the steam poured out with great force. Some of the engine room employees were scalded.

The Chicago office of C. B. Young & Co. will be discontinued January 1. Robert Kilgour has had charge of the office since it was established in June. The West will be covered by men traveling from the Eastern office.

As selling agents for the Orinoka Mills, B. L. Solomons' Sons, 29 Union square, New York, are in a position to interest strongly all buyers of upholstery coverings, wall hangings, draperies, curtains and table covers who desire high grade patterns and coverings at prices which compete with the ordinary kind. The products of the Orinoka Mills have attained an enviable reputation for novelty, originality and artistic merit, and the new line now shown by the Messrs. Solomon is well calculated to maintain and, indeed, enhance the fame of these mills.

Masten & Hund will remove February 1 from 33 Clinton place to the building No. 35 adjoining, where they will occupy two floors and a basement, and will have the room necessary to meet the requirements of their constantly increasing business.

On page 98 of this issue H. C. Kroh & Co. have some interesting things to say regarding their great and attractive offerings in window shades and shade goods. The points made by Kroh & Co. in their advertisement certainly demand the careful attention of buyers, and the trade who call at the firm's headquarters, 678 Broadway, New York, will find plenty to interest them. Kroh & Co. are a progressive, enterprising firm in the fullest sense of these words.

C. H. Badger, for several years with Eastman, Sleicher & Lee, Indianapolis, will start in the furniture and drapery business on his own account February 1. He has secured one of the finest stores in the city. It runs from Washington street to Virginia avenue, forming an arcade from one street to the other. Mr. Badger will occupy the entire building. On the second floor dark rooms will be fitted up to show draperies, furniture, &c., by electric light.

The inside sliding and Venetian blinds manufactured by the Burlington Venetian Blind Company, Burlington, Vt., have won wide and well deserved popularity, and the demand for them is constantly increasing. Write to the factory at Burlington or to the company's New York office, 61 World Building, for particulars, for these goods should be represented in every dealer's stock.

Bamberger, Bloom & Co., Louisville, Ky., who recently failed for $1,400,000, will resume business. The Eastern creditors have consented to the resumption, the basis of the settlement with them being 50 cents on the dollar. By arrangement with the Columbia Finance and Trust Company, assignee, this will be paid as follows : 25 cents down, 15 cents in sixty days, and 10 cents in ninety days. The failure was the biggest Louisville has ever known, and the resumption will do much for business interests generally.

BUSINESS IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE.
DECEMBER 26, 1895.

Leo & Winn, dry goods and upholstery, Gainesville, Ga., made an assignment for the benefit of creditors the 16th inst. Liabilities about $30,000 ; assets not known.

Seligman Adler, a retired dry goods and upholstery merchant, died the 18th inst. in the seventy-third year of his age. He was a native of Germany, but early came to America, establishing a large dry goods and upholstery business in Cumberland, Md., from which he retired some years ago. The business is now conducted by his nephews, the Messrs. Rosenbaum Brothers.

Archibald S. Perry died the 16th inst. at his residence, Charleston, S. C. He was born in that city nearly seventy years ago, and entered mercantile life as clerk with Watson, Johnson & Co. Later he became a partner in the old firm of Johnston, Crews & Co., dry goods and upholstery, of which he was the senior member at the time of his death. He was president of the Phœnix Furniture Company.

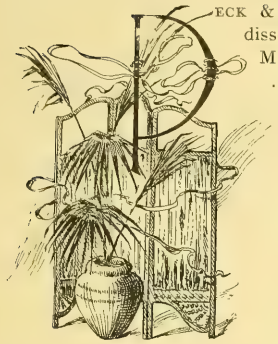
MURAL MEMORANDA.



Peck & Yates, Brooklyn, N. Y., dissolve to-day, the 1st inst. Mr. Peck retires from the firm.

..The second floor of the Palace Clothing Company's big store on Nicollet avenue, Minneapolis, collapsed on December 20. The store is a double front and the entire right half of it collapsed from the fourth floor to the basement. The building is an old one which was remodeled for the Palace Company's use. The collapse was caused by the storage of several tons of wall paper on the third floor and the fact that the building had probably been weakened by recent repairs. The wall paper was owned by A. H. Rainey, to whom space was let.

..C. S. Doolittle, treasurer of the La Vaque Paint and Wall Paper Company, Duluth, Minn., died in that city on the 16th ult. He leaves a widow and two children.

..John R. Brill, traveling salesman for the Cresswell & Washburn branch of the National Wall Paper Company, died at Baltimore on the 24th ult. He leaves a widow and three children.

..A building at Birmingham, Ala., owned and occupied by Geo. H. Harris, dealer in wall paper, was damaged by water on the 11th ult. to the extent of $2,000. The loss is covered by insurance.

..The Haverhill Wall Paper Company have leased the store 160 Merriman street, Haverhill, Mass., formerly occupied by J. H. Thompson & Co., and will open it for business on the 10th inst.

..N. P. Moses has started in the wall paper business at Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Moses was formerly in charge of the wall paper department of N. Peters & Co. This firm have discontinued this branch of their business, and Mr. Moses has purchased their entire stock.

..Thos. Y. Midlen, manager of Robert S. Hobbs & Co., retires from this position to-day, the 1st inst., to take the general management of the Gorham Manufacturing Company's Western business. F. A. Ward has succeeded Mr. Midlen as Hobbs & Co.'s manager.

..Robert Garry & Co.'s stock of wall paper at Birmingham, Ala., was badly damaged by fire last month. It was insured for $18,000 and there was $250 on the fixtures. This is the third fire in the building within three years. W. P. Brown's stock of wall paper in the adjoining building was also damaged by smoke and water. Insurance, $2,000.

..Francis H. N. Whiting, a retired wall paper manufacturer, died at his home in this city on the 15th ult. Mr. Whitney was born at Stratford, Conn., in 1819. He came to New York in 1837 and engaged in the wall paper business. At the time he retired from the trade he was the head of the firm of Whiting & Sons, New York city. He leaves a daughter and five sons.

Mr. Bruning, formerly of Bruning & Ludwig, carpet manufacturers, Philadelphia, is now in the drapery business and is also weaving haircloth.

A PERFECT IMITATION.

The imitations of high-class Brussels curtains made by the Wyoming Valley Lace Mills continue to grow in popular favor, and are selling more freely this spring than ever before. They are so perfect that at a short distance only an expert can distinguish them from the genuine hand made goods. W. H. Fletcher & Co. have them in 3½, 4, 4½ and 5 yard lengths and are offering them at from one-tenth to one-fifteenth of the cost of the imported article.

Judgment for $5,186 was entered on the 27th ult. against E. S. Jaffray & Co., New York, in favor of Harding, Whitman & Co. for balance due on merchandise sold between January 1, 1893, and November 30, 1894.

The big fire at Charles and Baltimore streets, Baltimore, on the morning of the 27th ult. caused a 10 per cent. loss by smoke and water to the stock of F. H. Lapsley & Brother, at No. 12 South Charles street. Their insurance amounts to $22,000.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co., Boston, have secured the contract for the carpets, curtains and wall papers for the Newetowne Club, of Cambridge, Mass. The upholstery and hangings are being prepared under the personal direction of Manager Havens. The latter says that December business in his department was better than November and they are now working on three fairly good sized houses.

Greeting for 1896.

Another cycle of time has become history. At its beginning we promised the Trade to give to them, during the year, a Shade Roller which would eclipse any roller ever made. The Improved Hartshorn Wood Roller, we are led to believe, has more than fulfilled our promise. Its success is proof that the Trade wants the best.

During the coming year we shall continue to keep the Hartshorn Rollers up to highest standard. From time to time, as occasion requires, we shall develop new ideas and make beneficial improvements. Our aim is to always meet the demands and needs of our customers.

Watch us and keep abreast of the times.

Our Rollers received the highest official indorsement of the Board of Judges at the Cotton States and International Exposition, just closed at Atlanta, Ga.

A Gold Medal and Special Diploma of Honor was the award bestowed on our exhibit, and the awards at Atlanta meant something, too. Gold medals were scarce.

Hearty thanks we return to customers and friends for their liberal patronage and kind words during the past, which have been and are so essential to the success of our business.

Greetings and Good Will to Our Customers and Everyone in the Trade!

For the gratifying increase in our business that we have made during the year 1895 we thank our customers, and hope that each one has likewise enlarged his trade.

We have planned to make another substantial increase for the

NEW YEAR,

and will leave nothing undone on our part to obtain it. We will strive by satisfactory dealings and methods to retain the esteemed customers we now have on our books, and look forward to be favored with many new ones during what promises to be the generally

PROSPEROUS YEAR OF 1896.

We have added to our selling force two well-known and experienced travelers, who, with our other efficient salesmen, will, we know, represent us on the road in a worthy and able manner. With sincere wishes for a HAPPY AND SUCCESSFUL NEW YEAR to all the Trade, we are

Yours respectfully,

IMPORTERS OF

Scotch Hollands AND Shade Laces.

See our line before placing orders. Agents for Keystone Adjustable Roller.

One eminent and popular house that has tried all makes announces them to be

"The Best Window Hollands Made."

Another equally large Importer of great experience states:

"The goods have always been and are now fast colors."

Another firm in the very front rank of the business describes them as

"Unequalled in quality, unshrinkable and of finest dyes."

While another firm of Importers, probably one of the largest shade goods houses in the world, characterizes them in these terms:

"JOHN KING & SON'S Famous Scotch Hollands."

JOHN KING & SON'S

ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1775

Celebrated

Scotch Window HOLLANDS

ILLUSTRATING the high consideration these popular goods hold in the estimation of the most experienced importers of shade goods in the country, the attention of the trade is invited to the above opinions, published in the columns of this and other journals, over the signatures of the respective firms.

Enterprising but unscrupulous parties unable to reach the exalted standard of these celebrated goods, pay them the flattery of imitating the wrappings. It is the Goods, not the wrappings, the trade is after. See that Bands, Tickets and Tabs of every piece are marked

"JOHN KING & SON."

"Aye, There's the Rub."

Wet Weather Wisdom.

"Aye, There's the Rub."

WHEN the rains descend and the floods come the prudent man begins to meditate on the nature and consistency of mud. He finds that it sticketh closer than a brother and hath a strong affinity for carpets, rugs and stained or polished floors. Then is he reminded of the Rubber Mat that shuts out this unwelcome visitor. He buys one, his peace of mind is restored and the tranquility of his home assured, "come rain, come shine, come fair or foul weather." Rubber Mats are neat, durable and clean, noiseless, soft to the tread, firm in place and impervious to moisture—i. e. DOUBLE DIAMOND RUBBER MATS.

Mats and Matting, Corrugated and Perforated, for stairs, steps, hallways, elevators, bars, floors, etc., in doors and out. Pitcher and Table Mats, Coin Mats, Mats galore. Made to order of any size required, not exceeding 6x30 feet. Lettering, 25 cents extra for each letter. Red or White Letters, 50 cents each.

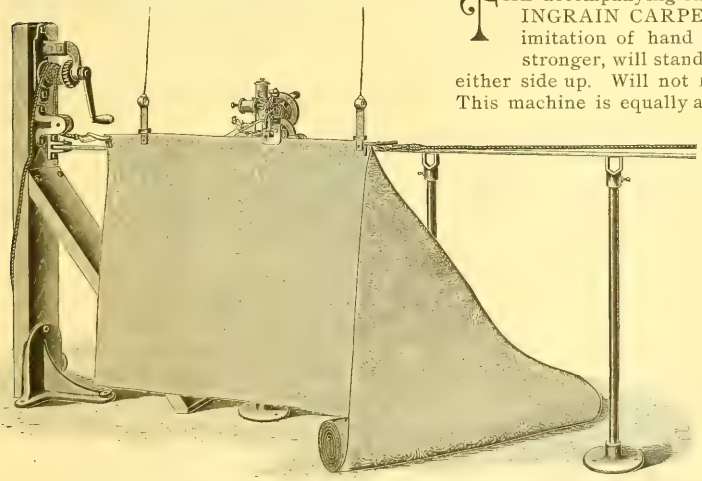
The Taft Carpet Sewing Machine.

The First and Only All Round Carpet Sewing Machine ever invented.



THE accompanying cut represents a machine that will sew INGRAIN CARPETS over-stitch; practically a perfect imitation of hand sewn work. Being more even and stronger, will stand any amount of strain. Can be laid either side up. Will not rip. Will give perfect satisfaction. This machine is equally as good on all other carpets, TAPESTRIES, BRUSSELS, WILTONS, MOQUETTES and STRAW MATTING. The machine can be changed in five seconds from over-stitch to straight stitch and vice versa.

Will, without any change, overcast all raw edges, sew together two raw edges and overcast them down; in fact, does all the work in its different branches with one operator, and is so arranged that a girl weighing 100 pounds can handle any carpet with ease and sew several hundred yards per day. The machine is simple, durable, easy running and a rapid sewer. No carpet house can afford to be without one.

SEWS CARPETS FOR LESS THAN ONE-HALF CENT PER YARD.

THE ONLY MACHINE THAT WILL OVER-STITCH INGRAIN CARPETS.

Further information given and samples forwarded on application to J. C. TAFT, Inventor and Sole Manufacturer,

40 Friendship Street, Providence, R. I.

"Before you begin, consider, and when you have considered, act."

DO YOU EVER examine the Sweepers you buy?

Are they as well made as those you bought years ago?

Have they all the late improvements, such as appeal to the practical housekeeper, who is the one who uses them?

Are you buying on "Old Reputation" or "Present Quality?"

Are the "pans" so put in that when the house girl uses the "broom action" there is no chance to cause "sprouting?"

Are the brushes all right?

Will it not pay to "consider" these points, and "when you have considered act," by sending for a sample of one or more styles.

Try It.
It Will Pay You.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

WE make no so-called "competing line," only HIGH GRADE broom and Cam Action Sweepers.

Crompton's New Ingrain Carpet Loom.

CROMPTON NEW INGRAIN CARPET LOOMS.

THE attention of manufacturers of Ingrain Carpets is called to the consideration of a new Carpet Loom just put on the market. It carries four (4) shuttle boxes at each end of the lathe; any one of the series at each end can be brought into line with the shuttle race at any pick, under the dictation of the Jacquard cards. The Jacquard is of the most approved construction and moves the warps kindly. The let off and take up motions bring out perfectly matched goods. On two ply work it makes sixty (60) yards per day. The apparatus for moving the boxes cannot be surpassed for its simplicity and efficiency. This Loom has no equal in speed and simplicity from four (4) to seven (7) colors.

CROMPTON ART SQUARE LOOM, for 3, 3½ and 4 yard goods, produces the best results and has no rival.

CROMPTON'S UPHOLSTERY LOOM, with Improved "1886" Box Motion, is capable of high speed and nice adjustment for its special line of goods.

CROMPTON LOOMS for Fancy Cassimeres, Worsteds, Flannels, Blankets, Jeans, Silks, Tapes, Ginghams, Fancy Cottons, &c., &c. Crompton "1888" and Noble Wool Comb.

What of 1896?

Will it be a year of success or of failure with you? It will depend on yourself.

But to achieve success you must deserve success. Deserving success is not luck; it is the result of intelligent and continued effort. It is the getting up in the morning with the determination to shove old shop-worn ideas and old fogy notions out of your business life. It is the determination to push your business according to the most modern and up-to-date methods and not to let your business push you.

A very important part of this success will depend on where you buy the goods you sell.

This is where we come in—where we can help you.

Our warehouse is HEADQUARTERS in this country for Oriental goods—among other things for Japanese and Oriental Rugs and Carpets; for Japan and China Matting; for Oriental Silks and Cloths for Upholsterers' use; and the prices that prevail here are headquarters' prices.

Try us and see.

If you want Rugs or Carpets, write or wire us for prices.

If you want Japan or China Mattings, write or wire us for prices.

If you want Upholsterers' Silks or Cloths, write or wire us for prices.

If you want anything in our line, write or wire us for prices.

MAIL ORDERS—We pay prompt, particular attention to mail orders. It is a standing rule of our house that no salesman is allowed to make up loss on one article by overcharge on another.

Whether your order is large or small, or whether you buy in person or by mail, you receive the same honorable treatment.

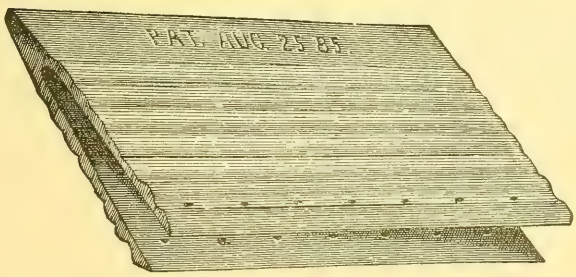
Frames for holding the Fabric and Thread and Needles, specially prepared, for sale.



PATENTED AUGUST 25, 1885.

This Patent Rubber Binding holds the ends of Matting, Carpets, etc., down in place, does not curl up like other flexible bindings, is not affected by dampness, will not break when shaken and thrown about, and is very durable and easily adjusted.

The Many Advantages of this Patent Rubber Binding give it the preference over any other heretofore used on Matting and Carpet runners for Hotels, Stores, Steamboats, Offices, Elevators, Street Cars, Railroad Cars, etc., etc.

It is Made in ¾, ⅞, 1, 1¼, 1½, 1¾ and 2 lengths and is perforated to facilitate the sewing. The most inexperienced person can sew it on perfectly.

This PATENT RUBBER BINDING can be obtained from all the Leading Carpet and Upholstery Dealers.

New Quality, Kairio XXX Extra Good.

MATTINGS

Spring, 1896, New Styles.

THE DESIGNS, PATTERNS and COMBINATION of COLORS in Kairio Rugs

Are a great improvement over the goods previously made. We have secured the only good dyer of jute in Japan—the only one who can produce reliable colors. We ship our own jute from Calcutta and it is a superior quality not heretofore used in Rugs. The Kairio Rugs have a sheen or lustre equal to the fine Oriental goods.

We have made every effort to put on the market a better quality of Rug than has been previously made in Japan. The price of Kairio Rugs is slightly higher than that of the inferior qualities now in the market, but the selling quality and desirability is 100 per cent. greater.

Clean Goods. Clean Business Methods.

Our celebrated Double Extra (10 wire) Tapestries are for Novelty of Treatment and Superb Color Effects a Revelation in the Art of Tapestry Carpet Manufacture. Brussels and Axminster Effects can be seen to perfection in this Line. It is conceded by the trade that our line leads.

OUR WILTON VELVETS HAVE MORE THAN DOUBLED THEIR SALES IN THE PAST TWELVE MONTHS.

Our different grades have been greatly strengthened this season, and our trade mark [Patented October 6th, 1885,] (Wilton Backs) which we are now putting on our two lower grades of Tapestries is increasing the demand for these goods.

Being among the Largest Manufacturers of Tapestry Carpets in the world, shrewd Buyers will inspect our line before placing their orders.

Spring Announcement, 1896.

PHILADELPHIA, having taken a leaf from the book of experience of European cities, has erected a MAMMOTH EXCHANGE BUILDING entitled "THE BOURSE," in the business heart of the city, which manufacturers generally have been quick to take advantage of as affording them an opportunity to offer and sell their products to the merchants of the country without the latter being compelled, as heretofore, to travel over the great distances of the mill district.

CARPETS OF EVERY CLASS, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, LACE CURTAINS, OIL CLOTHS, &c., can be purchased DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS represented in the building.

Our magnificent offerings for SPRING, 1896, are now on show at

Rooms 602 & 603 "The Bourse" Building,

LOWELL CARPETS have been justly celebrated for more than half a century. For the guidance of buyers the word "Lowell" is woven in white capital letters in the back of our Wiltons and Brussels at each repeat of the pattern. The fabrics are of the best quality, designs and coloring.

Our Middlesex Wiltons have the word "Middlesex" woven in the back. The word is registered as our Trade Mark in the United States Patent Office.

The popular Lowell Ingrains are wound on a hollow stick made in two solid pieces, with the words "Lowell Man'g. Co." stamped within, a patented United States Trade Mark.

Bigelow Carpet Company,

ORIGINAL POWER-LOOM MANUFACTURERS OF

WILTON AND BRUSSELS

CARPETS.

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1878, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements, and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Wiltons or Body Brussels.

These Goods can be obtained from all first-class dealers.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE!

We commenced the manufacture of Carpets fourteen years ago and christened our mills the "DEVON MILLS."

When we introduced our Tapestry weave Ingrain, several seasons ago, we named it "PURITAN."

Recently there appeared in the market poor imitations of our goods bearing the names "DEVON" and "PURITAN." This is described as a coincidence.

The Logic of Facts.

We have recently said something regarding the quality of our Linoleum, not the least feature of which was the reference to oil. THE FACT IS, WE ARE THE ONLY MAKERS OF LINOLEUM WHO ALSO PRODUCE LINSEED OIL, and we therefore positively know the kind of oil used in our Linoleum and that it is the best. The logic of facts is demonstrated in the composition of the BLABON LINOLEUM. The ingredients are of a superior kind, the thickness standard, and the patterns and colorings representations of advanced art in Floor Coverings. . . .

Blabon Linoleum.

The statements that thickness does not count are delusive. The more cork and linseed oil used the greater the thickness and cost and the better the goods. We have seen some Linoleum (imported) that could not stand on end in the roll; it lacked substance because the materials were not there. You cannot make Linoleum by simply painting a textile fabric. Toughness, Elasticity and Wear are obtained in the Blabon Linoleum. Any goods sold at lower prices than ours are far more inferior in quality than they are lower in price. When you buy of the Jobber ask for BLABON'S Linoleum, and be assured by us that you are getting unbeatable value.

Floor Oil Cloth.

The same care and attention referred to as being applied to the production of our Linoleum is likewise given to the manufacture of our Floor Oil Cloth. Our own make of linseed oil goes into our Oil Cloths, and our equipment of plant for rapid and economical manufacture is unsurpassed. We will not say here that we are the largest makers of Floor Oil Cloths, but we can justifiably enter any contest for that designation. In Styles of Oil Cloths, too, we invite any comparison.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT, PAGE 44A.

☞ Our readers are urged to remember that we are always desirous to receive communications of interest to the carpet or upholstery trades, such as changes in firms or managers, the building or opening of new stores, improvements in old ones, the adding of new departments, improved methods of doing business, new inventions, suggestions as to the cutting, making and laying of carpets, the designing and fitting of draperies, or inquiries and dissertations relating to the technical or commercial details of the trades to which this periodical is devoted.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

THE effects of national and international complications have been visible to some extent in the carpet trade since Christmas. The volume of business on the road has not been so large as was anticipated, dealers showing some disposition to delay purchases, but during the past week the situation has improved. Travelers are booking orders more freely and buyers are beginning to come into the market. They will be stimulated probably in their purchases by the advances in prices of Tapestries and Velvets, which are referred to more particularly elsewhere in this issue, and which have been interpreted by most buyers as indications of higher prices all around in the near future.

With fears of wars and financial complications now practically dissipated, there is every reason to look forward to an active spring business, with more remunerative prices than those that have prevailed for some time past.

ADVANCE IN TAPESTRIES AND VELVETS.

THE prices of S. Sanford & Sons' and the E. S. Higgins Carpet Company's Tapestry and Velvet carpeting will be advanced 2½ cents a yard on February 1, and W. & J. Sloane announce the same advance on Smith Tapestries. The prices of Smith Velvets were advanced October 24. On the 6th inst. Robert Beattie & Sons advanced the price of their Velvets 5 cents a yard. S. Sanford & Son's Wilton Velvets will also be advanced 5 cents per yard on February 1.

The circulars announcing these changes are as follows:

S. SANFORD & SONS,
AMSTERDAM, N. Y., January 11, 1896.

GENTLEMEN—We beg to advise you that the prices of our carpets are advanced as follows, to take effect on February 1, 1896:

Wilton Velvets.....a yard.	.5
Velvets.....	.2½
Double Extra Ten Wire Tapestries.....	.2½
Extra Tapestries.....	.2½
Comet Tapestries.....	.2½
Red Star Tapestries.....	.2½

We shall fill all orders now on our books and also as far as possible orders taken up to and including January 31 at present prices.

S. SANFORD & SONS.

ALEX. SMITH & SONS CARPET COMPANY,
NEW YORK, January 10, 1896.

GENTLEMEN—We beg to advise that the prices of all Tapestry carpets made by the Alex. Smith & Sons Carpet Company have this day been advanced 2½ cents per yard. We will continue to fill at existing prices all orders now on our books to and including January 31st instant.

W. & J. Sloane, Selling Agents.

E. S. Higgins Carpet Company,
84 and 86 White street, New York City,
January 11, 1896.

To the Trade:

We beg to advise that on February 1, 1896, we shall advance the prices of our Velvets and Tapestries 2½ cents per yard. All orders now on our books will be filled up to that date at present prices.

Constable Building,
Fifth avenue and Eighteenth street,
New York, January 6, 1896.

We beg to announce an advance of 5 cents per yard on our high grade Velvet carpets, to take effect from this date.

Orders now on record will be filled at the old price.

Robt. Beattie & Sons.

In commenting on the advance, Mr. W. W. Law, of W. & J. Sloane, said: "It is what has been foreshadowed and predicted as the gradual development of what had to come. We look upon it as but one step of many which will have to be taken in the near future. I deplore as much as any man these low prices, and hope that the market will continue steady enough to make the further advances which manufacturing corporations sorely need to make the business remunerative."

THE RESTORATION OF TAPESTRY PRICES AND ADVANCE ON VELVETS.

An event of great importance to the trade was the simultaneous announcement on the 11th inst. of an advance of 2½ cents in Tapestries, to take effect February 1, from the largest three manufacturers, Alex. Smith & Sons Carpet Company, S. Sanford & Sons and E. S. Higgins Carpet Company. This action restores the prices of Tapestries to the quotations of the past fall season and before the break in November.

While the manufacturers will obviously not profit to any great extent by the restoration, as presumably dealers will hasten to place spring orders before February 1, the movement must certainly have a most beneficial effect on the general trade and will be welcomed by wholesalers and retailers as one of the rare opportunities to mark up stock on hand.

It is hardly necessary to give any reason for the advance, or more properly, restoration of prices. The drop in "Taps" in November was totally unexpected, and was due solely to over-production. It had no reference to costs, as materials had been steadily advancing.

These matters were referred to when prices were cut, and prophecies were made at that time that such prices could not hold very long.

As shown by the circulars reproduced elsewhere, S. Sanford & Sons will advance Wilton Velvets 5 cents and Velvets 2½ cents, which represents that much respective advance over their fall prices. It will be remembered that they reduced both grades of Velvets 2½ cents on November 15 and restored their prices of Velvets on November 30 to fall rates, so that the advance to take effect on February 1 will be an actual increase over fall prices.

The E. S. Higgins Company announce an advance of 2½ cents on Velvets from February 1.

Robert Beattie & Sons have advanced their high-class Velvets 5 cents.

STRAW MATTING AND THE TARIFF.

Mr. Dingley, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, replied to Mr. Robert Dornan's appeal that straw mattings should be placed on the dutiable list, by the statement that it was impossible at that time to single out any article for particular action, hence the committee could do nothing toward taking matting from the free list and imposing a duty on it, in the tariff bill now before Congress. When the tariff is taken up regularly by a Republican administration there will doubtless be no trouble in proving that a high duty should be laid on mattings. We believe the majority of matting importers are in favor of a duty, but from the standpoint of protection to carpet manufacturers the rate should be particularly heavy. The outlook, however, is that straw mattings will remain on the free list until after the inauguration of the next administration.

VIEWS ON THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

A representative of a daily paper who called upon a number of New York business men recently to get their views as to the business outlook for 1896 includes in his report the following remarks:

John Claflin, president of the H. B. Claflin Company, said: "Business conditions would be all right if they had not been ruined by President Cleveland's absurd message. That spoiled everything. There never was a year when we were so much justified in looking forward to excellent business."

Charles H. Webb, of the wholesale dry goods firm of Dunham, Buckley & Co., said: "I don't see any reason why we shouldn't have a fine business next year. There 's a great deal of groaning in various quarters, but if those fellows in Congress will only let us alone there 's no reason why we shouldn't have the finest business in 1896 that we've had since the war, and I believe we're going to have it."

Edward P. Hatch, of the firm of Lord & Taylor, said: "We think the business outlook for the new year is most promising. We do not base this opinion upon any sudden boom, but upon the fact that there has been a gradual increase in business."

NEW ORIENTALS AT YARDUM'S.

Yardum Brothers & Co., 339 Broadway, New York, have just received choice lots of Oriental carpets in Hamidie, Gullistan, Inellie, Kerman, Demirjik and Yeordez makes; rare antiques in Shirvans, Bokharas, Khivas, Somaks and Anatolians, and also a large assortment of fine Persians. These goods were all carefully selected by a member of the firm in the principal markets of the Orient, and are offered at very reasonable prices.

The exports of straw matting from Hong Kong and Canton to New York and Baltimore from May 1 to November 26, 1895, amounted to 207,528 rolls. In the same period of 1894 the exports were 179,478 rolls.

The firm of Hughes & Isherwood, wool brokers, Liverpool, England, dissolved on the 31st ult., T. H. Isherwood retiring in favor of his son, James H. K. Isherwood. The business will be continued by F. R. Hughes, Jr., C. P. G. Patterson and J. H. K. Isherwood under the firm tyle of Hughes & Isherwood.

Edward S. Field was admitted to partnership in the auction firm of Field, Chapman & Fenner on the 1st inst.

W. L. Lundy, with Thos. Develon's Sons, is back from a very successful trip and will locate in New York for some weeks to come to meet visiting buyers.

Younker Brothers, dry goods, carpets, &c., Des Moines, Ia., will remove their New York office from 258 Church street to 55 Franklin street about February 1.

Ignatz Reisman, furniture and carpet dealer, has sold out his stock at 27 Avenue B, by bill of sale to Adolph Levi, who is running the business in his own name.

We are assured by a gentleman in a position to know that Henry Offerman, who recently succeeded Wechsler Brothers & Co., Brooklyn, will open a carpet department in time for the fall trade.

F. B. Bru Baker, American agent for Koch & te Koch, the German carpet and rug manufacturers, is back at his office, 139 Fifth avenue, after a very successful trip extending to the Pacific coast.

Franz Eckhardt, M. B. Evens, of M. B. Evens & Co., and the Gaynor brothers, of the Gaynor Furniture and Storage Company, Brooklyn, have recently become members of the Grand Street Board of Trade.

The Emporium Commercial Company, which has opened a big department store in San Francisco, has established local offices at 108 Worth street, Rooms 42 and 43. Robert Scott will be the resident buyer.

William H. Sheehy, Elisha P. Cronkhite and Benjamin C. Lockett were admitted to the firm of Smith, Hogg & Gardner on the 1st inst. Further reference to Mr. Sheehy in this connection will be found elsewhere in this issue.

A. Wagner, formerly of the firm of John Coyne & Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., has formed a partnership with his wife and will open a carpet and furniture store at Fifth avenue and Fourteenth street, Brooklyn, under the firm name of A. Wagner.

Herbert Plimpton, for many years with D. Powers & Sons, has been appointed agent for the Kirkcaldy Linoleum Company, Limited, and Messrs. Shepherd & Beveridge, of Kirkcaldy, and has established offices with the Bigelow Carpet Company, 100 Worth street, where he now has samples of the linoleum, cork carpet and floor oil cloth of these two eminent foreign houses. A full stock of goods will be carried here for prompt delivery. Mr. Plimpton's long experience in the trade and the many friends he has made by diligence, courtesy and attention to the needs of his customers form a capital in business against which he can draw to an unlimited extent. His new venture carries with it every assurance of solid success.

The annual election of officers of the Totten Furniture and Carpet Company was held at its store, Grand street and Driggs avenue, Brooklyn, on the 10th inst. and resulted in the re-election of the old officers, namely: John J. Rosener, president, and Joseph Totten, secretary and treasurer.

Leahy & O'Brien will open in furniture and carpets at 1299 Broadway, Brooklyn, the store formerly occupied by Soullard & Ford, to-morrow, January 16. Both members of the new firm have been with the Brooklyn Furniture Company for a number of years.

Charles Thompson was arrested on the 7th ult. and committed to jail the next day in default of $1,000 bail, on a charge of robbing N. F. Green's dry goods and carpet store at Myrtle and Washington avenues, Brooklyn. He had an accomplice, who got away. This was the second robbery of Green's store within two weeks.

The Chelsea Jute Mills have opened the season with a fine line of new and handsome patterns in hemp carpeting and Napier matting, which should be seen by every dealer who handles such goods. The line is on view at the company's salesroom, 316 Broadway, and we can assure buyers that it will well repay inspection.

A fire in the store of Nevins & Co., Brooklyn, on the 13th inst. did damage to their stock to the extent of $15,000. The fire extended to the adjoining building, also partly occupied by that firm, damaging the stock to the extent of several thousand dollars more, During the excitement attending the fire Louis Lorgne, a clerk in the employ of the firm, dropped dead, probably from heart disease.

Death came to the late Geo. W. Ennis unexpectedly and probably painlessly. The night before he was sitting up in bed smoking when the doctor called, and appeared to be improving rapidly. About 7 in the morning the chambermaid who had charge of his room in the hotel saw him crossing the hall on his way from the bathroom. A couple of hours later she opened his door to ask if he needed anything, and found him dead. A representative of Arnold, Constable & Co. went to Reading to take charge of his effects, while two nephews, one of whom is connected with the F. W. Devoe & C. T. Reynolds Company, brought the body to the home of his sister, Mrs. Brannon, in Newark, where the funeral services were held. The death certificate gave his age as fifty-four and his place of birth Ireland. An elder brother was for many years with Alden Sampson & Sons, and is now with Lee, Tweedy & Co.

The recent admission of Utah as a State recalls the fact that there is always a large number of Mormons in New York city, made up of students, temporary residents and transient visitors. Among the Salt Lake City business men who are frequently seen in New York are M. A. Romney, who buys carpets for the Zion Co-operative Institution, and Walter and Henry Dinwoody, of the Dinwoody Furniture Company. The St. Denis Hotel is a favorite resort of Utah people.

On April 27 the Union League Club, of Brooklyn, will unveil a statue of Gen. U. S. Grant on the plaza in front of its club house at Bedford avenue and Dean street, and it is proposed to make the occasion worthy of the city of Brooklyn. The Grand Army posts and the entire Second Brigade N. G. S. N. Y. will turn out, and possibly the First Brigade, comprising the troops in New York city.

The statue, which represents the late hero in the saddle, is entirely in bronze, and it takes 1,200 pounds of bronze to make it. It is now almost completed. From the hoof of the horse to the top of General Grant's hat measures 15 feet 8 inches. The plinth on which the horse stands is also of bronze. The pedestal, which has already been erected, stands 16 feet and with the statue will measure 31 feet 8 inches from the ground. A. Abraham, of Abraham & Straus, is a member of the reception committee appointed for the occasion by the club.

During the first two weeks of the new year the following buyers have visited the market: Messrs. G. H. Dunlap, of Dunlap Brothers, Mobile, Ala.; J. W. Hall, Jr., of Hall, Headington & Co., Baltimore; E. E. Arnold, of Arnold, Miller & Co., Providence, R. I.; C. A. Laubham, for Jordan, Marsh & Co., Boston; W. O. Boyd, of the Julius Lansburgh Furniture and Carpet Company, Washington, D. C.; M. A. Romney, for Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, Salt Lake City; F. L. Marting, of Marting Brothers & Co., Portsmouth, Ohio; J. W. Penny, for Hunter, Glenn & Hunter, Detroit; C. S. Wilcox, for Mandel Brothers, Chicago; C. H. CHICAGO CARPET NOTES.

CHICAGO, JANUARY 10.

Concerning the rumor that Siegel, Cooper & Co. were going to put a department store in the big building formerly occupied by S. C. Davis & Co. at St. Louis, J. H. Cooper said yesterday: "I have been annoyed almost to an unbearable point by this rumor. There is not a word of truth in it. We have work enough on our hands with the New York and Chicago stores without entering the St. Louis field."

Mr. Scarett, of Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale department, says business is good.

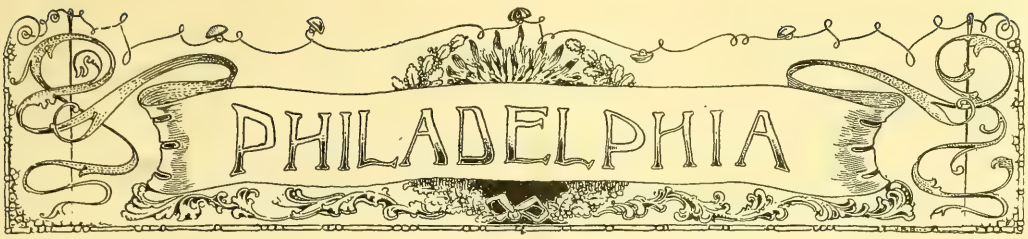
Mr. Taylor, of W. & J. Sloane, says that the trade in mattings and linoleums this season reaches the high water line.

A member of the firm controlling "The Fair," at State and Adams streets, said recently that there was a probability that the building would be carried as high as sixteen stories. Only a quarter of the structure had been built to the tenth story when the work was stopped by hard times. It is said that the firm's business now demands all the room the completed building would give.

The question of moving the retail centre is now being discussed. The idea is to get the best stores together. It is argued that State street has become so badly mixed in character that it no longer forms a proper retail centre. Manager H. G. Selfridge thinks that such a move would be wise, as the expense of doing business in State street makes it difficult for merchants to exist there. R. H. H.

Of the late John Miller, whose death was noted in our last issue, the Kidderminster (England) Shuttle says:

He left New York on Saturday, December 7, just four weeks ago, little knowing that it was for the last time. Having contracted a chill, he was, on his arrival in London, confined to his house with pneumonia, which proved fatal two days before the Christmas festival, greatly to the dismay and grief of all members of the establishment, who not having seen him on his return, after three months' absence, find it difficult to realize that they will see his genial smile no more. He had a large faculty and wide opportunity for making acquaintances and friends, who all, whether customers or fellow travelers, entertained for him the highest regard. He was universally esteemed for his business ability, his strict integrity, and his thoroughly genial nature.



....Alex. Crow, Jr., has a spacious office for his Ingrain samples at Room 654 Bourse.

....James F. Lawler succeeds J. A. Reilly & Co. in the furniture and carpet business at 2410 Frankford avenue.

....D. O. Swire, of Swire & Scott, was out on a short trip last week, and the traveling men are still on the road.

....Griffin, Graham & Co. have recorded during the year 1895 a larger amount of sales than in any year of their history.

....John Wanamaker, Gimbel Brothers, Strawbridge & Clothier, and John & James Dobson are all busy in their annual January clearing sales.

....Dornan Brothers' office in the Bourse is one of the few that are always open. A man is on hand during the entire business day to show samples.

....Joseph C. Wagner & Co. have become selling agents for McDowell Brothers, proprietors of the Belgrade Carpet Mills. Wagner & Co.'s office is at 819 Arch street.

....John Gay's Sons are receiving a very liberal share of the spring orders on Ingrains. Their mills have run to fullest capacity since early in November, and orders are still coming in nicely.

....New invoices of straw matting have been received by Albert Graff & Co. in the recently arrived vessels, and the firm offer a special drive in wrapper stained matting at low prices, and for immediate delivery.

....Carl R. Thompson, recently with Ivins, Dietz & Magee, is now with Gimbel Brothers in their carpet department. Mr. Thompson is the son of James R. Thompson, the efficient manager of the department.

....Samuel White is having a good spring business on Ingrains and Smyrna rugs. His machinery is in full operation and the retail trade are still placing first orders on Gladstone Extra Supers, Union and cotton Ingrains.

....C. E. Coloney, with J. & J. Dobson, reports very good spring orders on Brussels and Velvets. Tapestries are also doing well, in view of the fact that the firm have not changed their prices from the fall season's quotations.

....Daniel Hart, for fifteen years carpet upholsterer with John Wanamaker, was killed by a railroad accident that occurred at Frankford a few days ago. The department was closed during the hours of the funeral. He left a widow.

....Wm. Henderson, Fifth street and Columbia avenue, is another of the favored Ingrain manufacturers running to full capacity. His Acme 15 pair pure stock Ingrain is proving a successful trade builder, for every buyer at once appreciates its merits.

....Thos. Develon's Sons are running every one of their 120 looms, and are in as good shape on orders as any mill in the trade. The fame and favor of Victoria Mills Extra Supers are surely extending, as they should, under the unqualified guarantee given by the Messrs. Develon.

....The sales of Boyd, Harley & Co. to date are considerably ahead of the spring season of last year for the same period, and their traveling men still have plenty of work before them on first orders. The firm state in their advertisement on page 13 that they are the largest exclusive carpet jobbers in the business.

....T. L. Lawton, the Ingrain designer, Emerald and Dauphin streets, has opened his season on next fall's designs very satisfactorily, the proportion of designs sold out of the total number offered being larger than ever before. He keeps his force steadily at work and always has something attractive to offer. Mr. Lawton says he places the quality of his designs ahead of quantity.

....Wm. Dickel, of Henry Dickel & Son, reports their plant as in satisfactory operation, with good orders ahead on C. C. Extra Super, Union and Cotton Ingrains. The firm cater especially to the jobbing and large retail trade, and enjoy the patronage of many of the highest class houses through the reliability of their fabrics and attractive styles. Mr. Dickel's constancy to blue colorings in Unions is being well repaid this season, as the blue effects, including delft blues, are selling exceptionally freely.

....John C. S. Davis, treasurer of the George W. Blabon Company, is president of the Bourse Café Company, which operates the restaurants and cafés in the new Bourse Building. The café on the top floor is one of the finest and most elaborately appointed restaurants in the country and is already a great success. There is a separate ladies' café and the cuisine is of the highest standard. Music is discoursed during lunch and dining hours and the café is open until 10 P. M. It is bound to become one of the notable attractions of Philadelphia.

....J. E. Bierck, of the E. R. Artman-Treichler Carpet Company's Putnam Mills, has gotten up a new weave Ingrain showing solid ground and increased color effects in the figures, produced in a solidly woven fabric without pockets. The effects are decidedly handsome and the price is also attractive. The Putnam Mills general output of Ingrains is selling up to production, the fifty-six looms being kept constantly running. The mills are located at Second and Huntingdon streets, and have been eminently successful under the direction of Mr. Bierck, the managing member of the company.

This is the best time of year to arrange for starting a carpet cleaning establishment, and the best carpet cleaning machine made is produced by F. H. Good, 942 North Ninth street, Philadelphia.

A CARPET MAN CATCHES A CROOK.

Paul Brigham, who is known to the police under a variety of names, was arrested in this city on the 10th inst. on a charge of attempting to swindle the firm of White & Spate, carpet manufacturers and jobbers. About three weeks ago Brigham called on Mr. Spate at the New York store of the firm and represented that he desired to invest $50,000 in their business if he could be satisfied that the investment would be profitable. Negotiations which followed resulted in the signing of legal papers on the 8th inst. by which Brigham became a member of the firm. No money was paid over by him at that time, but he gave a plausible excuse for this, and then asked Mr. Spate to accompany him to a jewelry store on Twenty-third street, where he bought $1,495 worth of jewelry "for Mrs. Brigham," and suggested that as he did not have the money with him at that moment it would answer as well if Mr. Spate would give the jeweler the firm's check for the amount. Mr. Spate declined to do this, and as his suspicions had been excited by the request he began an investigation which resulted in the arrest of Brigham and his identification as a notorious crook.

THE HARDWICK-MASLAND SUIT.

As noted in our isssue of the 1st inst., the litigation between Harry Hardwick and C. H. Masland & Sons in relation to the patented "Agra" and "Columbian" weaves of Ingrains has resulted in a judgment by the United States Circuit Court to the effect that the Messrs. Masland had infringed the patent granted to Mr. Hardwick May 1, 1888. The court held that while the fabric made by the Messrs. Masland presented features not specified in Mr. Hardwick's patent the fundamental principles of the carpeting were the same, and that Mr. Hardwick was therefore entitled to an injunction and an accounting. There is no doubt that the Messrs. Masland were perfectly sincere in their plea that their weave embodied entirely new and original principles, and they were also able to present as an additional argument in their favor the fact that the Patent Office had granted the patent under which they made the goods which are now declared to be an infringement of the Hardwick patent.

The office at 611 Washington street, Boston, lately occupied by W. M. Boutwell, has been taken by Leslie Tyler, New England representative of Thomas Potter, Sons & Co.

OBITUARY NOTES.

The mercantile agencies announce the death of Adam Domer, of A. & F. Domer, Wakarusa, Ind.; O. R. Knight, Brownsville, Pa., and A. A. Unger, Sr., of Unger & Gale, West Alexander, Ohio.

W. W. Morris, who died December 30 at the West Penn Hospital, was a member of the firm of Morris Brothers & Gray, furniture and carpet dealers, at No. 5165 Butler street, Pittsburg, Pa. On September 12 Mr. Morris fell down an elevator shaft at his place of business and sustained injuries from which he never recovered. He was forty-five years old.

Alfred E. Beach, editor of the Scientific American, who died on the 1st inst. of pneumonia, was a man of uncommon ability and energy. For nearly fifty years he took an active part in the editing of the Scientific American and in the direction of the extensive patent business of the firm. Mr. Beach had a great deal of mechanical talent, which was manifested not only in many valuable suggestions to inventors but also in several important inventions of his own. His typewriting machine, which was first exhibited in 1852, received the gold medal of the American Institute. Among other important inventions to be credited to him were a pneumatic letter carrying tube, a pneumatic elevated railway and the hydraulic shield which bears his name and is now in use among engineers in all parts of the world.

Benjamin B. Bloomingdale, father of L. B. Bloomingdale, J. B. Bloomingdale and E. W. Bloomingdale, who compose the firm of Bloomingdale Brothers, New York, died at his home in this city on the 10th inst., at the age of eighty-five years. Mr. Bloomingdale was born in Germany and came to America when thirty-five years of age. He started in the shirt manufacturing business on Grand street, near Broadway, and during the twenty-five years that he remained in it accumulated a large fortune. He retired about twenty-five years ago. His sons are all prominent in the Hebrew charitable organizations of the city, and he was a liberal contributor to charities himself, although he never allowed his name to appear. Although never having an active interest in his sons' business he was their constant adviser, his own wide experience being of inestimable value to them. It was his custom to spend his summers at his family homestead at Yonkers, and last summer it was seen that he was failing very rapidly. His death, therefore, was not unexpected. He leaves three sons and two daughters. The funeral took place on the 12th inst. from his late residence, 448 West Fifty-eighth street.

The stock of carpets of M. Umstadter & Co., Norfolk, Va., was damaged by water used in extinguishing a fire in an adjoining building on the 12th inst.

The Bloomsburg (Pa.) Carpet Works will have a line of Tapestry carpets ready about February 15, and will have fifty looms running in the Tapestry department about March 1.

A. A. Vantine & Co.'s attractive offerings in Japanese jute rugs and Japanese and China mattings are referred to in detail on page 101 of this issue, and the facts there stated should be of interest to all buyers. Vantine & Co. can always offer strong attractions to the trade, and their offerings at the present time are especially well calculated to secure the attention of buyers.

Barber-Herpolsheimer.—A. G. Barber and Miss Ida A. Herpolsheimer were married at Lincoln, Neb., on the 1st inst. Mr. Barber is carpet manager for the Rudge & Morris Company, Lincoln.

Cary—Hannan.—On the evening of the 8th inst. Colfax Council, Royal Arcanum, New York, initiated its 500th member, the candidate for the initiatory ceremonies being Walter Jefferson Hannan, of S. Sanford & Sons' sales force. George J. Cary, whom everybody knows, with the assistance of his brother officers put Mr. Hannan through. Mr. Cary on the same evening retired from the regent's chair, becoming the Sitting Past Regent of the council, and was presented with a handsome past regent's jewel as an emblem of the esteem in which the members of the council hold him and a recognition of his active work on behalf of the organization during the past year. It was a gala night for the "Carpet Men's Council."

Clapp.—B. G. Clapp, long well known in carpet circles in Worcester, Mass., has returned to that city and is now with the Pinkham & Willis Company.

English.—George C. English on January 1 assumed charge of the furniture department of Hilton, Hughes & Co. He will continue also to manage the carpet department.

Fishel.—The sons of L. H. Fishel, carpet and furniture dealer, Babylon, L. I., had a tussle with a burglar on the morning of the 11th inst., and came off victorious. A watchman saw the intruder trying to force the door of the house of Leopold H. Fishel early in the morning. The watchman aroused Harry and Leopold H. Fishel, Jr. When the sons reached the porch the watchman and the burglar were engaged in a struggle. The three men got the intruder on the ground and bound him, after which he was locked up, and later he was held for examination.

Furfey.—James A. Furfey, the manufacturer of cocoa mats and matting, Cambridgeport, Mass., was a visitor to New York during the first days of the month.

Griffin.—R. L. Griffin, of Wm. Berri's Sons, has lately been elected a member of the Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution by its board of managers. His Revolutionary ancestry by lineal descent goes back to his great-great-grandfather.

Jones.—J. W. Jones, for some years with Van Gaasbeek & Arkell, took charge of the rug department of Stern Brothers on the 2d inst. The latter firm intend to enlarge their rug business.

Kelly-Hamilton.—Thomas B. Kelly has succeeded T. B. Hamilton as manager of the carpet department of the Denholm & McKay Company, Worcester, Mass. Mr. Hamilton has become a partner in the retail dry goods business of E. L. Smith & Co., Worcester, who are to open a rug and upholstery department.

Hughes—McCarthy.—Frank J. Hughes, who about a year ago left John A. Roberts & Co., Utica, N. Y., to take charge of D. McCarthy & Sons' carpet department in the same city, has returned to his old position as carpet buyer for Roberts & Co. The interest of the carpet department at McCarthy & Sons' will in future be looked after by D. L. McCarthy of the firm, who has had charge of the furniture department, and who will buy for both departments.

Jempson.—George F. Jempson, who represents a number of Southern houses in New York, left on the 9th inst. for a tour among his clients.

Leiter.—It saddens one to think of the complications arising from these foreign matrimonial alliances. Here is L. Z. Leiter, more or less widely known in Europe as a successful shopkeeper, declining to be interviewed on the Venezuela question, and explaining that he felt considerable delicacy about discussing foreign affairs, because his son-in-law, Mr. Curzon, is Under Secretary in the Foreign Office in London, and he fears anything he might say on the matter might be misunderstood. How terrible in case of actual hostilities would be the struggle in the Leiter breast between his duty to Chicago and his love for his English son-in-law. Chicago would probably in the event of bombardment hold its Leiter as a hostage for the good conduct of the British Foreign Office.

Lowenstein.—L. B. Lowenstein, of B. Lowenstein & Brothers, Memphis, Tenn., resident buyer in New York for the firm, has returned to the metropolis after his usual semi-annual visit of two weeks to the house at Memphis. His office is at 51 Leonard street.

Prasse.—John Prasse, a furniture and carpet dealer, of West New Brighton, Staten Island, met with a serious accident last month. He had a young horse that had not been driven for two weeks, and having business to attend to in Linoleumville, decided to drive out there. On his way home Mr. Prasse and his son Charlie stopped at Graniteville on a matter of business. After starting off again Mr. Prasse decided to let his son drive, and handed the lines over to him. For some unknown reason the horse kicked and in so doing struck him on the leg, breaking it below the knee. He was confined to his bed, and his doctor says it will be some time before he will be able to go out.

Pulver—Hanna.—Walter Pulver and E. Hanna, buyers for T. Kingsford, Oswego, N. Y., were in town early in the month looking over the carpet market and making selections for spring.

Reid.—W. H. Reid, the Boston commission carpet and upholstery merchant, was in New York and Philadelphia the 3d and 4th inst., visiting the firms he so ably represents.

Roberd.—J. A. Roberd, carpet manager for N. E. Chamberlin, Burlington, Vt., arrived in town on the 2d inst., almost simultaneously with Jack Frost. Mr. Roberd remained in Gotham about a week selecting his spring stock. He says that the outlook for business is very encouraging, not only in his own section, but in districts represented by other buyers whom he met while in New York.

Romney.—M. A. Romney, carpet buyer for Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, Salt Lake City, Utah (No. 45), has been in town for a fortnight past. He says his concern did three times the business last year they did the previous one.

Stockert.—Ed. Stockert, of the Council Bluffs Carpet Company, is a great chicken fancier. Just before Christmas some thief entered his chicken house and stole fifty pure breed fowls. The fact that the thief sold them at 4 cents a pound shows that he had little faith in Mr. Stockert's ability as a breeder.

Squire.—Geo. S. Squire, of the E. S. Higgins Carpet Company, has been confined to his home for several days on account of a bruised knee. He will soon be at his office again, but chafes at the restraint, as is natural for a man who works at his desk all day like a 50 horse power steam engine and then rests himself by a 30 mile bicycle spin in the cool of the evening.

Walker.—E. R. Walker, buyer for the Oneida (N. Y.) Specialties Company, arrived in Gotham on the 13th inst. with the intention of spending about a week in the market. He will "do" the New York Furniture Exposition, and will also make a round of the metropolitan carpet showrooms. Mr. Walker was a welcome caller at The Review office, and said that business with his firm for the past year had been very satisfactory, and that the outlook for this year's trade was promising of good results.

Williams.—T. W. Williams, Eastern and export manager of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, has recently been elected a director in the Citizen's Lloyds of New York.

Yardum.—H. B. Yardum, of the firm of Yardum Brothers, Oriental rug importers, arrived from Constantinople last week.

The Bromley Brothers Carpet Company are now showing their new heavy weight patented rug, which has been named the "Assyrian." They will make the Assyrian rugs in sizes from 3x6 to 9x12 feet and the goods are finding particular favor with the fine retail trade. Samples can be seen at the mill in Philadelphia or at the New York salesroom, 110 Worth street.

The Mutual Carpet Company, Charleston, S. C., furnished all the carpets, shades, curtains and upholstery work for the Dorchester Inn, the new high-class hotel at Summerville, S. C., which is one of the most popular winter resorts in the South.

William Hancock, formerly of the firm of Hancock & Blakeman, Troy, N. Y., and since then in business for himself in that city, is very ill, and has been obliged to close his store. The creditors satisfied their claims from the stock on the 26th ult. It is said that Mr. Hancock will never be able to attend to business again.

Thos. B. Hamilton, for some years manager of the Denholm & McKay Company's carpet and upholstery departments, Worcester, Mass., retired from that position on the 1st inst. to become a partner in the dry goods firm of E. L. Smith & Co., of Worcester, who will hereafter carry upholstery and rugs in addition to their former stock.

Bell & Scott, furniture and carpet dealers, Atlantic City, N. J., have dissolved partnership. Mr. Scott has sold his interest in the firm to a Mr. Gorman, who, with Mr. Bell, will continue the business. Mr. Scott retires on account of his recent election as clerk of Atlantic County, a position which carries a salary of $10,000 a year.

Burglars entered the furniture and carpet store of Wilson & Ensign, Schuylerville, N. Y., during the night of December 23 and carried out a small desk to which was attached the money drawer. It was found the next morning by some boys in the rear of the store. Entrance was effected by breaking a large pane of glass in a rear window.

On February 1 W. E. Whitehead will succeed J. E. Binns at Toronto, as Canadian representative of W. & J. Sloane. Mr. Binns has resigned the position to accept an interest in the carpet business of Thomas Ligget, of Montreal and Ottawa, with headquarters at Montreal. Mr. Whitehead was for twelve years past manager and buyer for John Macdonald, the Toronto jobber.

At Pueblo, Col., the firm of G. W. Perkins & Co., dealing in furniture and carpets, has been succeeded by a corporation, the Perkins-Crews Furniture Company, the directors of which are George W. Perkins, C. W. Crews, Mrs. George W. Perkins and J. E. Morris. Mr. Perkins is president of the company, and Mr. Morris is its secretary and treasurer. The capital stock is $25,000.

The L. F. Haase Company, Waterbury, Conn., has been awarded the contract to furnish a best quality Brussels carpet for the lodge room of the Comstock Lodge, K. of P., of Waterbury; also the contract to furnish carpets, upholstery, draperies and decorations for the newly acquired lodge room and ante-rooms of the Speedwell Lodge, K. of P., of Waterbury. The two jobs will use about 950 yards of carpet. It has also recently finished a large carpet job in the new Odd Fellows' Hall, in which over 600 yards of best quality Brussels were used.

San Francisco's big new department store concern, the Emporium Commercial Company, occupies the Parrott Building in that city, which is said to be the most magnificent structure ever erected for mercantile purposes. The ground floor is one vast apartment without a partition, having an area of 96,250 square feet, and the height of this wonderful room ranges from 45 to 100 feet. The basement is still larger and covers a ground space of 104,500 square feet. The interior finishings will be of marble, bronze, steel and polished mahogany. The main aisle will be a veritable highway, 40 feet in width, and running at right angles 125 feet from each end. The art gallery, the Japanese, Chinese and Persian bazar and the "cyclery" on the roof will be special features. The Emporium band of fifty pieces will give three concerts a week.

House & Herrmann's new building in Washington, D. C., now in course of erection, is described by the reporter of a local paper in this way:

I was walking down Seventh street yesterday and had to stop at the corner of I street and admire that handsome building House & Herrmann are having put up.

What an immense store that is going to be! Fifty thousand square feet of selling space!

The skeleton is nearly completed. The roof is being put on at present, and the great tall tower that Mr. Prescott, the builder, says can be seen from Alexandria, is rapidly climbing skyward.

Mr. Herrmann tells me that this building is constructed on a plan wholly new in Washington. He calls it the slow burning process. New York has some of it and so has Chicago. The insurance companies regard buildings put up in this fashion the safest kind of risk.

The exterior of the building is of brick—that is, what isn't to be of glass. There will be 6,000 square feet of glass surface. That must exceed the expanse in any other building in Washington. It will let in an abundance of daylight and provide what so few furniture houses have—plenty of show window space. I forget how many electric lights Mr. Herrmann told me he was going to have—but enough to turn darkness into day. Both the passenger and freight elevators are to be run by electricity.

In speaking of the appointments of the new store Mr. Herrmann said: "We went all around looking at modern business houses and borrowed here and there an idea. Not quite a year ago we built a building in Wheeling, W. Va., larger than the one here. Of course our experience there shows us where we can make some improvements. There won't be a better arranged store for our line of business in this country than this when it is ready for us to move in." And he is right about that. House & Herrmann are giving this part of Seventh a boost up in the scale of popularity by the energy and enterprise they display. I don't think it is any wonder such men are successful. They deserve to be. The new store will be finished about February 1.

Under Special Notices in this issue will be found a desirable opportunity for a live man, with $10,000 or $20,000, to engage in the carpet and drapery business.

ORIENTAL RUGS.

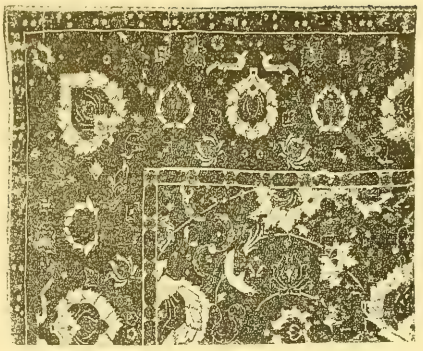
CHARACTERISTICS OF CERTAIN PROMINENT MAKES.

There is probably no branch of commerce in which experts are so rare as they are in the Oriental rug trade. The retail carpet dealer in this country may be well informed as regards all domestic or European goods handled by him, but so far as the rugs of the Orient are concerned he can claim little or no knowledge beyond the facts that certain sizes and certain classes of patterns are more salable than others.

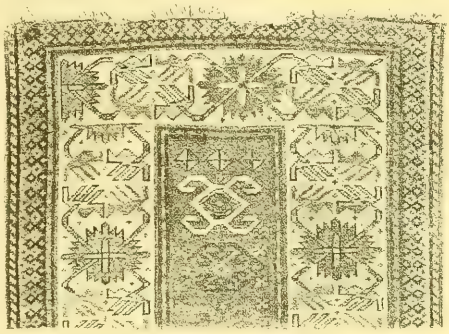
In the old days the differences between the rugs of the various weaving districts of the East were clearly marked, and a glance at the material, design or colorings of a rug would generally be sufficient to detect at once the country, and in most instances the very district or province, from which it had come.

But at the present time such details as texture or pattern are of little use in tracing the origin of a rug of modern manufacture, because in most of the rug weaving districts of the Orient the goods are manufactured for the Western markets under the order and often under the supervision of a European buyer, who allows no native ideas to interfere with his own conception of a good and salable pattern. Such rugs generally possess all the desirable features of an Oriental make, without the defects often found in goods made by native weavers to suit themselves.

Of course these remarks do not apply to rugs which are really antique, or to some modern goods manufactured in districts in which the weavers are still exempt from the influence of Western ideas, as for instance in the Caucasus or among the nomad tribes. Such people continue to make their rugs as their ancestors did back to time immemorial, and the rug buyers accept the goods as they come, because they are generally well worth the price, being, indeed, much cheaper than they would be if made to order. In the Orient these rugs represent the same kind of labor which produces the crazy quilt of the American farmhouse, made in the leisure hours of the farmer's wife or daughters. The crazy quilt is hideous, and it is but fair to admit that some Oriental rugs are not beautiful to the eye until time, wear and dirt have toned them down. But while it has been broadly intimated that it is rarely safe to be very positive as to the exact birthplace of an Oriental rug once landed in this country, it is still true that each rug-making country in the Orient has its particular type of rug, the typical Turkish product, for example, being different from the Persian in both weave and pattern.



OLD PERSIAN CARPET.



CAUCASIAN CARPET

The Turkish rug is generally woven more coarsely than the Persian ; the designs are usually somewhat larger, and consist of geometrical figures and such as are seen on mosque or prayer rugs. But there are also high grade Turkish rugs and carpets which are woven very finely. In Persian goods the patterns comprise birds, animals, flowers and fruits, as well as geometrical figures. Under the designation of Persians are classed such rugs as the Ferehan, Shiraz, Mossul, Cashmere, Savelan and others.

The Ferehan goods are made in both rug and carpet sizes, in small chintz designs with dark blue grounds and reddish borders. They rank among the least expensive in the market, and are well suited for dining rooms or libraries. One noted hotel in New York city has Ferehan carpets in fifty of its rooms.

Shiraz rugs are generally antiques. They come in small sizes only, are of closer weave than the Ferehan and more varied in colorings.

Savelans resemble Ferehans, but are much finer, and are generally woven in large, bold designs in a wide variety of colorings. But as most of the weavers of Savelans are under the control of an English firm, any designs or colorings required can be supplied.

Soumacs, or Cashmeres, are often classed with the makes of the Caucasus, and a Cashmere rug is also made in India. The Cashmere is woven without a woof and in large medallion designs. The ground is generally dark red, and there are usually three medallions in each rug or carpet. The antiques are an admirable specimen of soft rich colorings, but the modern goods are sometimes crude in this respect.

KIDDERMINSTER'S CARPET TRADE IN 1895.

OF the carpet trade of Kidderminster in the year 1895 the Shuttle says :

The year has been one of considerable vicissitude. Some old and important firms have succumbed to low prices and the severe competition, and to-day we have in Kidderminster such well-known firms as Messrs. H. R. Willis & Co., Messrs. Oldland, Naylor, Lloyd & Co., Messrs. H. J. Dixon & Co., and Messrs. Whittall Brothers ranked in the unemployed list. Such a condition of things cannot be looked upon with equanimity, for it represents at least 200 looms unemployed, and the enforced idleness of a large number of men eager and willing to work. This state of things has brought the labor question into an acute stage, and, while laudable endeavors are being made to introduce some new industries into the borough, the pressing question of the hour is the restarting of some of these carpet mills, so that male labor can be fully employed and the stability of the old borough improved. No doubt the other firms have benefited to some extent by the stoppage of these firms, but it is absurd to suppose that Kidderminster has not suffered very serious loss by the failures that have taken place during the year. Those manufacturers who were able to take advantage some time ago of the anticipated rise in value of raw materials and placed large contracts with spinners are now reaping the benefit of their prescience, and will be able to look forward to the results of stocktaking with a contented mind. In the Brussels trade machinery is now exceedingly well employed, and the changed attitude of the Carpet Weavers' Association on the overtime question has enabled many looms to work longer hours, and added considerably to the wage bill of the year.

The Axminster trade has been excellent, and we shall be within the mark in saying that the yardage of carpets produced has never been greater than in 1895. The outlook is healthy and promising. Several new varieties have been placed on the market, and some of them have certainly "caught on" with the public. The American endeavors to capture the English market have utterly failed, and home producers have even benefited by the Yankee scare of last year; for despite the advance of prices made many months ago the demand has kept on increasing. The fact is the American designs do not suit the English taste, and many dealers will not touch the imported article at any price. The taste is growing for richer colorings in carpets, the old love for Persians giving way for the more effective chintzes. The neutral tints are dying out and brighter and bolder effects are being produced. Never before, probably, has there been such a splendid range of designs and colorings on the market as now, and there is an evident determination that England, and in particular Kidderminster, shall still govern the carpet trade of the civilized world.

A NEATLY braceletted wrist and hand with an opera glass and the legend "Look into this carefully" is the cover design of a neat pamphlet which comes to us from F. H. Good, of 942 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, the manufacturer of Good's rotary carpet cleaner.

THE annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers was held at Boston on the 8th inst., and the following officers were elected for 1896 : President, Hon. William H. Haile, Springfield, Mass.; vice-presidents, John L. Houston, Hartford ; Thos. Dolan and Charles H. Harding, Philadelphia ; James Phillips, Jr., Fitchburg; secretary, S. N. D. North, Boston ; treasurer, Benjamin Phipps, Boston. James Dobson, of Philadelphia, and Frank E. Simpson, of Boston, were made members of the executive committee.

NEW BUILDINGS NEEDING FURNISHINGS.

PROJECTED NEW BUILDINGS OF INTEREST TO LARGE FURNITURE AND CARPET DEALERS.

WE present herewith a carefully compiled report of all the hotels, churches, theatres, club houses and other large buildings in course of erection which will soon be in need of extensive furnishings. This work has grown to such importance in the affairs of many large dealers that this column will no doubt be a valued help to those seeking such contracts:

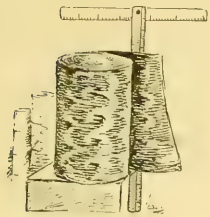
THE fine Axminster carpet made by the Hartford Carpet Company for the woman's room of the Connecticut exhibition at the Atlanta Exposition has received the compliment of "honorable mention" from the judges. The Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon, Ga., were awarded a gold medal for their exhibit of carpet yarns.

EXPORTS of carpeting and kindred goods during the past fortnight were as follows: CARPETS—Southampton, 36 bs., $1,455 ; Rotterdam, 19 pkgs., $630 ; Liverpool, 7 bs., $404 ; Glasgow, 5 bs. (rugs), $380 ; Chili, 8 bs., $170. CARPET SWEEPERS—Rotterdam, 23 cs., $498 ; Hamburg, 19 cs., $398 ; Havre, 22 cs., $363 ; Antwerp, 6 cs., $70.

OPENING OF THE PHILADELPHIA BOURSE.



The ceremonies attending the formal opening of the Philadelphia Bourse on December 30 and 31 were well calculated to show the strong interest felt by Philadelphians in the success of this institution.

The banquet in the great assembly hall of the Bourse building on the night of the 30th ult. was especially notable for the number and character of the participants. The company included more than 500 of the leading business men of Philadelphia and many distinguished guests from other parts of the country.

There was one long table, from which branched eleven tables at right angles. This table extended the length of the hall, which is a matter of nearly 240 feet, and from the gallery looked like the "straightaway" stretch of a quarter-mile running track. The man at the end was more than half a city square away from his fellow diner who acted as the other "end man." The floor looked like an extensive plaza or parade ground, surrounded by a thick growth of young forest, for pine, spruce and fir trees had been banked in solid walls of green, behind which waiters disappeared as completely as though lost in the Black Forest. The tables, decked with roses, floral letters and holly and ivy, heightened the dark green background, along with the bunches of yellow incandescent lights that glowed in lines and clusters from the ceiling 45 feet above, as far away as the roof of a four story building.

George E. Bartol, who suggested the foundation of the Bourse five years ago, and who is its first and present president, of course was chairman of the dinner, and to his right and left at the long head table sat, United States Senator Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut; ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker, Robert Dornan, W. H. Foulkrod and others. Among the members of the carpet and upholstery trade who were present were: Messrs. Wm. H. McCallum, T. Benton Dornan, Samuel White, James Pollock, Isaac H. Clothier, Clarkson Clothier, Alexander Crow, Jr., Thomas Denny, Thomas G. Hood, John Hamilton, Milton Harley and Justus C. Strawbridge. Mr. W. H. McCallum acted as a member of the executive and reception committees, and Mr. J. C. Strawbridge was also a member of the reception committee. The after dinner speakers included President Bartol, C. S. Patterson, W. N. Trenholm and others.

At the dedicatory exercises on the 31st ult. a large and distinguished company attended. The building was open for public inspection from noon until 9 o'clock P. M., and the opportunity was taken advantage of by an immense number of people.

President George R. Bowen, of the Textile Manufacturers' Association of the Southwest, has issued a circular stating that as the National Association of Manufacturers will hold its annual meeting in Chicago on the 21st inst., it has been decided to postpone the conference of the South and West textile manufacturers called to meet on the 14th inst. The conference instead will meet on January 21 in the hope that a much larger number of manufacturers may find it convenient to be present on that date.

WILLIAM H. SHEEHY.

NOW IN THE FIRM.

On the 1st inst. William H. Sheehy, for the past eight years manager of the Lowell Company's New York office, was admitted as a partner in the house of Smith, Hogg & Gardner, selling agents for the Lowell Company. Mr. Sheehy is one of the best known and most popular men in the trade with which he has been identified for the past twenty-six or seven years. When in 1887 Mr. Sheehy retired from the firm of Thomas B. Shoaff & Co. to become the successor of the late Lewis E. Bishop in the New York office of the Lowell Company, the trade felt confident that Mr. Sheehy would prove thoroughly competent to meet all the demands which the position—a most arduous and responsible one—could make upon him, and their faith in his ability has been amply justified by his skillfull handling of the company's carpet business to this date. All who know him will agree that the firm of Smith, Hogg & Gardner have shown excellent judgment in admitting him as a partner.

LEOPOLD LEVY.

Very attractive and extensive lines of China and Japan matting, carpets, linoleums, floor oil cloth, rugs, upholstery goods, curtains, shades, &c., are offered for the coming season by Leopold Levy, 723 Canal street, New Orleans. Mr. Levy is the only wholesale carpet and upholstery dealer in New Orleans, and the Southern trade will find that he can offer strong inducements to buyers. He carries a large stock comprising selections from the most desirable makes in the market and can deliver goods to the Southern trade very quickly, at a great saving in freight expenses as well as in time.

A company has been formed at Dundee, Scotland, to manufacture linoleum and floor oil cloth. A large portion of the burlap backing used in the manufacture of linoleum and floor oil cloth is made at Dundee.

THE DUTY ON "WORSTED" GOODS.

United States Court of Appeals in Chicago has recently rendered a highly important decision in regard to the question of duties on worsteds imported between August 28, 1894, and January 1, 1895. The decision is as follows:

Schedule K of the Tariff Act of 1394, entitled "Wool and Manufactures of Wool," embraces paragraphs numbered from 279 to 297 inclusive, the last reading in this wise: "The reduction of the rates of duty herein provided for manufactures of wool shall take effect January first, eighteen hundred and ninety-five." Provision is made in the different paragraphs for duties upon various articles "made wholly or in part of wool, worsted, the hair of the camel, goat, alpaca, or other animals," and by paragraph 283, "on all manufactures composed wholly or in part of wool, worsted, the hair of the camel, goat, alpaca, or other animals * * * not specially provided for in this act." Carpets of various descriptions are specially provided for. "Saxony, Wilton and Tournay velvet carpets" are made subject, by paragraph 288, to a duty of 45 per centum ad valorem. The duty imposed upon this description of carpets by the act of 1890, paragraph 400, was "sixty cents per square yard, and in addition thereto forty per centum ad valorem."

On October 9, 1894, the appellees, Marshall Field & Co., imported a quantity of Tournay carpets upon which the collector demanded the duty prescribed by the act of 1890. It was paid under protest, the importers claiming that the goods were dutiable only under paragraph 288 of the latter act. This view the court below upheld, overruling the decision of the General Appraisers, and we think the judgment should be affirmed.

The component of chief value in Tournay velvet carpets is worsted, the remainder, amounting to about 10 per centum, being linen or jute; and worsted, it is conceded, is composed of a long fibre combed from the wool of sheep. This, it is insisted, makes it a species of wool. But the testimony shows that it is not so regarded in commerce, and it is evident that it has not been so treated by Congress in its various enactments on the subject.

In Elliott v. Swartwout, 10 Peters 137, 151, where it was admitted "that worsted was made out of wool by combing, but that it becomes thereby a distinct article, well known in commerce under the denomination of worsted," the court said: "It being admitted, in this case, that worsted is a distinct article, well known in commerce under that denomination, we must understand Congress as using the term in that commercial sense, and as contradistinguished from wool and woolen goods and other well-known denominations of goods." Much more must the distinction be recognized in later enactments, which presumably were framed with reference to that decision. It follows that the words "manufactures of wool," as used in paragraph 297 of the act of 1894, do not apply to Tournay velvet carpets, mentioned in paragraph 288, which are made of worsted, as distinguished from wool.

It is moreover a well settled rule, as declared in Arthur v. Rheims, 96 U. S. 143, "that when an article is intended to be made dutiable by its specific definition it will not be affected by the general words of the same or another statute which would otherwise embrace it." This rule is recognized in half a dozen cases in the volume just cited. See also Worthington v. Abbott, 124 U. S. 433; Robertson v. Solomon, 130 U. S. 412; Seeberger v. Cohn, 137 U. S. 95, and cases cited.

If, therefore, it is conceded that the carpets in question "might in some respects be considered a manufacture of wool," yet, being subjected by this act to a particular duty, they cannot be so regarded here, and it must be considered that the duty placed upon them took effect upon the passage of the act unaffected by paragraph 297, which applied only to manufactures of wool eo nomine.

The question whether paragraph 400 of the act of 1890 was repealed, and at once became inoperative upon the passage of the act of 1894, need not be considered.

The judgment below is affirmed.

Duties on worsteds imported between August 28, 1894, and January 1, 1895, have been paid under protest, and if this ruling stands they will be recoverable.

While importers will naturally be glad to take advantage of this decision it is safe to say that they entertain but little respect for the intelligence of the judges who rendered it. In common with the rest of the trade they recognize that the decision is absurd in itself and based upon reasoning of a marvelously strained, far fetched character. Every man in the trade knows that worsted carpets and cloths are also woolen goods and that it was the intent of Congress that they should be regarded as manufactures of wool and taxed accordingly.

The Solomons of the Circuit Court have decided to the contrary and their method of reasoning, as exposed in their decision, is strong confirmation of the truth of Bacon's remark that the study of the law sharpens but narrows the intellect. As further proof of this, the trade may recall the asinine dictum of another judge in a design patent case, to the effect that the pattern of a carpet was a matter of no importance as compared with the quality of the material used in it. The judge who made this remark is still dispensing wisdom in the Supreme Court of the United States.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR INLAID LINOLEUM.

Lancaster English linoleum for 1896 begins its tenth season in this country with a marked advance in the extent and variety of its new designs and colorings.

Among them are to be found many trade catchers in high-class mosaics, tiles, parquetries, geometrics, arabesques, florals and imitation inlaids. The latter are especially referred to as a wonderfully effective group in super B, first C, second D, third E thickness, of uniform, highest quality throughout, with jute foundation, cork and oxidized oil mash and printed top surface; all full 72 inches to the match line. This well established Lancaster English make places within the reach of every purse a thoroughly trustworthy and very durable linoleum floor cloth in designs heretofore confined to extremely high cost goods. The demand for the best form of artistic expression in floor coverings, combined with durability and a low price, is constantly on the increase throughout the world. And this demand these old-established, world-wide famous mills constantly strive to meet, and they claim the proud distinction of doing it to an extent heretofore deemed impossible.

Lyon Brothers & Co., Baltimore, importers and shipping merchants, are prepared to make it to the interest of every house, large and small, in the trade to handle one or all of the thicknesses described, equally guaranteed as to highest quality of material and comparative durability. See their advertisement on page 108 of this issue.

A winter scene in colors and frosting, with a heavy frame, forms the feature of a beautiful calendar sent out by John C. Meyer & Co., the manufacturers of silks and threads, 87 Summer street, Boston. Among the novel souvenirs of a season unusually rich in novelties this holds a high place.

A GREAT FLOOR OIL CLOTH HOUSE.

One of the most prominent features of the annual report of W. S. Matthews, commissioner of statistics for the State of Maine, is an article on the floor oil cloth industry of that State, in which the firm of C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co. naturally receives special attention. Of the history of this noted firm Mr. Matthews says :

The leading manufacturers of oil cloths in Maine are C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co., of Winthrop. Their history is a striking one, showing what one man can accomplish in a lifetime by pluck, enterprise and hard work, from a small and apparently insignificant beginning. Chas. M. Bailey, of Winthrop, was the founder of this business, and to his efforts is due its success. When Alton Pope and Alden Sampson were conducting their table cloth manufactory at Manchester in the thirties, among their employees was Daniel R. Bailey, an older brother of Charles. Having mastered the business he returned to his home in Winthrop, and with his father, Ezekiel Bailey, a farmer, and Charles began the manufacture of table cloths on a small scale, peddling the goods in the neighboring county.

They had no factory, but used an outbuilding for manufacturing. Charles was a mere boy, but at the early age of seventeen years went out on the road, and sold the cloths, and there was not a town in the county which he did not visit. Thus early in this manner he commenced his career. The business prospered and increased as carpets came into use, but little attention being given to table cloth manufacturing.

In 1847 Charles was conducting a manufactory of his own at what is now Baileyville, Winthrop, owned a factory, employed a crew of men and was shipping a large quantity of goods for those days. On May 17 of that year his entire plant was swept away by fire. His loss was heavy and the prospect discouraging, but he at once rebuilt and paid every dollar he owed. His factory here he kept in operation successfully until December 13, 1864, when it was again destroyed by fire. Meanwhile he established factories at Winthrop Village, on the line of the railroad and 3 miles from his home in Baileyville, and there he has remained up to the present time, the main office and headquarters of his extensive business being at the village. Several small concerns made a start in oil cloth manufacturing in Winthrop and Monmouth, and not proving profitable Mr. Bailey purchased their factories, thereby increasing his own business and facilities.

J. A. & Peter F. Sanborn owned an oil cloth manufactory at East Redfield, which they conducted successfully for many years, and they also sold out to the enterprising Winthrop manufacturer, but these shops have not been in operation for many years. Another purchase by Mr. Bailey was a plant at Skowhegan, which he has kept running since becoming the owner.

The late Moses Bailey, a brother of Charles, was in the oil cloth business for a term of years, and after the latter left Baileyville owned factories there, besides a plant in Camden, N. J. At the present time Charles owns the Baileyville shops, so that he has three separate plants, two in Winthrop and one in Skowhegan, all of which are in full operation.

It is a well-known fact that not for forty years have the Bailey works been shut down for a single day, Sundays excepted. On holidays the men are told that they can work or not as they choose, and a majority of them remain in the shops. Ten of the employees of the firm have been constantly in the business for forty years and are still at work. Many own their own homes, while several have amassed from $25,000 to $30,000 each from their wages and good investments. But few foreigners are employed, the policy of the firm being to hire native Americans. A few Canadian French are found among the workmen, but with hardly an exception the remainder were born in the Pine Tree State. The printing is all hand work, not a machine ever having been placed in the shops, Mr. Bailey not believing that a change would be profitable. Thus far he has been able to maintain his business in full operation in competition with machine made cloths, and did not curtail production during the recent financial depression. Mr. Bailey's sons, Chas. I. Bailey and Edward A. Bailey, and son-in-law, Joseph E. Briggs, each have a working interest in the firm. The company's works are valued at $150,000, while the annual output of manufactured goods reaches 2,000,000 yards worth $500,000. Two hundred men are employed, seventy-five at Skowhegan, seventy-five at Winthrop Village and fifty at Baileyville, the pay roll amounting to $10,000 per month.

Oil cloths and the material which enters into them being weighty, the expenditure for freight is very large. All goods and material pass over the Maine Central Railroad, but New York freights are transported by the Maine Steamboat Company, which maintains a line of steamers between New York and Portland, and of which Mr. Bailey is president. More than a half of the firm's product is marketed west of New England, and wholesale warehouses are maintained in New York and Philadelphia. All the burlaps used are imported direct by the firm.

C. M. BAILEY'S SONS & CO.'S PHILADELPHIA STORE.

The Philadelphia salesrooms of C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co., floor oil cloth manufacturers, have been removed from 325 to 419 Arch street, where the firm have a fine store 200 feet deep with a basement of the same size. Mr. D. G. White is to be congratulated on a change which gives him ample space and light for displaying goods. Mr. White has been identified with the firm of C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co. for twenty-six years and has had charge of their Philadelphia salesrooms for the past fifteen years. He has proved himself exceptionally well qualified for the position.

Junior Partner—Why did you give Crummer the job of collecting debts for our firm? Do you think he is any good?

Senior Partner—Well, he collected a debt from me the other day.—Truth.

SHE WASN'T CONCERNED ABOUT THE CARPET.

OPENING OF THE WOOL CLUB ROOMS.

The formal opening of the rooms of the Wool Club in the new Wool Exchange Building, at Beach street and West Broadway, took place on the 4th inst., and was attended by a great number of New York's prominent business men.

The club rooms are furnished in Colonial style. The entrance hall fronts the lounging room, which is fitted up with high-backed leather seats running around the entire room. To the right of the lounging room is the general dining room. It is "L" shape, 28x62 and 31x33. The fittings of this room are mahogany, and in the centre is an immense table at which twelve members can talk business before or after they have dined. A rich Axminster carpet of a warm red covers the floor.

Off the general dining room are two private dining rooms richly decorated in mahogany. The walls of these are of a deep sea green, and are set off by handsome chandeliers. The café is the next room. It is circular, 30 feet in diameter and 19 feet from floor to ceiling, which is oval and made rather brilliant by its golden surface. A frieze runs around the wall near the ceiling, on which are painted various coats of arms and appropriate quotations from old English works. The reading room is 20x28 feet, and is paneled from floor to ceiling in black walnut.

The officers of the club are: President, Wm. L. Strong; vice-president, Wm. Bloodgood; treasurer, Edwin Langdon secretary, John P. Faure.

The membership list is full, there being 300 resident members and 126 out-of-town members, 426 in all. There is a waiting list now.

THE HODGES PATENT FIBER CARPET.

The carpeting manufactured by the Hodges Fiber Carpet Company, 50 Essex street, Boston, has passed the experimental stage and is now recognized as a thoroughly practical floor covering, embodying important advantages, which are certain to secure for it a great demand.

The rugs and carpeting made of this fiber are shown in a variety of desirable colors and in a large number of novel and handsome designs, both stock and special. The goods are sure sellers, and should be represented in the stock of every up-to-date carpet dealer in the country. Write to the manufacturers for prices and further particulars.

At the coming meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, which is to be held in Chicago on the 21st, 22d and 23d inst., it is probable that Congress will be asked to create a "Secretary of Commerce," so that the next President of the United States will have an additional adviser in his cabinet. John B. Kirk, vice-president of the National Manufacturers, in speaking of the matter, said that the manufacturing interests of this country had grown to such enormous proportions that their proper representation in the President's cabinet and the official care of their immense interests is very necessary. He says that he strongly indorses the plan for an additional cabinet minister.

BUSINESS IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, JANUARY 10.

George Heard, formerly in the general merchandise and carpeting business in Rocky Ford, Ga., died the 5th inst. aged seventy-two years.

Col. D. C. Winebrenner, of D. C. Winebrenner & Co., dry goods and carpeting, Frederick, Md., has given his son, D. C. Winebrenner, Jr., an interest in his business.

Charles Young, of Riggs & Young, Rockville, Md., died the 5th inst., aged forty-six years.

Lowman Brothers, Orangeburg, S. C., have dissolved. The business will be continued by W. H. Lowman at the old stand.

The store of Thomas Birmingham, on Dorsey's lane, was destroyed by fire the 6th inst. Loss on building, $2,000; stock, $1,200; insured.

Frederick Wyand, for many years engaged in the general merchandise and carpeting business in Keedysville, Md., died of pneumonia the 8th inst.

C. J. Conradt, for twenty-one years with G. S. Griffith & Co., has started business for himself in carpet upholstering, window shades, &c., on Church street.

The store of W. A. White, general merchandise and carpeting, Union, Va., together with a stock of goods valued at $2,500, was destroyed by fire the 7th inst.

The store of M. Rider & Son, dry goods and carpeting, Paca street and Columbia avenue, was damaged by fire the 4th inst. Loss on stock, $300; covered by insurance.

Lyon Brothers & Co. have received information that the ship Fred. P. Litchfield, bound from Hong Kong to Baltimore with a full general cargo, passed St. Helena prior to December 23.

John T. Newman, carpet and furniture dealer, No. 1815 Fairmount avenue, made an assignment the 6th inst. to Lewis A. Goldstrom, trustee, who furnished bond for $8,000. The assets are placed at about $5,000.

S. Goodman, dry goods, carpets and furniture, Portsmouth, Va., made an assignment the 30th ult. to Alexander E. Warner, trustee. The liabilities are estimated at $15,000, with assets amounting to about $8,000.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association held its fifteenth annual meeting the 7th inst. at the association's rooms, in the National Exchange Bank building. Bernard Gilpin was chosen president and other officers were elected.

By virtue of a deed of trust from John H. Strange, all of his stock in trade, consisting of carpets, furniture and upholstery, will be disposed of at public auction at the warerooms of Merryman & Pattison, the 17th inst., by Roger T. Gill, trustee.

John H. Stange, doing business as a dealer in carpets and furniture, at No. 336 North Gay street, has made an assignment to Roger T. Gill, trustee. The bond is for $10,000. It is said that the liabilities will not be greatly in excess of the assets.

Daniel A. Rupp, a prominent citizen of York, Pa., died the 27th ult. In 1844 he, in partnership with his brother, David Rupp, engaged in the general merchandise and carpeting business in York County. He continued in active business until 1868, when he retired.

The firm of Eirich & Guntermann has been dissolved by mutual consent. Frank Eirich will continue the carpet and furniture business on his own account at No. 1031 Light street. Frank Gunterman will carry on business in the same line on his own account at Nos. 165 and 167 West Henrietta street.

AN AMERICAN MATTING FACTORY IN JAPAN.

The straw plaiting works of N. A. Baldwin & Co., Milford, Conn., will now be removed to Japan. For more than a year experiments have been made with machinery to be used in the weaving of Japanese straw matting. They have been successful, and a syndicate of wealthy men has been formed for the purpose of establishing a factory for the manufacture of the goods in Japan. A quantity of the new machinery has already been shipped, and William Dougherty, who has been with N. A. Baldwin & Co. for many years, has gone out to superintend setting it up.

For several years the firm has sought to extend its business and compete with the cheap labor of Japan, but no headway was made until the new machinery was invented. Then the matting was turned out with great rapidity, but even then it was found it was impossible to offer the product at the importer's price. It costs no more to transport the finished goods than it does the raw material, and investigation showed that even running expenses in America were not as cheap as the primitive methods of Japan or China, whereas the difference in the price of labor is very great. At present there is no duty on the goods which is an incentive to the Americans to go to Japan to manufacture, and the cheap labor is a great inducement.

CHEAP RUGS.

A new rug price list, and one that should interest the trade, is issued by Albert Graff & Co. on page 100. It gives the prices of rugs made from remnants and samples of fine carpetings, the rugs being fringed and ready for use. A trade discount of 5 per cent. is allowed on lots of ten dozen or over, otherwise the prices are net less 4 per cent. discount for cash in ten days. Orders sent in by mail will receive careful attention.

THE BROMLEY BROTHERS CARPET COMPANY.

The spring line of the Bromley Brothers Carpet Company is one which no buyer of Extra Supers, Unions, Cotton Chains, Art Squares or Smyrna rugs and carpets should fail to see, for it comprises a most attractive and skilfully varied assortment of new and standard patterns in an immense range of novel and artistic designs and colorings.

The Extra Supers are shown with or without borders in patterns superior to any ever produced before by the Bromley Bros. Co. It would be impossible to speak too highly of the line, and dealers have shown their appreciation of it by very liberal orders to date. The stair carpets and plain centre Art Squares form especially attractive lines, which must be seen to be appreciated, and the offerings in Smyrna rugs and carpets combine standard quality with styles thoroughly up to date. In Smyrnas, as in the company's other goods, the line is replete with quick sellers and choice novelties which cannot be found elsewhere.

The line is on view at the mills, York, Jasper and Taylor streets, Philadelphia, and at the New York office, 180 Worth street.

It 's curious that the floating debt of a corporation often sinks it.—Philadelphia North American.

BOSTON BUDGET.

BOSTON, JANUARY 10.

A fire the afternoon of January 2 in the building occupied by Thos. O'Callaghan & Co. caused some small damage to their stock.

Deacon E. E. Stiles, of Joel Goldthwaite & Co., who has been away some time on a trip to Bermuda, is expected home the first of the coming week.

Pray's men who came in at holiday time report a fair trade on the road

Carpets to furnish the new rooms of the Catholic Union were donated by Thos. O'Callaghan & Co.

W. W. Corson & Co., the active New England agents of a number of large manufacturers, report business good.

Among the Boston carpet men who went to New York last week was Mr. Laubham, Jordan, Marsh & Co.'s carpet manager.

Damage to the amount of $15,000 was caused by fire in the stock room of Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, carpets and household furniture, Salem, a few days ago.

J. H. Sanford, for the past three and a half years with R. H. White & Co., of this city, goes to Middletown, Conn., to take charge of the carpet and upholstery departments of J. H. Bunce.

The assignees in the case of Andrew Frank have filed their final accounts, showing assets $3,099.08 and expenditures $2,441.98, leaving balance for distribution $657. This account has been allowed by the court.

Representatives of Carlowitz, of Hong Kong, and Shewan & Co. have been here the past few days taking 1897 import orders for straw mattings, and Mr. Loring, of C. P. Lowe & Co., is expected next week in the same line.

The Boston Carpet Company is the name of the firm now carrying on business at the old stand of H. A. Hartley, 95 to 105 Washington street. L. P. Coffin, of New York, is president, and Ezra W. Reid, of this city, secretary and treasurer.

The American Wringer Company has recently fitted up in their new quarters at No. 29 Cornhill one-half of their store space for the stock and display of Bissell carpet sweepers. They will make a very attractive display in their windows, and their outside advertising shows the high regard in which they hold the Bissell sweepers.

Thos. O'Callaghan & Co. have gone into the cloak business. They sub-leased the store adjoining their carpet warerooms to Seligman & Co., cloak dealers, but the latter having gone out of business O'Callaghan & Co. have put in a stock of cloaks, with J. J. O'Callaghan as manager, and propose to have the finest store of the kind on the street.

The offices of the Lowell Manufacturing Company in this city have been removed to 144 and 146 Essex street. Smith, Hogg & Gardner occupy the first floor and basement and have very commodious quarters. On the top floor of the five story building is the carpet department, over which Mr. T. G. Slawson, the Eastern manager of the company, presides. The floor space is about 6,000 feet, being 100x60 feet. At one side are designing rooms, and a sample room occupies one end. As the building has windows on three sides, the rooms are light and cheerful.

A CARPET MAN OUT FOR REED.

The first Reed flag was unfurled at West Newton, Mass., on the evening of January 1, amid the plaudits of 100 loyal supporters and neighbors of the Maine statesman.

The occasion was an informal reception given by George P. Staples at his home on Otis street, West Newton, to the members of the Limerick Club, an organization composed of men and women whose birthplace was the town of that name in York County, Me., which forms part of Mr. Reed's Congressional district.

Nearly 100 people from Boston and its vicinity were present. Dancing and music were on the programme, and a collation was served.

A large flag, bearing the words "For President, Thomas B. Reed," was raised on the front of the house. Mr. Staples is an enthusiastic Reed man. He is a leading Republican politician of Newton and stands high in the party councils. His enthusiasm for Mr. Reed was shared by every one of his guests on that evening.

Geo. P. Staples, as the trade well know, is a member of the Ivins, Dietz & Metzger Company, of Philadelphia, and is also of the carpet and furniture firm of Geo. P. Staples & Co., Boston.

A SPACIOUS ORIENTAL RUG WAREHOUSE.

As reported in our issue of December 15, Fritz, La Rue & Sinn have taken new quarters at 1128 and 1130 Market street, Philadelphia, which give them three times the space formerly occupied at 1122 Market street. They are now occupying the new establishment, and make a grandly attractive display of Oriental rugs and carpets, and are introducing many innovations in the decorations and appointments of their great selling floors. The street floor is devoted to the rug size Orientals and the second floor to carpet sizes. The ceilings of both floors are unusually high, and allow of a superb display of carpets hung on the walls; among these are Persian carpets, 18x27, 16x23 and 18x23 feet. A handsome window display is made, including a Senna rug priced at $2,000, and when illuminated with the thirty incandescent lamps the effect is very beautiful. As Fritz, La Rue & Sinn say in their announcement, it alone is worth a visit to Philadelphia to inspect their large warerooms and stock.

THE ORIGINAL "DEVON MILLS" BRAND.

Charles P. Cochrane, proprietor of the Devon Mills, Philadelphia, wishes to notify the trade that any Ingrains branded "Devon" and "Puritan" without his name in connection are not his make. The names "Devon" and "Puritan" have recently been applied by another house to Ingrains not made by Chas. P. Cochrane, which that house explains as a coincidence. Mr. Cochrane has been manufacturing carpets fourteen years and adopted the title "Devon Mills" for his plant at the start, hence he is certainly entitled to the sole use of that name in the carpet trade. His plant is located at Lehigh avenue and Howard street, Philadelphia. See announcement on the subject on page 19.

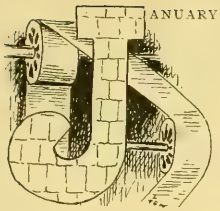
The Firth Company have begun the manufacture of tenwire Tapestry carpeting.

A crowd of salesmen were sitting in front of one of the leading hotels a few evenings ago telling yarns about the big bills of goods they had sold. Finally a boot and shoe drummer sauntered up and said: "My sales this year have all been out of sight. I covered all my territory and closed out all of my firm's stock. They wired me to take no more orders, but asked me to try to dispose of my samples. Now you all know that a shoe man only carries one shoe of each kind, and I was up against a hard game. I thought the matter over and finally concluded to come to Louisville during the G. A. R. encampment, and, would you believe it, I sold out my entire lot of samples to one-legged veterans."—Louisville Commercial.

REMNANTS.



JANUARY 4 witnessed the destruction by fire of the plant of the Central Carpet Lining Company at Joliet, Ill. The loss amounts to $12,000 and the insurance to $3,000.

The stock of the Milton (Pa.) Furniture and Piano Company is reported to have been sold out by auction.

C. A. & A. C. Phelps, dry goods and carpet dealers, Camden, N. Y., have added furniture to their stock.

At Spring Valley, Minn., Donaldson & Langum succeed Sorenson & Langum in the furniture and carpet business.

Randle Brothers' Bessemer (Ala.) Furniture Company was burned out on the 18th ult. Loss, $4,000; insurance, $2,000.

Isaac R. Serviss' furniture and carpet store at Newburgh, N. Y., was destroyed by fire on January 5. Loss, $10,000.

A. E. Dickieson & Co., Holyoke, Mass., will enlarge their store and stock materially and will open a carpet department.

A fire in the storehouse of Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, Salem, Mass., on the 4th inst. caused damage to the extent of $25,000.

Gorman & Barrow, furniture and carpet dealers, Forest City, Ark., have dissolved partnership and are succeeded by Gorman Brothers.

Marcus Anderson, dealer in carpets at La Crosse, Wis., has made an assignment. He has been in business twenty years and carried a stock of $10,000.

Fire nearly destroyed the carpet and furniture house of W. J. Bowers at Norton, Kan., on the 28th ult. The loss on building and stock is estimated at $3,000; partly insured.

The store of Person & Riegel, Bethlehem, Pa., was seized by the sheriff on January 6 upon executions aggregating $37,000. The store is the largest in the Lehigh Valley.

The McVey-Barclay Dry Goods Company have succeeded A. McVey, at Chillicothe, Mo. The company have a capital stock of $20,000. The president is A. McVey, and J. H. Barclay is secretary.

Fire started in the basement of the F. K. Shaw Furniture Company's store at Camden, Me., on the 27th ult., and caused a loss of $2,000 on the building and $6,000 on the stock. Fully insured.

R. C. Haskell & Co.'s floor oil cloth factory at Lansingburg, N. Y., was closed down for a week last month for the usual stock taking, &c. This firm are doing a fine business on their sheet oil cloth.

John H. Stange, dealer in furniture and carpets, at 336 North Gay street, Baltimore, made a deed of trust on December 31 to Roger T. Gill, who is bonded for $10,000. The cause of the failure is said to be inability to make collections and failure to dispose of a large Christmas stock of goods. The liabilities will not be much over the assets.

Mr. Stange will endeavor to arrive at some understanding with his creditors whereby he may be enabled to continue in business.

Brown, Thomson & Co., dry goods and carpet dealers, Hartford, Conn., have dissolved partnership, Mr. Thomson retiring. The business will be continued by the remaining partners under the old firm style.

The Geo. W. Kline Company is a new concern manufacturing rag and yarn carpets at Millersburg, Pa. Mr. Kline was formerly of the Kline & Neitz Company, and is practically the successor of this concern.

Chambers, Megahan & Reed, furniture and carpet dealers, Williamsport, Pa., dissolved partnership January 1, Mr. Reed withdrawing. The business is continued under the firm style of Chambers & Megahan.

Baker & Fox, dealers in dry goods and carpets at Rome, N. Y., have made an assignment. In March last their inventory showed assets, $31,942; liabilities, $21,102. They have been in business seven years.

The carpet and furniture department of the People's Store Company, Tacoma, Wash., will occupy an entire floor 100x120 feet, and will be conducted by the People's Furniture Company, of which F. S. Harmon is president.

The contents of John S. Moore's furniture and carpet store were destroyed, and G. W. Waddell's general store stock at Bennettsville, S. C., was damaged one-half by fire on the 28th ult. Both are insured. The total loss is $20,000.

J. M. Fitzgerald's carpet and furniture business at Wallingford, Conn., has been merged into a corporation, to be known as the J. M. Fitzgerald Furniture and Supply Company. Mr. Fitzgerald, who owns a controlling interest in the concern, will be its manager.

Creecy & Dill, carpet and furniture dealers, Norfolk, Va., filed a deed of assignment on December 20 to P. J. Morris, trustee. The Bank of Portsmouth is preferred for $300 and all outstanding notes that may be due it by the firm. Liabilities, $17,000; assets, $28,000.

Fire started in the basement of Horton, Danielson & Co.'s furniture and carpet store at Creston, Ia., on the 3d inst., and spread rapidly, consuming a large section of the business portion of the town, including the Beehive dry goods store. The total loss is $150,000, with one-fourth insurance.

The stockholders of the Swofford Brothers Dry Goods Company, Kansas City, Mo., will hold a meeting on March 10 at the office in the store of said company, at No. 607 Wyandotte street, in said city, the object and purpose of which will be to vote upon a proposition to increase the capital stock of said company from $300,000 to $600,000.

Frank Seinsheimer has been appointed receiver of the firm of Peck, Bejach & Co., dealers in furniture and carpets, at 276 West Fifth street, Cincinnati, by Judge Wilson. The assets are about $30,000 and the liabilities $28,000. Business has been dull, and Mr. Peck wanted to make an assignment, but his partner objected. They could not agree on terms of dissolution, and so a suit for a receiver was filed by Mr. Peck. It is claimed that the further continuation of the business would not be profitable, and a dissolution is necessary because of the state of trade and dissensions between the partners. Isaac Faller's Sons were given a mortgage for $7,000 and over. The firm is about two years old. The receiver gave $25,000 bonds.

REPORT OF THE H. B. CLAFLIN COMPANY.

THE report of the H. B. Claflin Company for the season ending December 31, 1895, is presented herewith and will doubtless be read with much interest. It shows a large increase in the profits of the six months ending on the 31st ult. as compared with the corresponding period in 1894, and proves that until a few weeks ago all the conditions existing favored a large fall trade, and a still more satisfactory state of business in the coming spring.

To the Stockholders:

Until the middle of November our trade was large and profits were good, but the close of the season was unfavorably affected by the financial perplexities of the Government and by the Venezuelan message.

Our net profits for the six months were $359,273.39. For the corresponding period in 1894 they were $245,434.64.

The following figures taken from the treasurer's report show the financial condition of the corporation on December 31, 1895, and the proposed distribution of profits:

ASSETS.

Cash	$1,840,743.71
Cash dividends paid on account of fall profit	152,186.84
Bills receivable	1,253,435.22

Earned for the common stock in the spring of 1895. 2 94-100 per cent.
Earned for the common stock in the year of 1895.. 8 61-100 per cent.

The general mercantile situation ought to justify the expectation of a good spring trade, but the immediate future of business is dependent on wisdom at Washington. If the tariff bill passed by the House of Representatives should become a law it would cause a decided increase of profitable trade throughout the country.

By order of the Board of Directors,

JOHN CLAFLIN, President.

First preferred stock	26,003 shares
Second preferred stock	25,706 shares
Common stock	38,291 shares
Total	90,000

At the annual meeting of the H. B. Claflin Company on the 11th inst. the directors elected were as follows: Dexter N. Force, John Claflin, Edward E. Eames, Daniel Robinson, Horace Fairchild and George E. Armstrong.

CARPET TACKS FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, JANUARY 9.

John H. Tiemeyer is busy taking stock.

W. H. Edington, manager of the carpet department of the Grand Leader, is through taking stock and the result shows that he had a very successful season.

C. M. Kruse, a well-known St. Louis draper, who took a prominent part in the work of decorating the rooms for the noted Busch-Von Gontard wedding, has taken charge of the upholstery department of J. H. Tiemeyer's carpet store on Franklin avenue.

Edward Thomas, of Arnold, Constable & Co., New York, was very much in evidence here last week.

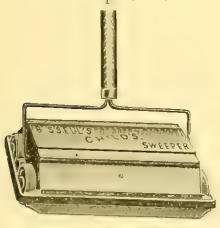
The Business Men's League has secured a permanent injunction against the Insurance Commissioner to prevent him carrying into effect the new law restricting insurance to three-fourths of the property value. The Circuit Court declares the law invalid. This is a big victory for St. Louis business men.

Damage to the extent of $22,000 was caused by a fire which started on the 31st ult. in the store of the Olive Street Furniture Company, 1007 Olive street. The company carries a $25,000 stock, upon which it sustained a loss of $15,000; fully insured. The Household Furniture Company's (May, Stern & Co.) stock in the adjoining building suffered to the extent of $5,000 by smoke and water; also fully insured.

Louis E. Kaltwasser, the South St. Louis carpet dealer, created something of a sensation about two Sundays ago by giving a remarkable exhibition of his sprinting abilities. He had bet a dinner for a crowd of prominent citizens that he could walk from Broadway and Market street to the new Union station in eleven minutes. The distance is a little over a mile, but Mr. Kaltwasser won the bet nevertheless. When Mr. Kaltwasser started to walk every street car and wagon got out of his road, and he made the walk in ten minutes and twenty-two seconds. For a stout man, with short legs, Mr. Kaltwasser did splendidly, and there is some talk of presenting him with a medal. H. E. H.

The first annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States will be held at Chicago January 21, 22 and 23. The Manufacturers' Club, of Philadelphia, will be strongly represented at the meeting, a special train having been chartered for the use of its members. The arrangements for the trip are in the hands of a committee of the club, who will furnish any further information desired. Robert Dornan, of Dornan Brothers, is a member of this committee.

The Bissell's "child's" sweeper had an unlooked for extensive sale prior to the holidays. The manufacturers say that they have come to stay, and are destined to become an all year round article. The house furnishing trade say they will be used very generally as hearth brushes, a point which was not taken in consideration when the manufacturers first produced them. Write to the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, Grand Rapids, Mich., for their circulars, price lists, &c.



GRANITE INGRAINS.

During the past few years Dickey & McMaster, the well-known Damask and Venetian carpet manufacturers, have added several specialties to their production, notably the Granite Ingrains. These are a yard wide and are produced in large, medium and small sized figured designs, but in an altogether different weave from regular Ingrains. The firm claim that they are more attractive, heavier, more durable and cleaner than any Ingrain sold at the same price, and are entirely free from grease. This claim is substantiated by the great success of the goods, for Dickey & McMaster produce more Granite Ingrains than any other fabric in their line. The price is around 22½ cents per yard, but we advise dealers to communicate with them on the subject of prices and samples. Their mill and office are at Second and Huntingdon streets, Philadelphia.

EFFECT OF THE BISSELL-GOSHEN DECISION ON DEALERS.

The Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company are sending out a copy of a letter received from their lawyers referring to the liability of dealers who have handled or continue to handle the infringing sweepers. The following is an extract from this letter:

> The Goshen Company gave no bond in the suit excepting upon its appeal, March 28 last, and this bond has no reference to any sweepers excepting those put out since that date. Even as to those the bond stands only as additional security to you, and you may enforce your rights against all persons, without resort to this bond.

The Bissell Company, in a circular accompanying the letter above referred to, say:

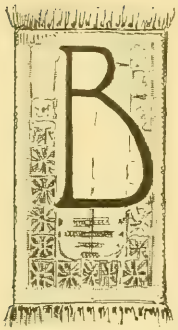
> We desire to say that at the present time we cannot state what action we will take further than we shall proceed at once to ascertain just how much of the damages and profits which have been lost to us by this willful infringement can be recovered direct from the Goshen Sweeper Company itself.

An important announcement is made by Boyd, Harley & Co., Philadelphia, on page 13. They state therein that they are the largest exclusive carpet jobbers in the United States and sell at mill prices. Will anyone gainsay it?

Brush, Alberts & Co., furniture and carpet dealers, Jersey City, N. J., have been making a unique display in one of their show windows. They removed all the goods from it and had it fixed up to represent a barnyard and installed therein a "happy family," comprising a pony, dog and dog house, four hens, one rooster, one cat, two peacocks, two ducks, a drake, a cow, two rabbits, and a goat. It was a great hit as an advertising novelty.

Joseph A. Seffarlen, the Philadelphia manufacturer of carpet warps and yarns, has moved into the new five story building 427 Market street, and now has quarters much larger than his old establishment and much better adapted for his business in every way. Mr. Seffarlen has also added new and improved machinery for the manufacture of rag carpet warps. He is the sole manufacturer of the Prize and Victor carpet warps and also deals very extensively in cotton, linen and woolen warps and cotton and jute yarns, likewise twines, heddles, bobbins, &c. He is in a position to strongly interest every manufacturer who uses such goods.

AROUND AND ABOUT.



USINESS men will find an important point of law in the decision of the Kansas City Court of Appeals in the case of Nathan Lorie against J. B. Abernathy. The Wing Furniture Company was indebted to a large number of creditors, who sued out attachments and levied on the stock of the company. The first creditor to attach was J. B. Abernathy, and and in law the claim of the first creditor who attaches an insolvent concern has priority over all other claims, but in this case Mr. Abernathy sued the company as the M. A. Wing Furniture and Auction Company. Later Mr. Lorie attached the company as the Wing Furniture Company, and on his petition Judge Henry, of the Circuit Court, gave his claim priority over that of Mr. Abernathy because Mr. Lorie had attached the company under its correct name and Mr. Abernathy had not. Mr. Abernathy appealed, and the Kansas City Court of Appeals decided that Judge Henry properly allowed priority to Mr. Lorie's claim.

IT is ruled by the postal authorities that any reduction of the size of a postal card by clipping, rounding off the corners or otherwise will subject the receiver of the card to a charge of 1 cent on delivery. This makes the cost of a postal card equivalent to letter postage. Many persons inclose postal cards to correspondents in envelopes too small, and imagine that a little clipping will not make any difference. Others round off the corners for ornamental purposes or convenience in handling.

AN expert on advertising writes a little essay on the circus idea as applied to legitimate business. It may be read with profit by many of our readers :

There 's many a business wreck which was stranded by the adoption of principles implied by ads. that start off like this :

SELLING AT COST!

It isn't true that the bulk of buying people expect something for nothing. In each class of purchasers, in every grade of society, there is a quality limit, and merchants must meet this first—give the customers what they demand in quality, whatever that be, and let the price be as low as may be, after that. Price is not the first consideration with half-way intelligent buyers. If you were in business to "sell once round" this matter would look different, perhaps.

My private opinion publicly expressed is that there 's more money being made to-day by those who harp on quality than by those who "howl low prices." I really suppose there always will be a sort of narrow niche pervaded by rank atmospheres, wherein some misguided, industrious man may eke out a livelihood or gather an occasional fortune from filling a newspaper with his

GREAT SLAUGHTER,
FIRE AND WATER,
SELLING AT COST,
THIS DAY ONLY, ETC.,

but it is apparent to thinking observers that there has come a reaction ; and the public, which was as plastic as a "chew" of Tutti Frutti under the oiled tongue of the big mouthed ad. screecher a few years ago, is now better endowed with understanding—born of experience—and the "circus style" of type talk that lured them shall lure them no more. Not for some time, or to any great extent, at least.

But I say all this with a knowledge—and acknowledgment—of the fact that there is a legitimate place for legitimate "bargain" advertising properly done by proper parties.

LIMBURGER cheese quite plainly shows
That Providence designed it
(And likewise, too, a tack), so those Without a light can find it.

"WHAT do you say to your creditors when you meet them ?"

"I don't meet them. They walk."

MERCHANT (on discovering a man in his cellar)—Who are you ?

STRANGER—The gas man. I have come to see by your meter how much gas you have used during the last month.

MERCHANT—Good gracious ! I was hoping you were only a burglar !—Le Progrès de Bolbec.

LATE UPHOLSTERY NOTES.

Everything is in readiness at Rieser & Co.'s, 480 Broadway, to meet the visiting buyers, and several have already appeared. This enterprising firm are bound to get a larger share of the lace curtain trade this season than ever, for they have exclusive novelties that no buyer should be without. Their stock is also in good shape to meet the growing demand for better grades. Arrivals of stock of the new goods are coming in freely, and prompt deliveries can be assured.

A. Naumann has completed the removal of his samples and stock to his new salesroom, corner of Spring and Mercer streets, New York. The new quarters have three large and separate sections for showrooms, with light on two sides, and every modern improvement is found in this handsome new building. Mr. Naumann's floor is reached by a passenger elevator on the Spring street side, and as the building is only about 200 feet from Broadway on Spring street, the location is just as convenient as any in the lace business. Mr. Naumann has made an excellent start on spring business. He spent last week in Boston and took away good orders, and George Bailey is also doing remarkably well on the road. Mr. Naumann says he can easily show any buyer that it will be to his interest to purchase goods from him if the buyer will only look at the new lines.

The new spring line of Hood, Morton & Co., manufacturers of lace and Madras curtains and piece goods, is shown by the sole agents, Ryan & McGahan, at 57 Leonard street, New York. The latter firm have just moved from the second to the third loft at the above address and have obtained about three times the space recently occupied. They will have much better facilities for showing Hood, Morton & Co.'s laces than heretofore, and also for carrying stock. The new spring patterns include the very latest effects, and the line is especially strong in combination styles and reproductions of the high cost laces. Visiting buyers should certainly see this line when in the market, and should also look at the samples shown by Geo. B. McGahan, who is now on the road.

IN THE UPHOLSTERY MARKET.

THE far Western buyers have already begun to put in an appearance and are making purchases of ordinary amount. While conservative they manifest confidence, and the volume of floor business is fully up to the average of the opening weeks of the year.

Salesmen on the road are meeting with good success, the political situation, instead of hindering trade, seeming on the contrary to inspire merchants with confidence that there can in any event be no lowering of prices either in foreign or domestic goods.

The makers of chenilles appear to be having a fair spring trade.

THERE will doubtless be a goodly attendance of buyers at the furniture exposition which opened in this city on the 13th inst. All the available space has been sold, and many of the leading factories in the country will display their wares to the visitors until January 31. There will be three floors devoted to the exhibitors, and an array of new patterns and styles is promised to the trade that will be of interest to all, and there is no doubt that the attendance will be in full accordance with the merits of the goods exhibited.

The new prices on everything in the window shade line have been completed by the Association of Hand-Made Shade Cloth Manufacturers, and corrected price lists can be obtained of each manufacturer.

AMONG the buyers in town since the beginning of the new year were: Messrs. D. McCarthy (furniture) and E. W. Van Wagener (wall paper), for D. McCarthy & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; G. French, for Mannheimer Brothers, St. Paul, Minn.; George J. Carter, for R. H. White & Co., Boston; E. S. Brown, of E. S. Brown & Co., Fall River, Mass.; M. A. Romney, for Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, Salt Lake City; D. G. Davis, for Raphael Weill & Co., San Francisco; A. Klotz, Bellaire, Ohio; H. S. Abernethy, for the John V. Farwell Company, Chicago; J. W. Penney, for Hunter, Glenn & Hunter, Detroit; L. Mann, of Mann, Waldman & Co., Albany, N. Y.; C. H. Peck, for the Pettis Dry Goods Company, Indianapolis; W. Murphy, for Porteous & Mitchell, Norwich, Conn.; A. J. Schultz, of Samuel Schultz & Son, El Paso, Tex.; J. M. Sloane, for Hugh Glenn & Co., Utica, N. Y.; H. S. Vreeland, for Root & Co., Fort Wayne, Ind.; W. H. Wright, for Woodward & Lothrop, Washington, D. C.; John Williamson, for La Salle & Koch, Toledo, Ohio; U. S. Grant, for J. N. Adam & Co., Buffalo, N. Y.; J. Edward Bird, of J. Edward Bird & Co., Baltimore; H. J. Vanderpoel, for the A. M. Church Company, Troy, N. Y.; E. S. Bailey, for Ives, Upham & Rand, Meriden, Conn.; Salem Hyde, of Neal & Hyde, Syracuse, N. Y.; Sutherland, for Smith & Murray, Springfield, Mass.; Grossarth, for Smith, Murray & Co., Bridgeport, Conn.; T. H. Reeves, of the Reeves-Veeder Company, Schenectady, N. Y.; J. A. Roberd, for N. E. Chamberlin, Burlington, Vt.; G. C. Berry, of Berry & Son, Akron, Ohio; C. S. Hutzler, of Hutzler Brothers, Baltimore; W. B. Trask, of Trask, Prescott & Richardson, Erie, Pa.; H. Weil, for Nathan Gutman & Co., Baltimore; E. E. Creighton, for T. V. Howell & Son, Hamilton, Ohio; F. Auerbach, of F. Auerbach & Brother, Salt Lake City; H. Hoogenstyn, for the E. R. Barron Company, La Crosse, Wis.; T. B. Hamilton, of E. L. Smith & Co., Worcester, Mass.; Max Joseph, Athens, Ga.; A. E. Woods, for Reid & Hughes, Waterbury, Conn.; J. J. Wheaton, for H. S. Barney & Co., Schenectady, N. Y.; Charles J. Gessing, for the John H. Hibben Dry Goods Co., Cincinnati; T. G. Peck, for Wm. H. Frear & Co., Troy, N. Y.; N. Brooks, for Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago; H. H. Brandeis, of J. L. Brandeis & Sons, Omaha, Neb.; Wayne De Forest, for Edson, Moore & Co., Detroit.

NEW WINDOW SHADE HEMMING MACHINE.

A new machine for hemming window shades is now being offered to the trade by the Singer Manufacturing Company.

This machine is the company's latest device for the purpose referred to. It is provided with special top and bottom feed mechanism that is positive in action and prevents all puckering of the fold, and so makes both thicknesses perfectly even at the end of the seam. Its operation is equally effective on the heaviest or the lightest shade material, all work being performed easily and neatly. It is of simple and durable construction and does not require an expert operator. The top feed mechanism obtains motion from the same shaft that operates the bottom feed, so that uniform action is invariably secured on both plies of the fabric.

The needle bar is carried on a pivoted frame having a reciprocating motion from side to side. The extent of this motion is governed by a pitman, the end of which can be adjusted by a thumb screw in the slotted segment at the front of the arm ; the depth of the stitch can be regulated as desired by moving the end of the pitman up or down.

The machine is perfectly adapted for side hemming and straight stitching. The length of the stitch, governed by the feed movement, is adjusted by means of a thumb screw on the bed of the machine ; the movement may be diminished so that the stitches will be close together, or it can be increased so that they will measure one-quarter inch from point to point.

For further particulars address the Singer Manufacturing Company, 385 Broadway, New York.

THE HARTSHORN WOOD ROLLER.

Concisely and clearly the Stewart Hartshorn Company set forth on page 61 of this issue the salient merits of the improved Hartshorn wood shade roller. This device requires no tacks, being supplied with the patented shade holders ; it insures an absolutely true working of the shade cloth, the groove in the roller being the only place where the shade can be fastened to it ; it prevents the tearing of the cloth from the roller, being so constructed that this is almost impossible when the shade is hung.

Write to the Stewart Hartshorn Company for their new descriptive catalogue for 1896.

H. B. Gilman has opened an upholstering establishment at Bangor, Me.

L. A. Treacy has been admitted as a partner by W. M. Cathrall, Philadelphia.

Frank H. Goetz has been compelled to give up his upholstering business at South Bend, Ind., on account of ill health and return to his former home, Rome, N. Y.

The salesmen for the Gould-Mersereau Company for the spring season are J. F. Pugh, New York State, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan ; J. K. Park, Jr., South ; J. E. Bliss, New York city; Wm. C. Peck, Brooklyn and near by ; W. H. W. Teele, Boston and New England ; Allen Kennedy, Far West and Pacific Coast. These men are now showing the spring lines of upholstery brass goods, curtain poles, &c., of the Gould-Mersereau Company in their respective territory.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Samuel Klau, of the firm of Weiss & Klau Brothers, 203 Canal street, New York, jobbers of window shades and oil cloths, died the 20th ult. The business is continued by the surviving partners.

William Eilbeck, of Johnson & Faulkner, died at Germantown, Philadelphia, on the 12th inst., in the sixty-seventh year of his age. For many years Mr. Eilbeck was in the employ of A. T. Stewart & Co. as a foreign buyer. Since 1882 he has been with Johnson & Faulkner, representing them in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and for two years past has resided in Philadelphia.

A TAPESTRY CURTAIN FOR $2.65 PER PAIR.

The attention of buyers is called to the straight-out offer made by J. B. Ryer, Son & Co. on page 66. They show an illustration of a Derby tapestry curtain in a remarkably handsome pattern, exclusively confined to them, which they offer at the low price of $2.65 per pair. The curtain is 50 inches wide, 3 yards long, and is astonishingly good value at the price. We assure buyers they can safely order this curtain by mail in any of the colors advertised, and that they will be perfectly satisfied with the result.

It is only one of the many attractions, however, offered by J. B. Ryer, Son & Co. in tapestry, chenille, velour, silk and lace curtains, and it will pay every buyer who can do so to visit 167 Canal street.

The Wyoming Valley Lace Mill, Wilkesbarre, Pa., is being enlarged. Three stories will be added and more looms will be put in.

A. C. King & Co., Worcester, Mass., an enterprising and successful wall paper concern, are about to add lines of exclusive and choice goods in carpets and draperies.

Henry W. Green & Co., the Philadelphia shade manufacturers, are busy in all departments, and the desirability of their goods is shown in the business received on an even basis of prices.

Displays of India and Oriental furniture, decorations, draperies, &c., are made at the Furniture Exposition now open in New York, by A. A. Vantine & Co., S. J. Tellery & Co. and Bhumgara & Co.

J. A. Filer & Co., the upholstery trimming manufacturers, have opened an office at 1200 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, in charge of Thomas M. Febley, who will also visit the trade in Baltimore and Washington.

The American Bedstead Company are showing at 260 Canal street, New York, hospital and house cots in black and white enamel. These cots are exceptionally rigid and simple in adjustment, and the prices are very low.

The shade roller factory of Cushman Brothers & Co., Boston, is in full operation on their spring and balance rollers, and the trade are calling for these rollers in a way that proves their satisfactory qualities and popularity.

The Hensel Silk Manufacturing Company are showing an enlarged line of the finest grades of upholstery trimmings for the spring season, but will also continue their strong array of the medium and lower priced goods. Mr. Stirratt exhibits the complete line at the New York office, 337 Broadway.

Seen and Suggested.

It is not often that the sacredness of the Sabbath is violated by a printer's error. Yet the Edinburgh Sabbath Observance Society has written to a large firm of upholstery manufacturers, calling attention to the fact that in their published price list a letter from a customer is dated June 23, which was Sunday. The society therefore asks the firm to withdraw the list, as it must have a pernicious effect on the preservation of the Scottish Sabbath. This is a touch rather above our own Roosevelt.

There is one thing that it is almost impossible to find in New York nowadays, and that is a bargain in old furniture, brass, or antiques of any description. Twenty years ago, when people placed little value on articles of furniture or adornment simply because they had survived from pre-Revolutionary days, there was many an old garret in the town that was rich in furniture that had long been deemed out of fashion, but which would receive high honor in any household of to-day.

On the east side of the town there are, according to a writer in the New York Sun, dozens of stores devoted to the sale of real and bogus antiques of all kinds, many of which can be purchased for two or three times what would be asked for them if they were brand new. It is the custom to establish these antique shops in out of the way streets and to arrange the goods in such a way as to suggest as far as possible the mould, grime and cobwebs of bygone years. The more dusty and dilapidated an antique is the higher will be its cost, and at the same time the purchaser will have greater assurance that its antiquity in genuine.

There are very few parts of the country that have not been thoroughly explored by the searchers after old furniture. There are still some remote places in Long Island and southern New Jersey where a bargain may be picked up now and then, and certain parts of the South are said to be still rich in old mahogany, but in New England values are even higher than they are on Fourth avenue.

"At a recent auction sale of old furniture," said a man who follows such things, "several old Chippendale sideboards brought prices all out of proportion to their value. They were cracked and battered so badly that the purchasers would have to spend as much again to put them in first-class shape. By the time this was accomplished very little of the original sideboards would be left. As a matter of fact, it doesn't pay now to buy old Chippendale at auctions. The things offered in this way are seldom originals, but because they are cracked and battered they bring high prices. There are scores of shops in this town and in Brooklyn where the old Chippendale models are carefully reproduced and where one may buy a new reproduction at about what a battered piece sells for at auction. These reproductions are finished like the antiques, and the brasses are carefully imitated. One of the show things in the City Hall is the old writing table of George Washington, and it is in a wonderfully good state of preservation. This model has been pictured so frequently that it is familiar to everyone who is interested in old furniture. A wideawake furniture manufacturer has flooded the market this fall with reproductions of this old desk that can hardly be distinguished from the original."

In a country house the walls of one of the bedrooms are hung with a Delft china patterned paper, in blue and white, with shadings of cream. The ceiling is a blue-white paper with tiny blue flowers upon it. There is no frieze, the narrow white picture molding alone serving as a cornice. The woodwork, it is almost needless to say, is creamy white in tone and of an enamel finish. The enameled furniture is ornamented with quaint designs in blue; flowers and landscapes, old Dutch views, where windmills, with wide spreading sails, dominate the scene. The white dimity curtains at the bed and windows are looped back with broad blue ribbons, and a tall blue denim covered screen, embroidered with white, half hides the washstand with its blue and white china toilet set. On the floor white matting is p rtially covered by a Byzantine rug in blue and blue-gray nes; and the water colors on the walls, the only bits f color in the room, are framed in white with broad wh te mats.

Mohair comes from two countries, viz., Asia Minor and Africa. Asia Minor is the natural home of the Angora goat, as the country is very mountainous and covered with trees and shrubs, on which the animals chiefly feed. Some good long hair comes from Cape Colony, but the bulk of the summer firsts is only of medium length—only 5 to 6 inches long—the reason of this lack of length being that the growers in South Africa, believing they get a greater weight, clip twice a year. The most remarkable feature in the mohair trade is the enormous increase in the production in South Africa. From nothing at all thirty years ago it has year by year increased, until now the exports from the Cape are 21,000 bales of 450 pounds each per annum. The Turks also have increased their production very largely. Since 1893 the exports have averaged 42,000 bales yearly. The bales from Turkey weigh 170 pounds each.

THE BRASS GOODS MANUFACTURERS.

The American Pin Company made a very material increase in their business during 1895 in upholstery brass goods, and have started the new year very favorably. They seem to combine every element that brings success. Their factory at Waterbury is not surpassed in size or economical equipment for the production of upholstery brass goods from the raw material. It is under the personal oversight of George A. Driggs, as is also the entire business, and everyone who has met him knows Mr. Driggs to be a man of exceptional energy and ability.

The New York store, at 441 Broadway, is in charge of James J. Sullivan, than whom no greater hustler can be found in the matter of selling goods. He considerably increased the business of the New York store in 1895, and proposes to make the record for 1896 jump much higher over 1895 than the latter year did over 1894. If you want to go to the fountain head of manufacture on brass goods see the American Pin Company.

A. Naumann has opened an office in Boston at 611 Washington street, in charge of L. A. Bennett, where his full lines of lace curtains can always be seen.

MEN AND THINGS.

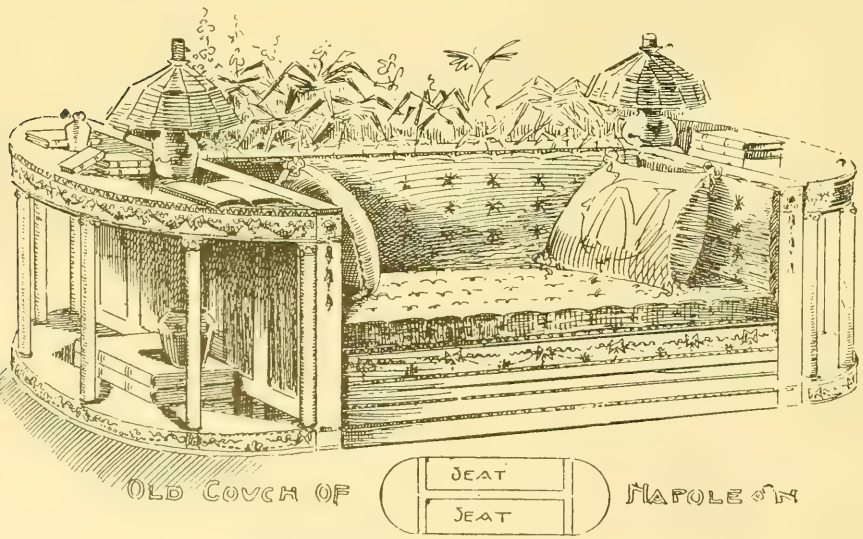
Some of the heirs of E. S. Jaffray are endeavoring to get the creditors of the bankrupt firm of E. S. Jaffray & Co. to accept 10 cents more on the dollar (the receivers have already paid dividends amounting to 80 per cent.) and give a discharge of the balance of their claims, but thus far the proposition has not been very favorably received. The receivers have nothing to do with the efforts of the heirs in this direction. They are, however, in a position to pay another dividend (probably 5 or 6 per cent.), and if the courts decide that the store property belonged to the firm, and not to the estate of the late E. S. Jaffray, all the creditors will be paid in full, with interest at 6 per cent.

Francis D. Kramer, fine furniture manufacturer and decorator, will occupy the store No. 1228 Walnut street, Philadelphia, until his new one is built at the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets, opposite the site selected for the new United States Mint.

The Boston and New England representatives of W. E. Meats & Co. are Boutwell & Russell, located at 564 Washington street, Boston, where Meats & Co.'s full line of Nottingham lace curtains can always be seen.

Tuttle, Norris & Co., importers, exporters and commission merchants, are among the prominent new firms in New York. Mr. Walter Tuttle was formerly associated with the firm of Tuttle, Heinlein & Co., and is well known in the Japanese silk and handkerchief trade. Tuttle, Norris & Co. will make a specialty of Japanese piece goods and silk handkerchiefs. The new firm also control the productions of several leading manufacturers of domestic products. Hardt & Lindgens, 58 and 60 Greene street, are their selling agents.

B. Altman & Co. are about to add to their dry goods establishment at Sixth avenue, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, a six story and basement fireproof building and a stable of similar construction. Altman & Co. have recently purchased the property running back 150 feet on Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets from their present establishment, 184 feet in depth from street to street. On this they will build the main addition to their present store. It will be supplied with all the modern improvements and conveniences, including hydraulic elevators, electric lights and telephones, pneumatic tubes and scientific heating and ventilating plants. The plans provide also for an addition of one story to the existing structure, and for important alterations to the same.



The firm of Sweetser, Pembrook & Co. dissolved on the 31st ult. by limitation, and was reorganized under the same firm name with membership as follows: George D. Sweetser, John H. Sweetser, Theodore K. Pembrook, Joseph H. Bumsted, George L. Putnam, Howard P. Sweetser.

The referee to whom the accounts of the defunct concern known as the American Lace Manufacturing Company, of Patchogue, L. I., was referred has reported that the receiver realized $156,626.34 from the property, and paid out $146,320.97.

The building No. 35 Clinton place, New York, is undergoing extensive alterations and improvements to accommodate the business of Masten & Hund, manufacturers of window shades and jobbers of shadings, shades, &c., who will remove from No. 33 to No. 35 Clinton place February 1, a change made necessary by the steady growth of the business of this enterprising firm. In their new quarters they will have a basement, store floor and the story above, or three floors in all, each being 25x100 feet. The firm will begin business in their new establishment under the most auspicious circumstances, having orders enough ahead to keep their enlarged plant well occupied for a very considerable time. Their offerings include, besides window shades, complete lines of Sun-Fast Lonsdale and glazed hollands, opaque shadings, fringes, rollers and mounted shades of all grades, and they are in a position to interest any buyer of such goods.

OF FRENCH

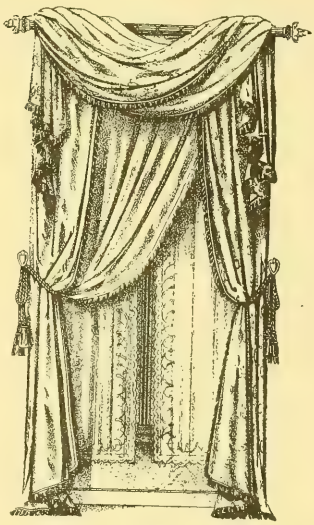
The travelers for Schroth & Potter, the manufacturers and wholesalers of window shades and curtains, Columbus, Ohio, for 1896, are M. G. Davis, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota; E. G. King, Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas; C. E. Hewitt, Michigan; F. Boswell, Northern Ohio and Northern Indiana; C. W. Meadearis, Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois; W. M. Emerick, Pennsylvania; F. C. Moore, Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Southwestern Pennsylvania; J. I. Bright, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas; C. D. Ransdell, Missouri; G. L. Gooch, Texas; Harry Maloney, Colorado and West.

The manufacture of Bassett's patent curtain fixtures is to be carried on at Waterbury, Conn., by the Holmes & Bassett Company.

Overproduction is always dangerous. But when a manufacturer has a specialty and the demand is fast outrunning his abilility to supply it he is far from being up to date if he does not increase his facilities. That's the fix the Wyoming Valley Lace Mills find themselves in, and they are therefore increasing their factory by one-third and adding two stories. The woven edge Saxonies, which are so close imitations of high priced Brussels curtains—at less than one-tenth of the cost—that no one but an expert can detect them at a distance of a few feet, are selling faster than they can be made. The increase in the plant is not only a result but a proof of this fact. W. H. Fletcher & Co. are the sole selling agents.



ORIGIN.

Stephen B. Brague has been appointed receiver for Kahaly & Christie, dealers in upholstery goods and trimming at No. 525 Broadway, in a suit brought by Geo. Christie against John G. Kahaly for a dissolution of the firm on account of dissensions between the partners. The liabilities are $3,200; assets, $2,500.

Francis McFarlan, who, as announced in our last issue, left J. H. Lane & Co., is now sole agent for the new patented shade bracket manufactured by John Sundberg, Buffalo, N. Y. This bracket is said to have special and important advantages, which are likely to create a large demand for it.

F. Little & Co., 701 to 705 North Main street, St. Louis, are large dealers in odorless feathers and manufacturers of down quilts, cushions and summer cotton quilts, all odorless and made up in the latest designs of sateen and silk coverings. The Star brands of feathers, quilts and cushions are made exclusively by Little & Co., and have an enviable reputation in the trade. Buyers are advised to write to the firm for prices &c., for it is a house which is in a position to strongly interest any dealer in its line of trade.

Radcliff & Holt, Grand Rapids, Mich., have dissolved partnership. Chas. S. Holt has started in the upholstery business at 101 South Division street, Grand Rapids.

Arno Korb, a bookkeeper for Frederic Vietor & Achelis, committed suicide on the 24th ult., and when his accounts were examined at the end of the year it was found that he had robbed his employers of about $70,000. It was also discovered that most of the money he had stolen had been used to purchase railroad bonds. Mrs. Korb was asked to explain what had been done with the bonds, and through her statements and other clues they were all recovered, excepting some which had been sold, and the purchase money for them was also handed over to Vietor & Achelis.

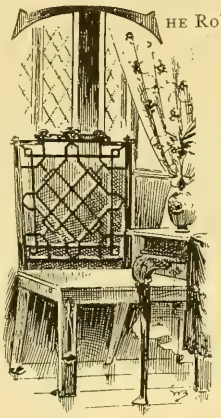
The Mayor of Barcelona, Spain, has invited American manufacturers of tapestries, lace and embroidery to send exhibits of their products to the Exposition of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts which will be open at Barcelona from April 23 to June 29, 1896. Articles for exhibition must be presented between March 20 and April 1. Medals of three classes and also a prize of honor, which will be $1,676, will be awarded.

The progress that is being made in the production and use of grille work is something astonishing. From the simple diamond work figures that characterized the first production, the industry has grown to the extent that now it not only commands the first talent in producing designs, but draws upon century old figures and adornments to make up the variety the demand calls for. Ancient Roman scrolls are reproduced perfectly, and other designs of a far back date appear again in the modern grille work. Heretofore the grille has been used as an ornament at the top of doors and windows, but in these later days it is made useful as well as ornamental. Exquisite designs executed in brass are now used as screens at the base of windows that extend down to the floor. The dwellers in the modern lofty apartment houses appreciate this last production, as it is a perfect safegard for children as well as grown people, who sometimes lean too far out of window.

One of the finest effects in hand carving is on exhibition in the upholstery department of J. G. Darlington & Co., Chestnut street, Philadelphia. It is done in the best quality of sole leather and is used for screens, chair backs and seats. It is of German production, and is executed under the supervision of the Government to a large extent. Upon first view it has the appearance of embossed work, but a closer inspection reveals some of the most exquisite and highly finished carving ever executed in any material. The finish is complete in every particular, and the coloring is done in the most artistic manner. Messrs. Darlington have the right for the United States.

Paul Halpern, who was assistant to the late I. R. Macpherson for some few years past, will hereafter represent the accounts of W. B. Brown, Manchester, England, corduroys, velvets, &c.; Evans & Peniston, Leeds, England, carriage and billiard cloths; and R. Schwartz & Co., Crefeld. His office will continue at 486 Broadway as heretofore.

EXPANSION OF THE RITCHIE COMPANY.



The Robt. J. & R. Ritchie Company has been reorganized and its capital stock increased from $30,000 to $60,000. We recently noted the removal of the company's plant to Frankford, an outlying district of Philadelphia, where it is now located in the same mill with the Eastlake Manufacturing Company, furniture gimp manufacturers.

The increased capital stock has been taken by Henry Brooks and Richard Morrell, of Geo. Brooks & Son; James Bromley and W. H. Burns, the latter two of the firm of Bromley & Burns, dyers. A meeting of the company will be held to-day—15th inst.—at which James Bromley will be elected treasurer and W. H. Burns secretary, and it is reported that Henry Brooks will be made president. Robt. J. and Robt. Ritchie will retain their same financial and personal interests in the company as heretofore. Robt. Ritchie will have charge of the mill as usual, and Robt. J. Ritchie will still keep his oversight of the patterns and be the selling agent of the company, with salesroom at 110 Worth street, New York. The machinery will be increased shortly and the Ritchie Company will doubtless assume an even more important position in curtain and table cover production than heretofore.

W. Slade Clark, head of the firm of Chas. W. Clark & Son, reports that spring orders on window shades, hollands, shade laces, &c., are coming in nicely and are better than last year. The orders are being received from all parts of the country, and the outlook is certainly encouraging. The firm's stock is in excellent shape to satisfy pressing demands.

The John H. Hibben Dry Goods Company is the name of a stock company that has been organized at Cincinnati for conducting a wholesale dry goods business in all its branches. It will be ready for business on or about February 1. The board of directors is composed of John H. Hibben, James A. Lowes, Thomas W. Allen, Charles J. Gessing, T. R. Shinn, W. H. Struve and James H. Laughlin. Mr. Gessing, who bought upholstery and other goods for the late firm of Specker Brothers & Co., is in the market this week.

Willis M. Boutwell and Leslie H. Russell, Boston, have formed a partnership as manufacturers' agents, and have a salesroom in the Jefferson Building, 564 Washington street. They have the accounts for New England of Barnes & Beyer, chenille, tapestry, velour and Sheila curtains and table covers; Wm. & J. Robertson, silk curtains, silk damasks, Scotch, Madras and muslin; Neuberger, Heine & Co., Swiss curtains; Meats & Co., Nottingham; Shaw & Peck, linens and white goods. Both partners are favorably known in the trade, and the success they deserve seems secured in advance.

MONUMENTAL CITY MATTERS.

BALTIMORE, JANUARY 10.

Miss Cora R. Hutzler, daughter of David Hutzler, of Hutzler Brothers, was married to Henry Oppenheimer the 26th ult.

The stock of Burrows & Co., window shades and wall papers, was damaged to the extent of $3,000 by smoke and water from a fire at the Oehm Building the 27th ult. Insured for $17,700.

Benjamin F. Smith, senior partner of the firm of Smith & Roden, Waynesboro, Va., died the 29th ult., aged fifty-one years.

Sigmund Kann, of S. Kann, Sons & Co., was married at Eutaw Place Temple, the 9th inst., to Miss Gertrude Strouse.

Frederick W. Klipper, of Klipper, Webster & Co., has been elected a member of the H. Y. M. Club, of East Baltimore.

Posner Brothers, in accordance with their usual custom at this season, have distributed $400 among the various charities in the city.

Frank W. Thornton, Fayetteville, N. C., has made an assignment. The liabilities are large. It is stated that he will resume business.

By the bursting of a water pipe in the store of Stone & Thomas, Wheeling, W. Va., the 7th inst. goods to the value of $10,000 were ruined.

Jacob Frankel, South Broadway, has made an assignment to Samuel J. Harman, trustee. The latter is bonded for $50,000, representing assets of $25,000. Tne liabilities are about $60,000.

Harry J. Cashman, of the dry goods and upholstery firm of M. Cashman & Son, Pensacola, Fla., has brought suit against the Bradstreet Commercial Agency for $30,000 for damages to his business and reputation from reports made by the agency. The reports, it is alleged, represent that Mr. Cashman had been guilty of the crimes of arson, grand larceny, &c.

J. P. Bryant, the Atlanta, Ga., furniture and upholstery dealer, who is said to have shot Kate Woods, the young colored woman who died at the Grady Hospital last week, is still in jail awaiting action on his case by the grand jury. The shooting was declared accidental by the coroner's jury, but the arresting officers decline to agree with the verdict and will prosecute Bryant for murder.

A case has been taken to the Court of Appeals involving the right of the city to retain $500 deposited by Harry W. Wilson in connection with a bid for supplying the public schools with furniture, curtains, &c. Mr. Wilson's, it appears, was the lowest bid, and he was awarded the contract for furnishing the supplies, but on his failure to give the required bond—the party offered by him in his bid declining to go upon the bond, and no other person being obtained as surety—the school board readvertised for bids, and declared Wilson's check for $500 forfeited. Wilson claims that, as the city has sustained no loss through him, he is entitled to the return of his money. R. L. E.

Wendell & Homan, upholsterers and decorators, 96 Fifth avenue, New York, who recently dissolved partnership, have come together again under the same firm name, and have all the business they can attend to.

HENRY J. RIESER.

One of the most active principals in the lace curtain trade to-day is Henry J. Rieser, of the firm of Rieser & Co., whose spacious salesrooms are located at 478 to 482 Broadway, New York. In the matters of enthusiasm in his work, and of always giving his very best efforts to his business, Mr. Rieser is not outdone by any other managing head in this line. He personally attends to the preparation of new styles and novelties, and the majority of the new effects in his firm's line emanate from his own ideas. Mr. Rieser goes abroad twice a year, spends several weeks in perfecting his novelties with the foreign manufacturers, and is back in time to map out the selling plans for the new season. He has been notably successful in his conception of new things and in the display of artistic taste and timely judgment.

ARTISTIC WINDOW SHADINGS.

Wm. O'Hanlon & Co.'s Florentine artistic window shadings and corded window shade stripes have quickly won the favor of the trade, and the demand for them is constantly increasing. These desirable shadings are made in all the widths and colors usual in Scotch hollands and are perfectly adapted to meet the call for something handsomer than the ordinary shade. All the leading upholstery goods and shading jobbers deal in the these shadings, and samples and price lists can be obtained on application. The American salesroom of O'Hanlon & Co. is at 486 Broadway, New York.

The mounting department of H. C. Kroh & Co. is exceedingly busy just now ; in fact it is busier than at any time previously during its existence, which augurs well for a successful spring season. Activity is also the rule in the shade cloth factory, and the orders on hand are being added to daily by the traveling men now out—Messrs. Patterson, Tompkins, Hibbard and Robb. A largely increased line of shade laces is shown, most of the designs being exclusive to Kroh & Co. Besides white and écru, colors to match the leading shade tints can be supplied, and the prices are so moderate that every dealer can now handle lace bordered or inserted shades.

MOUND CITY MEMS.

ST. LOUIS, JANUARY 9.

B. Nugent & Brother are conducting their forty-fourth annual clearing sale.

E. H. Bunt is back in his old position as manager of the upholstery department of Penny & Gentles, vice R. C. Blair, resigned.

Manager Stanley, of the upholstery department of B. Nugent & Brother, reports a big trade. He will go East about February 1.

S. Z. Akamatsu, importer of Japanese goods, has established a store at Eighth and Locust streets.

William Ryan, father of M. I. Ryan, of the new dry goods firm of Ryan & Cannon, died on January 6 at the age of eighty-six.

The Grand Leader has been making quite a run lately with the bankrupt stock of the Boston Store, of St. Louis. Manager Sellers, of the upholstery department, is highly gratified over the result.

The Wear-Boogher Dry Goods Company filed notice on January 24 of an increase in its capital stock from $450,000 to $600,000. The assets are given at $1,375,739, and the liabilities at $920,952. This is regarded as a decidedly good showing.

Among the visitors here last week were: Joseph Levy, of New York; Jas. McLaren, of the Bromley Manufacturing Company; "Jack" Shand, of Thomas & Harper; W. J. Lackey, of Pinney, Casse & Lackey Company, and R. A. Cornelius, of Jay C. Wemple Company.

J. F. Armstrong, the recent manager of the upholstery department of Siegel, Hillman & Co., surprised his friends and acquaintances on January 1 by suddenly resigning. His assistant, Ben Tannrath, also left. No reason was assigned. E. Lindenthal, of the china department, has been appointed in Mr. Armstrong's place.

R. M. Scruggs, of the Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Company, has been unanimously re-elected president of the Provident Association. Mr. Scruggs has been president now for twelve years, and at the annual meeting of the association resolutions were adopted thanking Mr. Scruggs for his long continued and most valuable service in the cause of charity.

The Wm. F. Crow Dry Goods Company, one of the oldest firms in the city, has changed hands, and will be known in the future as Ryan & Cannon. The members of the new firm are young men well known in the dry goods world. Mr. Ryan comes from the firm of Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney, while Mr. Cannon has been connected for years with the Ely-Walker Dry Goods Company. They started off to-day with a big clearing sale in order to get in a fresh stock of goods. The store will be remodeled and many new features introduced.

John T. Davis denies the report that Siegel, Cooper & Co., of Chicago, have rented the store of S. C. Davis & Co. to open a department store. Mr. Davis says that the store is not for rent and that Davis & Co. will continue in business until all the goods are sold.

Later.

St. Louis, January 11.—"The Parisian," a general store run by the firm of Siegel, Hillman & Co., occupying the five story building at Broadway and Washington avenue, was totally destroyed by fire to-night, causing an estimated loss of $200,000 on stock, and building. About fifteen employees who were working after hours had a narrow escape. Three alarms brought all the engines in the down town district and by hard work the fire was confined to the building in which it started. Siegel, Hillman & Co.'s loss is estimated at $125,000; fully insured. The loss on the building will not fall far short of $75,000; partially insured. H. E. H.

STERN BROTHERS' WHOLESALE LINES.

The exclusive novelties in upholsteries, curtains and hangings shown to the trade by Stern Brothers, New York, have met with excellent success, and the firm have made extra efforts to increase the attractions for the spring season of 1896. They are now ready to show entirely new effects not to be obtained elsewhere in lace curtains, upholstery fabrics, Oriental materials, wall hangings, cretonnes, &c., and quote very close prices to the trade. The lines are also being shown on the road by their traveler. A visit to their great upholstery department on West Twenty-third street will be of advantage to every upholstery manager in the country.

CHICAGO UPHOLSTERY NOTES.

W. E. Rosenthal & Co. have the account of the Saranac Mills.

The Chicago office of Mills & Gibb has been removed from 234 Fifth avenue to 24 and 26 Adams street.

Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.'s upholstery department is now situated on the first floor of the new Ryerson Building. The carpet department is on the third floor of the old building.

The lace and embroidery department of the J. V. Farwell Company is to be given additional space by securing a room in the building adjoining on the south, recently occupied by Spitz, Landauer & Co.

The Sanitary Moss Company, of Oswego, N. Y., has been incorporated to treat moss and other fibrous substances, and to manufacture the same into a product for bedding and packing purposes. Capital, $10,000, and directors: Charles Wendell, James M. Hart, 2d, and R. B. Powell, of Oswego.

The following men will represent the Sanitary Feather Company, Chicago, on the road: J. W. Vail, Pacific Coast; Charles E. Moore, West; E. H. Mills, New England; C. C. Blakeley, the Eastern States; E. J. Cadwell, who is the latest addition to the staff, having been with the Cold Blast Feather Company for the past nine years, will have Indiana, Michigan and Ohio; F. E. Board is the city (Chicago) salesman. The business of the company during the past year was double that of 1894, and the prospects are even brighter for 1896.

The catalogue and price list issued by H. C. Kroh & Co., under date of January 1, 1896, is one that should be in the hands of every shade dealer, big or little. It gives the price of all shade cloths, hollands and mounted shades, either manufactured or wholesaled by the firm, and also the prices of special order shades, rollers, slats unmounted shades and the discounts for quantities as per the Manufacturers' Association schedules. In fact it supplies all information on prices and sizes, and in a concise, convenient form. A postal card to H. C. Kroh & Co., 678 Broadway, New York, will bring you one.

J. A. BRITTAIN & CO.'S NEW SALESROOMS.

The fitting up of J. A. Brittain & Co.'s new salesrooms at 434 to 438 Broadway is now in progress and the firm anticipate being well located in the new quarters by February 1. Meantime buyers will find them at the old stand, 413 Broadway, ready with what is unquestionably a banner line of Nottingham and Swiss lace curtains and nets.

NEW SALESROOM OF J. A. BRITTAIN & CO.

In Sturzenegger & Tanner's productions of Irish point, Brussels, tambour and muslin curtains are seen many radical departures from previous seasons' lines, and the novelties are of a nature that will satisfy every demand for newness and still be always safe stock.

B. Walker & Co.'s Nottingham curtains and nets comprise an assortment that no buyer should miss seeing. The line is strong in combination curtains and reproductions of real laces, and the number of patterns of nets shown is unusually large. Another important feature to be remembered by buyers is that in dealing with J. A. Brittain & Co. they are buying direct of the manufacturers and obtain the very lowest prices, as Brittain & Co. are the sole agents of the important manufacturing firms named above. We present herewith an illustration of the imposing new building, corner of Broadway and Howard streets, which will soon be the business home of this enterprising firm.

Stenberg & Co., Worcester, Mass., are establishing an enviable reputation in that section as fine decorators and furnishers. Mr. Stenberg is also a member of the firm of Butler & Stenberg, Boston.

THE HARTSHORN COMPANY'S ANNUAL DINNER.

Following out their annual custom, the Stewart Hartshorn Company on the 6th inst. tendered to their salesmen and office force a very dainty dinner at the North End Club in Newark. Mr. Stewart Hartshorn, the president of the company, presided at the head of the table and did the honors in a very graceful and satisfactory manner.

The menu was as follows :

Little Neck Clams.
Consommé Clear. Amontillado Sherry.
Fresh Salmon, Cream Sauce.
Lamb Chops, Tomato Sauce.
Green Peas. St. Julien.
Oyster Patty.
Quail on Toast. G. H. Mumm's Extra Dry.
Currant Jelly. Saratoga Chips.
Chicken Salad.
Ices.
Roquefort. Demi-tasse.
Cigars.

Those present were Messrs. Stewart Hartshorn, E. F. Hartshorn, Samuel Hartshorn, A. F. Temple, E. L. Durgin, W. H. Layng, B. E. Bushnell, A. C. Bedell, J. Spiro, J. M. Haley, Frank E. Heath, L. S. Klotz, J. L. Kendrick, H. E. Hedden, B. E. Bullivant and T. E. Bullivant.

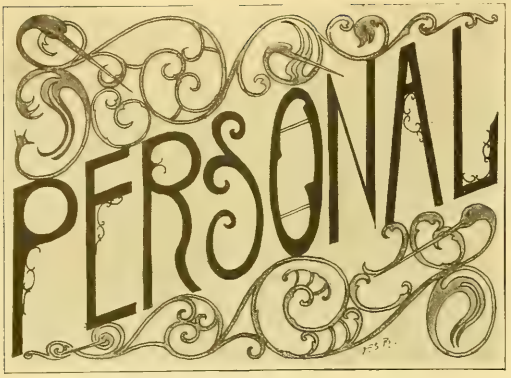
The Hartshorn dinner is looked forward to as one of the most enjoyable events of the holiday season, when the business and social ties of the firm and its employees are renewed and strengthened in a most effectual manner.

HEES, MACFARLANE & CO.

As manufacturers of hand made opaque shade cloths, and laces and window shades, the firm of Hees, Macfarlane & Co., Detroit, Mich., have attained an especially conspicuous position and their offerings are therefore well calculated to secure the attention of buyers. The stock of Royal art laces for the spring trade is now complete in all lines, and orders can be filled promptly. Their Royal handmade shade cloth has made a highly favorable impression in the trade, as is proved by the large and constantly increasing demand for it, and their stock of window shades comprises a great number of specialties which every dealer should include in his offerings. The firm carry also a complete line of hollands in all the popular tints.

Write to them for sample books and catalogues of all their lines.

The Bernard Mattress Company, of San Francisco, has for some time been missing valuable upholstery silks and other goods, and the whole establishment has been under suspicion, as there were no signs of burglary. Samuel Bernard and Harry Bernard, brothers, were formerly partners, and after quarreling Henry set up a rival establishment. After the robbery samples of the stolen goods were sent to various dealers, several of whom cheerfully gave the information that they had bought the articles of Henry Bernard & Co. Samuel then swore out a search warrant and went to his brother's store. Henry cheerfully gave up $300 worth of goods, and said he had bought them of a boy. The other dealers would not give up what they had bought at second hand from Henry. Henry still sticks to the boy story.



Baker—Holt.—Mr. Baker and Mr. Holt, of Baker, Holt & Co., Manayunk, Philadelphia, were in New York last week to complete arrangements for placing the selling agency of their plushes, velvets and corduroys in the hands of Robert J. Ritchie, 110 Worth street.

Ellis.—C. W. Ellis, with the Henry Reubel Company, who is now on the road, reports business as even beyond his expectations, and is extremely grateful for the liberal way in which the trade have given him orders in his new connection.

Maxham—Hamilton.—E. D. Maxham succeeded T. B. Hamilton as manager of the upholstery department of the Denholm & McKay Company, Worcester, Mass., on the 1st inst. Mr. Hamilton retired to enter the dry goods firm of E. L. Smith & Co., of Worcester, which firm will hereafter carry upholstery goods and rugs.

Morgan.—A wide acquaintance in the trade is a valuable possession. George B. Morgan, of W. H. Fletcher, has this, but he also has that very rare faculty of being able on the instant to recall the name of any man he has ever met.

Noblitt.—Joseph C. Noblitt, formerly of the firm of Dell & J. C. Noblitt, upholstery goods, is now in the upholstery department of John Wanamaker, Philadelphia.

O'Connor.—Thomas J. O'Connor, recently with S. Baerlein, is now with Lawson Brothers, the lace curtain importers, and is on the road with their new samples.

Pate.—Robert Pate, head of the firm of John King & Son, the Scotch holland manufacturers, sails from the other side per the Teutonic the 15th inst. He comes to arrange for a new representation in New York, to succeed the recently deceased Innes R. Macpherson.

Potter.—W. S. Potter, of Schroth & Potter, the Columbus, Ohio, window shade and lace curtain dealers, was in Chicago last month looking after his firm's interests there. He reports trade good.

Rigney.—J. Ed. Rigney left for the West January 6 on his trip among the customers of Bossut Père & Fils.

Russell.—J. M. Russell, cashier of the Knowles Loom Works, Worcester, and T. B. Hamilton, recently carpet and upholstery buyer for the Denholm & McKay Company, Worcester, Mass., were registered at the Holland House, New York, last week.

Smith.—D. J. Smith, for the past five years second man in the upholstery department of the Tobey Furniture Company, will hereafter represent F. Schumacher & Co. in Chicago and Milwaukee, with headquarters in Chicago.

Stern.—Louis Stern, of Stern Brothers, New York, is a member of the board of directors of the Tarrytown Electric Railway Company, organized to operate a railroad connecting the several villages in Westchester County, N. Y.

Watson.—C. Watson, who as a partner of Kaempfer & Watson conducted the upholstery department of Wechsler Brothers & Co., Brooklyn, and who will have charge of the department of their successor, Henry Offerman, is taking a brief pleasure trip to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and will be in the market shortly for stock. He will open the new department about March 1.

BIRKIN & CO.'S NEW SALESROOM.

T. I. Birkin & Co. will be settled in their new salesroom, at 458 Broadway, southeast corner of Grand street, by February 1, and its occupation will mark an increased impetus in their efforts to serve the trade and enlarge their business. All modern comforts and facilities for inspecting their line will be provided, and they will have three times as much room for stock as in the Mercer street establishment.

Besides the increased facilities in New York the firm have completely remodeled and enlarged their Glasgow factory, and have added several of the widest and most improved machines.

The curtains made by T. I. Birkin & Co. have always held a top notch reputation for perfect make and finish, while every buyer who looks at their lines knows they are always up to date in styles and novelties.

Among the leaders in the new spring line are a large array of entirely new combination curtains and fish net effects, with bed sets to match, which goods are bound to be free sellers; an exceptionally fine line of Cluny effects at low prices, a new line of made up fish net curtains with ruffled edges, tasteful Brussels effects and lace edged chamber curtains. J. W. Smith, the New York representative, states that after a successful fall season in 1895 the prospects for 1896 seem very bright, and Birkin & Co. have shaped their plans to meet a greatly improved business. They hope to see all buyers visiting New York at their new salesroom, 458 Broadway.

SCHROTH & POTTER'S NEW CATALOGUE.

The new catalogue of Schroth & Potter, manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in window shades, shade trimmings, &c., and importers of lace curtains, is now ready for distribution in the trade, and they believe it to be the most complete catalogue ever issued. It will be full of interesting information and no dealer in shades can afford to be without it. Schroth & Potter have added to their stock a high grade of medium priced oil opaque shading in all the good selling colors. About May 1 this firm will open a new distributing depot west of the Mississippi river, to meet the demands of their large and growing Western trade. The new branch will probably be in charge of their Mr. M. G. Davis, who has been so long and favorably known to the Western trade as Schroth & Potter's representative. A complete stock will be carried and especial attention given to special order work.

F. Jones & Co., 58 North Fourth street, Philadelphia, who supply almost all the design paper used in the carpet, upholstery and curtain trades, are now prepared to furnish any kind of design paper for lace curtains. They are the proper parties to deal with on design paper, as experience will prove.

The salesmen for J. B. Ryer, Son & Co., the upholstery and curtain wholesalers, are B. M. Carr, Chicago and the West; L. S. Smith, Pittsburgh to Chicago; H. J. Huyler, New York State and Pennsylvania; A. N. Avery, Grand Rapids; E. Beyfuss, Pacific Coast; A. G. Smith, New England and South; T. F. J. Tynan (of firm), and Geo. Neimann, New York city; W. H. Sipperley, Brooklyn.

THE TRADE OF THE UPHOLSTERER.*

Part 7.—Treatment of Materials.

In sewing stiff materials, particularly leather, certain characteristics of such materials must be kept in mind. On account of the stiffness of leather as compared with textile fabrics it does not readily adapt itself to the various shapes into which it has to be sewn; hence it must be drawn much more firmly, and thus the stitching is rendered too stiff. Besides, different skins vary in thickness and hardness, and there are harder and softer places in every skin. But in the harder places the folds are bound to rise higher, and the job becomes uneven. Hence every workman will take advantage of divers devices to produce a satisfactory, smooth job. One will mark his materials, stitch his seam and then stuff; another lays his folds before sewing, &c.; the latter is not to be recommended, for it is almost impossible to break a fold beforehand just as it will come in reality.

All these methods are less simple than the precaution of applying a wet sponge to the under side of the leather in the direction of the curves, thus rendering the leather soft in these places. Thus the folds may be laid with the greatest of ease. But care must be taken not to make the dampened strip too wide, in order that it may not pass beyond the part turned in by the fold, and thus cause water stains. Quilting in leather shows the best effects when the preliminary stitching is omitted entirely, the hair being stuffed immediately under the leather, though the job should be slightly shaped as a preliminary measure. One-third of the width is sufficient allowance for the quilting. Hence, if the hair is put immediately under the leather, the skins are marked out in pattern according to this proportion, adding perhaps a little more under given circumstances. Then, if the skin is not large enough, more skin may be sewn in, following the zigzag of the pattern with the seam. Plush, too, can be quilted more beautifully if the quilting is kept comparatively shallow and the lozenges comparatively large. Otherwise the folds become too conspicuous in consequence of the thickness of the material.

Other materials hardly require mention here, because they are all similar in the manner of treatment, and are governed by the rules already given; only embroideries require a somewhat different treatment, partly in preparing them before they can be used as furniture covers, and partly in applying them to the upholstery. As is well known, the upholsterer rarely gets hold of a piece of embroidery that is in proper condition to be mounted; most of them are drawn out of shape in the process of embroidering. Hence they must be squared again. For this purpose they are stretched on a flat surface over a clean lining, In order to prevent their springing back into the former irregular form they are either brushed on the inside with sizing or pressed. The former is to be altogether condemned, since moths attack with pertinacity embroideries thus sized. The pressing must be done carefully. Of course it is not the hot iron which causes the effect desired by pressing, but the steam developed in the pad under the article ironed, and present in every substance. This steam holds the object pressed in the condition produced by the pressure of the iron, provided that it is kept in that condition till entirely cooled off. As long as there is remaining any heat there remains also vapor, which, on escaping, permits the object ironed to return to its previous condition. In order to produce sufficient steam for this purpose the object is generally either dampened or covered with a damp cloth, and care must be taken here not to ruin the embroidery. If too much water is used it may easily happen that certain colors begin to run and become blurred at the edges, thus spoiling the work. Green, brown and certain reds are most liable to be thus affected, and must therefore be treated very carefully. Almost all colored silks are more or less sensitive.

Hence it is advisable always to use a dampened cloth. This is put into clean water, wrung out thoroughly, and ironed dry on the embroidery. All harm is thus prevented, for as long as the cloth is still damp all scorching is impossible; furthermore, it yields only steam, and protects the embroidery against too much moisture and running of the the colors, and, finally, if the iron should scorch, only the cloth is affected, not the embroidery.

Many argue that sizing is preferable because ironing crushes the embroidered surface and flattens it. Even if this should happen, the surface may be raised again after the whole job is complete, in the following manner.

Take a wet cloth, wrung out carefully, lay it on the exterior surface of the embroidery, touch it over all flattened places with a very hot iron and remove the cloth quickly. With the escape of the steam the embroidery is raised. Crushed plush may have its pile raised in the same manner. But the iron must not be applied to any place long enough to dry the cloth; this would produce shiny spots, which, however, can also be removed in the above manner. After pressing, all embroidery should be left stretched for some time to make sure that the pad under it is absolutely dry, else the whole process may have to be repeated. Frequently the embroidery is too small; on being dampened it may be stretched considerably and remain so after ironing. However, it is bound to lose in width whatever is gained in length, and vice versa. Embroideries with metal beads must be ironed absolutely dry at once to prevent the rusting of the steel and the tarnishing of gold beads.

Skins of animals, which are frequently given to the upholsterer to be lined or otherwise employed in upholstery, must be cut with a knife, never—under any circumstances—with scissors.

Three Vital Points . . .

Are necessary to insure a perfect roller such as . . . .

The Improved Hartshorn Wood Roller.

FIRST—No Tacks Are to Be Used.

The patent shade holders furnished free with Improved Hartshorn Wood Rollers eliminate the use of tacks in the most satisfactory manner possible.

SECOND—Provision for Mounting Shade Cloth Absolutely True.

The groove in this roller is the only place where the shade can be fastened to the roller. As the groove is as straight as machinery can make it, the cloth must be fastened in a straight line.

THIRD—Prevention Against Tearing Cloth from Rolls.

Owing to the scientific construction of the new roller, when the shade cloth is fastened upon the roller in the groove with our shade holders, the resistance which it offers is so strong that when shade and roller are hung it is almost impossible to tear the cloth off.

This Roller received specific indorsement in our award of a Gold Medal and Special Diploma of Honor by the Judges of the Atlanta Exposition.

Our new Descriptive Catalogue for 1896 is now ready. Free on application.

THE NEWEST STYLES

. . IN . .

Lace Curtains

ARE SHOWN BY

A. NAUMANN,

AT HIS NEW SALESROOM:

Spring and Mercer Streets,

NEW YORK.

One eminent and popular house that has tried all makes announces them to be

"The Best Window Hollands Made."

Another equally large Importer of great experience states:

"The goods have always been and are now fast colors."

Another firm in the very front rank of the business describes them as

"Unequalled in quality, unshrinkable and of finest dyes."

While another firm of Importers, probably one of the largest shade goods houses in the world, characterizes them in these terms:

"JOHN KING & SON'S Famous Scotch Hollands."

JOHN KING & SON'S

ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1775

Celebrated

Scotch Window HOLLANDS

ILLUSTRATING the high consideration these popular goods hold in the estimation of the most experienced importers of shade goods in the country, the attention of the trade is invited to the above opinions, published in the columns of this and other journals, over the signatures of the respective firms.

Enterprising but unscrupulous parties unable to reach the exalted standard of these celebrated goods, pay them the flattery of imitating the wrappings. It is the Goods, not the wrappings, the trade is after. See that Bands, Tickets and Tabs of every piece are marked

Wholesaled from every Shade Goods Importer and Leading Carpet and Upholstery Importer in the Country.

MANUFACTURED BY C. L. TAYLOR, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Lock Box No. 505.

CARPETS may be shown more advantageously by the above "Device for Supporting Carpet Rolls" than by any other method, with a saving of three-fourths of the time and nine-tenths of the labor. It will keep Carpets perfectly clean, and at the same time prevent all friction and wear on the edges. The colors and patterns may be blended at leisure to suit the light, so that one color will not conflict with another when hurriedly showing them. It shows a portion of each pattern on exhibition obliquely to the light, and brings out every shade of color perfectly, which cannot be done as well by any other means. It also saves all loss incidental to cutting samples of each pattern to show. It keeps the roll even and tight from the centre, and smoothly rolled while handling. The patterns not liked by a customer can, if desired, readily be put out of the way to make more room for those under consideration, which may, if required, be matched on the floor without rolling over the patterns rejected, and consequently avoid soiling them. After an order has been taken that pattern may be hid from view almost instantly, which will, in many cases, prevent the decision of a customer from being changed by looking back on it from a less favorable light, or by the comments of disinterested persons who may be near. The carpets are gauged to any desired distance on the floor, making it entirely unnecessary for either salesman or customer to walk over them while showing or inspecting same.

Please allow me to say in substantiation of the above statements that a daily experience of thirty-seven years in rolling and handling carpets of every description should make one very well acquainted with all the methods and requirements for handling them, and, independent of that fact, the house represented in this cut has about two hundred of them in actual use, embracing some of each size and form, and they all do perfectly and satisfactorily all that is claimed for them. For further particulars address

C. L. TAYLOR.

The gentlemen below named are all experienced carpet men and well known to the carpet trade; they have seen the Patent Carpet Base in use and will tell you what they think of its merits:

MR. L. DUNCAN, of T. B SHOAFF & CO., . . New York.
MR. ALEX. N. COOK, with SMITH HOGG & GARDNER, New York.
MR. J. A. JOHNSON, of W. & J. SLOANE, . . New York.
MR. D. W. McCLAIN, 110 Worth Street, . . . New York.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., February 28, 1895.

MR. CHAS. L. TAYLOR.

Dear Sir—We take pleasure in giving you our opinion in regard to the Bases for Carpets recently patented by you. We consider them invaluable to every retailer of carpets. We have had about two hundred of them in daily use for several months, and would not be without them for three times their cost. A few of the many advantages are the following: They protect the edges of carpets from being soiled or rubbed; they enable the salesman to show carpets to the best advantage, and in less than half the time necessary in the ordinary way, without any assistance from a porter, and one person can keep a stock of carpets in cleaner and better order than two could in the old way usual in most carpet houses. Many other advantages will be apparent to all who try them, and we feel confident anyone having used them will not willingly give them up.

Yours truly, W. H. McKNIGHT, SONS & CO.

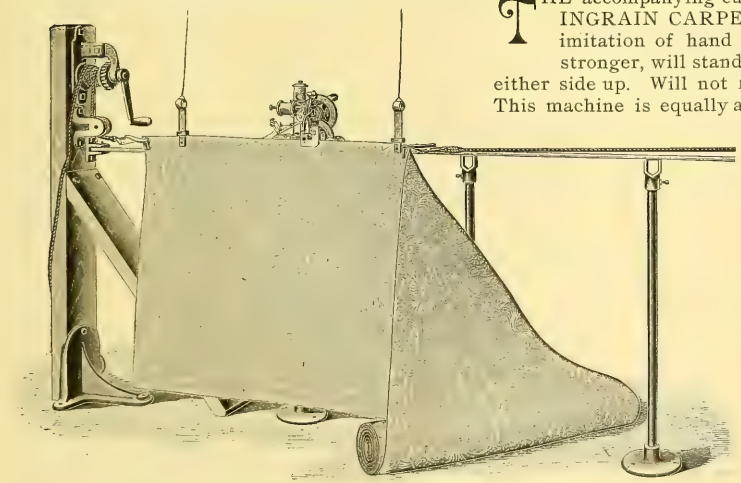
The Taft Carpet Sewing Machine.

The First and Only All Round Carpet Sewing Machine ever invented.



THE accompanying cut represents a machine that will sew INGRAIN CARPETS over-stitch; practically a perfect imitation of hand sewn work. Being more even and stronger, will stand any amount of strain. Can be laid either side up. Will not rip. Will give perfect satisfaction. This machine is equally as good on all other carpets, TAPESTRIES, BRUSSELS, WILTONS, MOQUETTES and STRAW MATTING. The machine can be changed in five seconds from over-stitch to straight stitch and vice versa.

Will, without any change, overcast all raw edges, sew together two raw edges and overcast them down; in fact, does all the work in its different branches with one operator, and is so arranged that a girl weighing 100 pounds can handle any carpet with ease and sew several hundred yards per day. The machine is simple, durable, easy running and a rapid sewer. No carpet house can afford to be without one.

SEWS CARPETS FOR LESS THAN ONE-HALF CENT PER YARD.
THE ONLY MACHINE THAT WILL OVER-STITCH INGRAIN CARPETS.

"Before you begin, consider, and when you have considered, act."

DO YOU EVER examine the Sweepers you buy?

Are they as well made as those you bought years ago?

Have they all the late improvements, such as appeal to the practical housekeeper, who is the one who uses them?

Are you buying on "Old Reputation" or "Present Quality?"

Are the "pans" so put in that when the house girl uses the "broom action" there is no chance to cause "sprouting?"

Are the brushes all right?

Will it not pay to "consider" these points, and "when you have considered act," by sending for a sample of one or more styles.

Try It.
It Will Pay You.

Crompton's New Ingrain Carpet Loom.

CROMPTON NEW INGRAIN CARPET LOOMS.

THE attention of manufacturers of Ingrain Carpets is called to the consideration of a new Carpet Loom just put on the market. It carries four (4) shuttle boxes at each end of the lathe; any one of the series at each end can be brought into line with the shuttle race at any pick, under the dictation of the Jacquard cards. The Jacquard is of the most approved construction and moves the warps kindly. The let off and take up motions bring out perfectly matched goods. On two ply work it makes sixty (60) yards per day. The apparatus for moving the boxes cannot be surpassed for its simplicity and efficiency. This Loom has no equal in speed and simplicity from four (4) to seven (7) colors.

CROMPTON ART SQUARE LOOM, for 3, 3½ and 4 yard goods, produces the best results and has no rival.

CROMPTON'S UPHOLSTERY LOOM, with Improved "1886" Box Motion, is capable of high speed and nice adjustment for its special line of goods.

Facts About Vantine's Jute Rugs.

All our Jute Rugs are ordered by our own house, inspected, paid for, baled and shipped from our godowns.

Our V. V. Jute Rugs are noted for: I. Originality and beauty of designs.
II. Superiority of colorings.
III. Excellence of finish.

Of course V. V. Rugs are a little higher in price than commoner grades, of which we have three cheaper lines, but it will pay you to buy them. Write or wire us for prices.

Japan and China Mattings.

We have a wide range of patterns in our own original and controlled designs. Write or wire for samples and prices.

MAIL ORDERS.—We pay prompt, particular attention to mail orders. It is a standing rule of our house that no salesman is allowed to make up loss on one article by overcharge on another.

Whether your order is large or small, or whether you buy in person or by mail, you receive the same honorable treatment.

CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

Sample and Price List forwarded on application.

Frames for holding the Fabric and Thread and Needles, specially prepared, for sale.

PATENTED AUGUST 25, 1885.

This Patent Rubber Binding holds the ends of Matting, Carpets, etc., down in place, does not curl up like other flexible bindings, is not affected by dampness, will not break when shaken and thrown about, and is very durable and easily adjusted.

The Many Advantages of this Patent Rubber Binding give it the preference over any other heretofore used on Matting and Carpet runners for Hotels, Stores, Steamboats, Offices, Elevators, Street Cars, Railroad Cars, etc., etc.

It is Made in ¼, ⅜, ½, ⅝, ¾, ⅞ and 1 lengths and is perforated to facilitate the sewing. The most inexperienced person can sew it on perfectly.

This PATENT RUBBER BINDING can be obtained from all the Leading Carpet and Upholstery Dealers.

Spring Announcement, 1896.

PHILADELPHIA, having taken a leaf from the book of experience of European cities, has erected a MAMMOTH EXCHANGE BUILDING entitled "THE BOURSE," in the business heart of the city, which manufacturers generally have been quick to take advantage of as affording them an opportunity to offer and sell their products to the merchants of the country without the latter being compelled, as heretofore, to travel over the great distances of the mill district.

CARPETS OF EVERY CLASS, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, LACE CURTAINS, OIL CLOTHS, &c., can be purchased DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS represented in the building.

Our magnificent offerings for SPRING, 1896, are now on show at

MANUFACTURERS OF

Wiltons, Brussels, Ingrains.

LOWELL CARPETS have been justly celebrated for more than half a century. For the guidance of buyers the word "Lowell" is woven in white capital letters in the back of our Wiltons and Brussels at each repeat of the pattern. The fabrics are of the best quality, designs and coloring.

Our Middlesex Wiltons have the word "Middlesex" woven in the back. The word is registered as our Trade Mark in the United States Patent Office.

The popular Lowell Ingrains are wound on a hollow stick made in two solid pieces, with the words "Lowell Man'g. Co." stamped within, a patented United States Trade Mark.

Bigelow Carpet Company,

ORIGINAL POWER-LOOM MANUFACTURERS OF

WILTON AND BRUSSELS

CARPETS.

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1878, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements, and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Wiltons or Body Brussels.

These Goods can be obtained from all first-class dealers.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE!

We commenced the manufacture of Carpets fourteen years ago and christened our mills the "DEVON MILLS."

When we introduced our Tapestry weave Ingrain, several seasons ago, we named it "PURITAN."

Recently there appeared in the market poor imitations of our goods bearing the names "DEVON" and "PURITAN." This is described as a coincidence.

☞ Would there have been any coincidence if our goods had not acquired a national reputation?

The Logic of Facts.

We have recently said something regarding the quality of our Linoleum, not the least feature of which was the reference to oil. THE FACT IS, WE ARE THE ONLY MAKERS OF LINOLEUM WHO ALSO PRODUCE LINSEED OIL, and we therefore positively know the kind of oil used in our Linoleum and that it is the best. The logic of facts is demonstrated in the composition of the BLABON LINOLEUM. The ingredients are of a superior kind, the thickness standard, and the patterns and colorings representations of advanced art in Floor Coverings. . . .

Blabon Linoleum.

The statements that thickness does not count are delusive. The more cork and linseed oil used the greater the thickness and cost and the better the goods. We have seen some Linoleum (imported) that could not stand on end in the roll; it lacked substance because the materials were not there. You cannot make Linoleum by simply painting a textile fabric. Toughness, Elasticity and Wear are obtained in the Blabon Linoleum. Any goods sold at lower prices than ours are far more inferior in quality than they are lower in price. When you buy of the Jobber ask for BLABON'S Linoleum, and be assured by us that you are getting unbeatable value.

Floor Oil Cloth.

The same care and attention referred to as being applied to the production of our Linoleum is likewise given to the manufacture of our Floor Oil Cloth. Our own make of linseed oil goes into our Oil Cloths, and our equipment of plant for rapid and economical manufacture is unsurpassed. We will not say here that we are the largest makers of Floor Oil Cloths, but we can justifiably enter any contest for that designation. In Styles of Oil Cloths, too, we invite any comparison.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT, PAGE 47.

☞ Our readers are urged to remember that we are always desirous to receive communications of interest to the carpet or upholstery trades, such as changes in firms or managers, the building or opening of new stores, improvements in old ones, the adding of new departments, improved methods of doing business, new inventions, suggestions as to the cutting, making and laying of carpets, the designing and fitting of draperies, or inquiries and dissertations relating to the technical or commercial details of the trades to which this periodical is devoted.

THE TRADE SITUATION.

THE period of hesitation at the opening of the year has been followed by a marked improvement in the trade. During the past ten days visiting buyers have bought freely, and the travelers returning from the road are, as a rule, satisfied with the results of their trips.

In addition to the advances in prices of Tapestries and Velvets, recorded in our issue of the 15th ult., we have to note an advance of 2½ cents a yard on Hartford Axminsters, which takes effect to-day, the 1st inst. All manufacturers of machine-made Axminsters report a very satisfactory demand for their product, and this fabric is evidently destined to takes a very prominent place in the carpet trade of the future.

Advices from most parts of the country indicate a considerable improvement in the business situation, the Northwest being the only section in which the conditions still appear unsatisfactory. In all other sections the indications tend to confirm the belief that the spring retail trade will open early and actively.

THE DELAYED TARIFF BILL.

THE revenue bill passed by the House of Representatives is still held up in the Senate and the responsibility for this lies entirely with the advocates of free silver in that body. These men desire to prevent any legislation by this Congress which will tend to improve the finances or business of the country. They prefer that conditions shall get worse instead of better, because they hope that the general demoralization of financial and business affairs will make the country more willing to accept the 50 cent silver dollar as the basis for all contracts, past, present and future.

This is the true reason why Senator Jones, of Nevada, and his confederates on the Senate Finance Committee are holding back the revenue bill instead of reporting it, as in the usual course of Senate procedure.

But it will be remembered that the strength of the silver cause in this committee is largely the result of the disgraceful bargain made between the free silver clique and some other senators, for the purpose of "organizing the Senate." This is the euphemistic phrase applied to the distribution of the various offices existing for the transaction of the routine work of the Senate. By permitting the silver men to practically control the Finance Committee these senators were enabled to give offices to certain protégés of theirs who might otherwise have been left out in the cold. It is of course more important to provide for these aspirants for petty positions than to look after the interests of manufacturers or the people generally. That at any rate is the opinion of the majority of the representatives we have now in the Senate.

THE APPELLATE COURTS.

SOME RESPECTS IN WHICH THEY ARE NOT SATISFACTORY.

The new federal appellate courts are not proving entirely satisfactory, for although they were instituted for the purpose of simplifying and hastening judicial procedure in many instances they have exercised the contrary effect. It is not uncommon for the court of one appellate district to disagree radically with the decision of another district court in the same case.

These conflicts of opinion, as rendered by different appellate courts in the various circuits in the United States, might not be of serious commercial disadvantage if the opinions affected business interests wholly contained within the circuit ruled by the court which handed down the opinions. But upon other questions involving interests which are identical throughout the country, and especially those which are dependent upon a conclusive determination of patent rights, conflicting opinions of appellate courts are certain to create serious confusion, to engender, instead of ending, litigation, and leave business men in the anomalous position of rightfully carrying on business in one circuit and illegally carrying it on in another.

Another fact very noticeable since these appellate courts have been established is the influence of locality. It is presumed not to exist. The judicial mind is said to be above receiving such impression, yet as a matter of fact every lawyer, and probably every litigant, especially in patent cases, knows that locality does influence judicial opinion. For instance, in the sections of the United States where prosperity is due largely to manufacturing, and to the commercial development of those patents which have revolutionized and are revolutionizing mechanical industry, there is a natural, unconscious, powerful impulse which reaches even the judicial mind and causes it to approach the decision of a litigation involving patent rights in a frame of mind favorable at least to such decision as will stimulate ingenuity and invention.

In other parts of the country where there is little manufacturing, where the people look perhaps with something of jealousy, or at least with no great favor, upon the development of labor saving and economy producing machinery, it is inevitable that the tendency should be such as to cause judges to listen to patent causes with a mind naturally disposed toward the locality view. This has been so well recognized that it has been sometimes assumed that in one section of the country a decision was likely to be obtained adverse in a general way to those who claim rights under patents, whereas in other sections of the country it has been felt that the locality influence would tend to aid those who appealed for protection to the courts for their patent rights.

It is fair to presume that some of the conflicting decisions which have already been given by the appellate courts have been in part caused by the locality influence, not improperly exerted or even consciously felt. Therefore it is believed that these conflicts of opinion will continue, and perhaps ultimately lead appellate courts to feel free in any particular case to depart from the opinion of the Supreme Court.

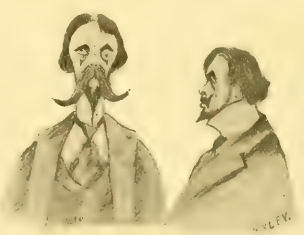
BUSINESS FAILURES.

In its issue of the 25th ult. Bradstreet's says that an examination of the records of the number of firms, individuals and corporations in business, together with the total number of failures in years preceding 1893, indicates that the total failures in business of both kinds—that is, those failing to pay what they owe and those which merely failed to succeed—amounted to about 11 per cent. annually of the total number of concerns recorded as having an established place in business, while the total number of those failing owing more than they could pay was only a fraction more than 1 per cent. annually.

"From such statistics," remarks Bradstreet's, "is made plain the untruthfulness of a statistical lie which has traveled so far and wide for many years, 'that ninety-five out of every 100 concerns or firms in business fail.' No correction or contradiction ever caught completely up with a lie well started, and it is not our endeavor to perform the impossible with respect to this inaccuracy. As has been pointed out, the total number of concerns failing in business annually unable to pay their total indebtednesses is a fraction over 1 per cent. or, we may say, 1.15 per cent. or 1.20 per cent. This being the annual 'commercial death rate,' who shall presume to say what the commercial lifetime is? If one chooses to arbitrarily define a 'commercial lifetime' as twenty-five years, it would follow that the proportion of failures during the commercial lifetime in question would be about 30 per cent. of the total number in business, or thirty in 100 of those having an established place in business."

The total number of business failures in the United States during the year 1895 was 12,958. In 1894 the number was 12,724.

D. P. Erwin & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., rank among the most enterprising jobbing houses in the trade. They carry an immense stock of carpets, rugs, mattings, floor oil cloths, linoleum, &c., and are able to meet the competition of any other city in the country. Their location enables them to supply the wants of Middle Western, Southern and Western dealers promptly and with a great saving of freight expense, and the lines of goods they show are not excelled by any in the market in extent, variety and attractiveness. See their advertisement on page 11 of this issue.



A NEW USE FOR IT.

First Anglomaniac—I shall cut Percy Knickerbocker, b' Jove! He's so Americanized that his man put Knapp Rubber Binding on his trousers to keep the ends from turning up. B' Jove!

Second Ditto—How awful, and it raining in England, too!—Ryley.

Jacob Firefile, 92 Ewen street, Brooklyn, has gone out of business.

Wm. M. Daintrey, head of the carpet department of Arnold, Constable & Co., sailed for Europe on the Teutonic January 29.

W. & J. Sloane report a very satisfactory business in their wholesale department for January, and an exceptionally fine trade in their retail.

Henry Beuttell, American representative of John Crossley & Sons, Limited, of Halifax, England, sailed for Europe on the Aurania January 22.

Ignatz Reismann, who recently sold out his business at 47 Avenue B, is offering to compromise with his creditors at 20 cents on the dollar, cash.

Geo. F. Vetter's Sons, 399 Sixth avenue, will remove March 1 to 35 and 37 West Twenty-third street, the stores now occupied by J. E. Gillis & Co.

F. P. Luce, carpet manager for the C. H. Robinson Company, Boston, made the rounds of the trade in New York last week, purchasing spring goods.

The Barbour Brothers Company, at 218 Church street, report a very satisfactory business on their superior carpet threads for both machine and hand sewing.

The members of the Manufacturers' Association of Kings and Queens Counties will eat their annual dinner and discuss matters generally at the Pouch Gallery, Brooklyn, on the evening of the 18th inst.

W. L. Lundy is showing the samples of Thos. Develon's Sons at 343 Broadway in Jo Frank's loft. Visiting buyers will find the line one of the best in the trade, and Mr. Lundy quotes lowest mill prices.

Burke & Lynch, furniture and carpet dealers, 1391 Third avenue, have closed out their business, and the store is now occupied by the Economy Furniture Company, of which Selig Voit is the proprietor.

Joseph Wild & Co. are direct and very extensive importers of straw matting, and show for the coming season an immense variety of grades and patterns, including a large number of choice specialties manufactured expressly for them and not to be obtained elsewhere. They claim that their stock of mattings is the largest in the country for immediate shipment, and buyers should be aware of the importance of prompt deliveries in the matting trade.

The report of the Arkwright Club for the year ending December 31, 1895, shows that the club is entirely free from debt and has a good surplus besides. Its membership remains the same as it was a year ago, comprising 549 resident and sixty-three non-resident members.

Sperry & Beale, 81 White street, are beginning to receive their direct importations of China and Japan mattings and will have invoices on most of the ships due at an early date. Their offerings have been eminently successful, and now that the goods are coming in it is a good time to call upon them.

A meeting of creditors of Max Rosenstein, carpet and furniture dealer, 957 Third avenue, was held at the office of his lawyer, Joseph Martin, 132 Nassau street, recently. Mr. Rosenstein asked for an extension and offered 100 cents in three notes of 33⅓ per cent. each, payable in June, August and October, 1896. No action was taken on this proposition. Mr. Rosenstein said that he owed about $550, and had assets consisting of stock worth $400.

Elwin S. Piper will again enlarge the Grand Bazaar, Brooklyn, in the spring, when the adjoining store on Grand street will be added to his emporium. When interviewed regarding the matter Mr. Piper said: "The enlargement is absolutely necessary. Every inch of available room is now used to the best possible advantage, yet many, indeed all, of our lines demand superior space and display. At the wonderful rate at which the business is now growing another year with the increased room will find us far more crowded than now. This addition will benefit only a few departments, but we hope in the near future to make a still greater extension, which will improve the whole store."

New York is a very rich city. There are $900,000,000 worth of goods in the comparatively small area down town known as the dry goods district, to say nothing of buildings, furniture and fixtures. A single wholesale and retail house in the fashionable shopping district of Broadway contains $11,000,000 worth of goods. Another house in Twenty-third street contains $6,000,000 worth. There must be scores of business houses containing from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 worth of goods. The goods stored in three or four business districts would more than pay the national debt. The goods in the great clothing district run up into the hundreds of millions. The little jewelry district down town is one of the richest urban areas in the world.

Silverware, gold, and jewels valued at hundreds of millions are stored in the district centred about Union square. The samples of a single hat house brought at auction in a recent year $70,000. Some of the most precious articles in proportion to bulk are stored in the drug and chemical and perfumery houses in the region south of Fulton street and east of William.

N. F. Green is removing his dry goods and carpet business from Myrtle and Washington avenues, Brooklyn, to Broadway and Sumner avenue.

The Hartford Carpet Company have advanced the price of their Axminsters 2½ cents a yard. The advance takes effect on this the 1st inst. and does not apply to orders booked before this date.

Geo. B. Swayne, manager of W. & J. Sloane's straw matting department, reached San Francisco on the 27th ult. on his way home from China and Japan, where he has been attending to the interests of his department.

William B. Kendall, of the Bigelow Carpet Company, started on the 24th ult. on a pleasure trip to California. On the way he will stop at New Orleans and Galveston, and will not return to New York before the latter part of March.

John P. Griffin and Henry B. Sullivan, composing the firm of Griffin & Sullivan, dealers in furniture and carpets 1260 Broadway, Brooklyn, made a general assignment on the 28th ult. to John Monahan, of 25 Bleecker street, New York. The firm began business in May last, Mr. Griffin having been up to that time with M. M. Terry and previously with Theo. W. Bailey & Co. until their retirement from business. Mr. Sullivan had been with Tefft, Weller & Co. and Dunham, Buckley & Co.

The New York salesrooms of Reune Martin & Sons have been materially altered and improved. New steel ceilings have been put in, and a rearrangement of the counting room and salesroom enables the firm to show samples under a much better light than heretofore, and still retain ample space for the office business. The firm report a very satisfactory business, and an especially great demand for the Hartford Axminsters, a fact which will be readily understood by anyone who inspects the superb line of patterns in these goods which the Messrs. Martin have now on view.

At the annual meeting of W. & J. Sloane (corporation) held on the 22d ult., the following trustees were elected : John Sloane, Walter W. Law, William D. Sloane, Henry T. Sloane and George McNeir. The same officers were re-elected, namely : John Sloane, president ; Walter W. Law, vice-president ; Henry T. Sloane, treasurer ; and George McNeir, secretary. A semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. was declared and the general report shows a most prosperous condition for this ably managed company.

A. Abraham, of the firm of Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn, has just been defeated in an endeavor to enrich Cornell University. Some time ago he authorized President Schurman to purchase the great Oriental library of the late Ernest Renan as a gift from him to Cornell University. An offer was accordingly sent to Paris. Reports indicated that it would probably be accepted, when Madame Calman Levy, the widow of Renan's publisher, announced her intention of presenting it to the Bibliothèque National. So the French nation and not the American will enjoy the advantages of this great collection.

The Dry Goods Alliance, A. M. Cooper manager, is this year composed of the following concerns: Reid & Hughes, Norwich, Conn.; Ives, Upham & Rand, Meriden, Conn.; the Barnard, Sumner & Putnam Company, Worcester, Mass.; W. G. Webber & Co., Salem, Mass.; the A. M. Church Company, Troy, N. Y.; Howe & Stetson, New Haven, Conn.; H. S. Barney & Co., Schenectady, N. Y.; Reid & Hughes, Waterbury, Conn.; James H. Bunce, Middletown, Conn.; Reid & Hughes, Lawrence, Mass.; Shartenberg & Robinson, Pawtucket, R. I.; L. B. Ogilvie & Co., Paducah, Ky.; Sage, Allen & Co., Hartford, Conn.; Howland Stark Company, Bridgeport, Conn.

Abraham & Straus are preparing for an addition to their big store in Brooklyn. They have secured the ground bounded by Livingston street and Gallatin place, 90x175 feet, and adjoining their present business building. It is their intention to erect on this a seven story steel frame and stone structure, which with the ground will cost about $500,000. Negotiations for the ground began about five years ago, and the property has been slowly acquired by the purchase of a house or two at a time. Mr. Abraham is a firm believer in the ultimate annexation of Brooklyn to New York, and with this in view he proposes to erect a building that the city will be proud of, and that he hopes will be in accord with the increased business of the future.

The following buyers were in the market during the past fortnight : Messrs. Morris Benson, for the Adam, Meldrum & Anderson Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; E. J. Kuhne, for Brown, Thomson & Co., Hartford, Conn.; W. G. Rogers, for Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.; W. C. Packard, of the W. C. Packard Furniture and Carpet Company, Salem, Mass.; G. Rothschild, of Rothschild Brothers, Ithaca, N.Y.; Frank A. Ray, for Wm. M. Whitney & Co., Albany, N. Y.; S. Lightbody, of Wingate, Lightbody & Gould, West Superior, Wis.; H. E. Brandt, of E. S. Brandt & Son, Hagerstown, Md.; Feldhauser, of the Cordes, Feldhauser & Loftus Carpet Company, Denver, Col.; C. W. Toles, for A. M. Rothschild & Co., Chicago ; W. H. Trask, of Trask, Prescott & Richardson, Erie, Pa.; Walter S. Mackay, of Alex. Mackay & Son, San Francisco ; H. Rosenthal, of H. Rosenthal & Son, Baltimore ; W. A. ....James J. Gleeson, formerly of the firm of Gleeson Brothers, carpets and furniture, Philadelphia, is now with Ivins, Dietz & Magee.

....George Boyd, of Boyd, Harley & Co., has returned from a trip taking in the carpet dealers in the principal cities, in the interest of his firm's cut order department.

....One of the blanket mills comprised in the extensive plant of J. & J. Dobson, at Manayunk, was burned on the 24th ult. The loss is $35,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

....Among the recent visitors at the Philadelphia Bourse were H. Stumpf, buyer for Siegrist & Fraley, Buffalo, N. Y., and S. H. Foxwell, buyer for Frank J. Murphy, Baltimore.

....Edward C. Read, Howard and Lehigh avenue, has recorded several very handsome orders at his room, 672 Bourse Building. His line of Ingrains is large and of a high order of excellence in quality and style.

....McCallum & McCallum have issued a most useful handbook for the benefit and convenience of their customers. It contains a complete code of cypher words adapted to all the grades of goods they handle, and so arranged that mistakes are carefully guarded against. It is handsomely bound and of convenient size for the pocket.

....The stable of Strawbridge & Clothier, on Filbert street, together with adjoining buildings, will be torn down to make room for an eight story structure, which upon completion, January 1, 1897, will be occupied by that firm for their jobbing and manufacturing departments, the first four stories being devoted to the former. That portion of their present store now occupied by these departments will after January 1 be utilized by the retail department.

....Andrew Cochran, the Ingrain designer, Hope and Diamond streets, has turned out and sold more designs up to date than last year and says the Ingrain manufacturers are evidently increasing their efforts in the production of new and original patterns. It is a rare exception nowadays to find an Ingrain manufacturer who does not rely upon his own selection of designs for the major part of his new line. Outright copying of another Ingrain maker's patterns is very seldom resorted to at present, although suggestions or part of the idea may be thus obtained. Few Ingrain manufacturers maintain a designing force in their mills, and even where one or more designers are exclusively employed by a manufacturer the latter is still a liberal buyer from the public designer. The majority of the latter devote their efforts to Ingrain work and Mr. Cochran is a pioneer and stands in the front rank of the profession.

....Dickey & McMaster are obtaining a fair share of the orders on Damasks and Venetians. Their goods are made on the improved power looms, and in weave, material and style are the best possible results in these fabrics.

....Henry Holmes, proprietor of the Sherman Mills, has his suite of rooms, Nos. 684 and 686 Bourse Building, open for trade, with samples of all the grades of Ingrain carpets he makes on exhibition. His show is very attractive.

....The Fürst Bismarck, which sailed from Hoboken on the 28th ult. for a trip to the Mediterranean and the Orient, carried among her passengers Hon. John Wanamaker and Isaac Clothier, of Strawbridge & Clothier, and his family.

....Chas. P. Cochrane, manufacturer of special grades of Ingrain carpets, has his room, 666 Bourse Building, open and ready for trade. Samples of his various specialties are on exhibition, and Mr. Cochrane himself has charge of the room.

....Wm. Henderson has rooms in the Bourse open for trade and will take charge of them personally. His new "Acme" weave is meeting with good success. Mr. Wm. Henderson, Jr., has just returned from a very encouraging trip through New York State.

....An announcement made from D. Jamieson's Sons, the Ingrain manufacturers, will be found on page 107. All of their looms are running and sales are ahead of the same time last year. The Messrs. Jamieson are producing Ingrains in modern ideas of style and coloring and in reliable standard quality, and the satisfactory condition of their business is well deserved.

MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTIONS.

The National Convention of American Manufacturers held at Chicago recently adopted strong resolutions protesting against free trade and in favor of tariff protection. The competition of Japanese manufactures was the subject of an elaborate report presented by C. H. Clark, of Philadelphia, in which it was stated that American manufacturing industries were gravely menaced by the rivalry of a country in which skilled labor may be had at a cost of 10 or 15 cents a day. Among the vice-presidents elected by the association were Benjamin Atha, of Atha & Hughes New York, and Thos. P. Egan, of the J. A. Fay & Egan Company, Cincinnati.

The Textile Manufacturers' Association of the South and West held a convention at Chicago on the 21st ult. and adopted resolutions condemning the reductions in the woolen and cotton schedules made by the Wilson tariff law.

CARPET LINING AT $3.75 A BALE.

E. W. Sutton, the well-known carpet lining manufacturer, 53, 55 and 57 Sedgwick street, Brooklyn, is in a position to strongly interest every buyer of linings. The new buildings put up by him at his present location afford ample space for his extensive and continually increasing business, and with the new machinery recently added he is well equipped to meet promptly every demand of the trade. Write to him for a sample of his manilla taped carpet lining, white cotton filling, at $3.75 a bale.

CHICAGO CARPET NOTES.

CHICAGO, JANUARY 25.

Charles Birkle, of the Fair, has gone East.

Among the members of the National Manufacturers' Association which met here this week was Robert Dornan, of Philadelphia.

Paul Huebner, of W. & J. Sloane's New York office, was here a few days this week.

W. C. Hunter, who is now traveling through Michigan for W. & J. Sloane, is in the city. Mr. Hunter will probably move his family East within a few days.

A. M. Rothschild & Co. will come into possession May 1 of 160 feet frontage on State stree, adjoining their present location on the north. This will give them 360 feet frontage on this street. Preparations are being made to enlarge the store.

The roadmen of the Chicago Carpet Company are not all in yet. Mr. Baldwin says the venture of his firm into the wholesale field has been successful, and that they are in it to stay. Their rug department is attracting great attention for its artistic showrooms and the quality of goods carried.

The Chicago office of J. & J. Dobson is in charge of Theo. A. Steenson, who has as his assistant Charles Hafkemeyer. The latter looks after the office while Mr. Steenson is on the road. Mr. Steenson returned from his trip January 7. He says that while business was not up to expectations, nevertheless he secured his share of what was going. His experience was that the merchants in the West were holding off before placing orders in the hope that business would settle down after a while enough to allow them to know "where they are at." Mr. Steenson's office is in Rooms 401 and 402 Champlain Building.

Joseph Weber, manager of Mandel Brothers' rug department, has just returned from the Orient, where he conducted a successful campaign for rugs for his house. He was in Constantinople during some of the excitement incident to the Armenian troubles, and says the sight of an American man-of-war in the harbor one morning gave him a sense of security which was necessary for his peace of mind just at that time. On account of the Armenian troubles Mr. Weber predicts that rugs will be higher in price shortly. He says the caravans which bring the goods from the interior cannot get through any longer, and the supply is becoming shortened.

HARTFORD CARPET COMPANY'S OFFICERS.

The election of directors of the Hartford Carpet Company, on the 22d ult., resulted in the choice of the following board: Jonathan B. Bunce, Roland Mather, John L. Houston, James J. Goodwin, George Roberts, Charles M. Beach, James B. Cone. Later in the afternoon the directors elected these officers: President, John L. Houston; vice-president, George Roberts; treasurer, John L. Houston; assistant treasurer, George Roberts; secretary, George B. Newton. Mr. George Roberts, who has been the secretary for nineteen years, succeeded Mr. Jonathan B. Bunce as vice-president. Mr. Roberts has been the acting manager of the company for the past six months, during the absence of the president, Mr. Houston, who is abroad with somewhat impaired health. The new secretary, Captain George B. Newton, has been head bookkeeper for the company for seventeen years, succeeding Mr. A. B. Crowell in the position in 1878.

Muir & Scott, Williamsport, Pa., will use the basement of the Star Clothing House for a carpet room, and will connect it with their main basement to secure additional space.

J. W. Tompkins, Saugerties, N. Y., has sold his business to E. C. Reed, formerly of the firm of Turner, Reed & Co., Norwich, N. Y., and J. M. Reed, of Lakeville, Conn.

Miller Brothers, Chattanooga, Tenn., have bought the stock of the Macdonald Carpet Company, and have moved it into their store, where W. C. Macdonald is now acting as manager of Miller Brothers' carpet department.

The business of W. R. Fanning, West Superior, Wis., has been bought by Geo. L. Spicer and E. A. Holden, who have incorporated the concern with a paid up capital of $75,000. Mr. Holden is from Oshkosh, and Mr. Spicer was business manager for Mr. Fanning.

Siebecker & Watkins, Scranton, Pa., request us to state that they owned one-half interest in the late firm of Kerr, Siebecker & Co., and received for the same one-half of the stock, accounts, &c., and are now doing business in one of the two stores formerly occupied by Kerr, Siebecker & Co.

The Dover Furniture Company, Dover, N. H., have been very successful in their carpet department, and have found it necessary to enlarge it, so that it now occupies three times as much space as their old carpet room afforded, and is now one of the largest carpet departments in that part of the State.

Alex. Mackay & Son, furniture and carpet dealers, San Francisco, have secured another floor in the building which they occupy, giving them about 2,500 additional square feet of floor space, which will be devoted entirely to furniture. Walter S. Mackay, of the firm, has been in the New York market recently replenishing stock.

The first section of Hahne & Co.'s new store at Newark, N. J., facing on Halsey street, is about completed and the furniture department has been removed to the second floor, where it occupies about 60,000 square feet of space. Besides the spacious stairway leading from the first floor, the department will have elevator connections with the Halsey street entrance. With the acquisition of additional space the firm will, in addition to the cheap and medium grades heretofore carried, put in a full line of high-class goods. About May 1 the erection of a second section, fronting 300 feet on New street and about 100 feet on Broad street, will be begun.

A new building, 60x400 feet and six stories in height, with a basement, is to be erected at Cleveland, Ohio, for the Hoyt Dry Goods Company, of Saginaw, Mich. The store of the company at Saginaw may possibly be sold to a syndicate. The new Cleveland store will be managed by John G. Hoyt and Alexander Hoyt.

The furniture and undertaking firm of Striffler & Tiffany, Meadville, Pa., has been dissolved, Mr. Tiffany retiring. James L. Swickard and Charles L. Tribby, of the carpet firm of Swickard & Tribby, have purchased Mr. Tiffany's interest and combined their stock of carpets, &c., with the furniture and undertaking establishment. The new firm is known as the Swickard, Striffler & Tribby Company (Limited).

W. G. Wheat has become a partner in the business of Meekins, Packard & Co., Springfield, Mass., and the firm name will be changed to that of Meekins, Packard & Wheat. The spacious store of the concern is being still further enlarged so as to add about 35,000 square feet of floor space. These and other important improvements, which will cost about $20,000, indicate that the firm is determined to become an even more conspicuous factor than ever before in the trade of Springfield.

Stone & Thomas, of Wheeling, W. Va., whose stock, as we recently reported, was badly damaged by the bursting of water pipes, used the accident to so good advantage by judicious advertising that their loss was reduced to a very small amount. They were in town last week buying stock to replenish their empty shelves. The firm are about to reconstruct their premises, adding two stories to one of the buildings and four to the other, making the whole six stories in height. C. L. Stone, a brother of the head of the firm, is manager of the carpet and upholstery department.

Louis A. Geis, dealer in carpets, curtains and bedding, Johnstown, Pa., will remove about the 15th inst. from the Quinn Building on Clinton street to new and enlarged quarters in the Wehn Building, where he will open a furniture department, handling full lines of all the best grades of goods. The first and second floors of the new building will be devoted to furniture, while the carpets will be shown on the third. Each floor is 30x58 feet. Mr. Geis was in the market last week to visit the New York Furniture Exposition and incidentally made a tour of the carpet showrooms, and also favored The Review with a call.

W. H. Warne has sold his furniture and carpet business at Parkersburg, W. Va., to William C. Murdoch and his son, Charles Warne, who will continue it under the firm name of Murdoch & Warne. Both gentlemen are said to be well qualified to carry on the business successfully. W. H. Warne retires on account of ill health. The business was established by him in 1866 and is the oldest of its kind in the city. It was started under the firm name of Warne & Little, the junior partner being R. A. Little. George Leonard purchased Mr. Little's interest, and the name of the firm was changed to Warne & Leonard. Later the name was changed to Warne & Co., C. C. Martin being his partner. Finally Mr. Warne purchased the entire business, and since 1883 has conducted it himself.

BALTIMORE AND THE SOUTH.

A company has been formed in Washington, D. C., to erect a 100-room hotel at Ocean City, Md.

Colonel Holcombe, with the E. R. Artman-Treichler Company, Philadelphia, was in town last week.

J. H. Valentine, carpet and furniture auctioneer, has removed to No. 6 North Broad street, Richmond, Va.

The store of David L. Bowen, Parran, Md., was broken into the 18th inst. and robbed of a large quantity of goods.

The Traveling Men's Club House, North Liberty street, was damaged $100 by fire the 19th inst. Loss covered by insurance.

J. W. & T. L. Burch, St. Matthews, S. C., have moved their stock into the vacant store adjoining Whaley & Hennegan.

The store of Jones & Neavitt, Bozman, Md., was burned the 18th inst. with its contents. The loss is over $3,000 ; insurance, $1,900.

Bernheimer Brothers, dry goods, carpeting, &c., have added the large warehouse, No. 422 North Howard street, to accommodate the growing needs of their business.

Seymour Sycle, of the firm of Julius Sycle & Sons, Richmond, Va., was married to Miss Minnie Stern, the 15th inst., in the Grand Lodge room of the Masonic Temple.

News was received in Baltimore, the 22d inst., of the arrival at Barbadoes of the bark Fred. P. Litchfield, from Hong Kong for Baltimore with a cargo of matting for Lyon Brothers & Co.

The carpet and furniture store of Shartzer & Bolden, Oakland, Md., together with their entire stock of goods, was destroyed by fire the 10th inst. Loss, $6,000 ; insurance, $5,000.

Buell & Roberts are meeting with much success in their carpet, furniture and window shade warerooms, adjoining their dry goods and upholstery store on King street, Charleston, S. C.

Col. D. C. Winebrenner, of D. C. Winebrenner & Co., dry goods and carpeting, Frederick, Md., has been appointed a member of the board of managers of the Frederick County Agricultural Society for the coming season.

Members of the Charcoal Club and their friends met at the club rooms, corner of Howard and Franklin streets, the 22d inst. to view a collection of the water color sketches of E. G. McDowell, of the carpet firm of McDowell & Co., and a director of the club.

The following carpet merchants have been in town within the last few days : John McDonald, Sykesville, Md.; C. C. Heilman, Greensburg, Pa.; Mr. Neidig, of Rodock & Neidig, Frederick, Md.; E. E. Heilman, Kittanning, Pa., and D. Bendheim, Alexandria, Va.

Frank J. Townsend, one of the oldest merchants in Pocomoke City, Md., died the 18th inst. He was in the seventy-seventh year of his age, and had been engaged in the general merchandise and carpeting business in Pocomoke City for nearly thirty years. At the time of his death he was the senior member of the firm of Townsend & Stevenson.

The store of T. M. Nelson, dry goods and carpeting, St. Matthews, S. C., was recently entered by burglars and robbed of goods to the value of several hundred dollars.

The carpet and furniture firm of Weeks & Klank has been dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued by Conrad Klank and Howard E. Gaither, under the firm name of Klank, Gaither & Co. Henry Weeks will continue in the capacity of general manager and auctioneer.

By virtue of a deed of trust from John T. Newman for the benefit of creditors and an order of the Circuit Court of Baltimore City, Louis Goldstrom, trustee, sold by public auction on the premises, No. 234 South Broadway, the 23d inst., all the stock of carpets, furniture, &c., also the book accounts.

JOHN CROSSLEY & SONS, LIMITED.

The thirty-first annual meeting of the shareholders in John Crossley & Sons, Limited, took place at Halifax, England, on the 17th ult. The balance sheet presented was as follows :

Assets—By freeholds, plant, stock in trade, book debts, minerals, &c., including amount of interim dividend paid August 2, 1895, per contra, £1,741,159 11s. 1d. Liabilities—Capital : 118,797 cumulative 5 per cent. preference shares, £5 each, fully paid, £593,985 ; 118,787 ordinary shares, £5, each fully paid, £593,985 ; reserve fund, £250,000 ; reserve fund No. 2, £15,000 ; liabilities, book debts, &c., £203,378 14s. 8d.; profit brought forward from last year's account, £585 14s. 2d.; profit from December 8, 1894, to this date, £84,225 2s. 3d.; total, £1,741,159 11s. 1d. The balance brought down is £84,810 16s. 5d., to which is added £5,000 proposed to be transferred from reserve fund No. 2, leaving £10,000 to the credit of that account, the total of £89,810 16s. 5d. being disposed of as follows : Interim dividend on preference shares paid August 2, 1895, £14,849 12s. 6d.; interim dividend on ordinary shares, paid August 2, 1895, £14,849 12s. 6d.; proposed dividend of 2s. 6d. per share on the preference shares, which, with the interim dividend of 2s. 6d. per share paid August 2, 1895, is equal to 5 per cent. per annum for the past year, £14,849 12s. 6d.; proposed dividend of 7s. 6d. per share on the ordinary shares, which, with the interim dividend of 2s. 6d. per share paid August 2, 1895, is equal to 10 per cent. per anum for the past year, £44,548 17s. 6d.; amount proposed to be carried to next year's account, £713 1s. 5d. The articles requiring that two of the directors (not being governing directors) shall retire yearly, Mr. G. B. Bird and Mr. George Collier retired accordingly, but were at once re-elected. The dividend will be paid on February 4 to all shareholders upon the register on December 26.

The new National Hotel at Leavenworth, Kan., was opened to the public on the 14th ult. It has been enlarged, refurnished and refitted in every particular throughout, and special attention will be given to the entertainment of commercial travelers. The proprietors, Messrs. Miller & Giacomini, are well and favorably known among carpet men.

THE BISSELL COMPANY'S VIEWS ON THE "BROOM ACTION"

On page 53, under the head of "Special Notices," will be found a letter from the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company regarding the value of the broom action in a carpet sweeper, as per the recent decision of the Court of Appeals. It should be read by all dealers.

THE H. B CLAFLIN COMPANY.

The January business in the carpet department of the H. B. Claflin Company has been the largest of any month in the history of the department. The floor business has been especially heavy. No particular class of goods has been favored at the expense of others, the purchases extending through every grade.

The Roxbury, Stinson and Firth Taps carried by the house have moved along the even tenor of their way, undisturbed by outside influence. As these concerns made no break they had no need for an advance and had nothing to take back. A notable feature of the season's trade thus far has been the demand for Hartford Axminsters, of which Mr. Winters was a heavy buyer last fall.

The new patterns in Shuttleworth Brothers' Amsterdam Brussels, for which the H. B. Claflin Company are sole agents, are meeting with extended favor, and are selling rapidly. Nye & Wait's Gold Medal Extras are sold clear up to date. The importation of Chinese and Japanese mattings is larger even than that of last year. The assortment now coming in shows the widest possible range in price and style.

To specify the various articles and makes shown in this enormous establishment would fill a volume. Probably nowhere else in the world can be found under one roof such a complete offering of everything needed for the equipment of a carpet store.

JOBS IN SMYRNA RUGS AND MATS.

We call the particular attention of buyers to the direct offers and bargains quoted by W. T. Smith & Son on page 65. They offer fifty dozen 16x34 figured Smyrna mats at $5 per dozen; seventy-five dozen 16x34 all figured Smyrna mats, with extra wool knotted fringe, $6 per dozen; fifty dozen 26x54 wool mottle Smyrna mats, 85 cents each. These are the lowest prices that can be obtained by a personal visit to the firm's mill in Philadelphia, and to give the great number of buyers throughout the country who cannot visit the market frequently an opportunity to share in some of their special values, Smith & Son decided to place these offerings before the trade in the columns of The Review instead of through former methods.

We can assure the trade that at the prices quoted the goods are bona fide special value, and that orders can be safely sent in by mail. Our readers will also favor us by referring to The Review in ordering, as if it is shown that proper attention is paid to this special offering we will be able to present in our columns other attractions to buyers distant from the market that will surely interest them.

Besides the jobs above referred to Smith & Son show on page 65 cuts and prices of four rugs in their regular line. They quote a 30x60 Smyrna rug at $1.45 each, an 18x34 mat at 60 cents each, their Gold Eagle high grade Smyrna rug at $1.65 each, their Royal Axminster patented mats, 18x36, at $6.50 per dozen, and Axminster rugs, 30x60, at $1.35 each. This is a chenille Axminster rug with one face and made exclusively by this firm under a patent. The colorings are equal to those produced in any kind of an Axminster, and the rug is particularly durable and has a high-class appearance in every respect. The price of $1.35 for a 30 inch Axminster rug should appeal to every discerning buyer.

Another specialty shown on page 65 is the Angora rug, also patented and manufactured solely by Smith & Son. It has a heavy border of fur around the edge and is backed with felt. It is a positive novelty, and very low at the price of $1.75 each for 26x54 inch size.

The prices quoted are net, subject to regular carpet terms, 4 per cent. discount ten days, or 3 per cent. discount thirty days, or net on further time. Visiting buyers can see the goods at the Philadelphia or New York salesrooms.

For every kind of thread used in making up window shades and for the "Meyer" carpet thread, send to John C. Meyer, 87 Summer street, Boston.

Thos. Potter, Sons & Co. report an improved tone to their trade during the last half of January, as compared with the first half. The linoleum and floor cloth plants are still running fully, and indications point to continued activity for some weeks yet, through the coming in of late orders. Deliveries have commenced on the new inlaid linoleum and will be made regularly from now on. The reception of this new linoleum by the trade has been very gratifying and is another evidence of the great confidence reposed in this firm by buyers; that is, they believe that everything turned out by the concern can be relied upon as being of the highest standard in quality and style.

All hands have been actively employed at the salesroom of S. Sanford & Sons, 29 Union square, New York. During the past three weeks the visiting buyers have been more numerous than ever, and they have come from all parts of the country. The sales have been considerably ahead of last year, and there is no doubt that the mills will be kept running fully throughout the season. Deliveries on any orders taken from January 11 to January 31, inclusive, made after the latter date, will be at the advanced price. Buyers, who have secured fulfillment of their spring orders at the opening season prices can congratulate themselves on being on the right side. The traveling salesmen have all returned, and are on hand to meet any of their customers coming to town.

The movement of linoleum and floor oil cloth with the Geo. W. Blabon Company continues active, the spring product up to date having been fully taken up. While the trade have become well acquainted with the thoroughly reliable quality of the goods made by the Blabon Company, the statements coming from the concern in their recent attractive advertisements relating to the materials used, have made a strong impression upon buyers and will doubtless aid in more firmly establishing the popularity of the Blabon products. The company's statements are all the more forcible coming after such a long period of modesty in public avowals of the merits of their goods. It was certainly a matter of great enterprise to establish a plant for crushing their own linseed oil, a thing not done by any other floor cloth manufacturer in this country, and, as far as we know, neither is it done abroad.

LATE UPHOLSTERY NOTES.

Eben Sugden, dealer in curtains, draperies, &c., New York, has removed from Church street to 69 Worth street.

Robert Pate, of John King & Son, Glasgow, arrived in New York on the 23d ult. per Teutonic, and sailed hence in return the 29th ult. per the same steamer.

The account of A. Glaser Nachf, of Leipsic, which was represented by the late I. R. Macpherson, is now in the hands of Johannes Meyer, 83 Leonard street.

The lace curtain machinery of the Bromley Manufacturing Company is now in steady operation on spring orders, and the machines of the Lehigh Manufacturing Company are also in full operation and have found constant employment for some few months past.

The Pinney, Casse & Lackey Company are having their usual liberal share of the window shade trade in all departments. They are moving their product of hand made opaque cloth freely, and are also receiving and shipping out larger quantities of Scotch hollands than ever.

Another of the interesting announcements from Rieser & Co., of 482 Broadway, the lace curtain importers, will be found on page 67. That they have great novelties in their spring line is acknowledged by everyone who has seen it, and what is equally attractive is that the prices are right.

R. G. Powers, with Hunninghaus & Lindemann, started out last week for a trip through New York State and has already been heard from with favorable orders. Mr. Powers' territory includes, besides New York State, New England, Pennsylvania, Baltimore, Washington and local points.

E. V. Pike, the Philadelphia chenille manufacturer, will remove his plant about April 1 to the adjoining mill on Cumberland street, above Third street. This mill is 163x 38 feet, with two floors, and will be occupied entirely by Mr. Pike in the manufacture of chenille and tapestry curtains and table covers.

A. W. Shaw, upholstery and curtain buyer for Alex. Revell & Co., Chicago, was in town last week and adds his testimony to the previous reports that there is an increasing demand for finer goods. He said that his firm did a very large business in lower grade goods during last year, but are buying a greatly increased assortment of finer goods for the spring trade. J. T. Revell, who buys the carpets, was in town with Mr. Shaw.

Charles F. Bonney, upholstery manager for Wm. Donaldson & Co., Minneapolis, has been in the market during the past fortnight, and has secured a very fine selection of the very best and newest things in the market through his careful inspection of the lines. He says that business was very good during the fall, and is keeping up well, and that stock taking results were very satisfactory; hence he was open for purchasing the usual amount of goods. His department occupies 3,500 square feet of space.

The Wilkes-Barre Lace Manufacturing Company are running to fullest capacity on lace curtains and cotton yarns. The curtain machines have run steadily for several months past on the largest orders ever taken by the concern from the leading wholesalers. The latter find that for value and popular selling styles this company are in the front among domestic manufacturers. The enlargement of their cotton yarn spinning plant is being pushed as rapidly as possible and when completed they will turn out all grades of yarns from No. 20's to No. 40's. They can interest any manufacturer using these sizes of cotton yarns on any quantity desired.

Hood, Morton & Co.'s attractive line of lace and Madras curtains and piece goods are now shown to much better advantage in the new salesroom of Ryan & McGahan, at 57 Leonard street, New York. These goods are manufactured in Scotland under all the modern economies of production, and consequently the prices quoted are the lowest.

W. T. Smith & Son, the Philadelphia manufacturers, are running to full capacity on chenille curtains and table covers and tapestry curtains and table covers. They offer a very attractive line of styles, gotten up with the particular idea of being entirely exclusive with them. Their values are equal to, if they do not exceed, any others in the market, and buyers can prove this by sending for one of their illustrated catalogues, giving lowest prices on all goods shown therein.

The Novelty Textile Printing Company have been very busy during the past month, and have good orders in hand. The gold printed and embossed fabrics turned out by them are evidently selling very freely, as the houses through which the goods are distributed say that it is impossible to get a sufficient supply of fabrics just now to fill the demand. It should be remembered that the Novelty Textile Printing Company do not sell the fabrics, but only do the printing and embossing for the distributing firms. Their works are located at 521 to 525 West Twenty-fourth street, and we suggest that manufacturers or wholesalers having fabrics to print should consult with them.

WIDE AWAKE SHADE CLOTH.

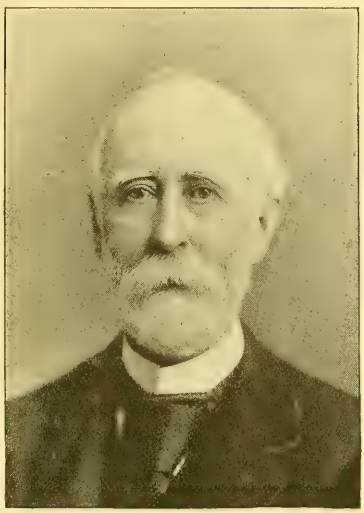
A good name for a production of window shade cloth has never been more valuable than at present. It is obvious that with all producers selling at equal prices one important influence with the buyer at present is the standard and reliability of the goods received. For the past dozen years the Wide Awake opaque shade cloth made by Henry W. Green & Co. has maintained its reputation as the top notch quality of such goods. Its standard has never been altered in any fluctuation of price, and it is the best possible result of finest materials and skilled workmanship that can be obtained in shade cloth.

It should be remembered also that the production was considerably increased during last fall and that the large manufacturing and financial resources of the firm enable them to carry in stock a complete assortment of all widths and colors, so that orders can be filled with special promptness. The trade should remember that opaque shade cloth and window shades can be bought and delivered from Philadelphia as cheaply as from any other window shade manufacturing point in the country, a fact that will be proved by sending in orders to Henry W. Green & Co.

Sample books and price lists of cloth, mounted shades, Scotch hollands and everything in the window shade line will be furnished on application. Some interesting studies in faces are given on page 71 by this firm. They show the contented feeling of those who buy Wide Awake window shade goods, and the unhappy expressions of those who have not bought Wide Awakes. Green & Co. want to include every dealer in the happy column, and ask that those who are not already there communicate with them at once.

OVER FIFTY YEARS IN THE TRADE.

Among the veterans of the carpet trade William E. Sugden, whose portrait is presented herewith, has long been a prominent figure. The present year is the fifty-seventh of his business career, which began in Middletown, Conn., where he served for four years as clerk in a dry goods store. In 1843 he went to Hartford, and entered the employ of Catlin & Co. Three years later he became a member of the firm, and when it dissolved in 1849 he continued the business under the firm name of Sugden & Co. In 1864 Charles B. Hart was admitted as a partner, and in the following year L. B. Merriam joined the firm, and its name was changed to Hart, Merriam & Co. In 1888 Mr. Merriam retired, and the present firm of Charles R. Hart & Co. was organized, with Charles R. Hart, G. W. Curtis, S. A. Bacon and Mr. Sugden as partners. The firm deals in carpets, rugs, wall papers, house furnishings, &c., and has occupied its present store since 1881. In talking to a reporter for a local paper about the changes he had witnessed in the carpet trade of Hartford Mr. Sugden said that the first Ingrain carpets he sold were consigned to Catlin & Co. by the Thompsonville Carpet Company, now the Hartford Carpet Company. All the Brussels carpets sold in the earlier years of his business career were imported, none being made in this country. In those days if one or two rooms at most were carpeted in the homes of the fairly well to do it was considered sufficient. Rag carpets were a special article of merchandise, and they were bought from the wives of farmers who wove them, and not from large manufacturers. In the course of his remarks Mr. Sugden said that there was in existence, and still on the floor of a house in Hartford, a carpet which he sold to the present owner in 1843. Mr. Sugden and his partners are old subscribers to The Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review. "I have taken it," he said, recently, "since the first number was issued, and it has always been a welcome visitor."



William E. Sugden.

Speaking lately of the New York trade in old times, Mr. Sugden said: "I began to deal with Joseph Wild & Co. when they first started in business on Cedar street, and have continued to deal with them up to the present time. When Wild & Co. were in Cedar street S. B. Chittenden & Co. were agents for the Lowell Company in New York, and had their store in the Trinity Building. E. S. Jaffray & Co. were on the floor above them. Chittenden & Co. offered through one of the leading auction houses a line of Lowell Ingrains, and Mr. Chittenden opened the sale with a speech in which he said that the goods had been offered by auction in order to introduce them in New York. I think Robbins & Powell, of Philadelphia, established the first strictly commission carpet house opened in New York to sell Philadelphia carpets, and I bought the first lot of goods they sold in New York. I have been buying from the Claflins since the first year of H. B. Claflin in New York."

HISTORY OF AN OLD AND FAMOUS FIRM.

W. S. Matthews, Maine State Commissioner of Labor Statistics, in his annual report just issued, refers to the floor oil cloth house of Alden Sampson & Sons as follows:

The story of the rise of the oil cloth business in Maine is an interesting one. It is one of the oldest industries in the State. In 1830 Alton Pope, of Vassalboro, commenced in a small way in that town the manufacture of table oil cloths, removing to Manchester Forks, 4 miles west of Augusta, in 1831, where he continued operations, employing two or three hands. Manufacturing was then conducted in an exceedingly primitive manner, the cloths being tacked on frames to dry, and when finished peddled about the country in teams. Such a thing as a floor cloth was hardly known, and as a matter of fact carpets of any kind were scarce in Maine homes. In 1832 Mr. Pope took into partnership Alden Sampson, then a young man who had been doing farm work by the month. They conducted the business together for several years, when Alden purchased his partner's interest in the business, conducting it alone afterward. He was a man of superior capacity and energy, and the business having merged into the manufacture of floor cloths he saw the possibilities before him.

The demand for oil cloths grew rapidly, and to supply it additional facilities were required for manufacturing, and but a few years elapsed ere he had a large factory in full operation, with an ample crew of men at work.

In 1861 his factory at Manchester was burned flat and he decided not to rebuild, but, purchasing the Rice manufactory at Hallowell, transferred his business to that town. He soon found that the accommodations there were not sufficient, and, deciding to locate a branch factory, established a plant on Long Island, 3 miles from New York city, which has been in constant operation since. Here are six printing machines, all run at their fullest capacity, turning out an immense quantity of cloths.

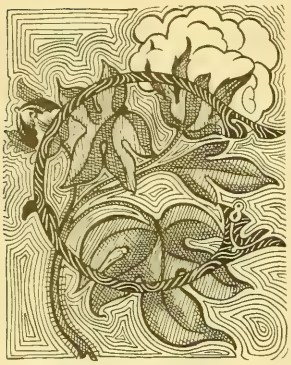
The factory at Hallowell was also operated until August, 1893, when the oil cloth business felt the chill of the financial depression and was shut down, remaining closed since. The closing of these works has been severely felt by the little city of Hallowell. They are thoroughly equipped for the manufacture of oil cloth, two printing machines being included in the equipment. From fifty to sixty men were employed, many of them veteran workmen who had been connected with the shops for a long period, and all had to look elsewhere for employment. Not a few have been obliged to leave the town. The pay roll was $2,300 a month and 65,000 yards of oil cloths were produced annually. The plant is valued at $25,000. Since the death of Alden Sampson the business has been conducted by his sons under the firm name of Alden Sampson & Sons, their offices and headquarters being in New York.

It is proposed to form a mercantile association at Chicago to assist in bringing trade to that city, make its attractions known throughout the country, and promote in other ways the interests of its merchants and manufacturers. The plan includes the erection of a building where frequent exhibitions of various kinds could be held.

"I hear the colonel got damages from the Bugle for saying he was slow pay."

"Certainly he did. He proved by twenty competent witnesses that he never paid at all."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FROM THE FIBRE TO THE FLOOR.



CARPET manufacture may be said to have been established on a practical basis in Europe in the reign of Henry IV. From that time the manufacture of the different varieties of carpets has continued to flourish and multiply in capacity, until today it represents one of the most important industries.

MATERIALS.—The materials used in the manufacture of carpets include the animal, vegetable and artificial fibres. These species represent nearly every fibre employed to produce a filament, and are divided in the following manner:

ANIMAL FIBRES.—Sheep's wool, mohair, alpaca, camel's hair.

VEGETABLE FIBRES.—Cotton, flax, hemp, jute, china grass, ramie.

ARTIFICIAL.—Shoddy, extracts, mungo, noils, flocks.

The characteristics of each of these species are imparted to the woven fabric. Whatever degree of elasticity, strength and lustre a fibre may possess is retained throughout the manufacturing processes, and its principal features characterize the finished carpet. A fine, soft feeling texture cannot be produced from a coarse, hard fibre, or a rich, lustrous finish attained when a combination of shoddy or mungo has been introduced.

THE SHEEP.—Of the several sources from which carpet materials are procured the most important is the product of the common sheep. As high as fourteen grades of wool are obtained from a single fleece. The ten principal are exhibited in Fig. 1. The portion of the fleece indicated by the letter A is the best and is characterized by an exceedingly fine, soft and lustrous property, which makes it adaptable for use in the finest and most expensive carpets. It is called the No. 1 grade.

B—This part of the fleece, termed "prime," is similar to that of A.

C, termed "choice," is a good, strong and substantial carpet wool. It is inclined to be somewhat coarser than the two previous grades, and consequently is more or less deficient in softness and lustre.

D, termed "super," represents a large portion of the fleece. It is inferior to any of the former grades, for the reason that it is constantly exposed to the weather, which tends to impart a dry, harsh feature to it.

E, termed "head," is coarse and inferior.

F and G—These grades are usually full of burrs, seeds and similar substances, therefore depreciating their value as a textile wool.

(J) Seconds are obtained from the breast and neck. The staple is coarse, stiff and hairy, possesses an abundance of burrs, and particles of straw are usually intermingled with it.

H and I are called "shanks" and "abb" respectively. They are very coarse, dirty and inferior grades. Much worsted is used in carpets. The worsted filament is distinguished from woolen by its great uniformity of structure, the regularity of its serration, and its consequent lustrous appearance. The woolen fibre is curly and uneven, while the worsted fibre is almost perfectly straight and uniform. In fact the worsted fibre is, first, the best part of the fleece; second, it is all the fine, smooth, glossy fibres extracted mechanically by the "wool comb" from the coarser and uneven ones; third, it is that part of the wool which is best qualified for the construction of fine, lustrous carpet yarns.

MOHAIR.—The product of the Angora goat is used in certain classes of carpet textiles. The distinguishing feature is its remarkable length. Its uniformity of structure is also notable. It lacks felting power, however, and therefore is not adaptable for use in a range of fabrics like that of wool. The finest grades of mohair are derived from the growth of the kid during the first year, after which period the fibre becomes coarser every year.

ALPACA.—This fibre is obtained from the animal of that name, which is a native of the Andes, and is most frequently found on the high mountains of Peru and Chili. The fibre is long, and if allowed to grow will attain the remarkable length of 20 inches. The wool of the alpaca goat is straighter than that of the sheep. It is very strong in proportion to its diameter. The color is usually brown, but still it is used in carpet weaving, for it can be colored a dark shade. The yield of yamma and of other species of the llama class are sometimes introduced into the manufacture of carpets. They are inferior in general features, however, and for this reason the demand for these fibres in the carpet trade is limited.

CAMEL'S HAIR.—The hair of the camel has of late years been used in low stock mixture, and for backings. Previous to its introduction a process is undertaken to mechanically extract the coarser fibres. The coarse grade is generally mixed with carpet wools and produces satisfactory results. The camel is a native of Western Asia, Persia and Arabia. Its hair is usually of a light brown color.

COTTON.—The cotton fibre is procured from the soft, downy substance grown by the cotton plant, an indigenous product of all intertropical regions. The filaments are usually 1½ to 2 inches long, and as they possess an extensive degree of twisting property it is very evident that they are a valuable factor in carpet yarns. The natural twisty character tends to consolidate the fibres into a firm strand; hence that class of low grade carpets which contain a percentage of cotton are characterized by their durability and elasticity. Cotton lacks the felting properties of wool, and also that desirable and important feature which is so prominently noticeable in the wool fibre—that of readily receiving and retaining dyestuffs. Wool possesses affinity for the dyestuffs, while cotton does not.

FLAX.—The flax fibre is strong and perfect and will average one two-thousandths of an inch in diameter. It is used in the manufacture of some grades of carpets. It is grown in North America and in India. The flax is steeped, dried and subjected to the teeth of the flax breaking machine, which reduces it to the proper form for manufacturing purposes.

Jute.—Jute is employed in the manufacture of carpets, rugs, upholstery and similar goods. It is obtained from the best fibre of a plant belonging to the family of the Tiliaceæ, which grows in India and China. A microscopical examination of the jute fibre shows that it consists of a combination of stiff, lustrous cylindrical filaments. They possess a central opening, and the walls are irregular and quite thick. The fibre varies considerable in color, gloss, length and general characteristics. The best qualities are a silver gray color. It is the cheapest fibre known, and therefore manufacturers find it profitable to use it.

Ramie.—The ramie fibre is now used in carpets. The fibre is first submitted to a thorough boiling and then dried, after which it is passed through the teeth of the Fearnaught machine for the purpose of opening and separating the fibres. It then passes to the fine, steel cylinders of the garnett card, which reduces the length of the staple to the equivalent of that of wool and cotton. When a long length staple is required for making fine yarns of great strength, the fibre is taken direct from the boiling kettles, dried and passed through the silk machinery, and spun and woven by this process.

Shoddy and Mungo.—Shoddy and mungo have been a valuable commodities to the carpet manufacturer of late years. A microscopical examination of shoddy or mungo will usually reveal the presence of particles of cotton, silk and frequently other fibres. This results from the great variety of material which is included in a bale of rags from the junk shop or the street. If the shoddy is produced from clean tailors' clippings the fibre produced is better. Shoddy is produced by grinding new, clean and soft rags into a fibrous form, while mungo is the product derived by subjecting old, decayed, soiled and hard fulled rags to the same process.

Extracts.—Extracts are shoddy or mungo from which all vegetable substances, such as cotton, &c., have been removed.

Noils.—Noils are a cheap substitute for wool, and consist of the short, curly fibre cast out by the wool combing machine. They are deficient in elasticity, strength, lustre and other features. In combination with pure wool, cotton and shoddy, they are frequently spun into yarns intended for weaving Scotch or Kidder carpets.

Scouring.—All classes of fibre have to be cleaned. Scouring is for the purpose of removing the animal grease, the dirt and similar substances. This work is accomplished by the use of a ponderous washing machine, so arranged that its mechanism conveys the material in course of scouring through baths of strong liquor, thus cleansing the fibres from all impurities. The principle of the hydraulic system of washing textile materials is exhibited in Figure 2.

Principle of Scouring Machine.—This sketch is an inside view.

The letter F represents a water pipe. B is a section of a large iron tank. C is the liquid ; the liquid consistt of water in which there is a compound of caustic soda, soft soap and potash. The fibre is carried into the tank by mechanical feeds. It is also removed mechanically after is has been treated and washed. The use of the pipe is to furnish a current. The traveling lattice D conducts the fibre to the squeeze rollers A. An immense pressure is applied, by which the material in process of scouring is thoroughly rinsed and passed out of the machine.

Dyeing.—Dyeing follows the scouring. There are four modes of coloring carpets, namely, (1) The raw material may be colored. (2) The yarn may be colored after it is spun. (3) Or the woven fabric may be colored. (4) And a fourth process consists in dyeing the warp yarns the requisite colors at different places in such way that the pattern is correctly formed. The first method is the best, for it allows the dyestuffs to come in contact with every portion of the fibre, thus rendering it permanent. This process is employed in Brussels and other carpets in which distinctive colored yarns are necessary. The third method is limited to carpets of one color throughout, and the fourth is extensively utilized in the weaving of Tapestries. The substances used in dyeing as the sources of coloring matter are derived from the animal, mineral and vegetable kingdoms, the greater number being obtained from the last mentioned.

Picking.—The object of picking is to open and separate the matted locks, and thoroughly to mix and combine the several colors of which the mix may be composed. The stock is evenly distributed on the feed table of the picker, which carries it to the feed rolls. The strong steel teeth of these rolls seize and pass it to a steel toothed cylinder revolving at the exceedingly high speed of 700 revolutions a minute. The tremendous force acquired by this excessive speed whirls the material out of the machine in a continuous stream, distributing and scattering it over a wide area. This operation is for the purpose of preparing the locks for the subsequent process of carding. The carding process may be practically defined as follows :

First Operation.—A thorough opening and disentanglement of the fibres.

Second Operation.—Their readjustment in a parallel form.

Third Operation. — The removal of burrs and foreign substances.

Fourth Operation. — Condensing the fibres into individual strands for spinning yarns.

Figure 3 illustrates the principles which apply to the opening and disentangling process, as the fibres pass between the two opposing surfaces of the card.

Parts of Carding Machine.—A represents the cylinder of the card which propels the fibre forward to the worker C. The wires of this cylinder are so constructed that they take up the fibres from the teeth of the main cylinder and carry it over to the stripper B. The points of this latter cylinder come in contact with the smooth side of those of the worker, consequently facilitating easy removal of the fibre from the teeth of that cylinder. The stripper in turn delivers it to the main cylinder again, and the same operation is repeated until the fibre is effectively carded. It is the function of the main cylinder to carry the fibre to the removing cylinders. The cylinder D brushes the fibres from the surface of the cylinder's teeth in order that they may be transferred to the rollers F by the ring doffer E. As this doffer is divided into sections, each section or ring removes a single film of fibres, which are rolled into a compact form by the vibrating movement of the rollers, thereby preparing it for the subsequent process of spinning. The carded roping is represented by I, where it is all rolled up and ready for use on the spinning machine. If, however, the stock is going to be combed previous to spinning the processes (1) backwashing, (2) gilling, (3) combing, and (4) drawing follow carding.

Backwashing.—While undergoing the carding processes a variety of foreign substances have been retained by the fibre. This accumulation is removed by subjecting the material to the backwashing machine, which consists of two sets of rollers and a number of hollow cylinders. The first set of rollers is immersed in a tank of cleansing liquor. Through this the material passes, and is then grasped by the second set of rollers, which are placed above the surface of the liquor. These last rollers are employed for the purpose of squeezing and rinsing the fibres. The wool then passes between the hollow cylinders, which are heated by steam, thus rapidly drying the material.

Gilling.—The next process is gilling. The main object to be attained by the operation of the gilling machine is the drawing out and straightening of the roping from the card, and preparing it for the worsted comb. This is an important process and is accomplished by a set of delivery rollers, which pass the material to a similar set of receiving rollers. Situated between these rollers is a mechanical contrivance consisting of screws, which operate a set of fallers containing the gill pins. The screws are adjusted so as to give an alternate motion to the passage of the fallers from side to side. The speed of these is quicker than that of the delivery rollers. The fibres therefore are longitudinally extended and straightened by the action of the gill pins.

Combing.—This process is a continuation of the former, and all the short, curly fibres not removed by the gill are now thrown out. The combing machine may be described as consisting of three horizontal circles, one large and two small ones, the latter revolving inside of the larger, and situated at opposite ends of its diameter. These small circles are adjusted as close as possible to the large one. The upper portions of all these circles are fitted with several series of fine, sharp steel teeth, and the mechanism of the machine is such that the fibre is forced upon them. The combing process begins at once as each circle revolves on its own axis, and any movement of their circumference necessarily results in divergences of the surfaces previously in contact. As the circles diverge each retains a portion of the fibre, thus combing and straightening out the filaments and knocking out whatever foreign substances are present. As fast as the fibre is combed it is seized by a set of rapidly revolving rollers, and drawn out from between the pins of the circles, thereby giving the final straightening to the fibres.

The "noil" is removed simultaneously with the movement. The "top" consists of the fine, long, lustrous and uniform fibres.

Drawing.—The aim of drawing is to combine two or more strands from the comb, and reduce them to the size of one again by drawing them down. The result of this operation is to equalize them into one continuous strand preparatory to spinning. This work is accomplished on the drawing frame, in which machine a system of rollers is so arranged that the process of doubling and redrawing is automatically conducted.

Drawing Process.—A top view of the drawing machine is shown (Fig. 4). A is the stock which passes between the ers, the toothed roller B effecting a separation of the fibre. The filaments are formed in a perfectly uniform line and are then ready to be spun.

Spinning.—The soft delicate strands of roping produced by the card or combing process are made firm and elastic through the agency of spinning by one of the following processes: (1) The flyer system, (2) the cop system, (3) the ring system, or (4) the mule system. In the flyer system of spinning the bobbin runs loosely on the spindle, and the amount of twist put in the yarn depends on the respective speeds of the bobbin and flyer. The object of the flyer, which is a two-armed piece extending over each side of the bobbin, is to keep the thread at a uniform tension, and also impart the twist and wind the spun yarn on the bobbin.

W. & J. SLOANE.

The immense productive facilities of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company have never been so strikingly manifested as in the lines which their sole agents, W. & J. Sloane, are showing for the spring trade.

Among the offerings are represented all the famous makes of the company—Savonneries, Axminsters, Moquettes, Gobelins, Velvets and Tapestries, in new and standard patterns, replete with choice and novel effects.

W. & J. Sloane have also many other attractions to offer in specialties controlled by them, as, for instance, the complete lines of Nairn linoleum, Reeves' floor oil cloths, cocoa mats and matting of their own manufacture, and an immense assortment of Chinese and Japanese straw matting of their own importation, comprising all grades and an almost endless variety of patterns manufactured expressly for W. & J. Sloane.

Oriental rugs and carpets are also a highly important feature of the spring offerings, for their exceptional connections and facilities in the Orient enable W. & J. Sloane to present the strongest possible inducements to all buyers of such goods.

Exports of American carpeting and rugs to Europe during the eleven months ending November 30, 1895, amounted to 280,299 yards, valued at $157,585.

The Empire rug made by Dickey & McMaster, Second and Huntingdon streets, Philadelphia, is certainly exceptional value. It is heavy, made out of clean stock, and is produced in very tasteful designs and colorings. The prices are per dozen: 36x72 inch, $12; 30x60, $8.50; 26x54, $7; 20x36, $4. A buyer cannot make any mistake in ordering a sample dozen of these rugs, and we would advise anyone who has not yet seen them to take that method of finding out their worth.

Anderson.—Thomas Anderson, formerly with W. & J. Sloane, Arnold, Constable & Co., and more recently with Thos L. Leedom & Co., has been seriously ill for many months. He is living on Hazleton avenue, Toronto, Ont., and his friends will be glad to learn that, under the careful nursing of his wife, he is rapidly regaining health and strength. His physicians express the confident hope that he will be able to return to business in the spring.

Babbott.—While Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Babbott were returning from a dinner party on the night of the 23d ult. the horses attached to their carriage became unmanageable, and the coach was overturned. Mr. Babbott's arm was broken by the fall, but Mrs. Babbott was uninjured. Mr. Babbott is treasurer of the Chelsea Jute Mills.

Hendricks.—D. G. Hendricks, the well-known carpet dealer at Chester, Pa., has received the nomination of the Prohibitionist for party mayor of that city.

Hockridge.—W. G. Hockridge, of the rug and matting department of Arnold, Constable & Co., returned from his trip to China and Japan on January 28.

Hubbard.—Mr. Hubbard, manager of the Chicago office of the Union Carpet Lining Company, visited the Boston headquarters recently. Mr. Hubbard is well satisfied with the business to date and the outlook at Chicago.

Leib.—J. Louis Leib, the wealthy printing ink manufacturer, who died at Yonkers, N. Y., on January 25, was acquainted with many of the artists connected with the carpet industry. He was the father-in-law of Arthur Middleton Rose, the well-known designer.

McGarvey.—Edward McGarvey, of S. W. Woolsey & Son, Brooklyn, N. Y., has been re-elected a trustee of the Kings County Savings Bank of that city.

Mee.—William J. Mee, who has been with Lord & Taylor (Grand street store), New York, for the past sixteen years, is now with M. C. Spencer & Co., 125th street, west.

Miller.—Ex-Assemblyman Robert Miller, of Robert Miller & Son, the Eighth avenue carpet and furniture dealers, took the oath of office as a deputy tax commissioner before Mayor Strong on the 23d ult.

Miller —J. M. Miller, son of the late John Miller, of Cook, Sons & Co., London, sailed from New York for England per Teutonic the 29th ult. He expects to return to the States in some connection with the carpet trade in the near future.

Moore.—A. E. Moore, who had the carpet department in the department store of Z. L. White & Co., Columbus, Ohio, and who was formerly of the firm of Howald & Moore, has given up the carpet business and gone into coal mining. He says there 's more money in coal than in goods which have to be marked down every six months.

Packard.—A. A. Packard, of Meekins, Packard & Co., Springfield, Mass., who makes frequent trips to the market, was in New York last week and made a hurried call at The Review office. In addition to his many duties, Mr. Packard has taken up the purchase of housefurnishing wooden ware for a new department which his firm is about opening.

Quinn.—J. J. Quinn, manager of the Hanover Furniture Company, Boston, was recently presented with a handsome diamond ring by his business friends.

Solls.—A. J. Solls, Jr., of the Union Carpet Lining Company's Boston warehouse, has recently returned from a business trip to Europe.

Walter.—C. R. Walter, of the firm of D. N. & E. Walter & Co., San Francisco, sailed from that port on the steamer China on December 31 for Yokohama and Kobe, Japan. The San Francisco Report said anent Mr. Walter's departure: "In discussing the invasion of Japanese goods, Mr. Walter said that there was no doubt that the trade was greatly on the increase. He has made a number of trips to Japan and China on buying expeditions and thoroughly understands the situation. The importations of his firm from the Orient reach an enormous figure every year, and it was obvious that he did not care to discuss the question at length. He said, however, that the Japanese were rapidly adopting foreign methods and machinery in manufacture, and thought that in time something would have to be done to save competition with American manufacturers."

White.—John R. White, Jr., formerly of Boyd, White & Co., is a member of the new carpet firm recently formed in Los Angeles, Cal., under the title of White, Steelman & White.

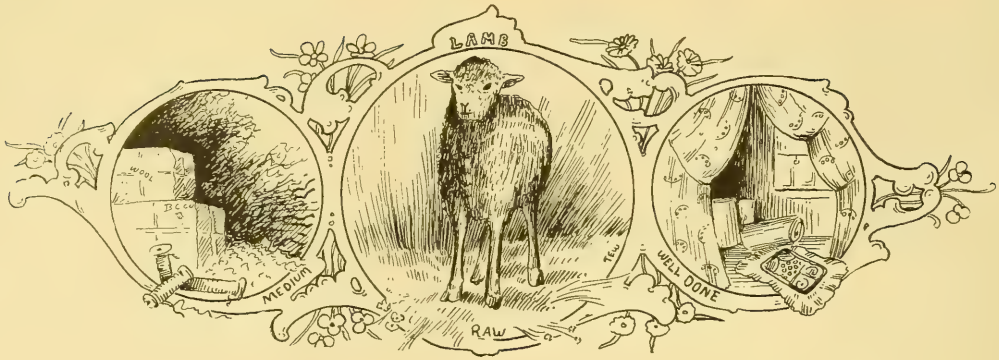
POPULAR FLOOR OIL CLOTHS.

As has been previously noted in these columns, the leading floor oil cloth manufacturers, with few exceptions, now print with large machines perfected within recent years. These machines have evidently solved the problem of rapid, economical and perfect printing, and one of the latest improved machines is operated by R. H. & B. C. Reeve, of Camden, N. J. They print every grade of floor cloth on this machine, having utilized it on the No. 1's during the past six months, and are therefore turning out uniformly accurate and perfect printing on all qualities. That the trade appreciate the Reeve goods is shown in the fact that their machine has run steadily night and day on all working days since the fall of 1894.

A feature with this concern is the maintaining of a stock of every pattern and width and the consequent quick filling of orders. As a rule, orders are shipped out the day they are received, and the use of the long distance telephone between the warerooms of W. & J. Sloane, New York, the sole agents, and the works at Camden, N. J., has accomplished wonders in the delivery of goods. R. H. & B. C. Reeve issued a catalogue in December showing exact reproductions in colors of some of their leading sellers, and a copy of this interesting catalogue can be obtained on application to W. & J. Sloane, New York.

The trustees of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art are endeavoring to raise the sum of $30,000, this amount being imperatively needed to sustain the school. The trustees have themselves agreed to raise $17,000 and they now ask the friends of the school for a special contribution of $13,000. It is to be hoped that subscriptions toward this amount will be promptly forthcoming.

On page 105 of this issue A. A. Vantine & Co. present some attractive illustrations of tabourets, stools, &c., in their Oriental furniture department, and call attention also to their exceptionally extensive offerings in Japanese and Chinese mattings, Oriental rugs and carpets and Japanese jute rugs. The especially conspicuous position of Vantine & Co. as importers of Oriental goods is well illustrated in the immense extent and variety of their offerings for the coming season.



POTPOURRI OF CARPET NEWS

KOHN BROTHERS' dry goods and carpet store at Fostoria, Ohio, was closed by the sheriff on January 14 on executions amounting to $23,000 in favor of Bertha Eckstein and Meyer Friend of New York, and Bella Kohn, of Fostoria. There are other claims aggregating $25,000, the largest creditor being the H. B. Claflin Company, New York.

Jay Kenner, Flora, Ill., has sold out.

E. D. Hall & Co., Columbiana, Ala., have sold out.

Nash, Horney & Co. succeed H. B. Nash at Bowen, Ill.

C. E. Clark succeeds Stevens & Clark at Bradford, Vt.

E. H. Alton succeeds Alton & Bonnet at Birmingham, Iowa.

Frank L. Randels is a new dealer in carpets at Salem, N. Y.

L. Daniel & Co. have sold out their business at Roberline, La.

De Con & Evans, Woodbine, Iowa, are succeeded by M. A. Evans.

L. Gifford & Co., Davison, Mich., are closing out their business.

Frank & Frank, Sleepy Eye, Minn., have dissolved partnership.

At Cherry Vale, Kan., Coral & Hurst have dissolved partnership.

Watson & Oliver, Marble Falls, Texas, have dissolved partnership.

Ritchie, Tucker & Co., Warrensburg, Ill., have dissolved partnership.

The MacDonald Carpet Company, Chattanooga, Tenn., has sold out.

W. S. Burt has sold his furniture and carpet business at Claremont, Va.

J. S. O'Hanlon has opened a furniture and carpet store at Camden, N. J.

The Union Mercantile Company's store at Gurley, Ala., was burned out recently.

Henry Jacobs, Wheeling, W. Va., says: "Business has been very good so far, and the outlook for a good spring trade is very encouraging. Carpets are selling freely and business in general is good."

Samuel Henry has sold his furniture and carpet business at Lacon, Ill., to L. A. Lenz.

Anderson & Mohrdall, Sioux City, Ia., are succeeded by the Union Dry Goods Company.

Roth & Smith, furniture and carpet dealers, Russell, Kan., have dissolved partnership.

Baird & Adams, dry goods and carpet dealers, Cameron, Texas, have dissolved partnership.

At McConnellsville, Ohio, C. N. Adams succeeds Adams & Rusk in dry goods and carpets.

R. Webster, who carried a line of carpets in his general store at Durand, Ill., has sold out.

G. H. Strange, Silvam Springs, Ark., has sold out to the Benton County Hardware Company.

Hanna, Reinking & Temple succeed W. B. Hanna & Son in carpets, &c., at Clarence, Iowa.

Reed & Tomlinson, furniture and carpet dealers, Topeka, Kan., are succeeded by W. H. Reed.

Porter & Vaughn, dry goods and carpet dealers, Cartersville, Ga., have dissolved partnership.

The Lamond-Robertson Company have begun the manufacture of rugs at Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. D. H. Baruch succeeds H. Baruch in the dry goods and carpet business at Charlotte, N. C.

R. W. Tucker has retired from the furniture and carpet firm of J. H. Almond & Co., Conyers, Ga.

Hart & Royer, Postville, Ia., have dissolved partnership. The business will be continued by J. B. Hart.

Wm. Maxwell will succeed Arnold, Maxwell & Co. in the furniture and carpet business at Crawford, Ga.

Funkenstein & Buckwald have removed their furniture and carpet business from Winder to Athens, Ga.

R. H. Skillin has sold his carpet and furniture business at Lebanon, Kan., to George Tuthill, of Cawker City.

The William Hengerer Company, Buffalo, are furnishing the carpets for the big Hotel Metropole in Philadelphia.

R. W. Soule, Augusta, Me., has leased the Allen Block, and will soon occupy it for his carpet and furniture business.

Samuel Oakes, 196 and 198 West Fifth street, Cincinnati, in a suit against Samuel Shott alleges that when their partnership was dissolved, January 1, 1889, Shott agreed to pay all outstanding debts, but has failed to pay four notes of $319.11 each, given by the firm to Henrietta Hasselberg in 1885. Oakes now holds these notes and sues Shott to recover $1,276.44 on them.

Huber & Chittenden, New London, Conn., recently secured the contract for carpeting the new A. O. U. W. Hall in Groton.

Preble & Keene, furniture and carpet dealers, Gardiner, Me., have dissolved partnership. W. G. Preble will continue the business.

Shartzer & Bolden's furniture and carpet store at Oakland, Md., was burned on January 10. Loss, $6,000; insurance, $5,000.

W. T. Breeden has purchased the interest of Douglass Fields in the dry goods and carpet firm of Breeden & Co., Bloomington, Ind.

The stock of the W. T. Bell Dry Goods Company, Cleveland, Ohio, was sold by auction recently to Wm. Taylor, Son & Co. for $18,000.

William W. Gilby's dry goods and carpet store at Westfield, N. J., was destroyed by fire on January 24. Loss, $20,000; fully insured.

Dwinnell & Phillips, furniture and carpet dealers, Glover, Vt., have dissolved partnership. C. S. Phillips continues the business.

Shimer & Co., Allentown, Pa., who are closing out their business, expect to have the stock disposed of within the next thirty or sixty days.

The British Columbia Furniture Company succeeds the Sehl, Hastie & Erskine Furniture Company at Victoria, B. C. Jacob Sehl is the manager.

The firm of Zebold Brothers, dealers in dry goods and carpets, at 339 Genesee street, Buffalo, N. Y., will be succeeded on March 1 by Charles F. Zebold.

It is reported that the Gruetter & Joers Furniture Company, Lincoln, Neb., has given a chattel mortgage for $13,350 and that the mortgagees are in possession.

The firm of Eastman, Schleicher & Lee, Indianapolis, Ind., has been incorporated and will do business under the corporate title of the Eastman, Schleicher & Lee Company.

Asher & Ledbetter and I. G. Berridge & Co.'s stores at McLeansborough, Ill., were burned out recently. Asher & Ledbetter were fully insured and Berridge & Co. partly insured.

House & Herman, Washington, D. C., are about completing their new store and will have handsome and improved quarters for the display of carpets, furniture and upholstery.

The Parker Block at Great Barrington, Mass., a portion of which was occupied by ex-Senator A. S. Fassett's dry goods and carpet store, was burned on January 15. Mr. Fassett's loss is estimated at $15,000.

The Central Carpet Lining Company, A. H. Smith president, Joliet, Ill., which was burned out in December, started up again on January 27. The paper mill escaped and the lining mill has been entirely rebuilt.

Anent the failure of Marcus Anderson, La Crosse, Wis., which was announced in the last issue of The Review, a local paper says: "The failure is principally due to the sharp competition in the carpet trade, which has lowered prices to such a degree that it became impossible for a merchant carrying simply that line of goods to do a living business. Mr. Anderson's creditors of late have been pushing him for a settlement, thus bringing matters to a crisis. The liabilities, Mr. Anderson states, are about $7,000, and the assets, according to the last invoice, about $10,000. He is in arrears $600 or $700 for rent, $100 per month."

The third floor of J. W. Brigg's store at Bloomington, Ill., has been fitted up for a carpet and drapery department.

J. V. Way & Co.'s furniture and carpet store at Chadron, Neb., has been closed by the sheriff. Liabilities, $3,000; assets, $2,000.

Judge Wilson has overruled the motion to remove Frank Seinsheimer as receiver of Peck, Bejach & Co., the Fifth street, Cincinnati, furniture and carpet dealers. Cobb & Howard, for the application, represented unsecured creditors to the amount of $3,500, while creditors, whose claims aggregated $16,000, asked that the receiver be retained.

The Rosenheim Company, general dealer in dry goods, carpets, &c., Nashville, Tennessee, the largest retail concern in the city, made an assignment on the 20th ult. to secure all creditors. The company hopes to make a satisfactory settlement and resume business. The inventory on August 1 last showed assets, $153,000; liabilities, $46,000.

LANCASTER LINOLEUM.

Lyon Brothers & Co., importers and shipping merchants, 6 South street, Baltimore, Md., in a recent circular to the trade say of Lancaster linoleum:

"All extravagance of price has been squeezed out! Nothing to pay for what you do not get! Increase your turnover and swell your profits!

"Lancaster English linoleum is warranted free from adulterations, and is composed strictly of the best velvet cork and pure oxidized linseed oil, ground together in those proportions producing the greatest toughness and elasticity. This 'mash' is spread on a canvas foundation, then pressed and tempered by the best methods money can procure or experience suggest. The body cloth or 'blank' thus produced is then printed in a wide range of artistic designs with the most adhesive and durable colors possible to obtain, embracing a selected assortment of mosaics, tiles, geometrics, arabesques, floral and imitation inlaids.

"The quality of all materials used will be found identical with the highest cost goods. Reliability in every way guaranteed. Durability is shown by long experience in actual hard and constant wear to be equal to linoleum sold at double the price. One hundred and thirty-nine different patterns are displayed.

"'Enameled Lancaster English Linoleum' is a special thickness prepared to take the place in all respects of extra wide oil cloth, heretofore regarded as the best bright, grease-proof and waterproof floor covering to be had.

"The body cloth of this enameled variety is floated with enamel color on top of the cork and oil mash, and on this the figure is placed, and on top of all a binding coat of the best enamel varnish is floated, precisely as the best carriage work is finished, resulting in the brightest, most elastic and durable, water and grease proof, easily cleaned floor cloth ever supplied and at half the price of the extra heavy oil cloth, yet having a top wearing surface under foot and above canvas foundation three times as thick.

"Twenty-seven patterns are shown."

We have heretofore referred to the admirable work being done by the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art in the education of artist artisans. The State appropriation for the uses of the school having failed for the year 1895–6, the institution is obliged to call on its friends for aid. Thirty thousand dollars is imperatively needed at this time to sustain the schools. One of the members of the committee who will receive subscriptions is Alexander Crow, 2212 Linn street, Philadelphia.

No. 553,101. Carpet Sweeper.—Charles S. Chafee, Alvan S. Hoffman and Frank A. Green, Derby, Conn., assignors of one-fourth to Henry D. Sawyer, same place. Filed December 22, 1894. Issued January 14, 1896.

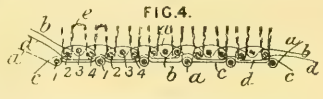
No. 553,151. Carpet Fastener.—Ebenezer M. Childs, Elgin, Ill. Filed June 8, 1895. Issued January 14, 1896.

Patented in England.

No. 14,970. August 4, 1894. Carpets; Pile Fabrics.—A. Webb, St. Mary's terrace, London road, Worcester; G. M. Whittall, Spring Bank, Wribbenhall, near Bewdley, Worcestershire, and F. B. Fawcett, 44 Cumberland road, Kidderminster. Issued January 8, 1896.

Brussels and Tapestry carpets and other pile fabrics are woven in such a manner that each wire or row of tufts is bound by two shots of weft, instead of three, the cycle being completed in two rows of tufts or four shots of weft. In the figure a, b are binding warps, of which a passes to the back of the fabric at every fourth shot and b merely passes below the weft; c, d are stuffer and dead warps respectively, merely passing above the weft at every fourth shot; and e is the pile or figure warp, which is raised by a jacquard at alternate shots to form a double shed for the pile wire and the weft shuttle respectively.

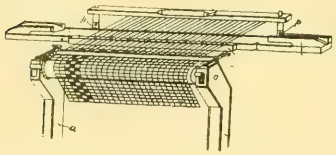
FIG. 4.



No. 553,222. Process of and Apparatus for Treating Wool.—James C. Anderson, Highland Park, Ill. Filed April 25, 1895. Issued January 21, 1896.

No. 553,253. Carpet Loom.—William F. McCready, Homewood, Pa. Filed November 30, 1894. Issued January 21, 1896.

Claim.—1. In a temple, the combination with the pin and pressure rollers of temple carriers each consisting of a casting having a horizontal plate portion secured to the loom frame, and a downwardly extending vertical portion having an elongated slot, a plate having oppositely arranged open ended slots which form bearings for the pin and pressure rollers, and provided with a projecting pin extending through said elongated slot, a temple rod loosely supported at one end in a plate secured to said casting and provided at its opposite end with a finger and a downwardly extending arm having an opening through which said pin also extends, a spring surrounding the temple rod, and a key to hold said pin in position.——2. In a loom, the combination with the lay of a shuttle guide secured to the front thereof, and guide pins projecting upwardly from said guide, said pins being arranged in the arc of a circle and the end pins being nearest the lay.



No. 553,342. Machine for Manufacturing Linoleum, &c.—John Ingleby, Leeds, England. Filed January 7, 1895. Patented in England, September 29, 1894, No. 18,469. Issued January 21, 1896.

Claim.—1. A machine for the manufacture of linoleum, cork carpets and the like fabrics, comprising molds A, formed of side and end pieces, h and i, and a block or blocks, a, having the upper surface grooved along the outlines of the pattern to be produced, and provided with retractile webs, c, fitting in said grooves and capable of retractile movement therein; said blocks a mounted on successive bed mold plates, e, which latter are carried capable of being slid thereon on a bed slide, B, means and connections for setting up, supporting and withdrawing said end pieces and webs c, consisting of rails, o and p, crossbars, f'f''f''', vertical rods, d, and side rods, g'; and a press having a press plate, y, acting during compression on the side plates h.—2. In a machine for the manufacture of linoleum, cork carpets and the like fabrics, a mold consisting of blocks, a, grooved or divided on the upper portion along the outlines of the desired pattern, provided with retractile webs, c, fitting therein, capable of retractile movement, whereby the webs can be set up to the height of the uncompressed material and withdrawn until their outer edges are perfectly level with the surface of the blocks a.——3. In apparatus for the manufacture of linoleum and the like fabrics, the combination of grooved blocks, a, retractile webs, c, connecting rods, d, crossbars, f, and side rods, g.——4. In apparatus for the manufacture of linoleum and the like fabrics, the combination of grooved blocks, a, mold plate, e, connecting rods, d, crossbars, f, hinged locking bars, 1, and retractile webs, c.——5. In apparatus for the manufacture of linoleum and the like fabrics, the combination of bottom press plate, s, movable top press plate, y, with a compartment mold formed of movable side and end plates, h and i, and grooved block or blocks, a, having retractile webs, c, and the mold plate, e.——6. In compartment molds used for manufacturing linoleum and the like fabrics, the combination of retractile webs, c, attached to the side plates h depressed only by the action of the press plate y, and supported up to the press by rails, o, with independent retractile webs, c', and additional supporting rails, p, the webs of the series last mentioned being arranged to drop when left unsupported by the rails last mentioned.——7. In apparatus for the manufacture of linoleum and similar fabrics, a series of molds divided into compartments, retractile webs corresponding to the boundary lines between the different colors and tints of the pattern, devices for locking these molds together, mechanism for compressing their contents, and mechanism for withdrawing the said webs.

BOSTON BUDGET.

BOSTON, JANUARY 27, 1896.

Harold Gilbert, who is now on the road for Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., reports a good trade.

Arthur Cole, stock man with John H. Pray, Sons & Co., who has just been married, has gone to Europe on a wedding trip.

Business in the retail trade has been poor this month, but it is the usual January dullness.

H. H. Cotton has been on the sick list the past two weeks, but is again able to be out.

At its annual meeting, January 18, the C. E. Osgood Company, of this city, declared a dividend of 5 per cent.

Prescott Brothers, dealers in carpet sweepers, 54 Cornhill, are succeeded by Wm. Keyes, who will carry on the business under the old firm name.

The steel steam yacht Peregrine, built for R. H. White, head of the firm of R. H. White & Co., was launched at Bath, Me., on the 2d ult.

Recent visitors include Will R. Pitman, for the American Bedstead Company; Mr. Edgerton, for the Ivins, Dietz & Metzger Company; Mr. Bushnell, for the Stewart Hartshorn Company; Mr. Scott, for Arnold, Constable & Co., and Hugh Keveney, with a new line of Tapestry carpets.

F. J. B.

Theo. A. Steenson has strong attractions in his salesrooms, 401 and 402 Champlain Buildings, State and Madison streets, Chicago. He shows the complete lines of J. & J. Dobson and John Gay's Sons, for both of which firms he is selling agent, and his offerings therefore comprise a big assortment of new and very desirable patterns in Dobson Wiltons, Body Brussels, Velvets and Tapestries and Park Mills Ingrains. See Mr. Steenson's advertisement on page 7 of this issue.

OBITUARY.

John McAuslan.

John McAuslan, of the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company, Providence, R. I., died at his home in that city on the 15th ult. of pneumonia.

Mr. McAuslan was born in Scotland in 1835, and when about sixteen years of age entered the employ of a dry goods dealer at Greenock, on the Clyde, and remained in this position until 1858, when he left Scotland for Boston, obtaining employment in that city in the house of Hogg, Brown & Taylor. Eight years later he resigned his position with this firm and went to Providence, where in association with Walter Callender and John E. Troup he established the "Boston Store," now the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company, which is said to be the largest wholesale and retail dry goods house in New England outside of Boston. It is a member of the Dry Goods Syndicate of New York, comprising fourteen houses situated at prominent business centres throughout the country. With his eldest son Mr. McAuslan had also a large dry goods business at Burlington, Vt., and he was likewise interested in several manufacturing concerns.

He was president of the Mechanics' Savings Bank, of Providence, and a director in the Rhode Island National Bank. He was vice-president of the American Sunday School Union, a prominent member of the Union Congregational Church, and especially active in church and philanthropic work. He contributed very liberally to religious and benevolent institutions, and his generosity in this respect was not confined to local limits, but extended as far as Turkey, China and India. His standing among his fellow citizens was illustrated in the fact that some years ago he was offered on the same day the presidency of the Young Men's Christian Association and the nomination for mayor of Providence, both of which he felt obliged to decline. He leaves a widow and five sons.

The funeral services were held in the Union Congregational Church on the 18th ult. in the presence of an assemblage which included most of the leading citizens of Providence. Memorial addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Nutting, of the Union Congregational Church, and Rev. Dr. Behrends, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Charles Endicott.

Charles Endicott, of the firm of Newcomb, Endicott & Co., Detroit, Mich., died in his home in that city, of heart failure, on the 17th ult.

Mr. Endicott was born at Beverly, Mass., sixty-one years ago, and acquired his first experience in business as cashier for the firm of C. F. Hovey & Co., Boston. Then he went to Milwaukee and became a partner in the house of T. C.

Chapman & Co. Three years later he went to Detroit, and in partnership with Mr. Newcomb bought out Farrell's dry goods business in that city, and thus laid the foundation for the present extensive business of Newcomb, Endicott & Co.

Mr. Endicott was highly esteemed in Detroit business and social circles. He was a man of strict integrity and of a very charitable, generous disposition. He leaves a widow, one son and four daughters.

John E. Troup.

John E. Troup, of the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company, Providence, R. I., died suddenly on the morning of the 18th ult. while preparing to attend the funeral of his late partner, John McAuslan, whose death on the 15th ult. is noted in this issue of THE REVIEW.

JOHN E. TROUP

Mr. Troup had finished his breakfast and had just gone upstairs to dress for the funeral when a fall was heard, and his body servant, rushing to the room from which the sound had come, found Mr. Troup stretched upon the floor. A physician was summoned at once, but before he arrived Mr. Troup was dead. The cause of death was rheumatism of the heart. Mr. Troup had been suffering from rheumatism for some time, and recent symptoms had shown that the disease was making its way toward the vital parts. It is said that Mr. Troup himself was aware of his condition.

Like his late partner, he was a native of Scotland, having been born in Aberdeen in 1839. He came to this country in 1855 and found employment in the dry goods house of George Turnbull & Co., Boston. He remained with this firm and their successors, Churchill, Watson & Co., until 1866, when, with Walter Callender and John McAuslan, he went to Providence and established the business now conducted under the style of the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company.

Mr. Troup was a member of the Union Congregational Church, and one of its most earnest supporters. He was a liberal contributor to charitable purposes, and was especially kind and considerate in his treatment of his employees. He was a man of studious disposition and refined tastes, and was the owner of a valuable collection of rare books, paintings and bric-à-brac.

Solomon Rosenbloom.

Solomon Rosenbloom, of the firm of S. Rosenbloom & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y., died at his home in that city recently at the age of seventy-four years. Mr. Rosenbloom had conducted business very successfully in Syracuse for many years and was widely known and highly esteemed there. He was a man of strong religious convictions and was prominently identified with every work of charity or movement for the benefit of Syracuse. The funeral services were attended by a large number of representative citizens. Mr. Rosenbloom leaves four sons and a daughter.

G. H. Troutman, manager of the carpet department of A. Troutman & Son, Butler, Pa., died January 12 of Bright's disease, aged thirty-two years.

James Whitehead, manufacturer of carpet yarns at Cedar and Huntington streets, Philadelphia, died in that city on the 17th ult. at the age of seventy-two years.

Albert J. Whitehead, son of the above mentioned James Whitehead, and his business partner, died on the 20th ult., his death resulting from a heavy cold contracted while attending his father in the latter's illness.

Nathaniel Pulsifer, at one time well known as a manufacturer of hand made floor oil cloths, died at his home in Salem, Mass., on the 7th ult. at the age of eighty-five years. Mr. Pulsifer was obliged to relinquish the floor oil cloth business when machinery was introduced in the trade, as he could not compete with machine made goods. He leaves two sons and a daughter.

The mercantile agencies announce the deaths of P. J. Beals, Searsport, Me.; J. C. Ansley, Centre Point, Ark.; Albert B. Hall, Eatontown, N. J.; Thomas Conrad, New Madison, Ohio; H. Matson, Brookville, Pa.; A. B. Anderson, Redfield, S. Dak.; L. Wolff, Princeton, Ky.; F. G. Fox, of A. Bryson & Co., Ware, Mass.

Hugh Bowes & Co., the Liverpool, England, wool brokers, in a circular dated the 16th ult. say :

For the auctions of East India wool opening here on the 20th inst. 25,300 bales have been declared, this quantity including 23,100 bales new arrivals and 1,650 bales held over from November series.

With this full supply it is not considered that prices are likely to show any advance compared with last auctions, but they are expected at any rate to be maintained on that level, judging from the activity among manufacturers, and the fact that only small stocks are held by users. American support may not be very prominent this time owing to the doubtful position of the tariff question, which, of course, induces reserve, and will probably restrict the demand from that quarter, but no doubt home and Continental buyers will suffice to keep prices on a parity with November.

THE American Linoleum Company have brought suit against Thomas Potter, Sons & Co. for alleged infringement of a patent in the manufacture of inlaid linoleum.

THE Farr & Bailey Manufacturing Company are pushing business at their Chicago store, 234 and 236 Market street, with vigor. They carry a big stock of every grade and width of floor oil cloth and are the only manufacturing concern in these goods carrying stock in Chicago. The Western trade will save time and obtain improved machine printed goods by sending in orders to the Farr & Bailey Manufacturing Company's Chicago branch store.

STATEMENT FROM THE GOSHEN SWEEPER COMPANY.

On page 92 the Goshen Carpet Sweeper Company, of Grand Rapids, Mich., give a statement regarding their present situation as manufacturers of carpet sweepers as a result of the recent decision in the suit of the Bissell Company against them, and also explain their attitude toward the trade who have bought or continue to buy and use the Goshen Sweepers. As stated by them, the decision referred solely to the device known as the broom action, which device was only used in some of the sweepers of their line.

They state that they will continue the manufacture of carpet sweepers and prosecute their business with the same vigor as heretofore, and while they shall not offer any sweepers for sale that have been held to infringe the patent upon which they were sued, they will continue to present an attractive line of sweepers to the trade, which, in their judgment, combine all the requisite and improved methods for perfect carpet sweeping. They also state that they will defend all suits for infringement instituted against dealers who handle their sweepers if promptly notified at the commencement of each suit. The trade should read the circular in full as published on page 92.

ADVANCE ON HARTFORD AXMINSTERS.

New York City,
114 and 116 Worth Street.

Gentlemen—We herewith announce an advance of 2½ cents per yard on Axminsters made by the Hartford Carpet Company, to take effect February 1.

We shall continue to fill all orders now on our books at present price. Reune Martin & Sons.

January 20, 1896.

A DELIGHTFUL EXCURSION.

Business men who desire to get a short respite from the daily grind and enjoy the invigorating air of the sea should bear in mind the opportunity afforded in this direction by the Old Dominion line of steamships plying between New York and Old Point Comfort, Norfolk, Richmond and Virginia Beach, Virginia. These short sea trips make a delightful break in the monotony of business life and cost much less than the doctor's bills, which are the usual results of all work and no play. The spacious steamers afford all the comforts and luxuries of a first-class hostelry, and at Old Point Comfort the tourist finds the famous Hygeia Hotel, to say nothing of the other and great attractions of the Virginia coast. A rare opportunity to purchase tickets for these excursions at reduced rates is indicated under the heading of Special Notices on page 53 of this issue.

Exports of carpeting and kindred goods during the past two weeks were as follows: Carpetings.—Manchester, 63 bs., $5,300; Glasgow, 105 rolls, $2,886; London, 20 bs., $2,419; Southampton, 17 bs., $789; Liverpool, 21 bs., $687; Antwerp, 19 rolls, $558; Rotterdam, 11 bs., $347; Hamburg, 7 bs., $205; Hayti, 7 rolls, $143. Carpet Sweepers.—Hamburg, 28 cs., $349; Rotterdam, 9 cs., $100; Copenhagen, 7 cs., $91; British Australasia, 1 cs., $18.

ON THE STAFF.

On the staff of Governor Griggs, of New Jersey, are two prominent members of the trade, Col. William Barbour, president of The Barbour Brothers Company, and Col. Henry A. Potter, of Thomas Potter, Sons & Co.

Governor Griggs is the first Republican Governor in New Jersey for thirty years, and his election is largely due to the vigorous and unselfish efforts of such men as Colonel Barbour and Colonel Potter.

COL. WILLIAM BARBOUR.

Colonel Barbour, who is chief of the Governor's staff, besides being president of The Barbour Brothers Company, is interested in a number of financial institutions and mercantile enterprises. He is a director in Wm. Barbour's Sons, Limited, Lisburn, Ireland, in the First National Bank and Paterson National Bank (of which Governor Griggs is president), vice-president of the Paterson Electric Railway, Paterson, N. J.; a director in the National Bank of the Republic, Citizens' Insurance Company and Pintsch Gaslight Company, New York, and also a member of the reorganization committee of the United States Cordage Company.

The Barbour Brothers Company, of which Col. Barbour is president, is an old and famous corporation controlling immense factories in this country and in Ireland devoted to the manufacture of linen threads. The Barbour threads have been made for over a hundred years and the carpet threads of the company are especially popular in this country.

COL. HENRY A. POTTER.

Col. Henry A. Potter is an active member of the firm of Thos. Potter, Sons & Co., the extensive linoleum and oil cloth manufacturers. He has been a member of the New Jersey Legislature and has been an active and enthusiastic supporter of his party for several years past, performing particularly arduous and effective services in the late gubernatorial campaign. Col. Potter is the second member of his family and of the firm of Thos. Potter, Sons & Co. to become a colonel, as Col. Thomas Potter is a member of Gov. Hastings' staff, of Pennsylvania, and has served in a similar capacity on the staff of previous Pennsylvanian Governors.

Col. Thomas Potter is an elder brother of Col. Henry Potter and was in active military service during the great flood at Johnstown, Pa., some years ago.

IMPORTS OF CARPETS, RUGS AND CARPET WOOLS.

Imports of carpeting into the United States during the eleven months ending November 30, 1895, amounted to 849,440 square yards, valued at $1,390,273. For the corresponding period of 1894 the imports were 298,309 square yards, valued at $697,295. The imports of rugs and carpets direct from Oriental countries in the eleven months of 1895 amounted to about 64,000 square yards, valued at about $130,000, but these figures by no means cover the total imports of Oriental rugs or carpets, for London is a great market for such goods, and a large proportion of the exports of carpeting and rugs from Great Britain consists of goods of Oriental manufacture.

The imports of Class 3, or carpet wools, for the eleven months ending November 30, 1895, were 88,684,725 pounds, valued at $8,544,485. The imports of the corresponding period in 1894 were 63,496,431 pounds, valued at $5,555,097.

IMPORTS OF STRAW MATTING.

Imports of straw matting for the eleven months ending November 30, 1895, amounted to $1,743,500, a sum largely exceeding the value of all woolen, jute and cotton carpets and rugs imported into this country during the same period of time, as shown by statistics given elsewhere in this issue. It should be clear that there is no foreign competition so dangerous to our own manufacturers of floor coverings as is that of the makers of straw matting in China and Japan, whose workmen earn but 10 or 15 cents a day, and whose goods come in free of duty. Our manufacturers have asked Congress to impose a high duty upon these mattings, and the request should meet with prompt attention.

Charles A. Birkle, buyer for the Fair, Chicago, is in town, and will be here all next week. His headquarters are at the Hotel Albert.

The office of Philip Doerr & Sons, in the Philadelphia Bourse, has been open daily since the middle of the month, and the firm's salesmen, Messrs. McKnight, Zahrndt and Oswald, are now making it their headquarters. The orders booked at this office so far have been very encouraging, and the firm say the outlook is for obtaining through the Bourse many new customers.

C. H. Masland & Sons state that there has been and will be no interruption in the production of their Sevellan Ingrains, as the result of the recent decision in the suit of Hardwick v. Masland. The decision was referred to in our previous two numbers, and, as we understand, has been accepted as final by both parties and a mutually satisfactory settlement arrived at. The Sevellan Ingrains are the heavy weight patented weave goods which were involved in the suit, and the trade can still obtain them from C. H. Masland & Sons as heretofore, or through their agents, W. & J. Sloane. The Messrs. Masland are having a very fair season's business on both Ingrains and Brussels, as it should be remembered that they operate the Brussels mills at Mount Holly, N. J., in addition to their large Ingrain mills at Philadelphia. Their product of Brussels and Ingrains is sold through W. & J. Sloane.

REMOVAL OF BENJ. McCABE.

Benjamin McCabe, the cocoa mat and matting selling agent and importer of jute carpets, rugs, Napier matting and hemp carpets, has removed from 85 White street to 80 and 82 White street. He has more space and better light for showing his goods, and also increased room for stock.

Mr. McCabe is doing a large business in jute Brussels carpets and rugs and a great variety of jute floor coverings. He is the agent for a large Scotch concern who ship to this country more than any other foreign manufacturer of similar goods.

Mr. McCabe is also agent for a very large product of cocoa mats and matting, and has long done an extensive business in these goods. The new store is almost directly opposite the old location on White street.

GOOD, BETTER, BEST.

In a compact booklet Mr. F. H. Good furnishes an explanatory key to the above terms, of particular interest to carpet and upholstery houses, and especially just now. His suggestions may be profitably considered by our readers and still more profitably acted on. A postal addressed to him at 942 to 944 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, will bring you his practical book on carpet cleaning.

M. LARA & CO. ASSIGN.

Marcellus Lara, of Minneapolis, has assigned, and his assignee has issued the following notice to his creditors:

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of January, 1896, Marcellus Lara, doing business under the name and style of M. Lara & Co., being insolvent, made a general assignment to the undersigned, George H. White, for the equal benefit of all of his bona fide creditors who shall file their claims and releases of their claims and demands against the said insolvent, as provided by the laws of the State of Minnesota. That the said undersigned duly accepted said trust, and on the 20th day of January, 1896, qualified as such assignee, and has entered upon the discharge of his duties in such capacity. The creditors of said insolvent who desire to share in the benefits of said assignment should file with said assignee within twenty days from the date hereof their claims duly verified as by law provided.

Dated January 20, 1896. George H. White, Assignee.

Office—No. 1012 New York Life Building.

Store—No. 512 Nicollet avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

At the date at which we went to press no schedule of the liabilities and assets had been filed.

The new announcement of John Gay's Sons on page 6 is as follows: "Park Mills Ingrains are the best sellers, best in every way. It pays carpet merchants to sell Park Mills Extra Supers. It does not pay them to sell low priced imitation stuff. Park Mills have an established good name. Imitations have not. Park Mills have the confidence of every consumer. Imitations are disappointing." That there is a great deal in an unsullied reputation for a make of goods is being better demonstrated this season than ever before. John Gay's Sons have had a liberal share of the spring business and are still receiving good orders, and the buyers of the goods are obtaining the very best satisfaction in style and quality of carpet.

THE SINGER COMPANY'S MANUFACTURERS' AGENCIES.

The Singer Manufacturing Company have issued a circular as follows :

Announcement to Manufacturers.

We have established agencies, especially for the service of manufacturers, at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, where you are cordially invited to call and examine exhibits of sewing machines in practical operation. These exhibits comprise a great variety of ingenious mechanism, especially devised for factory use in many diverse industries. Viewed simply as an exposition of the highest inventive and mechanical skill, these labor saving devices are instructive to all—they are especially interesting to every manufacturer on whose product any kind of stitching operation can profitably be employed.

He will either find something here to do the work with greater economy, or he will get an idea from and be able to suggest a modification of some one of the many forms presented, which may be of decided advantage to him.

A complete line of parts and supplies for Singer sewing machines will be constantly kept in stock at these agencies, and all orders and correspondence addressed thereto will receive careful and prompt attention.

We are prepared to furnish complete factory outfits for the stitching department, including power tables, shafting, pulleys, &c., and solicit opportunity to estimate on such work.

The Singer Manufacturing Company.
Branch offices everywhere.

Manufacturers' Agencies.—Boston—128 to 132 Essex street. New York—561 and 563 Broadway. Philadelphia—16 South Third street. Chicago—192 and 194 Van Buren street.

As previously noted by us, the Singer Company's manufacturers' salesrooms, formerly at 385 Broadway, are now situated at 561 and 563 Broadway, New York. The company now manufactures over fifty distinct types or classes of sewing machines, embracing several hundred varieties adapted for as many different stitching operations on cloth, leather paper, &c.

Saleswoman—Isn't the cashier an awful fool?

Floor Walker—Why?

Saleswoman—Why, she gets $100 a month and is going to get married.—Chicago Record.

Here is a sign in a Brooklyn window :

Shades put up,

Carpets put down.

The Chicago Carpet Company, whose advertisement appears on page 11 of this issue, are in a position to strongly interest all carpet buyers. The company offers the complete line of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company's Savonneries, Axminsters, Velvets, Gobelins, Moquettes and Tapestries, also their own brands of Brussels and Extra Supers, comprising the Government Standard Brussels and Extra Supers, and Claremont, Fairfax and Mumm's Extra Supers. The company are also sole Western agents for the Eagle Supers, and sole Western jobbers of the only Agra carpets made. Their offerings comprise likewise Nairn's linoleum, China and Japan matting, Smyrna rugs and art squares, oil cloths, cocoa mats and matting, hemp carpets, Napier matting, and in fact everything required by the carpet dealer can be found in the spacious establishment of the Chicago Carpet Company at Wabash avenue and Monroe street, Chicago.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

Henry Grady started his newspaper, the Atlanta Constitution, the merchants were not alive to the value of advertising and Henry pleaded in vain for a more liberal patronage. A leading merchant who claimed to be his friend stubbornly declined to give him a big "ad." and said it would be money thrown away, for nobody read them.

"Don't read them!" exclaimed Henry, "don't read them! Well, I will show you."

Next morning's paper contained a short editorial on cats, and told how cat fur had recently come into great demand in fashionable circles in New York, and how the long coarse hairs were eliminated and the real fur was made into tippets and muffs, and every fashionable lady wore a feline, &c. Not far off in another column was a displayed advertisement that said :

"Wanted—1,000 cats, for which 50 cents each will be paid."

The merchant's name was signed to it.

By noon the cats began to roll in. Small boys, white and black, brought them in baskets and bags. For a while the merchant enjoyed the joke, but soon got tired and went away to dinner.

By the time he returned the boys and darkies from the suburbs were coming in, and the sidewalk was blockaded. Henry had laughed until he was exhausted, and sat on a window sill across the street, threatened, he said, with a cataleptic fit. Neighboring merchants and their clerks gathered around and laughed and shouted and cried at every new arrival of cats. As fast as the merchant drove off one crowd another filled their places. He armed himself with a big stick, but at last he closed his doors in sheer despair, and night relieved him from the pressure.

But the next morning the catastrophe was worse. The catalogue was not ended, for the country people had heard the news and brought cats in on their wagons and under their buggy seats, and tied up in cotton baskets like chickens. Henry took his stand near by, and leaned against a telegraph pole for support. He and the folks who loved fun were all there, and while it was fun to the boys and death to the frogs, it was such a rare and racy joke that the merchant couldn't get mad, and finally surrendered. He made an appropriate little speech to the crowd, and told Henry that if he would promise never to do so any more he would give him the biggest "ad." he had ever had in his paper. Henry promised, and the "ad." was given.

Elsewhere in this issue are presented some interesting statistics from Bradstreet's in regard to failure in business. The most significant fact made evident by these figures is that it is very dangerous to engage in mercantile business with a capital which does not much exceed $5,000, for 87.3 per cent. of the failures which occurred in the year 1895 was among dealers whose capital was $5,000 or less, and the proportion of failure among this class was practically the same in the four years preceding 1895. Another noticeable thing in the statistics is the large number of fraudulent failures in the South and Southwest, the cases of actual fraud in these States being far greater than in any other part of the country. In this connection it is pertinent to mention that the opposition in Congress to a national bankruptcy law comes almost entirely from the fourth class lawyers who represent or misrepresent most of the Southern and Southwestern States at Washington.

An auction sale of Oriental rugs was advertised in the Springfield (Ohio) Republican of the 23d ult. as to take place in the store of a prominent dealer there, and by a curious coincidence, directly beneath this announcement, appears an advertisement of Kinnane Brothers, with the heading "Swindling Rug Auctions," and the explanation that this heading was taken from an article in The Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review of November 15, 1895, in which were exposed the illegal and dishonest methods employed at the majority of Oriental rug auctions. Kinnane Brothers then proceed to quote some of the statements made by The Review on this subject, and add some breezy remarks of their own in the same connection. No one who knows the dealer in whose store the sale took place will believe that he would ever be concerned in anything which he knew to be of a dishonest nature, but the incident shows how a thoroughly reputable merchant may, by permitting such sales on his premises, expose himself to some very sharp digs from aggressive and alert competitors.

Cash Henderson, one of the leading carpet dealers of Wichita, Kan., has gone into a novel advertising scheme. On January 1 Geo. J. Mold, an ex-letter carrier and former actor, left Wichita for a trip around the world penniless, dressed as a clown and carrying a ventriloquial figure. He agrees not to speak during his absence except through the figure. He may engage in any lawful business temporarily and receive presents, but he must make a daily report of his whereabouts and financial condition. He may be absent four years, and when he returns he must have control of $20,000 or its equivalent. In that case he is to receive $10,000 from Cash Henderson, who has deputed Robert F. Kinnaird to accompany him on the trip.

George Rice, the big lumberman, tells to a Western paper a good story about traveling salesmen. Two of them went to work, one as a traveler and the other credit man, for a wholesale house. As the business of the salesman rolled in year after year and grew in volume his salary was advanced and he became a great favorite with the house; so much so that the credit man became very envious of his success. Finally the traveling man died and the credit man applied for his place and got it. He went out full of ambition and confidence and got completely thrown down. He had been out three weeks and hadn't sold a bill, when he was forced to send in for some expense money. The firm very promptly inclosed him a check for $100 and said that they hoped he was enjoying his vacation and that he would come back from his trip refreshed and ready for work with renewed vigor. In a broken and contrite spirit he sat down and replied:

"Dear Sirs—When I started out on this trip I thought I was enough of a salesman to sell refrigerators at the North Pole for $200 apiece; I am satisfied now that I haven't enough ability to make my hotel bills selling ice cream in the infernal regions at five cents a quart."

"Did you hear anything new on your trip?"

"Well," said Larry Duncan, "to use a bull, the newest thing I heard was that I didn't hear anyone say a word about this being a presidential year. Without exception everyone expressed the opinion that we would have a good healthy spring trade."

The New England Furniture and Carpet Company, of Minneapolis, has been discussing the department store question in the local papers. Among other things it says:

The merchant who handles bulky goods, such as furniture, vehicles, stoves, &c., has little to fear from the department store competition, and it rests with himself whether he shall control the trade in his particular location or through faintheartedness deliver it over to the department store.

Then, again, the matter of special order work cuts a figure. The merchant tailor or the milliner need not necessarily feel compelled to throw up the sponge the moment the department store opens a similar department. Then, again, the dealer in men's clothing and furnishing goods need not fear the department store, for men, as a rule, are not attracted to department stores. In fact, men and women do not ordinarily like to shop together.

Comparisons could be carried on at length, but perhaps enough has been said to indicate the belief that among many lines, especially lines of compact merchandise—entirely disconnected with bulk, and not requiring special delivery, also special order work, men's goods, high-class jewelry, &c.—the department store will continue to develop a large patronage; and properly, as its methods are in accordance with nineteenth century progressiveness. But there is altogether too much faintheartedness and lack of originality and general getupativeness among one line of merchants. If department stores cheapen rents, then so much the better for the tenant. If department stores advertise liberally, there is a lesson here for the non-advertising merchant. The question of department stores is largely a bugaboo and while there may be an occasional line of goods which must be affected by them and perhaps absorbed, because the people so will it, yet it is a phase of competition which no enterprising merchant need be afraid of, and eventually the department stores will drop into natural subdivisions, controlled by merchants whose ability is equal to their courage.

Lying upon a table in the office of Dornan Brothers at their mills, Howard and Oxford streets, is a small piece of Wilton carpet, the design and colors of which are of the ancient Persian order so much in vogue many years ago. The carpet was first made by John Crossley & Sons, Limited, Halifax, England, in both Wilton and Brussels, the design being copied from an old lace that had been in the Crossley family for over a century. The colors were of that warm and pleasing variety agreeable to the taste of forty years ago, and the carpet had a big run in the English goods, and was also made by the Lowell Company, who were equally successful with it. It is now laid aside for a time, but the genuine Persian patterns are long-lived. They may sleep for a period, but they never die. Inasmuch as dark colors for halls and stairs are coming into vogue again it would not be surprising to see the old lace pattern revived and become as popular as it ever was.

While upon the subject of old patterns in carpets the writer would mention that he saw a few days ago upon the parlor of a Philadelphia mansion one of John Crossley & Sons' 6-4 uncut Velvets. The condition of the carpet is highly creditable to its makers, for not a break is in it nor is a thread displaced. The white ground remains really white, and the colors are still brilliant. The carpet must have been in use for at least thirty years. It is like meeting an old friend to see one of these old-time productions still in use.

IN THE UPHOLSTERY MARKET.

The past week has been an active one, and the large retail buyers have made the business of the month very satisfactory, while new buyers are coming in daily. Travelers are doing fairly, and the business of January on the road and on the floor will show up very well.

Some considerable contracts have already been made by city buyers in preparation for the retail business of the spring. As soon as stock taking is over this will be materially increased.

Some recent English cretonnes are marvelous specimens of accurate color printing. They are double faced, and so perfect is the register that when held up to the light they look like stained glass. In 32 inch width they can be readily retailed at 50 cents a yard.

United States Consul Monaghan, of Chemnitz, writes as follows to the State Department at Washington. What he says may be of interest to our buyers: "Hardly a mail comes to Chemnitz that does not carry along with it a letter or letters asking consuls to find markets for goods made in the United States. Germans are not eager to get our goods; they are, however, very eager to sell to us. I suppose there is no better way of pointing out to our people what might be done than by urging them to do as the Germans do. Twice in each year this city has in it from fifty to seventy-five buyers, representing American houses. What is true of Chemnitz is true also of Leipsic, Gera, Glauchau, Plauen, Annaberg, &c. These men leave orders in Saxony for sums ranging, in the aggregate, annually from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 or $40,000,000. No sooner, however, do the buyers get away than many of the agents of the manufacturers here pack their trunks, especially those who have not yet established agencies on the other side, and sail for the United States, where they cover the country from New York to San Francisco, and from Portland, Me., to New Orleans, showing samples and taking orders. This energy and eagerness are bearing fruit. Success to the Saxons has been so certain that they build on bigger sales and better times than they have ever had. There is only one way for our merchants to win or make way among them, and that is by doing as they do—send out agents with goods. One American manufacturer has tried this and demonstrated its wisdom. He was at this office last week seeking aid to get over a certain legal technicality regarding an 'itinerant merchant.' He had covered the country from Berlin, had had very successful and numerous sales, and was very eager to go on. He had, however, one expensive drawback; he had to take an interpreter along. Of course this ran up his bill of expenses away beyond what it would otherwise have been; besides, no man desires, if he can help it, to sell his goods by means of an interpreter. The success of this single effort convinces me of what I have all along believed—that the best way to sell goods is to go out and sell them."

The third General Exposition of Fine Arts and Industrial Art will be held at Barcelona, Spain, from April 23 to June 29, 1896. We already have a considerable trade with Spain, which can be easily increased. United States Consul General Bowen is a member of the honorary committee.

Smith & Co., Worcester, Mass.; L. H. Guldman, Denver, Col.; H. Weil, for Nathan Gutman & Co., Baltimore; L. Long, of Jonas Long's Sons, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; John Wyman, of Wyman & Rand, Burlington, Ia.

F. P. Bhumgara & Co., the dealers in East India goods, 524 Broadway, continue to offer some extraordinary bargains to buyers in their lines. In their advertisement will be found an illustration of a hand chased Cashmere copper Surahie. The illustrated catalogue and price list of the firm will be sent on application to any regular dealer.

STAIR RODS COMING IN.

There has been a gradual increase in the call for stair rods during the past six months, and it looks as if rods might come into general favor again. Stair buttons and grips have held the market for some years, but with the American unrest in fashion there is a growing inquiry for something different, and the metal stair rod is naturally the most appropriate article to fulfill it.

The revival of stair rods ought to interest the trade, for their use would increase the profit of the dealer and would certainly be welcomed by the brass goods manufacturers.

CHICAGO CHAFF.

Robert A. Kilgore, who last year represented C. B. Young & Co. in this market, now travels for F. F. Fazzie.

C. L. Gray, who has been with Schlesinger & Mayer for some time, has gone to Boston to take a position with R. H. White & Co.

A. M. Goodwin now represents Hees, McFarlane & Co., of Detroit, in this market at their new store, 307 and 309 Wabash avenue.

A. H. Dainty, buyer for the retail carpet department of Marshall Field & Co., now buys for the upholstery department as well, Mr. Judd, the former buyer, having resigned his position, as noted in our issue of the 15th ult.

Charles H. Peck has become Western manager for the C. A. Schmidt Company, the reorganized New York upholstery trimming house, with headquarters at Room 29, No. 241 Wabash avenue. He was formerly with the Phœnix Trimming Company.

S. G. Wilkins, who has been prominently identified with the furniture manufacturing interests here, is now secretary of the Opaque Shade Cloth Company at West Pullman, Ill.

James L. McAfee, formerly with the Chicago Carpet Company, is now with the Tobey Furniture Company, and becomes the head of the decorating department. He will have a large assortment of draperies and carpets and a new line of wall papers made under his instructions by Zuber & Co., of Chicago. A force of skilled decorative artists will also be employed.

Sutton, King & Plante, manufacturers of brass bedsteads, Buffalo, N. Y., have engaged J. H. Hurd to represent them in the West. Mr. Hurd, who formerly represented the Buffalo Brass and Iron Bedstead Company in the Western territory, will make his headquarters at Room 25, 241 Wabash avenue, this city. He spent the month of January at Grand Rapids, showing the buyers at that furniture Mecca his new line.

Seelbach, McLaren & Co., a new firm, will open a department store at 460 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y., about the 15th inst. The New York office is at 47 Lispenard street.

H. G. White, 192 West Broadway, has been appointed resident buyer in New York for Daniel Briscoe, Brothers & Co., of Knoxville, Tenn.

A. T. Leward has retired from the firm of C. Weinberg & Co., manufacturers of upholstery trimmings, 31 West Twenty-third street, New York.

Dreyfus Brothers, manufacturers of upholstery trimmings, have removed from 337 Broadway to the new building, Nos. 434 to 438 Broadway, where they will have very handsome and commodious salesrooms.

BUSINESS IN BALTIMORE.

There is said to be a good opening for a furniture and upholstery store in Charlottesville, Va.

BALTIMORE, JANUARY 27.

A fire occurred in the building of the American Upholstery Company, Atlanta, Ga., the 14th inst. Loss, small; insured.

Edward A. Hartman, formerly of the furniture and upholstery firm of Hartman & Dunbracco, has been appointed assistant cashier in the City Tax Department.

Frank H. Lapsley, of F. H. Lapsley & Brother, window shades, is still sojourning at Colorado Springs. He will leave February 1 for a month's stay in Arizona.

The stock of Gustave Froehlich, dry goods and upholstery, North Eutaw street, was damaged by fire to the extent of $250 the 20th inst. Loss covered by insurance.

The store of Samuel May, and Harrison May Decorating Company, No. 325 North Charles street, was broken into by burglars the 14th inst., and silks, tapestries and portières to the value of several hundred dollars were carried off.

The copartnership of Johnston, Crews & Co., dry goods and upholstery, Charleston, S. C., is not dissolved by the death of the late A. S. J. Perry, but remains in force by the copartnership agreement and by the will of A. S. J. Perry, until December 31, 1897, the estate of A. S. J. Perry succeeding to and continuing on his interest and liability.

A. B. Walker, proprietor of the Ballard House, on Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., has given up its management and will embark in the furniture and upholstery business. The firm name is to be the A. B. Walker Furniture Company. They will do business at No. 63 East Hunter street.

At a meeting of the East Baltimore Business Men's Association the 23d inst., Louis Kann, of S. Kann, Sons & Co., dry goods and upholstery, and D. M. Reese, corresponding secretary of the Furniture and Upholstery Board of Trade, were elected directors for the ensuing year.

R. L. E.

Fowler & Co.'s "Perfection" and "Little Giant" sash rod fasteners or complete rods should not be overlooked in restocking for the spring season. They are permanently established as good sellers and every up-to-date house ought to have them. Send in orders to Fowler & Co., 65 Beacon street, Worcester, Mass.

Hees, Macfarlane & Co., the Detroit window shade manufacturers, have opened a warehouse and office at 307 and 309 Wabash avenue, Chicago, where a full assortment and stock of their lines are carried. It is in charge of A. M. Goodwin, formerly with the Jay C. Wemple Company, who will also visit the trade in the State of Illinois.

T. I. Birkin & Co. are occupying their new quarters in the new building at the southeast corner of Broadway and Grand street, New York. With all appointments in place and as fitted up ready for business, the new salesroom more than justifies the previous statements regarding its great improvement over their old salesroom at 29 Mercer street. It is reached by a fast running elevator from the entrance, 458 Broadway, and is in such a very convenient and central location that no lace curtain buyer visiting New York should miss calling upon the concern and viewing their exceedingly attractive lines. A neatly printed and interestingly worded booklet, showing a few cuts of leading sellers, can be obtained on application.

WILLIAM T. HAYWARD.

We are pleased to be the first to publish a portrait of William T. Hayward, the managing partner of the Jay C. Wemple Company. Mr. Hayward has been connected with the business since its organization as a company in November, 1887, shortly after the death of Jay C. Wemple, its founder. That he has managed it successfully is proved by the expansion of sales and development of new lines during the eight years of his supervision, and his administration has not alone been brilliant in the volume of trade done, but has been accompanied by the maintaining and increasing of the great respect and confidence in which the house was held by the trade during the life of its honored founder.

One important consummation of Mr. Hayward's ideas was the establishment of a branch house in Chicago, and everyone who visits the company's spacious store at 537 and 539 Broadway, New York, is bound to notice the novel and attractive arrangement of goods and the pertinent and timely signs pointing business morals and referring to the offerings. Mr. Hayward displays untiring energy and enthusiasm in his business, and is of that kind of nature that cannot be otherwise than uniformly courteous to everybody.

Visiting buyers will find every convenience for inspecting the handsome patterns in chenille and tapestry curtains made by the Westphalia Mills at the salesroom of Ryan & McGahan, 57 Leonard street, New York. Since the first of the year the latter firm have been occupying an entire loft at this address, which gives them every facility for properly showing these goods, and from February 1 Mr. Ryan and Mr. McGahan can both be found at the salesroom ready to meet buyers, having just returned from their road trips. The high reputation of Westphalia Mills chenille and tapestry curtains as a line of superior styles and colorings is generally acknowledged. These goods were sold for a number of years by Bartmann & Co., and many buyers throughout the country have always considered it essential to use some of the novel and exclusive effects always to be found in the line. These features have been strongly maintained in the spring offerings.

SHADES FROM DETROIT AND CHICAGO.

Hees, Macfarlane & Co. now carry stock of their own productions in window shades at their new store, 307 and 309 Wabash avenue, Chicago, in addition to that carried at their factory and headquarters in Detroit, Mich. This means the supplying of the Western trade in the quickest possible time.

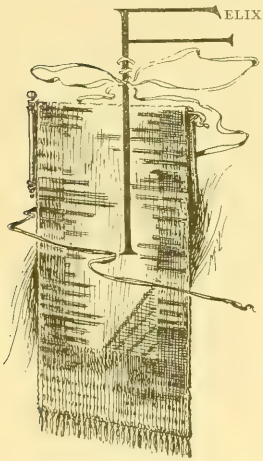
They carry every width and color of Bancroft's "Sun-Fast" hollands in stock, and ask, Why send East for these goods? Complete price lists of Sun Fast hollands in the piece or mounted are given in their advertisement on page 74.

This enterprising firm have proved themselves to be headquarters on opaque shade cloth, shade laces, hollands, rollers, shade pulls, rug fringes, &c., and have a special advantage in location in catering to the Middle and Western State dealers. Their new price list will be sent on application.

A CHEAP 4-4 TABLE COVER.

In these days of low prices on chenilles an article must be notably cheap to command more than passing attention for price. Such, however, is the 4-4 chenille table cover, with fringe, sold by E. V. Pike at $3.25 per dozen. This cover is made in twelve different patterns, and has sold up to recently for $3.50 per dozen, but to move a lot on hand he offers them at $3.25. Buyers who want 4-4 covers at once, and at this special price, can send in orders to E. V. Pike, Third and Cumberland streets, Philadelphia.

NEW AGENT FOR JOHN KING & SON.



Felix J. McCosker was appointed American agent for John King & Son, the Scotch Holland manufacturers, on the 27th ult., and enters upon his duties at the old location of their New York office, 486 Broadway, on the 1st inst. As the trade know, the late Innes R. Macpherson had been agent for King & Son for eight years prior to his death early in December, since which time there has been much conjecture as to who would succeed to this important position. Applications had been made for it by a great number of very able and well-known men in the upholstery and window shade trade, and the selection of Mr. McCosker after a thorough consideration of the applications is certainly a great compliment to him.

Robert Pate, the head of the firm of John King & Son, arrived in New York on the 23d ult. to decide the matter and fully confirmed, both through the direct importers of Scotch Hollands and the general upholstery trade, the previous statements received regarding Mr. McCosker's abilities and standing.

Felix J. McCosker was for twenty years manager of the upholstery and curtain department of A. T. Stewart & Co. and their successors, which position was one of the most important of its kind in the country. He is acknowledged to be a superior judge in upholstery fabrics and styles, and while a close buyer, his bearing was always that of a gentleman and merchant and commanded the respect of all people with whom he did business. Mr. Pate is also to be congratulated in having to represent his honored firm a gentleman whose judgment is of tried and proved excellence, and who will, beyond a shadow of doubt, give entire satisfaction to his principals and customers.

As stated, Mr. McCosker will continue the same office and force as carried on by the late I. R. Macpherson at 486 Broadway, and will be found therein on every business day.

E. W. Wehmier, of Wehmier Brothers, dealers in curtains, draperies, upholstery materials, &c., 626 Elm street, Cincinnati, Ohio, has given a bill of sale of his interest in the business.

Hunninghaus & Lindemann have issued a completely revised price list under the date of January 1, giving quotations on everything made or carried by them. The new list is gotten up in book form, and will be a valuable reference for every shade buyer.

The C. A. Schmidt Company, New York city, has been incorporated to manufacture upholstery trimmings. The capital is $20,000, and the directors are: Christian A. Schmidt, Albert H. Klees, Elsie D. Schmidt, of New York city, and Henry Hellmers, of Bremerhaven, Germany.

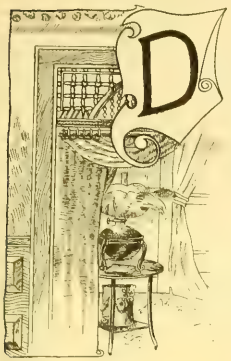
William C. Beecher, proprietor of the largest dry goods house in Pottstown, made an assignment on the 24th ult. to Samuel P. Heister, of Philadelphia. Judgments aggregating $58,000 were entered against him. The house was founded in 1838. The assets are claimed to be about $100,000.

The Ely & Walker Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo., held its annual meeting on the 14th inst., and elected the following board of directors: D. D. Walker, W. H. Walker, James B. Hill, D. R. Calhoun and J. Sid. Walker. The directors will doubtless re-elect the old officers, viz.: D. D. Walker, president; W. H. Walker, vice-president, and James B. Hill, secretary and treasurer.

Bossut Pére & Fils, 47 and 49 White street, New York, are moving their importations of upholstery and drapery fabrics very freely. Their novel and exclusive effects are such as add attractiveness to any upholstery stock, and few discerning buyers who see the line pass it without ordering. O. J. Weidner is on hand at the salesroom to meet buyers, and J. E. Rigney is still out on the road through the West with the line.

The Henry Reubel Company have made a most gratifying start in the business of 1896. Their orders for January were greatly ahead of last year, and both the road and store business is keeping up well. On page 93 they refer to some of their special attractions in wood pole sets, brass plated curtain rods, the Reubel improved Leslie traverse ring, &c. For everything in the upholstery and carpet hardware line the Reubel Company can satisfactorily supply your needs.

WHY SOME MANUFACTURERS SUCCEED.



DURING the ups and downs of business of the past three years it has been noticeable that some upholstery and drapery manufacturers have kept their plants running very steadily while others were and are still complaining about hard times. The former are those who took methods to force business, while the later went on in the old way and waited for a general revival.

Eminently among the concerns that found a way to do business, even in the dullest periods, is the Brussels Tapestry Company, and their method was to produce such stylish and novel effects at such moderate prices that a buyer of any judgment was compelled to handle their goods. Three years of hard thinking, originating and experimenting have made them masters of high art and tasteful effects, combined with low prices, and the demonstration can be readily found in a view of their spring line.

In tapestry curtains can be seen styles in which there is hardly a feature in common with any other productions in the market. These goods run from $2.50 per pair up, and some of the specialties are two toned curtains, with arbitrary brightening colors in the borders; chintz colored Derby cotton curtains, the only effects of the kind in the market; Turkish effects in great variety that will go well with any Oriental rug; novel side borders, delft colors; satin Derbys, with both sides exactly alike and absolutely reversible; entirely exclusive effects in Liberty fabrics in delft colorings, which are especially taking things and shown solely by this concern.

Speaking with S. A. Williams, who is in charge of the New York salesroom, at 337 Broadway, he said: "Our goods are selling freely, I am glad to say, and buyers are making liberal selections. Buyers are evidently more interested in new things than ever, for I find that instead of coming with a pre-arranged list of their wants they are now not only willing to look at novelties, but are also free in ordering what is proved to be a positively new thing. We have endeavored to put something snappy or novel in our goods without increasing the price above that of a regulation ordinary effect, and but few buyers who see our line pass it without ordering. We have maintained our efforts in the finer goods, too, and so are amply prepared to meet any demand for the higher cost fabrics. Just now we are selling more satin damasks in the range of $5 per yard than in the range of $3. Yes, business is good with us, and we feel that we are going to realize our anticipations for the spring season."

A UDELL WALL BRACKET.

We illustrate herewith No. 142 of the Udell Works, N. Indianapolis, Ind. It is a wall bracket finished in white enamel and gold. This is one of a line of some thirty new patterns in wall goods, to be made in oak, mahogany and white and gold to match the articles of fancy furniture turned out by the concern, which makes an endless variety of music and bric-à-bric cabinets of the very best designs and highest finish. The goods are such as can be easily and profitably handled by the upholstery trade. Write for the catalogue.

Fire in the top loft of the building at 7 Thomas street, New York, on the 27th ult. caused quite a scare for a little while, but was soon gotten under control by the firemen. W. S. Taylor & Bloodgood, upholstery felts, on the ground floor, suffered a loss by water.

John S. Gage, manufacturer of mosquito canopies and hammocks, has removed from 119 to 73 Franklin street, near Broadway, New York.

The manner in which the upholsterers, drapers and decorators have of late been concentrating along Boylston street, opposite the Common, in Boston, may be seen by a glance at the list of firms named below, all situated within two squares: Irving & Casson, upholsterers and decorators; Putnam & Spooner, bedsteads, bedding, cushions, &c.; C. A. Hawes, stuffs for draperies, furniture and wall hangings; Z. Mode, draperies and furniture; Stetson Foster, draperies, carpets, furniture and paper hangings; D. F. Paige & Co., upholstery, furniture and wall hangings; Allen, Hall & Co., interior decorators; Charles F. Kirtland & Co., interior decorators, furniture and wall hangings; the J. F. Bumstead Company, paper hangings and interior decorations; Hazelton, Goddard & Kitfield, fine furniture. Altogether a long list of leading firms in the trade.

The old Baudouine mansion, at 718 Fifth avenue, near Fifty-sixth street, New York, is being altered for occupation by a retail dry goods firm.

James Morgan & Co., Milwaukee, assigned on the 27th ult. The assignee is James McEachron, whose bond is for $150,000, with George Hiles and M. A. D. Dewald as sureties. The firm is one of the oldest retail dry goods houses in the city. It failed during the recent panic, but effected a settlement with its creditors, and resumed business about a year ago.

FOLLOWING IT OUT.

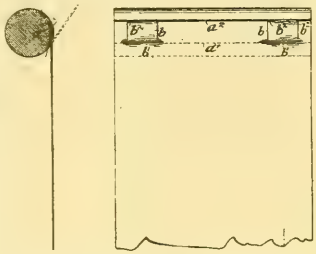
MRS. NEWRICH: "Don't you see my new vawz, Mrs. Plainspeke?"

MRS. PLAINSPEKE: "Yes, and what a beautiful bawz it has!"—Puck.

Inventions.

No. 553,143. Adjustable Curtain Fixture.—Frederick L. Watts, Springfield, Mo. Filed April 13, 1895. Issued January 14, 1895.

No. 553,407. Attaching Window Shades to Rollers.—Edmund F. Hartshorn, Newark, N. J., assignor to the Stewart Hartshorn Company, of New Jersey. Filed November 17, 1894. Issued January 21, 1896.



Claim.—1. In a fastening for attaching shades to rollers, the combination with the roller having a channel, a, along its side, of the shade holder b provided with the spur b' adapted to enter under the edge of the channel, and with the spurs b^2 b^2.——2. In a fastening for attaching shades to rollers, the shade holder b having the teeth b' and b^2 b^2 arranged at different angles to enter the roller in a direction oblique to the circumference, whereby as the teeth b^2 b^2 are driven into the roller they cause the tooth b' to penetrate the roller.

Patented in England.

No. 14,955. August 4, 1894. Rocking Chairs.—W. S. McLennan, 222 Whitehill street, and T. Morton, 145 Finlay Drive, both in Glasgow. Issued January 8, 1896.

The employees of D. M. Williams & Co., 125th street and Third avenue, New York, enjoyed an entertainment and dance at the Lexington Avenue Opera House on the evening of the 13th ult. There was a large attendance. Dancing followed the entertainment. Supper was served at midnight.

Felix J. McCosker has become the American agent for Wm. O'Hanlon & Co., Manchester, England, manufacturers of corded stripe and Florentine window shades, and continues to show the line in the same office as was occupied by the late I. R. Macpherson at 486 Broadway. Mr. McCosker is very enthusiastic over the merits and future enlarged use of the very stylish and tasteful window shades made by O'Hanlon & Co. His long experience as manager of the upholstery department of A. T. Stewart & Co. and their successors, has given him an especial knowledge of what suits the public, and he is eminently fitted to prosecute the business of O'Hanlon & Co. to an increased extent. As stated elsewhere, Mr. McCosker has also been appointed American agent for John King & Son, the Scotch holland manufacturers.

OBITUARY.

Ira W. Morrell.

Ira W. Morrell, son of Richard M. Morrell and brother of Richard B. Morrell, of the firm of Geo. Brooks & Son, died in Philadelphia on the 11th ult., at the age of twenty-eight years, after an illness of two weeks, of typhoid fever. The decedent contracted the disease on his last trip South for Denniston & De Armond, the Philadelphia upholstery jobbers, with whom he has been connected since they started in business. He covered Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and parts of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania for this firm, and had attained an enviable reputation in the business. He was a young man of many agreeable parts, and his early demise is sincerely mourned by his employers and co-workers, as well as by his immediate family.

Andrew Lawson, of the firm of Lawson, Lynam & Co., lace manufacturers, Nottingham and New York, died at Nottingham recently at the age of fifty-six years. The decedent was at one time a member of the firm of Lawson Brothers.

Benjamin Karpen, of S. Karpen & Brothers, the well-known Chicago manufacturers of parlor furniture, died of typhoid fever on January 10, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Karpen was born in Germany and came to Chicago in 1871. He at first engaged in the manufacture of cigars, but six years ago entered the firm of S. Karpen & Brothers, traveling for two seasons, and then becoming floor man and handling the Chicago trade. He was a Mason, a member of the Royal Legion, and a member of the Iroquois Club. He leaves a widow and two young daughters.

The department store of Fessenden & Nachbour, Chicago, was closed by the sheriff on the 29th ult. on a chattel mortgage for $54,000 in favor of Marshall Field & Co., and one for $10,000 in favor of the Metropolitan National Bank. The liabilities are estimated at $125,000, and the assests at $135,000.

Pantasote is an article of growing favor with the upholstery trade, as it is the best known substitute for leather. Every upholstery department should have a rack of pantasote, which contains five pieces, each 10 yards long and 36 inches wide, of the leading leather colors. An illustration of this rack will be found on page 73, and full information regarding it will be supplied by Clarence Whitman & Co., 39 and 41 Leonard street, New York.

"Send for prices of Cushman shade rollers and mounted shades if you want the best for the least money" is the statement made by Cushman Brothers & Co. in their advertisement on page 73. They offer a great variety of mounted shades in almost every kind of shade fabric, and guarantee that their prices cannot be beaten. With extensive factory facilities and being large manufacturers of shade rollers, they avail themselves of all economies in manufacture of mounted shades, and their many years of experience in catering to a wide distribution fit them very strongly to serve the general trade. We advise sending to them for further information regarding assortment and prices.

IN UPHOLSTERY CIRCLES.

Field, Mahler & Co., St. Paul, Minn., have dissolved and have been succeeded by Field, Schlick & Co., composed of T. C. Field, Frank Schlick, Jr., and J. I. H. Field. C. F. Mahler has retired.

The Journeay and Burnham Club, which comprises most of the employees of Journeay & Burnham, Brooklyn, N. Y., held its second annual concert and reception at Rivers' Academy on the 14th ult. The affair was a most enjoyable one from start to finish. The early portion of the evening was occupied with a concert. The rest of the evening was filled in with dancing. The committees were: Reception, Charles T. Love, chairman; William J. Lowery, John F. Flannery, John T. Bolger, John T. Morgan, George W. Swahn, Michael J. Conway, John J. Walters, L. M. Heyward; floor, John T. Sullivan, chairman; Thomas Readyoff, Joseph J. Speckels, James S. Hart, Edward A. Burger, William D. Sands, William P. Smith, John J. Cronin, Joseph F. Mulligan.

Jos. E. Harrison, of the Harrison-May Decorative Company, Baltimore, retired from that concern on the 15th ult. Samuel May will continue the drapery and upholstery business and relinquish the wall paper department.

A. Bowman is about to engage in the upholstering business at Hammond, Ind.

W. H. Lockwood has opened a furniture, bedding and upholstery business at 696 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The addition to Altman & Co.'s store on Sixth avenue referred to in our issue of the 1st ult. will cover an area of 150x184 feet, and to make room for the new structure fifteen houses have been torn down. The entire building, when completed, will cover an area of 200 by 300 feet fronting on Sixth avenue, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

The new extension will be six stories in height, thoroughly fireproof. There will be every convenience for customers, including a large attractive waiting room for women. In the centre of the building will be a square rotunda, 40x70 feet, extending up to the third story, lighted by a skylight set in leaded glass. It will be finished in a decorative manner, presenting an arcade of columns on the second and third floors, constituting observation galleries from which a fine view of the lower store floor, with all its life and bustle, may be obtained. The dimensions, 40x70 feet, mean that it will occupy a space equal to three ordinary stores on Sixth avenue, and the light through the glass roof at this point will make a most striking showroom.

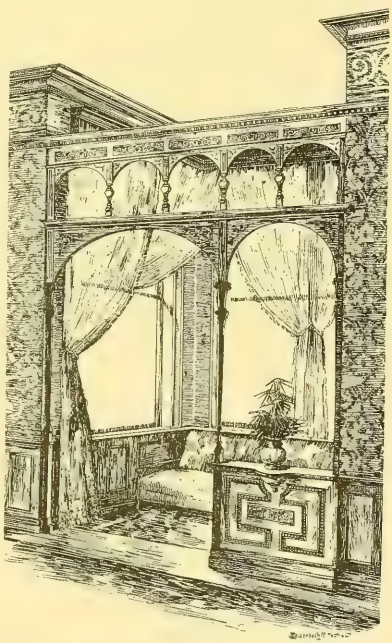
It is also proposed to raise the present building two additional stories, making the entire new building of one height.

The H. Batterman's Employees' Mutual Benefit Association held its annual meeting in Brooklyn on January 14. The organization was formed about three years ago and it has been very prosperous. The annual meetings are made festive occasions and this one was no exception. The meeting was largely attended, most of the 152 members being present. It was presided over by the president, William Moger, who is the superintendent of the big Broadway store. The report of the treasurer showed that the association has in its treasury over $3,200. When the election of officers came along it was seen that the gathering was desirous of honoring Mr. Moger as the president of the association for another year. He explained that he would be glad to have some minor employee serve as president, but he was cut off by being elected by the casting of one vote. The other officers elected were: George Hasslienger, vice-president; K. Gittermann, financial secretary; A. Fosdick, recording secretary; Theodore Uhlhorn, treasurer; A. N. Oldrieve, J. N. Gans, trustees; L. Lippman, E. Bechert, Miss L. Mullen, William Gelston, E. Weber, J. D. Specht, C. I. Clark, G. E. Cross, directors. After the business meeting there was an entertainment, followed by a collation. Mr. Uhlhorn, the treasurer of the organization, is manager of and buyer for the firm's upholstery department.

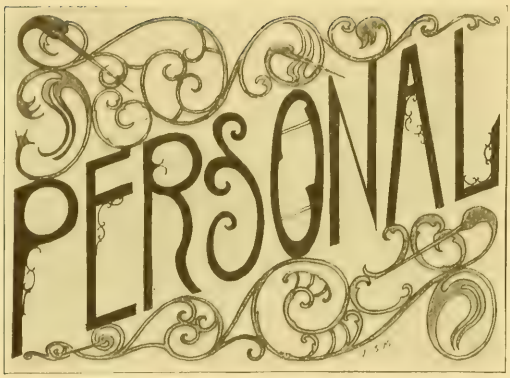
Ernisse & Kurtz are a new firm in the upholstering business at 409 East Main street, Rochester, N. Y.

The Salts Textile Manufacturing Company's factory at Bridgeport, Conn., has been closed for a week for a rearrangement of the machinery. Eighteen looms are being shipped to Hoboken, N. J., to establish a branch plant, as the supply of skilled labor in Bridgeport is found to be limited.

R. Blankenburg & Co., of Philadelphia, manufacturers and importers of down quilts, on February 1 will consolidate their New York offices at Nos. 111 and 113 Franklin street and 43 Leonard street and will occupy Rooms 506 and 507 in the new Silk Exchange Building at No. 487 Broadway, corner of Broome street.



AN IDEA FOR THE TREATMENT OF A BAY WINDOW.



Asher.—Harry Asher, "the Brooklyn manufacturer of window shades," 929 Broadway, has been elected a trustee of the Kings County Co-operative Building and Loan Association, one of our sister city's most prominent industrial organizations.

Badger.—Charles H. Badger is to open a furniture and upholstery establishment at Indianapolis, as already announced in thse columns. A salesman, discussing the peculiarities and characteristics of furniture buyers, recently said that he considered Mr. Badger the best buyer in the country. "That is," he said, "I think he knows the most about furniture, about the design and construction, and how much furniture is worth, of anybody I ever met. He is a good one and no mistake."

Bibo.—Edward C. Bibo, formerly with the Union Upholstery Trimming Company, is now with Dreyfus Brothers.

Bosler.—Harry Bosler, the selling representative of T. I. Birkin & Co., has been traveling very constantly for the past four months. He was at the salesroom this week for the first time in some weeks. The good business done, however, has tempered the trials of hard raveling.

Bradbury.—Geo. T. Bradbury, manager of the upholstery department of M. C. Spencer & Co., of 125th street, has been seriously ill at his rooms in the Harlem Club.

Brooks.—N. N. Brooks, upholstery buyer for Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago, has been in the market during the past fortnight, and has bought largely.

Corbet.—N. M. Corbet, who has been store salesman and office man for Wm. & J. Robertson, of 90 Grand street, New York, is to branch out as a road salesman and will visit the trade through New York State and Pennsylvania.

Dawson.—Edward Dawson, manager of Arnold, Constable & Co.'s retail upholstery department, sailed for the European markets on the Teutonic January 29.

Dungan.—E. B. Dungan, the recent manager of the upholstery department of Shoneman Brothers, Philadelphia, has severed his connection with that firm, and is open to an engagement elsewhere.

Finkel.—Alex. J. Finkel, one of the most accomplished designers and draughtsmen in the country, has associated himself with Wendell & Homan, New York.

Hayward.—Wm. T. Hayward, of the Jay C. Wemple Company, spent last week at the Chicago store of his concern. He is a great believer in the business importance of the big city by the lake and of its future growth, and shows it in the large branch establishment of the Wemple Company there, which was originally opened through his advocation.

Knapp.—E. W. Knapp, sole agent for the Lehigh Manufacturing Company, made a rapid trip to some of the big Western cities and was back at his New York salesroom last week.

Shaw.—Harry T. Shaw, of Joseph Wild & Co.'s table oil cloth department, who has been confined to his house for several weeks by illness, is once more at his desk ready to book orders for all comers.

Umbstaetter.—R. H. Umbstaetter, the globe trotter of the upholstery trade, was at last accounts in Ceylon, whence he writes that he envies us ulsters, radiators, icicles, Waring and other luxuries unknown to the tropics.

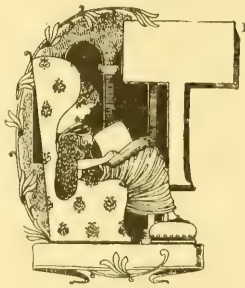
Wemple.—Alonzo E. Wemple, of the Jay C. Wemple Company, has fully recovered his health and is looking splendidly. He is now devoting his time to the company's big factory in Brooklyn, but expects to make an extended European trip the coming summer.

SETTLED IN NEW QUARTERS.

J. A. Brittain & Co. consummated the removal of their salesroom to the new building at 434 to 438 Broadway, corner of Howard street, during this week. Buyers who have already viewed the line in their new quarters are unanimous in praise of the increased spaciousness and modern facilities for inspecting the goods. As the removal came at a time when a number of buyers were in town, the new salesroom has not yet been seen at its best or in a finished condition, but in the course of another week, when the stock and all fixtures are in place, its attractions will confirm the statement that it will not be surpassed by any other lace curtain salesroom in the city.

Brittain & Co. have received a liberal share of orders from the buyers who have already been in the market, and the orders booked prove the claim of the firm that they show an unsurpassed range of Nottingham and Swiss curtains at the lowest prices. In looking up J. A. Brittain & Co. hereafter, remember to go a little farther up Broadway, to No. 438, their new address.

A PHILADELPHIA DECORATIVE CENTRE.



The already large number of interior decorative firms that have clustered around Sixteenth and Chestnut streets is being added to from time to time by old dealers removing from farther down the street. The names here recorded are firms that have earned a favorable reputation in their old quarters, and they will bring a large increase of business to the locality they have chosen. Sixteenth and Chestnut streets is fast becoming a famous locality for decorative firms.

Mr. Torchiana, formerly of the Chapman Decorative Company, is having a new store built for him at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Chestnut streets.

It is stated that the Chapman Decorative Company is also about deciding upon removing to the same locality.

J. E. Walraven, fine furniture and draperies, has removed from his old stand, occupied so long, at Eleventh and Chestnut streets to his new quarters at 1628 Chestnut. The Walravens, father and sons, are one of the oldest decorating firms in Philadelphia.

Henry C. Ewing, formerly Nagle, Cook & Ewing and more recently Cook & Ewing, paper hangers and interior decorators, will remove from his old quarters at 1208 Chestnut street to the store recently vacated by Francis D. Kramer, 1604 Chestnut street, February 1, 1896.

EMPIRE DRAPERIES.

The "Empire" is so evidently with us to stay for an indefinite period that it is desirable for designer and dealer to be conversant with the style in all its phases. The three specimens of Empire draperies are characteristic examples.

The upholsterer of to-day, when preparing to deal with commissions true to the style in question, must get rid of any predilections he may possess for too elaborate puffiness or fancy fringes and furbelows, such as are associated with those French modes which have recently been in favor, and be content with graceful arrangements of simple materials, free from any striving after meretricious effect. Rich crimson and gold, and deep blue and gold, were favorite combinations of color in such cases, as those represented in the illustration, and it must be admitted that both coloring and methods of treatment imparted a dignity and repose to the schemes which are by no means without charm. What embroidery was employed was thoroughly restrained, and characterized by truly classic severity, while the fringes were of the simplest description. These three draperies, simple as they are, satisfy the eye, and it would not be easy to add anything thereto by way of improvement. They strike one as being complete in every way, their freedom from the "finnikin" element constituting one of their great charms.

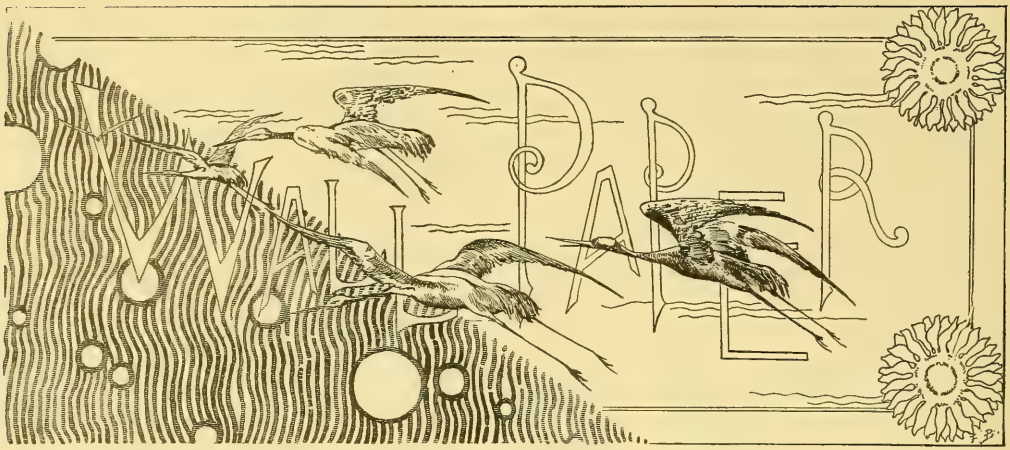
RYER'S ATTRACTIONS IN CURTAINS.

It is not surprising that the tapestry curtain illustrated in the advertisement of J. B. Ryer, Sons & Co. on page 70 is a big seller at the low price of $2.65 per pair. One feature that should be remembered by buyers regarding this curtain is the finished side border. In most tapestry curtains of about the same price there is no side border, the same design running out to the edges that is in the centre. Therefore J. B. Ryer, Sons & Co. are safe in the assertion that no curtain of equal quality and style can beat their No. 335 at $2.65 per pair. The firm are large importers of lace curtains in all grades, and will readily prove that they quote as low prices as any house in the trade. They have a Nottingham curtain as low as 35 cents per pair, and have a special drive at 42½ cents per pair. Call at 167 Canal street, New York, and see their full lines, or write for samples and quotations.

Lamb, Finlay & Co., importers of linens, burlaps, jute goods, &c., New York, will remove about the current date from Franklin street to 256 and 258 Church street.



MURAL MEMORANDA

About 200 suits have been filed in Missouri against foreign corporations doing business in that State who have failed to make an affidavit required by the anti-trust law, to the effect that they are not members of a combination in restraint of trade. The penalty fixed by the law for not presenting such an affidavit is $1,000.

..C. E. & J. W. Brown will remove to-day, the 1st inst., from 321 Canal street to 144 West Twenty-third street, this city. The business of the Messrs. Brown was carried on at 321 Canal street for sixty years, having been established there in 1836 by N. & J. Brown. Joshua Brown, of that firm was the father of the junior partner of the present firm.

..E. L. Lorence, Orion, Mich., has sold out to French & Garey.

..Harper & Johns, Rockford, Ill., have dissolved partnership.

..D. L. Murphy has sold out his wall paper business at Owosso, Mich.

..F. A. Warner & Co., Ithaca, N. Y., are succeeded by F. H. Warner.

..Haas & Moller, New York, have given up their Forty-second street store.

..It is reported that Ball & Co., New York, intend to retire from business.

..John F. Eeisenhower, 2115 Ridge avenue, Philadelphia, is going into the jobbing business.

..Isaac D. Kramer, of Chicago, was arrested on the 12th ult. on a charge of setting fire to his store.

..P. F. Crafts, formerly of Gardner, Mass., has bought a paint and wall paper business at North Adams, Mass.

..Henry C. Ewing, the Philadelphia draper, will remove from 1208 Chestnut street to No. 1604 on the same street.

..The new store opened at Haverhill, Mass., by the Cobban Brothers, of Groveland, is under the management of W. B. Nutter.

..George E. Searle and George W. Putnam will start about February 15 in the wall paper and paint business at Easthampton, Mass.

..The Howard & Barber Company, Derby, Conn., have enlarged their wall paper department, and have greatly increased the stock.

..A. P. Russell has sold his interest in the Hall Wall Paper Company, Jacksonville, Fla., and is now with the Florida Finance Company.

..Charles and Harry Hughes, for some years past with the Hughes Decorating Company, have opened a store of their own at Terre Haute, Ind.

THE CONSOLIDATED WALL PAPER COMPANY.

Christian Abele has been appointed receiver for the Consolidated Wall Paper Company, of New York city and Mamaroneck, on application of H. G. Craig & Co., creditors. The factory is at Mamaroneck, N. Y., which the company rents, but it owns the machinery, covered by a chattel mortgage of $25,000, which is being foreclosed for non-payment of interest. The liabilities are estimated at $90,000, of which $45,000 is due to four creditors, as follows: H. G. Craig & Co., Stevens & Thompson, Orrs & Co. and the Walloomack Paper Company, near Hoosick Falls, N. Y. It was stated that the company has a large number of orders on hand, on which there will be a large profit, but some cash is needed to complete them, and it is with a view of carrying out these orders that the creditors requested the appointment of Mr. Abele as receiver. The available assets are only about $3,000 in book accounts. The company was incorporated on February 1, 1893, with a capital stock of $125,000, and was a consolidation of the business of a firm in this city and a company at West Newton, Pa.

George Russell, a stockholder in the company, has brought suit against it, and in his complaint alleges that W. B. Whiting and H. G. Ashmore, officers of the company, had mortgaged the plant and then failed to pay the interest on the mortgage in order that the property might be bought in by them at the foreclosure sale.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., January 25, 1896.

The Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review.—GENTLEMEN—Assuming that you will be asked to insert the circular letter of the Goshen Sweeper Company, dated January 15, 1896, as paid advertising matter, we desire to inform you that we have no wish to fight our legal battles through the medium of trade papers. As to the value of the "broom action" feature in carpet sweepers, no further evidence is needed than the fact that others have deemed it necessary, and, having appropriated it, have been enjoined from using it, for which reason they now naturally attempt to belittle it. The real opinion of the Goshen Sweeper Company regarding the value of this feature is best shown by the following extracts from the printed briefs and affidavits taken from the record in the suit lately decided against them in our favor, it being remembered that the only question involved in the suit was the question of the right of the Goshen Sweeper Company to use the feature, i. e., broom action.

Francis Letellier, Secretary, Treasurer and Manager of the Goshen Sweeper Company in an affidavit, page 14, says that such an injuuction as has now been decreed in this case "would be a matter of irreparable injury and hardship to the defendant."

Their counsel in his printed brief, page 78, says: "It clearly appears by this record that a substantial portion of the carpet sweeper trade of this country demand a carpet sweeper" so constructed that it has "a certain elastic or yielding motion in the act of sweeping, and it can at once be seen that any manufacturer of carpet sweepers will be wrecked and ruined in his business if he is obliged to take this element out of his carpet sweeper," &c. Truly yours, Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, Chas. B. Judd, Vice-President, Secretary and Manager.

Three Vital Points . . .

Are necessary to insure a perfect roller such as . . . .

The Improved Hartshorn Wood Roller.

FIRST—No Tacks Are to Be Used.

The patent shade holders furnished free with Improved Hartshorn Wood Rollers eliminate the use of tacks in the most satisfactory manner possible.

SECOND—Provision for Mounting Shade Cloth Absolutely True.

The groove in this roller is the only place where the shade can be fastened to the roller. As the groove is as straight as machinery can make it, the cloth must be fastened in a straight line.

THIRD—Prevention Against Tearing Cloth from Rolls.

Owing to the scientific construction of the new roller, when the shade cloth is fastened upon the roller in the groove with our shade holders, the resistance which it offers is so strong that when shade and roller are hung it is almost impossible to tear the cloth off.

This Roller received specific indorsement in our award of a Gold Medal and Special Diploma of Honor by the Judges of the Atlanta Exposition.

Our new Descriptive Catalogue for 1896 is now ready.

THE NEWEST STYLES

. . IN . .

Lace Curtains

ARE SHOWN BY

A. NAUMANN,

AT HIS NEW SALESROOM:

Spring and Mercer Streets,

NEW YORK.

One eminent and popular house that has tried all makes announces them to be

"The Best Window Hollands Made."

Another equally large Importer of great experience states:

"The goods have always been and are now fast colors."

Another firm in the very front rank of the business describes them as

"Unequalled in quality, unshrinkable and of finest dyes."

While another firm of Importers, probably one of the largest shade goods houses in the world, characterizes them in these terms:

"JOHN KING & SON'S Famous Scotch Hollands."

JOHN KING & SON'S

ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1775

Celebrated

Scotch Window HOLLANDS

ILLUSTRATING the high consideration these popular goods hold in the estimation of the most experienced importers of shade goods in the country, the attention of the trade is invited to the above opinions, published in the columns of this and other journals, over the signatures of the respective firms.

Enterprising but unscrupulous parties unable to reach the exalted standard of these celebrated goods, pay them the flattery of imitating the wrappings. It is the Goods, not the wrappings, the trade is after. See that Bands, Tickets and Tabs of every piece are marked

Wholesaled from every Shade Goods Importer and Leading Carpet and Upholstery Importer in the Country.

The Goshen Carpet Sweeper Co.,

. . . . . GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. . . . . .

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 15, 1896.

To Our Customers and the Trade:

Circulars with heading, "FOR INFORMATION—NOT INTIMIDATION," and a PHOTOGRAPHIC copy of a letter to the Bissell Sweeper Company from their attorneys have been sent out to the trade, and to us from customers for an explanation. For the information of dealers we submit the following facts:

The suit of the Bissell Company against us is not for manufacturing Carpet Sweepers - these were on the market long before the Bissell Company existed—but for the use in a sweeper of a SPRING DEVICE WHEREBY THE SWEEPER CASE may be depressed to the floor, which feature the Bissell Company claim under what is known as the Plumb Patent. This spring device is a minor part, in fact a very minor part, of a Carpet Sweeper; and it is not used in many of the best grades of sweepers on the market.

The LIABILITY for manufacturing, selling or using Carpet Sweepers which the circulars and copy of letter before referred to seek to impress on your mind, is best shown by the sworn testimony of the late Mr. M. R. BISSELL, then President of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, and that of Mr. C. B. JUDD, now Vice-President, General Manager and Secretary of the same company (this testimony was given in a suit brought by A. D. Plumb against M. R. Bissell). In referring to this spring device on folio 688 of our printed record, Mr. CHARLES B. JUDD, in substance, says, in his judgment, a royalty of a cent a piece (sweeper) would be reasonable for the use of this Plumb device.

Mr. M. R. BISSELL, folio 705 same record, says: "I say a cent royalty on a sweeper would be a large royalty for so simple a device as that, even if it were valid, and more than I would be willing to pay."

We might quote testimony of other witnesses, but think the above sufficient, adding that the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company now have brands of sweepers embodying this Plumb device which THEY sell for a lower price than sweepers THEY MAKE without it.

You will thus see on how small a matter this "big blow" is made.

In the circular heretofore referred to, and a later letter of self laudation to the trade, the Bissell Company DOES NOT CLAIM superior quality for their goods; on the contrary, it can be inferred that in order to maintain their position it is necessary to threaten dealers with suit.

While the present decree remains in force we, the Goshen Sweeper Co., shall not offer any sweepers for sale that infringe the so-called Plumb patent, without leave of court first obtained, and we will defend all suits for infringement by any sweepers sold by us to dealers, if promptly notified of comnencement of suit.

We have no intention of boring the trade or taking up your time with long statements, but we will in the future as in the past be ready to show PRESENT QUALITY, NOT PAST REPUTATION, and prove that our sweepers are simple, the most convenient, best finished and the most practical ones on the market.

"Aye, There's the Rub."

Wet Weather Wisdom.

"Aye, There's the Rub."

WHEN the rains descend and the floods come the prudent man begins to meditate on the nature and consistency of mud. He finds that it sticketh closer than a brother and hath a strong affinity for carpets, rugs and stained or polished floors. Then is he reminded of the Rubber Mat that shuts out this unwelcome visitor. He buys one, his peace of mind is restored and the tranquility of his home assured, "come rain, come shine, come fair or foul weather." Rubber Mats are neat, durable and clean, noiseless, soft to the tread, firm in place and impervious to moisture—i. e. DOUBLE DIAMOND RUBBER MATS.

Mats and Matting, Corrugated and Perforated, for stairs, steps, hallways, elevators, bars, floors, etc., in doors and out, Pitcher and Table Mats, Coin Mats, Mats galore. Made to order of any size required, not exceeding 6x30 feet.
Lettering, 25 cents extra for each letter. Red or White Letters, 50 cents each.

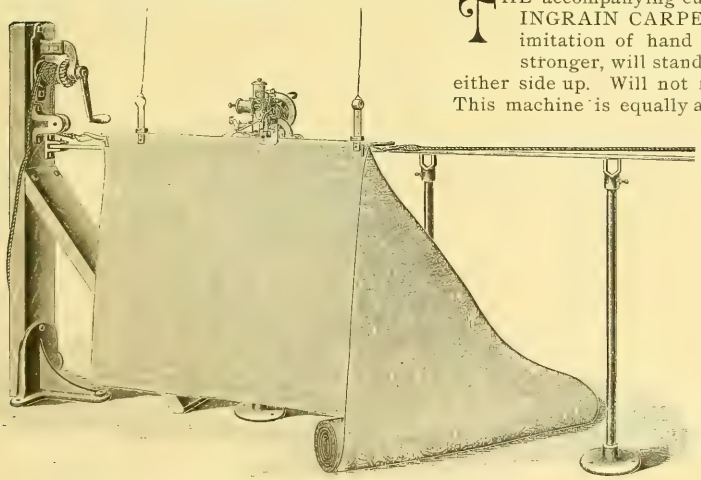
The Taft Carpet Sewing Machine.

The First and Only All Round Carpet Sewing Machine ever invented.



THE accompanying cut represents a machine that will sew INGRAIN CARPETS over-stitch; practically a perfect imitation of hand sewn work. Being more even and stronger, will stand any amount of strain. Can be laid either side up. Will not rip. Will give perfect satisfaction. This machine is equally as good on all other carpets, TAPESTRIES, BRUSSELS, WILTONS, MOQUETTES and STRAW MATTING. The machine can be changed in five seconds from over-stitch to straight stitch and vice versa.

Will, without any change, overcast all raw edges, sew together two raw edges and overcast them down; in fact, does all the work in its different branches with one operator, and is so arranged that a girl weighing 100 pounds can handle any carpet with ease and sew several hundred yards per day. The machine is simple, durable, easy running and a rapid sewer. No carpet house can afford to be without one.

SEWS CARPETS FOR LESS THAN ONE-HALF CENT PER YARD.
THE ONLY MACHINE THAT WILL OVER-STITCH INGRAIN CARPETS.

Further information given and samples forwarded on application to

J. C. TAFT, Inventor and Sole Manufacturer,
40 Friendship Street, Providence, R. I.

"Before you begin, consider, and when you have considered, act."

DO YOU EVER examine the Sweepers you buy?

Are they as well made as those you bought years ago?

Have they all the late improvements, such as appeal to the practical housekeeper, who is the one who uses them?

Are you buying on "Old Reputation" or "Present Quality?"

Are the "pans" so put in that when the house girl uses the "broom action" there is no chance to cause "sprouting?"

Are the brushes all right?

Will it not pay to "consider" these points, and "when you have considered act," by sending for a sample of one or more styles.

Try It.
It Will Pay You.

WE make no so-called "competing line," only HIGH GRADE broom and Cam Action Sweepers.

Crompton's New Ingrain Carpet Loom.

CROMPTON NEW INGRAIN CARPET LOOMS.

THE attention of manufacturers of Ingrain Carpets is called to the consideration of a new Carpet Loom just put on the market. It carries four (4) shuttle boxes at each end of the lathe; any one of the series at each end can be brought into line with the shuttle race at any pick, under the dictation of the Jacquard cards. The Jacquard is of the most approved construction and moves the warps kindly. The let off and take up motions bring out perfectly matched goods. On two ply work it makes sixty (60) yards per day. The apparatus for moving the boxes cannot be surpassed for its simplicity and efficiency. This Loom has no equal in speed and simplicity from four (4) to seven (7) colors.

CROMPTON ART SQUARE LOOM, for 3, 3½ and 4 yard goods, produces the best results and has no rival.

CROMPTON'S UPHOLSTERY LOOM, with Improved "1886" Box Motion, is capable of high speed and nice adjustment for its special line of goods.

CROMPTON LOOMS for Fancy Cassimeres, Worsteds, Flannels, Blankets, Jeans, Silks, Tapes, Ginghams, Fancy Cottons, &c., &c. Crompton "1888" and Noble Wool Comb.

PATENTED AUGUST 25, 1885.

This Patent Rubber Binding holds the ends of Matting, Carpets, etc., down in place, does not curl up like other flexible bindings, is not affected by dampness, will not break when shaken and thrown about, and is very durable and easily adjusted.

The Many Advantages of this Patent Rubber Binding give it the preference over any other heretofore used on Matting and Carpet runners for Hotels, Stores, Steamboats, Offices, Elevators, Street Cars, Railroad Cars, etc., etc.

It is Made in ¾, ⅞, 1, 1¼, 1½ and 2 lengths and is perforated to facilitate the sewing. The most inexperienced person can sew it on perfectly.

This PATENT RUBBER BINDING can be obtained from all the Leading Carpet and Upholstery Dealers.

New Quality Kairio XXX. Extra Good

MATTINGS

Spring, 1896, New Styles.

THE DESIGNS, PATTERNS and COMBINATION of COLORS in Kairio Rugs

Are a great improvement over the goods previously made. We have secured the only good dyer of jute in Japan—the only one who can produce reliable colors. We ship our own jute from Calcutta and it is a superior quality not heretofore used in Rugs. The Kairio Rugs have a sheen or lustre equal to the fine Oriental goods.

We have made every effort to put on the market a better quality of Rug than has been previously made in Japan. The price of Kairio Rugs is slightly higher than that of the inferior qualities now in the market, but the selling quality and desirability is 100 per cent. greater.

Clean Goods. Clean Business Methods.

Our celebrated Double Extra (10 wire) Tapestries are for Novelty of Treatment and Superb Color Effects a Revelation in the Art of Tapestry Carpet Manufacture. Brussels and Axminster Effects can be seen to perfection in this Line. It is conceded by the trade that our line leads.

OUR WILTON VELVETS HAVE MORE THAN DOUBLED THEIR SALES IN THE PAST TWELVE MONTHS.

Our different grades have been greatly strengthened this season, and our trade mark [Patented October 6th, 1885,] (Wilton Backs) which we are now putting on our two lower grades of Tapestries is increasing the demand for these goods.

Being among the Largest Manufacturers of Tapestry Carpets in the world, shrewd Buyers will inspect our line before placing their orders.

Spring Announcement, 1896.

PHILADELPHIA, having taken a leaf from the book of experience of European cities, has erected a MAMMOTH EXCHANGE BUILDING entitled "THE BOURSE," in the business heart of the city, which manufacturers generally have been quick to take advantage of as affording them an opportunity to offer and sell their products to the merchants of the country without the latter being compelled, as heretofore, to travel over the great distances of the mill district.

CARPETS OF EVERY CLASS, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, LACE CURTAINS, OIL CLOTHS, &c., can be purchased DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS represented in the building.

Our magnificent offerings for SPRING, 1896, are now on show at

LOWELL MANUFACTURING CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Wiltons, Brussels, Ingrains.

LOWELL CARPETS have been justly celebrated for more than half a century. For the guidance of buyers the word "Lowell" is woven in white capital letters in the back of our Wiltons and Brussels at each repeat of the pattern. The fabrics are of the best quality, designs and coloring.

Our Middlesex Wiltons have the word "Middlesex" woven in the back. The word is registered as our Trade Mark in the United States Patent Office.

The popular Lowell Ingrains are wound on a hollow stick made in two solid pieces, with the words "Lowell Man'g. Co." stamped within, a patented United States Trade Mark.

Park Mills Ingrains

Are the Best Sellers. Best in Every Way.

It pays Carpet merchants to sell "Park Mills" Extra Supers. It does not pay them to sell low priced imitation stuff.

"Park Mills" has an established good name; imitations have not.

"Park Mills" has the confidence of every consumer. Imitations are disappointing.

Bigelow Carpet Company,

ORIGINAL POWER-LOOM MANUFACTURERS OF

WILTON AND BRUSSELS

CARPETS.

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1878, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements, and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Wiltons or Body Brussels.

These Goods can be obtained from all first-class dealers.

Devon Carpet Mills.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE!

We commenced the manufacture of Carpets fourteen years ago and christened our mills the "DEVON MILLS."

When we introduced our Tapestry weave Ingrain, several seasons ago, we named it "PURITAN."

Recently there appeared in the market poor imitations of our goods bearing the names "DEVON" and "PURITAN." This is described as a coincidence.

☞ Would there have been any coincidence if our goods had not acquired a national reputation?

The Logic of Facts.

We have recently said something regarding the quality of our Linoleum, not the least feature of which was the reference to oil. THE FACT IS, WE ARE THE ONLY MAKERS OF LINOLEUM WHO ALSO PRODUCE LINSEED OIL, and we therefore positively know the kind of oil used in our Linoleum and that it is the best. The logic of facts is demonstrated in the composition of the BLABON LINOLEUM. The ingredients are of a superior kind, the thickness standard, and the patterns and colorings representations of advanced art in Floor Coverings. . . .

Blabon Linoleum.

The statements that thickness does not count are delusive. The more cork and linseed oil used the greater the thickness and cost and the better the goods. We have seen some Linoleum (imported) that could not stand on end in the roll; it lacked substance because the materials were not there. You cannot make Linoleum by simply painting a textile fabric. Toughness, Elasticity and Wear are obtained in the Blabon Linoleum. Any goods sold at lower prices than ours are far more inferior in quality than they are lower in price. When you buy of the Jobber ask for BLABON'S Linoleum, and be assured by us that you are getting unbeatable value.

Floor Oil Cloth. $$$$

The same care and attention referred to as being applied to the production of our Linoleum is likewise given to the manufacture of our Floor Oil Cloth. Our own make of linseed oil goes into our Oil Cloths, and our equipment of plant for rapid and economical manufacture is unsurpassed. We will not say here that we are the largest makers of Floor Oil Cloths, but we can justifiably enter any contest for that designation. In Styles of Oil Cloths, too, we invite any comparison.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT, PAGE 45.

☞ Our readers are urged to remember that we are always desirous to receive communications of interest to the carpet or upholstery trades, such as changes in firms or managers, the building or opening of new stores, improvements in old ones, the adding of new departments, improved methods of doing business, new inventions, suggestions as to the cutting, making and laying of carpets, the designing and fitting of draperies, or inquiries and dissertations relating to the technical or commercial details of the trades to which this periodical is devoted.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

FIRST orders have been placed quite freely during the past two weeks, and a considerable amount of such orders is still being received, as is shown by the list of buyers in the market, given elsewhere in this issue.

Prices are firm for all grades of carpeting, and the advances made in Tapestries and Velvets are certain to be maintained. On this point we can assure the trade that there is no possible doubt.

The trade situation has improved greatly since last December, and there is now every reason to believe that the spring retail business will open early and actively.

THE BOND ISSUE.

AMONG recent published comments of prominent merchants on the success of the bond issue we note the following:

James H. Dunham, of Dunham, Buckley & Co., No. 340 Broadway, said: "I cannot conceive that it can have other than a very beneficial effect upon the business interests of the country, and if Congress would adjourn and give to the people a rest from all agitation the country would experience a greater degree of prosperity than for many years."

George F. Vietor, of Fred. Vietor & Achelis, No. 64 to 74 Leonard street, said: "The oversubscription for the bonds will make a great impression in Europe, if it does not strengthen the disposition for investments in this country. This and the feeling of confidence shown by our own and European banks should stimulate business all over the country. It will undoubtedly have a good effect on the money market, for as soon as settlements are made with the Government the banks will be more free to loan money on stocks, thereby giving an easier tone to the time money market, and this in turn will result advantageously to the whole mercantile community."

THE REVIEW AND ITS REMNANT SUPPLEMENT.

WITH this issue of THE REVIEW is published our annual Remnant Supplement, a copy of which is sent to every subscriber for THE REVIEW. The supplement is not supplied to anyone who is not a subscriber, but our subscription list covers practically the entire carpet and upholstery trade, for there are few dealers who fail to appreciate the value of THE REVIEW simply as a trade paper, and even those rare mossbacks who, to employ their own phraseology, "ain't got no use for a trade paper" are at least capable of realizing the value of the Remnant Supplement, and therefore most of them feel obliged to send in their subscriptions.

The Remnant Supplement is indispensable to every dealer because it makes every remnant in his stock of equal value, yard for yard, with the whole piece. He can sell carpeting for a room or an entire floor from a sample measuring a yard, because he has at hand the printed list showing just where to obtain the amount lacking.

The supplement is copyrighted, for its compilation and publication have involved a large expenditure of time, labor and money. But this expense has been willingly incurred by THE REVIEW for the benefit of its readers and those who advertise in its columns.

Manufacturers and jobbers of carpeting or kindred goods know that THE REVIEW and its Remnant Supplement must be read by every dealer in floor coverings whose stock includes anything besides Ingrains, and the advertising of the wholesale trade is naturally governed by this consideration, as a glance at our advertising pages will prove.

These pages show plainly enough the standing of THE REVIEW among manufacturers and jobbers, while its reputation among the retail trade is shown in its subscription list, its returns to advertisers and in other ways; as, for example, in the letters received from dealers in relation to our Remnant Supplement. Among a number of these communications are the following:

HARTFORD, Conn., January 7, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

We mail herewith remnant list for publication. Thanking you for favor we appreciate so highly, we remain,

BROWN, THOMSON & CO., per E. J. Kuhne.

BROOKLYN, L. I., January 11.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

We inclose list of remnants for publication in supplement. We fully appreciate the advantages gained in previous years by recourse to its columns in matching up and disposing of old stock, and as for THE REVIEW itself, with its fund of trade news, we would not feel that we were in business without its welcome fortnightly call.

BROOKLYN FURNITURE COMPANY,
per Jas. J. A. Callahan.

WORCESTER, Mass., January 7, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

Inclosed please find list of remnants of carpets which you will please insert in the Remnant List issued by your concern for 1896. We find these remnant lists of great value to us, and by issuing them you place the retail carpet dealers under great obligations to you.

PINKHAM & WILLIS COMPANY.

URBANA, Ohio, January 15, 1891.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

Please publish the inclosed lists in your Remnant Supplement, which we find to be "a great help in time of trouble."

HITT & FULLER.

BROOKLYN, January 11, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

We respectfully inclose our remnant list for 1896. We have found it very useful in the year past, and believe others will have the same success in the year to come if its pages are carefully looked through.

A. D. MATTHEWS & SONS.

AUBURN, N. Y., December 31, 1895.

CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

Another year has gone and still THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW flourishes and offers to the retail carpet trade of the United States the benefit of the Remnant Supplement. Kindly enter in same our remnant list inclosed.

H. R. WAIT.

BURLINGTON, Vt., December 28, 1895.

CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

Inclosed please find our remnant list, which we desire to publish in your next Supplement. In one instance during the year it proved itself a very valuable aid indeed. A customer who had purchased a carpet about three years ago was about to move into a new house and wanted to match his carpet. Looking over the Supplement we found just what he required. Had we been without such a book we would have been obliged to tell him that it was impossible to match anything after one year.

I would not do without the Supplement for many times the price of subscription.

N. E. CHAMBERLIN.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., January 2, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

As usual at this time I send my remnant list, and hope that it may be the means of helping out some brother dealer in an emergency, as your published list has often helped me.

GEO. B. ADAMS.

WATERBURY, Conn., January 6, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

In accordance with our usual yearly custom, we mail you our list of carpet remnants for insertion in the Remnant Supplement of the coming issue. We find this publication to be of great value to us, as through its medium we are enabled to utilize a great many remnants, which otherwise would be comparatively valueless.

THE L. F. HAASE COMPANY.

ROCKLAND, Me., January 3, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

We inclose our list of remnants, which we hope will be added to the Remnant Supplement, for the use of which we are indebted to you, as we find the same invaluable to us.

FULLER & COBB.

BIG BUSINESS FROM A "REVIEW" ADV.

THE following letter tells of an object lesson in advertising. It ought to furnish food for reflection to those who "don't believe in advertising:"

PROVIDENCE, R. I., February 4, 1896.

THE CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY TRADE REVIEW:

Please find enclosed check covering amount due to February 1, 1896.

I will say I was not prepared for the overwhelming amount of correspondence and business I received from the advertisement in your book, commencing from the first issue in which it appeared, and I will be pleased if you will make an apology for me to those who, from any neglect on my part, failed to have their correspondence fully answered in regard to my carpet sewing machine, for surely it was not intentional. I have been unable from the first to promptly fill the many orders received through the advertisement in your book. I am now prepared to furnish machines with dispatch, both hand and power, to run with electric motors or otherwise. Can furnish a stack of recommendations from first-class houses.

Yours truly, J. C. TAFT.

THE STRAW MATTING IMPORTS.

SHEWAN & CO.'s circular, dated Canton, January 11, states that imports of straw matting from Hong Kong and Canton to New York and Baltimore, from May 1, 1895, to January 1, 1896, amounted to 293,933 rolls.

In their market letter dated Kobe, December 31, Shewan & Co. say that the price of straw is still high, and that the exports of Japanese matting in 1895 had been very large, amounting to 454,409 rolls. In 1894 the exports were 277,515 rolls.

EXPORTS of carpeting and kindred goods during the past two weeks were as follows: CARPETING—Southampton, 95 bs., $4,271; Antwerp, 30 rolls, $935; Bristol, 9 bs., $392; Hamburg, 8 bs., $270; Rotterdam, 8 bs., $228; Santo Domingo, 3 bs., $125. CARPET SWEEPERS—Antwerp, 6 cs., $135; Rotterdam, 6 cs., $85; New Zealand, 5 cs., $81; British Australasia, 4 cs., $60; Hamburg, 2 cs., $28; Brazil, 2 cs., $18; Newfoundland, 1 cs., $12.

Gleanings in Gotham

J. Lewin will remove from 239 to 267 West 125th street before May 1.

The stock of B. Wolf, 88 Graham avenue, Brooklyn, was sold out recently by auction.

M. Lion & Co. have opened a furniture and carpet store at Third avenue and 112th street, New York.

Frederick Senior, the well-known carpet traveler, is now with Sperry & Beale and will represent their mattings on the road.

Frank A. Ray, manager of the carpet department of Wm. M. Whiting & Co., Albany, was in town on the 14th looking through the market.

S. Baumann & Brother will occupy the premises at the corner of Sixth avenue and Fifteenth street about the 15th inst. The building has seven floors.

Henry Parker, collector for H. V. Monaham, Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested on the 25th ult. on a charge of appropriating $400 which he had collected for his employer.

Joseph P. McHugh & Co. have made extensive alterations in their store on Forty-second street to make room for mattings and other floor coverings, which will be shown in styles and colorings suited to McHugh & Co.'s specialties in wall papers and fabrics.

L. A. Emich, dry goods dealer, Third avenue and Fifty-third street, Brooklyn, has taken C. Greenbaum as a partner. Carpets and furniture have been added to the stock, and the firm will remove to Third avenue and Fifty-first street. The firm style is L. A. Emich & Co.

T. W. Williams, Eastern and foreign manager of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, has just returned from a trip to the general office of the company at Grand Rapids, Mich. He reports everything in the most promising condition and the outlook excellent for good spring trade.

The Linen and Jute Trade Association held its annual meeting on the 4th inst. and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: E. R. Biddle, president; F. S. Pinkus, vice-president; Joseph L. Frame, secretary, and Thomas Potts, treasurer. The old board of governors was re-elected.

Paul Brigham, the crook, whose attempt to swindle White & Spate, the carpet manufacturers, was noted in our issue of the 15th ult. has been sent to State prison for seven years, having pleaded guilty to a charge of forging the certificate of a check on the Columbia National Bank, of Washington, and thereby obtaining $6,500 from the Lincoln National Bank, of New York.

Joseph Bloomingdale, of the firm of Bloomingdale Brothers, has retired from business, his half interest in the firm having been purchased by his brother Lyman, who has also received from Joseph a lease of the store at Third avenue, Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets, for twenty-one years for no consideration. The business will be conducted by Lyman G. Bloomingdale under the old firm name.

Hon. Warner Miller, vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States for the State of New York, and a number of other gentlemen prominently identified with manufacturing interests in this State entertained the executive committee of the association at a banquet in Delmonico's restaurant on the night of the 10th inst. Among those present were Col. William Barbour, Wm. F. Cochran and Thomas P. Egan.

To meet the demands of Brooklyn, E. D., retail dealers a new trolley car line is to be established in that city, running from Grand street to Richmond Hill. The new line is largely the result of the agitation started by the Grand Street Board of Trade, an association of local dealers, in which Messrs. Edward McGarvey, of S. W. Woolsey & Co.; R. T. Whalen, of Whalen Brothers; Elwin S. Piper; E. J. Doyle, of Rhinehart & Doyle and A. Fehmel, manager for A. Schulz are especially prominent.

The salesmen in the wholesale carpet department of W. & J. Sloane, on the evening of February 8 entertained Geo. B. Swayne at dinner, at Clarke's, on Twenty-third street, on the occasion of his return from the far East, where he had gone in the interests of his matting department. Paul A. Heubner presided, and the following gentlemen were present: G. B. Swayne, W. H. Parkinson, A. Neeson, W. H. McCloy, J. S. Peene, C. M. Brooks, A. C. Hamlin, James A. Johnson, S. P. McCutcheon, H. Rattcliff, Frank L. Hardcastle, J. W. Cornell, W. C. Hunter, C. E. Buckley, R. C. Beggs, D. A. Tarbell, N. S. Clark and E. G. Storer. The dinner was excellent, the wines good, the stories new, and the speeches original in design and well colored. Altogether the affair was a very enjoyable one to all concerned.

Minnie E. Lacey, 65 Smith street, Brooklyn, has assigned to William E. Severs, with preferences to P. A. Quinn for $1,750 for money loaned. At a meeting of the creditors on the 5th inst. creditors representing $994.97 of the liabilities were present. John Thompson, of the John Thompson Company, acted as chairman. The assignee stated that the assets were, nominal, $1,432.41; actual, $716.21; outstandings, nominal, $6,487.75. Liabilities, $4,272.37, including the preferences of $1,750 and $750. The assignee was asked whether Mrs. Lacey had an offer to make and replied that she thought she could get assistance from her friends to pay 25 per cent. cash in sixty or ninety days. On motion of M. C. Warner, E. S. Higgins Carpet Company's representative, the offer was unanimously agreed upon, payable in sixty days from February 5, 1896.

A meeting of the creditors of Griffin & Sullivan, carpet and furniture dealers, was held at their store, 1260 Broadway, Brooklyn, on the 12th inst., when sixteen creditors, representing $1,451.32 of the liabilities, were present. M. C. Warner, credit man for the E. S. Higgins Carpet Company, occupied the chair and called on John Menahan, assignee, for a statement of the assets and liabilities, which as read were as follows: Assets—Outstanding accounts, $529.27; stock and fixtures, cost price, $2,085.86; cash on hand, $10.32; total assets, $2,625.88. Liabilities—Merchandise creditors, $3,061.84. Both Mr. Griffin and Mr. Sullivan were called on and said that the assignment was necessary, as they had no cash to meet their obligations and had been sued by one creditor. Mr. Griffin was disappointed in not securing money he had expected to raise. They could make no offer of settlement. H. E. Oliver moved that it be the sense of the meeting that the assignee should close up the estate in the quickest manner possible for the best interests of the creditors. The motion was unanimously carried. Assignee Menahan and Mr. Griffin both think the stock could be sold at good prices and the estate closed in thirty days. In that case the expenses will be light and creditors should realize from 30 to 40 per cent. Messrs. Griffin and Sullivan stated they hoped some day to be able to pay creditors in full.

Among the buyers in town during the past two weeks were: Messrs. F. A. McReynolds, for the Root & McBride Company, Cleveland, Ohio; Charles A. Birkle, for the Fair, Chicago; H. S. Judkins, for the Joslin Dry Goods Company, Denver, Col.; E. R. Du Bose, of the Chamberlin, Johnson & Du Bose Company, Atlanta, Ga.; S. Dorian, for Dey Brothers, Syracuse, N. Y.; E. A. Mentz, for the Timothy Dry Goods Company, Nashville, Tenn.; W. H. Day, of the Day Carpet and Furniture Company, Peoria, Ill.; W. P. Benjamin, New London, Conn.; William L. Whipple, Providence, R. I.; H. W. Hunsicker, Allentown, Pa.; T. H. Reeves, of the Reeves-Veeder Company, Schenectady, N. Y.; J.W. Miller, Newburgh, N. Y.; Hugh McCusker, Troy, N. REGAL SMYRNAS.

One of the most constantly employed Smyrna rug plants in the trade is that of Thos. Hirst, Vineland, N. J., manufacturer of the "Regal" brand Smyrna rugs. The permanence of Mr. Hirst's connection with large jobbers proves his ability to produce a standard grade rug at unbeaten prices. He has adhered strenuously to the manufacture of one grade only, so that when you once use the Regal brand you always obtain the same quality. Mr. Hirst is very happily situated in his New York connection, where he is represented by Chas. W. Bogert, with an office at 337 Broadway. Mr. Bogert has constantly handled Smyrna rugs for the past fifteen years, and knows all the ins and outs of the fabric and prices of the market. When you are in doubt as to conflicting values consult Mr. Bogert.

Joseph Lowenthal, traveler for M. H. Marcus & Brother, has returned from an extended Western trip, and is now looking after buyers visiting New York.

Wm. A. Vredenburg, who is conducting the "Brooklyn Furniture Store" at Newburgh, N. Y., is negotiating to close out the business, and says that he expects to pay all creditors in full.

....Hoeflich & Wilson have settled with their creditors at 50 cents on the dollar, cash.

....A very enjoyable musicale was given at the Manufacturers' Club on the night of the 5th inst.

....William Carton, for many years carpet salesman for John Wanamaker, is now with Gimbel Brothers.

....Gately & Fitzgerald, furniture and carpet dealers, 1025 Market street, have opened a branch store at Altoona, Pa.

....James Gay, of John Gay's Sons, has been re-elected director of the Frankford and Southwark Street Car Company.

....John & James Dobson have secured another large contract for furnishing carpets for a number of rooms in the new city hall.

....Hon. Wm. Potter and Jas. F. Hope, of Thomas Potter, Sons & Co., have been re-elected directors of the City National Bank.

....L. C. Krisher, the Ingrain manufacturer, has received the Republican nomination for common council from the Thirty-first Ward.

....Geo. D. Fleming, of Dornan Brothers, 602 and 603 Bourse Building, will act as the agent for Carson & Irwin's Ingrain carpets, Room 590.

....E. C. Read, the Ingrain manufacturer, has had an opportunity to display his usually good judgment in the jury box during the past few weeks.

....Wm. E. Montague has established a general fire insurance agency in the Bourse Building. He has his quarters with Swire & Scott, Room 682.

....Thos. Develon's Sons are still running every one of their looms on orders for their superior grade Victoria Extra Supers and other grades of Ingrains.

....Swire & Scott have a new and interesting advertisement on page 19, telling how essential it is when comparing prices to more carefully compare quality and style.

....The Ivins, Dietz & Metzger Company have been kept very busy so far on their 3-4 goods, rugs and Squares, and the Ingrain department, while not rushed, has also been constantly employed. There is no concern in the trade that adheres more strenuously to a one price system than this company, and buyers have well learned that they always get the most for their money in the Ivins, Dietz & Metzger goods.

....James Pollock, Thomas S. Gay, Adolph Woll, Jas. Butterworth and Chas. A. Kurlbaum have been re-elected directors of the Industrial Trust Title and Savings Company.

....At the regular monthly meeting of the Manufacturers' Club on the 17th inst. Dr. Henry W. Cattell will deliver an illustrated lecture on Roentgen's discovery in relation to the cathode rays.

....M. K. Treichler, of Artman & Treichler, with his daughter, was a member of the excursion party that sailed from this city the 8th inst. on the steamship Ohio for a thirty days' cruise among the West Indies and to South American ports.

....The $500,000 contract for work in the new City Hall, furnishing rooms, &c., which has been open for bidders for some time past, has been awarded. The principal competitors were John Wanamaker and Allen B. Roark. The contract was given to the latter.

....John Boyd pleasantly surprised the firm and force of Boyd, Harley & Co. by visiting their store on the 7th inst. It was his second call since his recent serious illness, and all join in the wish that his familiar face and figure will soon be seen as frequently on Market and Chestnut streets as of yore.

....The Penn Furniture Company are a new firm in Philadelphia, who have taken the four story building No. 726 Arch street. They will carry a large stock of carpets as well as furniture. C. A. Higgins, their buyer, paid a visit to the Bourse recently and left an order with Dornan Brothers.

....Samuel White, the Ingain and rug manufacturer, is obtaining a due share of the spring trade. His goods are so well distributed that he is always able to run as late into the season as any other manufacturer. The Gladstone all wool Extras and the Centennial Mills Unions and Cottons are goods that always command repeats.

....Diagonal floors are becoming very popular for carpet stores, from the fact that splinters are very uncomfortable things to come in contact with. Messrs. Fritz, La Rue & Sinn, Oriental rug dealers, 1128 and 1130 Market street, have just completed the laying of a new maple wood floor on their first loft. It is laid diagonally, and is highly polished with wax.

....The retail carpet trade has been somewhat dull for the past two weeks, excepting perhaps in some of the larger stores, where efforts have been made to continue the January sales over into February. There is, however, a cheerful view of the future entertained by most of the dealers, and they are buying freely for the coming spring. High grades of goods form the larger portion of the selections made.

....Among the recent purchasers at the Bourse were D. C. Beggs, of D. C. Beggs & Co., Columbus, Ohio. He called on Dornan Brothers and others. Mr. Catts, of Lauxen & Catts, Stockton, Cal., visited pretty much the entire company of carpet men in the Bourse during the past week. Mr. Lichtenthaler, of Glase & Lichtenthaler, Reading Pa., was another recent visitor to the big building, as was also Colonel Smith, of Wm. B. Sharp & Co., Wilmington, Del.

....William Lockhart, Ingrain carpets, Howard and Lehigh avenue, and John Hamilton, of the Montgomery Mills, have taken Rooms 676 and 678 Bourse Building, which are now open for business. Both rooms will be in charge of Hanson & Co., selling agents. Mr. Hanson is of the late firm of Hartley & Hanson, Ninth and Somerset streets. Hanson & Co. will also have the agency of the Smyrna rugs manufactured by the Newfield Company, Newfield, N. J.

....The Warp and Weft Club, of the Philadelphia Textile School, is a most commendable society which was organized about a year ago by students of the school to stimulate the progress of technical education in textile manufactures and promote sociability among the members of the school. Meetings are held twice a month, at which papers on technical subjects are read and afterward discussed. The club has also arranged for a series of addresses by men who are prominent in various branches of textile manufacture. The first of the series was given on the 29th ult. by John F. Bolger.

....James Hall, the Conshohocken Damask, Venetian and Granite Ingrain manufacturer, has purchased the mill property at the northwest corner of Lehigh avenue and Front street. Robinson & Hall, the Ingrain and chenille manufacturers, will occupy the larger part of the mill in April, when they will remove their Ingrain plant from Trenton avenue and Tioga street to it. They are already occupying a portion of the premises with their chenille plant. Mr. Hall, of Robinson & Hall, is a son of James Hall. The latter bought the property as an investment, and will continue to operate his carpet mill at Conshohocken. The mill is a well-known landmark to the carpet and upholstery trades, as it was formerly occupied by Geo. W. Ennis & Co. and Barnes & Beyer.

....Among recent visitors at the Bourse were Messrs. O. J. Griffiths, for the Minneapolis Dry Goods Company; Turpin, for Sibley, Lindsay & Curr, Rochester, N. Y.; F. A. Norway, for Wm. Donaldson & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; C. W. Toles, for A. M. Rothschild & Co., Chicago; buyer for Irish & English, Buffalo, N. Y.; Stevens, of Stevens & Beetem, Carlisle, Pa.; E. Du Bose, of the Chamberlin, Johnson & Du Bose Company, Atlanta, Ga.; E. M. Walmsley, for the Havens & Geddes Company, Terre Haute, Ind.; H. W. Gough, Harrisburg, Pa.; E. Lichtenthaler, Reading, Pa.; Leitzinger Brothers, Clearfield, Pa.; J. L. Brandeis & Son, Omaha, Neb.; L. Lowenthal & Son, Baltimore, Md.; Mullinix & Kemp, Frederick, Md.; Chambers, of Chambers & Reed, Williamsport, Pa.; Hager, of Hager & Brother, Lancaster, Pa.; Krauss, for Gimbel Brothers, Milwaukee; F. A. McReynolds, for the Root & McBride Company, Cleveland, Ohio; Jones, for Stern Brothers, New York; the Smith & Farwell Company, St. Paul, Minn.; Lauros H. Allen, for the D. E. Morgan, Son & Allen Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. M. Grimley, Allentown, Pa.; Louis A. Geis, Johnstown, Pa.; Sterchi & Brother, Knoxville, Tenn.

THE LAMOND & ROBERTSON COMPANY.

SAMPLES of Smyrna rugs will soon be shown by Walter Scott, agent for the Lamond & Robertson Company, 339 Broadway, New York. Reference to the formation of this company was made in The Review a few months ago. The officers are J. S. Lamond, president; R. J. Hoguet, vice-president; Colin T. Robertson, secretary and treasurer. The company purchased the machinery of the former John Stewart Company, of Philadelphia, and removed it to Paterson, N. J., to a large structure formerly known as the Central Market. The building has been renovated and fitted up for mill purposes, and the plant will henceforward be known as the Central Mills. Sixty looms are being set up for the manufacture of Smyrna rugs, in all sizes up to 4 yards wide, and chenille curtains and table covers. The company has also absorbed the hemp carpet, Napier matting and jute rug plant of Lamond & Robertson in Paterson, and will continue that business.

CUT CARPETS FOR CARPET DEALERS.

The specialty of Boyd, Harley & Co., Philadelphia, in supplying cut quantities of Wiltons to carpet retailers became a success some time since, and the list of leading dealers who carry this firm's Wilton samples is steadily increasing. The system is profitable to those who already carry a stock of Wiltons as well as to those who do not carry any stock. The dealer who has some stock of Wiltons increases his assortment and chances of effecting a sale by having Boyd, Harley & Co.'s samples and obtains just the quantity desired at a nominal advance over piece price.

George C. Boyd, of the firm, recently made a trip West to Omaha, and found the trade well satisfied with their experience in selling Wiltons from samples. He also widened the system by introducing samples of other standard goods, such as Brussels, Axminsters, Velvets, Moquettes and best Tapestries. The firm invite correspondence from carpet dealers, in any part of the country, relating to their department of cut carpets for carpet dealers.

If we could get credit for our intentions poor reputations would be scarce.—Puck.

PERILOUS ADVENTURE OF TWO CARPET TRAVELERS.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN in Tennessee is one of the renowned elevations in American scenery, and its fame has become deeply intrenched in the history of the Union through the great battle fought in its locality during the Civil War.

The illustration herewith represents a thrilling incident that occurred on the summit of the mountain a few weeks ago. The story as told by A. M. McKnight, traveler for Philip Doerr & Sons, is that he visited the mountain in company with William E. White, the well-known representative of Joseph Wild & Co., on a Sunday, and the two climbed out on Umbrella Rock, the projection shown in the picture and which towers 2,000 feet above the Tennessee River. Mr. McKnight says that his attention was drawn from Mr. White for a few moments by the beautiful and awe inspiring scenery, and on turning around to address him he was horrified to discover Mr. White crouching on the edge of the rock, divested of hat and overcoat. He called to him in terror to come back, but the reply was: "Good-bye, old man, I'm going to jump.' With great bounds McKnight gained the edge and just succeeded in catching White by the coat as the latter threw himself off. The shock brought McKnight face down on the edge of the rock, but being a much heavier and stronger man than White he was enabled to retain his clutch on the coat and held him thus suspended 2,000 feet above the river. The agony suffered by McKnight at this moment is portrayed on his face. Could he save his long-time and warm friend from a horrible death, or would the latter effect not only his own destruction, but also drag his would-be preserver to a similar horrible fate? White struggled and swayed and McKnight felt the muscles of his arm strain and creak under the awful pressure upon them, and then, with what sounded to McKnight like a madman's laugh, White wrenched himself free and vanished in the abyss below, while at the same moment exhausted nature conquered, and for the first time in his life McKnight fainted. The next he remembered some one was pressing a glassy substance to his lips and he instinctively allowed a warming fluid to trickle down his throat. He opened his eyes and with a shriek again fell back unconscious, for before him with a ghoulish, smiling face, he beheld White—the man whom he thought lying in death at the bottom of the river 2,000 feet below. More copious draughts of red elixir again brought him to life and sense, however, and he then realized that his old friend was still flesh and blood and apparently none the worse for his great fall.

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

The sequel is told by Mr. White. It appears that underneath Umbrella Rock is a ridge of the mountain that was well known to him and that effectually barred the way to the apparent abyss and its bottom 2,000 feet. below. Mr. White had only dropped five feet of that distance and had carefully planned the adventure, but had not realized the prostrating effects it would have on McKnight, so he says he had to borrow the reviving liquid from the photographer who keeps a camera on Umbrella Rock for the benefit of visitors. Mr. White says his regard for McKnight has increased a thousandfold since his heroic attempt to save his life. Mr. McKnight evidently reciprocates, and the "perilous" adventure of Lookout Mountain has evidently had no harmful effects on the systems of the participants.

THERE are three articles, burlap, tow and moss, which form the leading lines of Arthur C. Graham, of Grand Rapids, dealer in manufacturers' supplies. The house probably does a larger business in burlaps and tow than any house in the country, the sales of burlaps ordinarily running from 100 to 150 bales per month, according to the season, while for two or three years past the output of tow has been about 400 cars per year. From ten to fifteen cars of stock are constantly kept in Grand Rapids.

THE Government statistics relating to the importation of carpets and rugs from Asiatic countries, as given in our issue of the 1st inst., afford no adequate idea of the total importations of such goods into the United States. As was stated in our last issue, a great quantity of these products of the Orient comes to us via London, and a still larger amount is shipped from Constantinople and Smyrna. All these goods are dutiable and it would be an easy matter for our custom house authorities to furnish figures showing the total amount imported, but for reasons known only to themselves they fail to do so.

"I HARDLY understand me dot English goot yet," plaintively announced Mr. Yoostofer. "To-day I ask me a furniture man vy a table in his window vas marked down, and he tell me it vas marked down pecause it vas scratched up."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The C. E. Mead Company, Superior, Wis., have been incorporated to deal in carpets. The capital stock is $3,000, and the incorporators are C. E. Mead, M. J. Mead and A. U. Havens.

The W. H. Cock Dry Goods Company has been incorporated at Clinton, Mo. The directors are W. H. Lee, Arthur Cock, A. A. Callender and C. H. Williams. W. H. Cock has been in business in Clinton for the last forty years.

Comings & Vancor have started in the carpet and furniture trade at St. Albans, Vt. H. C. Comings was formerly of the firms of Powell & Comings and Sweet, Comings & Co., Richford, Vt., and F. C. Vancor was in the employ of Powell & Comings.

A snap shot at Manager James J. A. Callahan, of the Brooklyn Furniture Company, while he was buying carpets the other day showed him smiling over a singularly good January business and with a confident air over the prospects for February.

The Murphy Dry Goods Company has been incorporated to do a wholesale and retail business at Sherman, Tex., with a capital stock of $50,000. The incorporators and directors are George Murphy, W. W. Harper, J. B. Shaw and S. W. Durham, of Sherman, and George S. Murphy, of Sulphur Springs.

The stock of Person & Riegel, Bethlehem, Pa., which was seized on executions for $37,000, has been sold by the sheriff and the purchasers, A. D. Shimer and Mrs. H. B. Riegel, who were the judgment creditors, are continuing the business under the style of the Person & Riegel Company, with M. J. Person and E. E. Riegel as managers.

J. M. Greig, Corning, N. Y., will remove from the store he now occupies in the Concert Hall Block to the much larger and handsomer store formerly occupied by Robinson & Gamman, the latter firm being now situated on the corner above. Mr. Greig's new quarters are very spacious, but not too much so for his extensive and constantly growing business.

William F. Walker, buyer for and manager of the carpet and upholstery departments of J. B. White & Co., Augusta, Ga., was in the New York market this week. His departments are being removed from the second to the first floors of his firm's building, and he will have a space 150x60 feet. White & Co. carry a general line of dry goods and are one of the largest firms in the South. They do quite a wholesale business in dry goods, notions, shoes and clothing. They occupy a building 300x165 feet and three stories high.

George B. Clark has left the employ of James H. Bunce, dealer in dry goods, carpets, furniture, &c., Middletown, Conn., and will start in the furniture and carpet business at Bridgeport under the firm name of George B. Clark & Co., his partner being, it is said, a New York capitalist. D. E. Bernard, who was also with Mr. Bunce, goes with the new firm.

Wm. M. Whitney, Jr., has retired from the firm of Wm. M. Whiting & Co., Albany, N. Y., and Chas. L. A. Whitney has been admitted. The latter gentleman has been in the business for several years, has been through all the departments, and is eminently qualified to assume the general supervision of the establishment.

Wm. M. Whiting, Jr., who is located at Denver, Col., is now visiting his old Albany home.

The will of J. E. Troup, of the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company, Providence, R. I., was filed for probate on the 25th ult. The testator gives $25,000 (in equal sums) to charitable and missionary societies ; $75,000 are given in trust to relatives in Scotland and at Swampscott, Mass., to revert to their children—or in case of no issue to revert to the trust estate—and $25,000 to the Rhode Island Hospital, to found the new Jane Graham Troup Ward for treatment of cancerous diseases. All the rest and residue, including the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company stock and the Boston Store Land Company stock, is left in trust to his daughter Annie, the entire income to be hers in life, and at her death the whole residuary estate to go to her children. If she dies without issue the residuary estate goes intact to the Rhode Island Hospital.

Chamberlin, Johnson & Co., Atlanta, Ga., have dissolved, and the business is continued by a stock company, under the style of the Chamberlin, Johnson & Du Bose Company. The capital stock has been increased, and the establishment will be made a department store. The firm began business in 1866 as dry goods and shoe dealers. A few years later they purchased the adjoining building, thus doubling their space, and added carpets to their stock. In 1877 they again enlarged their premises by buying on the side street, and so secured an elegant building, comprising three stories. In 1886 they made their building five stories in height and added elevators and other modern improvements. About six years ago they began to deal in furniture and built warerooms for surplus stock. E. R. Du Bose, who has been a partner in the house for a number of years, is well known to the trade as the buyer of carpets, upholstery goods and furniture.

A. Graff & Co., 609 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, who were fortunate in securing a good stock of Tapestries and Velvets at old prices and a considerable quantity at under-the-market prices, are still offering these goods at the same prices quoted in January, having made no advance. A feature of their business is that they do not offer anything that is not represented by stock, so that any orders placed with them at old prices will surely be filled.

CHARACTERISTICS OF CERTAIN PROMINENT MAKES OF ORIENTAL RUGS AND CARPETS.

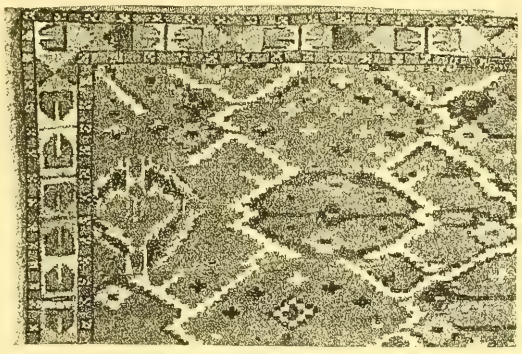
A characteristic feature of many Soumacs is a figure resembling an obelisk. Kurdistan rugs are somewhat subdued in colorings, closely woven, with a short velvety pile, and are high priced. Khorassans are fine in texture, and the designs are not so much conventionalized as is the case with most Oriental ornamentation. Flowers are much used in Khorassan rug and carpet patterns.

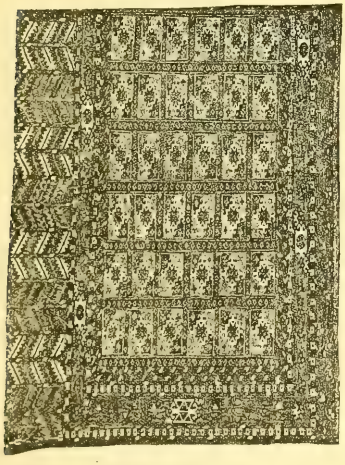
Bokharas or Khivas are made of black goat's hair, woven very closely, and rank among the finest rugs manufactured. They come generally in two styles of design, one known as the round and the other as the temple. The ground is usually red in various tints.



BOKHARA CARPET.

Persian carpets are oblong, coming in any other shape only when made to order. They are woven in almost every province in Persia, but the majority of those which are intended for floor coverings are made in the province of Irak, and chiefly in the city of Sultanabad and the districts of Sarravend, Garrouste and Malahir. In Persia the earth floor is first covered with a matting made of split reeds, and over this rugs are laid.

In Turcoman rugs the prevailing color is red, and the designs do not vary much ; but in other Persian goods there is an almost endless variety of design. Turcomans are classed among Persians because the district in which they are made was formerly subject to Persia.



TURCOMAN SADDLEBAG.

A large proportion of Persian rugs, and especially the finer grades, should not be regarded as floor coverings, for they were intended to serve as draperies or portières or to cover divans and tables. Ghilim rugs made in Kurdistan and Turkestan are peculiar in the texture, which suggests knitted rather than woven work. Being light, fine and flexible, with patterns on both sides, they are well adapted for portières, sofas, &c. The Ghilims of Lauristan and Zarend are preferable for carpets, and those of Kirmanshah perhaps excel all others in the originality and beauty of the patterns.

In many Persian and Indian patterns a characteristic feature is star-like or flower-like ornaments, so placed as to form squares. By varying the colors, or simply the tints and hues, a remarkable and agreeable diversity of effect is obtained from the same design.

Coiling tendril work with indented leaves and palmetto-like blossoms is a characteristic of Persian rugs or carpets of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. In carpets this work is seen alone or in combination with animal figures or birds. From the thirteenth to the eighteenth century the Chinese exercised a strong influence on Persian art, and these animal figures, dragons, birds of paradise, &c., are all of Chinese origin.

CLEANING ORIENTAL RUGS.

In cleaning Oriental rugs all stains should be treated separately. Anything resembling grease is best removed by the application of Fuller's earth or terre de Saumier; if the stain is slight, a soft flannel dipped in turpentine will often remove it, or an overnight application of whiting and flour can be used with advantage. For older stains make a stiff paste with equal parts of magnesia, Fuller's earth, and boiling water ; lay it over the spot while hot, and let it dry thoroughly till it can be readily removed by means of a stift brush. These remedies should not applied until the rugs have been well swept and beaten. The washing of the surface of the rug can also be done with ox gall in the proportion of one gill to half a pail of water.

Another method of cleaning is to stretch the rug out on a board floor, sprinkle it liberally with damp salt and brush the salt out with a short haired stiff brush. Another good plan is to beat and sweep the rug well to get rid of loose dirt, and then sponge it with a strong solution of salt in water. Dry quickly in a current of fresh air.

Theophile Herzog, importer and commission merchant, has removed from Broome street to 101 Spring street.

CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

CANADA is to have a world's fair, which will be officially known as the British Empire Exposition and International Display of All Nations. It will be opened in Montreal on the Queen's birthday, May 24, and will be kept open until October 12. This is Canada's first venture into the business of international exhibitions, and her people are therefore trying to leave nothing undone to make the enterprise a success.

The exposition grounds, covering about 60 acres, are attractive in themselves, being situated at the base of Mount Royal, and forming one of the most beautiful parks in America, abounding in fine natural scenery. The buildings will be illustrative of different forms of architecture, and will include structures devoted to manufactures and liberal arts, horticultural and agricultural industries, and the fine arts, with houses for other departments, besides a palace of all nations.

To facilitate matters an office has been opened in New York at the Postal Telegraph Building, 253 Broadway, with Hugo Benedix in charge as commissioner general. J. H. Stiles is the director general, and John A. Boyd is chief of the department of publicity and promotion, with his office at 154 St. James street, Montreal.

PARQUET FLOOR DESIGNS.

A NEW book of designs for parquet floors and borders has been published by the Interior Hardwood Company, of Indianapolis, Ind., and should be in the hands of every dealer in carpets or rugs. The patterns are printed in colors and comprise a great variety of elegant and artistic effects, in which designs and colorings suitable for every fashionable style of interior decoration may be found. The sale of these hardwood floors can be made a very profitable part of the carpet dealer's business, and is especially calculated to stimulate the demand for rugs.

Write to the Interior Hardwood Company for their new design book and for other particulars.

A. A. VANTINE & Co. are ready for the spring trade with the largest and most varied stock of Oriental goods they have ever shown. In rugs and carpets the assortment covers everything from the highest to the lowest grade. In Japanese jute rugs they offer a great big dollar's worth, not only in quantity but in quality, as with their resident buyers at the manufacturing centres they are enabled to select desirable patterns in their own high-priced rugs, have them copied, and thus control the designs. The stock of Chinese and Japanese mattings covers a wide range in both price and pattern, a large proportion of which is in designs controlled by the house. Very many carpet dealers now carry more or less furniture in the shape of odd pieces. Vantine & Co. offer peculiar advantages to buyers of such goods.

NEW BUILDINGS NEEDING CARPETS.

PROJECTED NEW BUILDINGS OF INTEREST TO LARGE CARPET AND FURNITURE DEALERS.

WE present herewith a carefully compiled report of all the hotels, churches, theatres, club houses and other large buildings in course of erection which will soon be in need of extensive furnishings. EXPOSITION MEDALS.

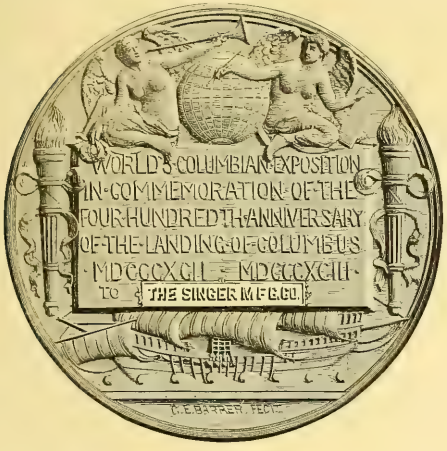
Electrotypes of the medals awarded by the Federal Government at the Columbian Exposition are now being sold by a Philadelphia type founding concern. The original medals are said to be in the hands of the Director of the Mint, but the long suffering exhibitors must submit to this additional tax on their cash and their patience before the actual awards are delivered.

Through the courtesy of the Singer Manufacturing Company we present an illustration of the Columbian medal; also of the gold medal awarded at the Atlanta Exposition.



The best remembered feature of the Columbian awards system is the utter failure of the National Commission in the performance of its duties, and this failure has greatly vitiated the educational value of the exposition. Although the system has been severely criticised, it had its merits and would, had it been well carried into effect, have produced a most valuable history of the world's progress in the arts, sciences and industries.

Theoretically, none but experts were to serve as jurors; they were to state exactly in their reports on each exhibit worthy of award what entitled it to this recognition, and their reports were supposed to receive careful examination and revision by an international jury.

The diplomas contain these revised reports relating the specific points of excellence or advancement, entitling the exhibit to the great honor contemplated by the act of Congress authorizing the awards.

Since the Columbian medals are alike, the only way of ascertaining comparative excellences of exhibits in any particular group or class is by comparing the reports on the respective exhibits.

This comparison cannot be made until the awards are compiled by groups and classes and published officially. This should have been done long ago.

Some of the diplomas have been published by their recipients, notably the Singer Manufacturing Company, who received fifty-four awards, distributed through a great variety of classes.

Forty-three of these awards were for various kinds of sewing machines used by manufacturers in a wide range of industries.

This recognition of the Singer Company's work in extending the use of the sewing machine by factory industries is a striking and convincing proof of the excellence of their machines. It also indicates a most remarkable industrial evolution, in the transfer from the household to the factory of many industries, the cost of whose product has been greatly reduced and its consumption largely increased through the recent improvements in the sewing machine.

At the Atlanta Exposition a limited number of awards were made to exhibits of exceptional merit. These awards carried the gold medal illustrated, which was only bestowed upon exhibits of pre-eminent worth and widespread importance.

M. LARA & CO.'S AFFAIRS.

The schedule filed by M. Lara & Co., Minneapolis, shows the liabilities of the firm to be $31,906.42. The total assets are $26,916.42, divided as follows: Stock of merchandise on hand, $23,999.65; bills and accounts, nominal value, $27,429.86; estimated actual value, $2,504.98; miscellaneous assets, $359; cash, $53.39. Geo. H. White, the assignee, requests each creditor to file with him proofs of claims and also file a release with the clerk of the district court. Mr. White will furnish forms for these purposes on application.

M. J. Whittall secured on the 25th ult. an attachment against about 1,500 yards of Brussels carpet in the store of Lara & Co. The carpeting was seized by the sheriff, but was rebonded by the assignee of Lara & Co., and will be sold with the other stock.

Abraham Lincoln was born on February 12, and the Legislatures of New York and several other States have made this a pretext for the creation of another legal holiday. With one of these on the 12th inst. and another following on the 22d, business men are of course put to much inconvenience. The new holiday is entirely superfluous, the pretext of honoring the memory of Lincoln being perfectly transparent, for everybody understands that it was not Lincoln, but the trades unions whom the legislators had in mind when they made the 12th inst. a holiday.

CHICAGO CARPET NOTES.

CHICAGO, FEBRUARY 10.

The wholesale department of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. has been moved from the fourth to the third floor. Twice as much space as formerly is now at the disposal of Manager Evoy and his salesmen. All the men have returned from the road and report a satisfactory business.

P. Casey, carpets and furniture, Denver, visited the trade here a few days ago.

Charles Musser, of Decatur, was in the city last week, placing orders for a new stock of carpets. He was burned out recently.

Thomas Little, formerly with the J. V. Farwell Company and now a merchant of Caldwell, Idaho, was in the city a short time ago.

Other buyers who have been noticed were General Johnson, of Los Angeles; Mr. Settle, of Missoula, Mon., and A. Lillyblade, of Denver.

The local offices of the Ivins, Dietz & Metzger Company, on the ninth floor of the Lees Building, will soon be renovated and new fixtures will be put in.

Noe & Mooney are a new firm in the wholesale cut carpet trade here. Mr. Noe was with the Chicago Carpet Company for twelve years, and Mr. Mooney was credit man for the same concern for a number of years.

C. S. Hurley, who has Thos. L. Leedom & Co.'s account here now, returned from his trip a few days ago and says that he got his share of the business. His office is still at the old carpet men's headquarters, 221 Fifth avenue, corner Quincy street.

Mr. Canty, of the Brownfield & Canty Carpet Company, Butte, Mon., was in the city last week looking over stocks. Mr. Canty was married January 29, and was on his way East on his wedding tour, which will include New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

H. C. Breedon, of the H. C. Breedon Company, carpets and furniture, Portland, Ore., placed orders for carpets with some of the road men recently. He has just moved into a new store, which in its appointments is said to be one of the finest on the Pacific Slope.

The latest event in the litigation which has followed the failure of James H. Walker & Co. is the recent decision of Judge Jenkins overruling the demurrer of Columbus R. Cummings and other members of the board of directors of the defunct company. At the time of the failure the creditors filed a bill charging the members of the company with having formed the company to avoid their liabilities as individual members of the firm. A demurrer was made to the suit which sought to recover judgment against the members of the company as individuals. The judge, in his opinion, says: "The case made, if the facts charged should turn out to be truly stated, is that the members of the firm substantially contracted with themselves to place the house in the name of a corporation to relieve themselves from personal liability and to palm off upon the corporation a stock of goods at the price of $1,500,000 that was in fact an old and unsalable stock not worth to exceed $900,000. If true, the bill can be sustained." The defendants were given until February 15 to plead.

J. W. McFarland, of Pittsburg, Pa., has established a wholesale commission business in that city. He will deal in carpeting, furniture, &c.

KANSAS CITY ITEMS.

J. A. Suydam, of Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co., is still in the Eastern markets.

H. J. Seeley, of the J. H. North Furniture Company, reports 1895 as a very prosperous and satisfactory year.

S. V. Shelp, manager of Walker Brothers Dry Goods Company, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is making a short business trip to the Eastern markets.

George B. Swayne, rug and matting buyer for W. & J. Sloane, en route from Japan to New York, stopped over one day with W. H. Howlett, of the local office of W. & J. Sloane, in the interests of his department.

The Robert Keith Furniture and Carpet Company's men are on the road and report good business. W. B. Gray, formerly with the local office of W. & J. Sloane, is now engaged with the Robert Keith Furniture and Carpet Company.

Wm. McClellan, of Burnham, Hanna, Munger & Co., has just returned from a trip to Cripple Creek and reports gold plentiful, both in the pockets of the "tenderfoot" and in the bowels of the mountains, and either proposition is capable of being worked.

WHY MATTING IS POPULAR.

Under the title of "Matting As It Was—And as It Is" Lyon Brothers & Co., of Baltimore, publish the following circular:

It is a historical fact that the floors of the royal palaces of Queen Elizabeth were strewn with rushes, and then regarded as well furnished as need be.

Woven rushes from China and Japan, commercially known now as straw matting, were then regarded as a rare and costly "Oriental" luxury. Of all fabrics now extensively used for covering floors it is among the oldest and by long odds the cheapest. From a sanitary point of view it is among the very best. It has the constituents of wood in a most elastic and useful form. It gives a clean and healthy housefurnishing, and is a most excellent non-conductor. By its use old and shabby floors may be transformed into most attractive surfaces for rugs, now so fashionable, at a trifling cost.

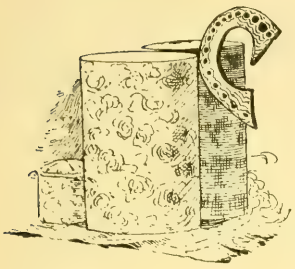
A strong well-made matting will resist usual household wear to a degree that is surprising. Every good housekeeper that has tried it knows this. Its appearance can be revived, and its life much prolonged, by using a damp mop at intervals and brushing the surface dry with a common scrubbing brush and cornmeal or bran.

Jointless matting is reversible; it gives two surfaces of equal value for wear. On this account, coupled with its width of 3 feet, nothing compares with its cheapness to the consumer. You must not lose sight of the reversible feature in any article you buy and sell, for it practically cuts the price in half. As a buyer you must also remember that the vast majority of the people are dependent on small incomes. They can only buy readily those home comforts that are within their reach. They are looking for the most attractive and durable to be got for the money they can spare.

It is no longer true that a good floor covering must be a costly one. Our offerings of handsome, strong and well made matting at from 1 cent to 2½ cents per square foot, especially made in the far East to fill all the requirements of the retail trade of this country, and brought to Baltimore by us in our own vessels, thereby saving all intermediate profits, prove it to those who are buying for profit.

During the storm on the 6th inst. the Nepperhan River left its banks and flooded the low land at Yonkers, N. Y., between Neppernan and Ashburton avenues. Some of the mills of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company were obliged to stop running for a time, the water having invaded the engine rooms. The trouble was soon remedied and the looms were at work again on the 8th inst.

DOINGS IN CARPETDOM.



CYCLONES are not common to this part of the country, but the severe wind and rain storm which prevailed hereabouts last week did considerable damage and had a tinge of the genuine Western article about it. At Bound Brook, N. J., the Raritan River overflowed its banks. Alpaugh & Rutt, who have a large general store in the Bound Brook Building, in Main street, were heavy losers by the flood. The water got into the cellars of the building and flooded several large oil tanks. This malodorous mixture then rose 6 feet or more and floated everything in the store. Carpets, baskets, rolls of linen, and straw hats were soon floating around with shoes, apples, cabbages, and brooms. "The water poured into the cellar through the grating," said Mr. Rutt, "and as there is no outlet the cellars were soon filled. We will have to pump the water out somehow, I suppose. I never saw such a scene in my life. If we had read of its having happened in some far Western town we would scarcely have credited it. We are only 30 miles from New York city." At Yonkers, N. Y., the Smith Carpet Works—the Moquette and worsted mills—on Nepperhan avenue were forced to stop work on the 6th inst., owing to water from the Nepperhan River running into the engine room.

Carpenter & Seemiller have opened a carpet store at Chester, Pa.

J. H. Otter, Danville, Ky., is succeeded by Whitley, Roberts & Co.

The Hyman Company, Cincinnati, have given a bill of sale for $24,000.

The stock of Heisler & Hall, Beaver Dam, Wis., has been bought by N. O. Shipman.

V. Lower, Columbus, Ohio, has built a brick addition to his store, 35x50 and four stories high.

Baum & McLaughlin succeed Baum & Cavell in the furniture and carpet business at Newton, Ia.

Lowry & Goebel, the Cincinnati carpet dealers, have leased an additional building on Elm street.

Richards & Co., Hopkinsville, Ky., have moved into a larger store and have opened a carpet department.

Lutz & Sherer, Tamaqua, Pa., are enlarging their premises to make more room for their carpet stock.

S. M. Jones' store at Tyrone, Pa., was destroyed by fire on the 23d ult. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $12,000.

W. H. Daniels & Co., furniture and carpet dealers, Greeley, Col., have opened a branch store at Boulder.

A. E. Dickinson & Co., Holyoke, Mass., are enlarging their store and will add carpets and curtains to their stock.

Frank W. Smith, who recently retired from the firm of Van Tassel & Smith, has opened a furniture and carpet store at Babylon, L. I.

The Union Trust Company, Indianapolis, Ind., assignees for Francis M. Boone, have advertised for sealed bids for the stock, to be opened on the 29th inst. If no satisfactory offers are made the goods will be sold by auction.

Extensive alterations and improvements are being made in the store of the W. C. Packard Furniture and Carpet Company, Salem, Mass.

The Drake Carpet and Furniture Company, Keokuk, Ia., have enlarged their premises by leasing the upper floor of the adjoining building.

The John M. Dean Company, Providence, R. I., will build an addition to their store. The new building will be 95x125 feet, with six stories.

N. Schoen, furniture and carpet dealer, Ortonville, Minn., has admitted his son Martin to partnership, under the firm name of N. Schoen & Son.

Silas Drake, of Newark, N. J., intends to build a big department store in that city. It will be on Broad street, and will be the largest store in the State.

Petherbridge & Burns, Pittsfield, Mass., have added the store adjoining the two they now occupy, and will use the addition for their carpet department.

Alexander & Rennicke are a new firm in the carpet, wall paper and window shade trade at Milwaukee. Both members of the firm were formerly with Henry Thiele.

A. P. Curtin, Helena, Mon., is now occupying his new store on the corner of Grand and Breckenridge streets. It extends 170 feet on each street, and has four stories.

G. E. Lorch & Brother, dry goods and carpet dealers, Pittsburg, are building a new store, 50x108 feet, with five stories and a basement, at Carson and Seventeenth streets.

A new brick addition to the store of W. S. Carlile & Son, Columbus, Ohio, gives them a well lighted carpet room, 40x60 feet, and they have added wall papers to their stock.

Fire damaged the Gilson Block at Haverhill, Mass., to the extent of $2,500 on the 5th inst. Part of the building is occupied by Wm. B. Lamprey, furniture and carpet dealer.

As previously noted, James M. Thomson has retired from the firm of Brown, Thomson & Co., Hartford, Conn. The firm now consists of Geo. A. Gay, Wm. Campbell and H. B. Strong.

The Crews-Beggs Dry Goods Company, Pueblo, Col., has consolidated its carpet and upholstery departments with the G. W. Perkins Furniture Company and moved into

At a meeting of the creditors of Frye Brothers, Providence, R. I., on the 27th ult., H. C. Curtis, the assignee, stated that the liabilities were about $34,373.21 and the assets $32,271.78.

Charles Efros & Co., carpet and furniture dealers, New Haven, Conn., have dissolved partnership and are succeeded by I. Futterman & Co., the firm being composed of E. and I. Futterman.

The Queen City Furniture and Carpet Company, Springfield, Mo., which recently failed, has settled with its creditors, and will discontinue business when it has sold the stock now on hand.

The carpet mill of Law & Ripple, at Moorestown, N. J., has shut down for an indefinite period, throwing out of employment about fifty hands.

The Lewis Robinson Company, Westfield, Mass., has been incorporated. The capital stock is $6,000 and the directors are C. N. Lewis (president), A. D. Robinson (treasurer) and Albert Steeger.

M. Megary & Son, Wilmington, Del., do a large business in their carpet and upholstery departments. E. L. Peacock has charge of the carpet stock and Morris Worrall is manager of the upholstery department.

BUSINESS IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, FEBRUARY 10.

L. & H. Jones & Co. are fitting up a bay steamer with carpets, oil cloth and rugs.

C. C. Waskey, carpets and furniture, has recently furnished the Quaker City Hotel with linoleum, chairs, tables, &c.

J. H. Valentine held a special auction sale of carpets, &c., at his new warerooms on West Broad street, Richmond, Va., the 3d inst.

William L. Pfeiffer, carpets and furniture, Annapolis, Md., and Mr. Phelps, of Phelps & Shaeffer, same line, Laurel, Md., were purchasing supplies here several days ago.

The Baltimore Carpet and Furniture Company have engaged a glass blower to give daily exhibitions of his skill in the window of their store on West Baltimore street.

Trade is moving as well as can be expected for this season of the year and houses represented by salesmen on the road are receiving a sufficient sprinkling of orders to keep them fairly busy. The indications are that Baltimore will do a larger Southern trade than she has ever done before, and as soon as the weather settles we may expect to see a full delegation of buyers in the city from that section looking up new goods.

Alfred S. Niles, trustee, has reconveyed to John C. Reisinger, surviving partner and trading as William Reisinger & Son, No. 612 Columbia avenue and Nos. 611 to 623 Portland street, all property held in trust for creditors, a satisfactory settlement having been made. Mr. Reisinger has conducted the carpet, furniture and window shade business at the above address for thirty years, and now resumes it.

THE BARBOUR CARPET THREADS.

"Hold fast to that which is good" is a saying which applies with special force to the Barbour carpet threads, as any dealer who has tried them will admit, for the superior qualities of the Barbour threads and the high, unvarying standard which has always been maintained in them have made their continued use a rule without exception whenever they have once been given a trial.

The Barbour Brothers Company manufacture threads for hand sewing, and also a spool thread especially suited for machine sewing of carpets on account of its strength, high lustre and finish, the superior finish making it capable of feeding easily and without knots. Every carpet man will understand the importance of these features, which are so perfectly represented in the Barbour threads.

Manufactured from the highest grades of flax upon improved machinery these threads can never fail to be of superior evenness and strength. They represent the best possible results of 112 years' experience in thread manufacture, for the Barbour threads have been made since the year 1784. They are now manufactured in great factories at Lisburn, Ireland; Paterson, New Jersey; and Ottensen, Germany, employing altogether 5,000 hands and equipped with special machinery and other exclusive facilities and resources possessed by no other concern in the same line of trade. These immense productive facilities are necessary to meet the great and growing demand for the Barbour threads, and in this country their popularity is especially great. They are sold by the jobbing trade or can be obtained direct from the manufacturers, whose New York office is at 218 Church street.

We have heard so much of Hall Caine that we can almost see him standing in his hat rack.—Puck.

Gullabi Gulbenkian & Co., the extensive importers of Oriental goods, have on view at their New York warehouse, 55 Cedar street, an exceptionally large and attractive assortment of rugs and carpets for the spring season, and are also ready to take import orders for the fall trade. On account of the unsettled condition of affairs in the East and the suspension of communication between Batoum and Tiflis, which is the centre of the rug trade, prices of Oriental rugs have been steadily advancing in Constantinople, but Gulbenkian & Co. had looked ahead and supplied their wants before the advance, and can consequently offer goods at lower prices than they can be bought for in Constantinople or elsewhere, and the firm have not raised any of their prices on account of the proposed advance in the duties on carpets. All buyers of Oriental rugs are advised to examine the offerings of Gulbenkion & Co.

THE CARPET IN POLITICS.

Before reform struck New York the Tammany Hall Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies used to ask W. & J. Sloane, Arnold, Constable & Co. and other such houses what were the regular prices for carpets, and would refer the heads of departments or other officials who needed supplies to the lowest bidder. When Captain Graham, who is the Brookfield or Strong leader in the Twenty-fifth District, was made Superintendent of Repairs all were referred to Croft Brothers, of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Of course, as under Tammany, the superintendent is careful to divide up the work into jobs of less than $1,000, and thus keep within the law, which compels advertising for all contracts of $1,000 and over. The Platt men have been kicking, but unfortunately for them Silas C. Croft is said to have retired from the firm of Croft Brothers a week before he was appointed a Charities Commissioner, and there is no evidence before the Comptroller that S. C. Croft has sold any carpets to the city through Captain Graham's bureau since he became a Commissioner, and consequently has not violated the Consolidation act.

It looks just now as though the followers of Lauterbach & Co. would be compelled by the abhorrent Strong gang to walk on anti-Platt carpets for some years to come.

H. W. Hammand & Co., the Liverpool wool brokers, in their circular of the 29th ult. say:

At the public auctions held last week the total quantity offered was 25,045 bales, of which only 2,244 bales are now held over account of importers, being less than in November, when the offering was only 18,000 bales. There was a fair attendance, and a steady tone prevailed throughout the series, competition rather improving as the sales progressed, and on the closing day was almost animated. At the opening the large offering to some extent influenced the home trade, but the export demand had a stimulating effect and competition became more general. Compared with previous sales' rates there were few changes of any moment.

Hughes & Isherwood's circular of the 30th ult. says of the sales:

The total that passed the hammer was 21,286 bales, and to this have to be added 1,456 bales that have been sold since, making thus 2,244 bales left over in importers' hands. Adding thereto 6,713 bales which have meanwhile arrived per Persia, Locksley Hall, and Hispania, and 10,500 bales advised by Jones' List as at sea up to-day, it will be seen that there is a total of 19,460 bales in view for next sales, which commence March 17.

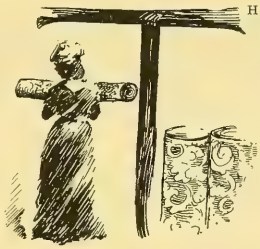
Hugh Bowes & Co. advise us from Liverpool on the 30th ult. as follows:

Confirming ours of the 23d inst. the wool markets still maintain a steady tone and, with a large consumption passing, future prospects are considered encouraging.

During the auctions of East India wool held here last week, 35,045 bales were offered, of which 22,742 bales have been sold at and since the series, leaving available only 2,244 bales withdrawn wool. Of the quantity sold America has taken about 6,000 bales, and Continental buyers, say, 3,500 bales, the balance, about 13,500 bales, going to home users.

The position of the article appears sound, and with trade in its present state current rates are likely to be maintained at the next auctions, opening here on March 17.

THE MERCHANTS' CLUB'S NEW ROOMS.



The Merchants' Club, which has been occupying temporary quarters for some time at 337 Broadway, took possession on the 4th inst. of its new rooms on the twelfth floor of the new annex to the New York Life Insurance Company's building, at Broadway and Leonard street.

The Merchants' Club is one of the most important of the downtown social and business associations. It was organzed in 1871, and will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary in September next in an appropriate manner. Its membership list comprises 300 representative merchants, mainly in the dry goods district. The limit of membership is 346. The new rooms of the club occupy about half of the twelfth floor of the annex and are very commodious and convenient.

The officers are as follows: President, John F. Degener; vice-president, Louis F. Whitin; treasurer, William B. Kendall; secretary, Edward M. Townsend, Jr.; house committee, George P. Slade, chairman, William E. Iselin and L. K. Wilmerding; committee on admissions, L. F. Whitin, chairman, A. D. Juilliard and William F. King.

DROPPED PATTERNS AT LOW PRICES.

On page 104 Albert Graff & Co., Philadelphia, give a list of dropped patterns in leading makes of carpets that they will close out at special prices. The list is particularly valuable in matching up, and retailers should cut it out for preservation.

Every merchant should keep a scrap book. We believe this suggestion has been made before, but it is fully worth emphasizing. Every bright advertisement that you notice in your local paper or those of other towns, every model advertisement that you observe in your trade paper, and every practical trade bringing plan or hint should be cut out and pasted in the book, with full data as to the name and date of the paper. You will find such a book as this an inexhaustible treasury of riches, especially on those days when your ideas run scarce and you are too busy to take time to evolve a good advertisement. Keep a scrap book by all means.—Ex.

No. 553,812. Carpet Sweeper.—Allen D. Linn and Allen B. Linn, Grand Rapids. Mich., assignors to T. Stewart White, Thomas Friant, Gaius W. Perkins and Charles J. Reed, same place. Filed March 5, 1894. Issued January 28, 1896.

Patented in England.

No. 16,001. August 22, 1894. Fabric.—P. Mercier, 33 Percy street, Tottenham Court road, London. Patent issued January 22, 1896.

Relates to a material to be applied in the form of a sheet or sheets for protecting vessels, receptacles, and articles of clothing or of furniture, such as boot soles or carpets, floating bodies, boats, buoys, reservoirs, gas holders and pneumatic tires for velocipedes; the essential object of the invention being that any small puncture or the like made in the material shall immediately and completely close up when the foreign body is withdrawn. This object is attained by making the material of two parts, a non-stretchable part, as linen or a material woven in one direction with wool, the other of wire, &c., and a layer of material having a tendency to expand, but held in a state of tension by the fabric. In one method the linen, canvas or other fabric is spread over with a layer of slightly vulcanized india rubber, either on one side or both sides, or it may be the layer is placed between two or three sheets of the fabric. The material is then boiled or otherwise treated so as to obtain a moderate vulcanization, after which the combined sheets are exposed to the action of liquid or solid vaseline, paraffin, wax or grease, or of mixtures thereof, till a sufficient amount of such vaseline, &c., has been absorbed by the india rubber. According to another method, gelatine, gums, lichenin and the like may be placed on the fabric instead of rubber, and caused to absorb glycerine or water.

CONGRESSMAN HURLEY, of New York, has introduced a bill authorizing the adoption of the metric system of weights and measures by the departments of the Government. The bill should be passed, for the metric system is unquestionably superior to any other.

OBITUARY.

George Bliss.

George Bliss, at one time a conspicuous figure in the dry goods and carpet jobbing trade of New York, died at his home in this city on the 2d inst. of paralysis of the heart, at the age of seventy-nine years.

Mr. Bliss was born at Northampton, Mass., and after passing his boyhood on a farm found employment in the dry goods business at New Haven, Conn. In 1845 he came to New York and entered the employ of S. B. Chittenden. He showed marked ability in mercantile affairs and soon rose to a partnership in the firm of Phelps, Bliss & Co. This firm, then doing business on Cedar street, became by successive changes George Bliss & Co., Eldridge, Dunham & Co. and finally Dunham, Buckley & Co., under which firm name a very extensive jobbing business is now conducted at 340 to 344 Broadway.

Mr. Bliss retired from the firm of George Bliss & Co. in 1866 and engaged in the banking business as a member of the firm of Morton, Bliss & Co. An old weather beaten sign bearing the inscription "Geo. Bliss & Co." is still displayed on the front of Dunham, Buckley & Co.'s establishment. James H. Dunham, senior member of the latter firm, is a nephew of Mr. Bliss.

The business acumen of Mr. Bliss enabled him to accumulate a fortune of $15,000,000 or more, and made him a recognized authority on financial affairs. He was noted also for his liberal contributions to charitable and religious purposes. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

Robert Ball, for a long time an employee of D. Powers & Sons, the floor oil cloth manufacturers at Lansingburg, N. Y., died last month at Rotterdam Junction, N. Y., at the age of eighty-three years.

Charles P. Luckey, head of the firm of Luckey, Platt & Co., Poughkeepsie, and one of the oldest and most prominent business men in that city, died on the 31st ult. of heart failure at the age of sixty-five years.

James L. Crane, a well-known carpet and furniture dealer at Brooklyn, N. Y., died suddenly of apoplexy in that city on the 12th inst. at the age of sixty-three years. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

George H. Eaton, who died in Chicago recently, at the age of seventy-eight years, began his business career with A. T. Stewart & Co., New York. He went to Chicago in 1871, entering the employ of Hamline & Hale, a few years later connecting himself with Charles Gossage. Subsequently he was engaged by Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., in whose employ he remained until his death.

Spencer W. Coe, formerly a prominent merchant in the dry goods jobbing trade of New York, died at his home in Winsted, Conn, on the 2d inst. Mr. Coe was born in Winsted in 1826. He came to New York when a young man, and was for many years a member of the firm of H. B. Claflin & Co. Later he was a partner in the house of George Bliss & Co. and its successors, Dunham, Buckley & Co. He retired from business about three years ago on account of ill health. A widow, son and two daughters survive him.

HOW SMYRNA RUGS ARE WOVEN.

The accompanying pictures show examples of both styles of looms necessary in the manufacture of Smyrna rugs and similar fabrics, the loom for weaving weft and the loom for weaving the rug, commonly called the setting loom.

The Furbush Smyrna rug looms, illustrated herewith, as well as all the machinery built by the M. A. Furbush & Son Machine Company, of Philadelphia, are of the highest type, first class in every respect, being strong, substantial, durable and embodying the latest ideas and inventions.

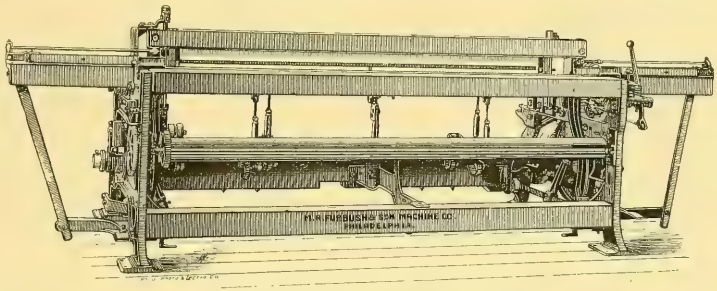
The weft loom for weaving the fabric from which is made the chenille or "fur," as it is called in the mills, is supplied with the latest improved pattern of needle motion, which is entirely positive in its movements, and is operated from below by cams, avoiding any obstruction overhead, the loom being therefore without a top. The needles are vibrated by a swivel cam.

The shafting throughout is heavy, in addition to which there are middle or centre cross grits or braces between the sides of the loom, steadying the shafting while running the loom at the high speed for which it is designed. One assuring fact in regard to the solidity of the loom is that one of these of a standard width, say 86 inches in the reed space, weighs 2,500 pounds.

The loom for weaving the rugs or the setting loom is also of the very latest design, and is strong, substantial and very neat in its construction. The heddle and harness frames are operated positively by cams underneath, as in the weft loom.

As it is necessary in the manufacture of Smyrna rugs to stop the loom after every pick of chenille which alternates with the pick of the filler, the loom is provided with a neat and substantial automatic "knock off" device, which stops the loom after every second pick, by shipping the belt and applying a brake immediately. This gives the weaver time to "set" the chenille or "fur," and arrange the pattern perfectly before starting the loom again, which is done by a regular shipper handle or a foot treadle, extending along the entire front of the loom, enabling the weaver to start the loom quickly, no matter on which side of the machine he or she may be standing.

The loom also has positive "let off" for the warp and positive "take up" for the goods, assuring perfection of fabric. The rug passes over a spike roll, immediately in front of the breast beam, which is covered by an iron shield. This spike roll keeps the constant tension of the rug and avoids the necessity of temples on the loom, and making perfect selvage. All gears are covered as far as possible, reducing the danger of injury to the weaver to a minimum. This loom is built in any width of reed space up to and including 115 inches, and a loom of ordinary size weighs about 2,000 pounds.

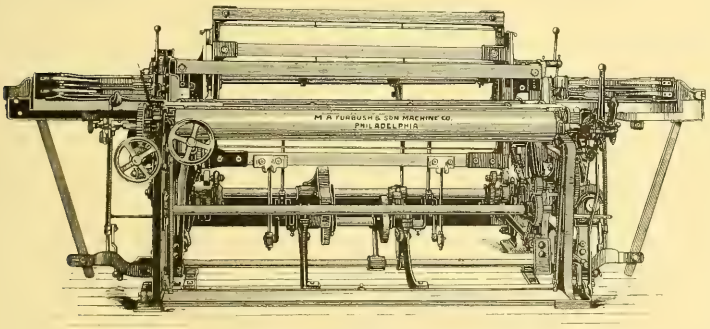


LOOM WITH NEEDLE MOTION FOR RUG WEFT.

Both of these looms have a wide reputation among manufacturers, and the Furbush Company have built a great many of both varieties for the largest and best mills in New England, New York State and Philadelphia and vicinity.

As has been before stated, these looms are recognized as standard in their line, and this might well be expected, when they are built by the well-known company which has built for so many years and in such large quantities its famous Murkland Ingrain carpet loom. With such an experience there is little reason to doubt that these Smyrna rug looms are all that is claimed for them, if not more, and that the M. A. Furbush & Son Machine Company has fully maintained its good reputation, for it is well known all over the United States as well as elsewhere as an eminent builder for a wide line of machinery for woolen manufacture.

Persons interested in any way should not fail to visit the company, at its office, 224 Market street, Philadelphia, as well as its large shops located in Camden, N. J., or at least correspond with the company, and procure one of their new and complete catalogues. Their looms can be seen in operation at any time.



LOOM FOR WEAVING SMYRNA RUGS.

Carpet knights were in reality an order of knights instituted in the reign of Queen Mary. Mr. Austin is of opinion that they were a species of knights of the bath, without any additional title, and that "carpet knights" was not their proper name, but given them by the popular voice from the honor being conferred on members of the clerical and other peaceable professions.—Boston Herald.

BOSTON BUDGET.

BOSTON, FEBRUARY 12.

The past fortnight has witnessed a decided improvement in trade.

H. Gilbert, of T. O'Callaghan & Co.'s road force, has just returned from a trip through Western Massachusetts, Vermont and Southern New Hampshire and reports very satisfactory results.

Albert Hamlin, of W. & J. Sloane, has been here this week.

Mr. Gay, of John Gay & Sons, was among recent visitors.

Mr. La Rue, of Fritz, La Rue & Sinn, is here to secure a share of the Boston trade for that firm.

Manager Dainty, of Marshall Field's, Chicago, is registered at one of our hotels, with the firm's upholstery man, Mr. Clark.

A new face to me is a representative of Wm. Morris, floor oil cloth manufacturer, of Salem, N. J., who is now in the city.

Mr. Potter, of Potter & Pearson, handling the Farr & Bailey oil cloths, has been calling on the Boston trade the past few days.

Wm. G. Harris & Sons have nearly doubled their frontage on Tremont street, by adding the store heretofore occupied by Keep.

Bennett Pike, of the rug department of Jordan, Marsh & Co., has just returned from a trip to Cairo, Constantinople, and other Eastern points.

John Wiggin Wood, doing business as the Crescent Furniture Company, and carrying a stock of carpets, 30 Washington street, has been petitioned into insolvency by Winfield C. Jordan, on a claim for $114.

The increasing carpet trade of Jordan, Marsh & Co. has led the firm to enlarge the space devoted to this department. The room heretofore occupied by the mail order department has been taken for carpets. It is about 70x90 feet, and Manager Laubham tells me it will be used for high-class goods.

A. J. Wilkinson has an office in the Jefferson Building, at 564 Washington street, and is the New England agent for Thomas Develon's Sons' Ingrains, Samuel Hecht, Jr., & Sons' mattings and J. C. Dunn, Jr.'s floor oil cloths. This is his first season with these accounts and he expresses entire satisfaction with his experience. He has sold good bills to leading houses, which proves that his goods and prices are right. He can interest all buyers visiting Boston.

Arthur W. Cole, connected with the firm of John H. Pray, Sons & Co., sailed for England and the Continent on the Servia January 25 in the interest of this concern. He will bring back with him many choice and exclusive designs in fine goods, such as will be appreciated by the trade when he next calls on them with his spring line of Wiltons and Brussels. Mr. Cole became a benedict on January 22 and his wife accompanies him on this trip.

On January 2 a fire originated in the basement of the Jefferson Building, No. 558 to 568 Washington street, occupied in part by Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., carpet dealers. These premises were invaded by smoke, and on the day following the fire the representatives of the insurance companies, comprising U. C. Crosby, Arthur T. Hatch and Frank A. Colley, made an investigation and decided that no damage had been done to the stock of carpets, and so notified the insured. The firm, however, filed a proof of loss, and made a claim for $17,650, which was 10 per cent. of the amount of insurance involved. Representatives of the companies interested had a meeting, and after due consideration decided to leave the whole matter in the hands of the above committee, with full powers. The insurance men apparently assume that carpets can not be injured by smoke.

W. W. Corson & Co., 564 Washington street, have had a remarkably good spring trade on John Gay's Sons' Park Mills Ingrains, their sales on these goods being considerably ahead of the fall season. They have also done exceedingly well on Schofield, Mason & Co.'s Brussels and Wiltons, Alden Sampson & Son's floor oil cloths, Fries-Breslin Co.'s Smyrna rugs and E. T. Mason & Co.'s mattings. Mr. Corson and Mr. Nichols are well satisfied that the New England trade appreciate their method of selling direct from the mills.

Frank S. Chick has arranged a big display of straw matting in the roll on the wholesale floor of John H. Pray, Sons & Co.'s building and another feature of the department this week is the large stock of John Bromley & Sons' Smyrna rugs. A glance at the large piles of these rugs and a look at the supply of carpets in the roll prove the firm's statement of their ability to supply the trade's wants quickly. Speaking of their experience since re-entering the wholesale trade in December, Mr. Chick says it has been entirely satisfactory and the promise of development is very gratifying. There has been ample proof already, he says, that the New England trade will find it advantageous to deal with a stock carrying house both for first stock orders and the accommodations for smaller or cut quantities that every retailer requires. Frank Marshall, the firm's leading traveler, has fully maintained the favor of his old customers in his new position.

F. J. B.

THE Roesch Carpet and Wall Paper Company, St. Louis, has been incorporated; capital, $16,000; incorporators, Anton Roesch, Otto Woehle, William Vollman and others.

THE dry goods and carpet stock of L. Lowman & Son, McCook, Neb., was ruined by fire and water on the 5th inst. Their loss is from $15,000 to $18,000; insurance, $13,000. The damage to the building was trifling and is fully covered by insurance.

CHAS. W. SCHWARTZ & Co., Philadelphia, publish in our Remnant Supplement of February 15, 1896, a list of patterns in leading makes of Wiltons, Brussels, Velvets and Tapestries, that they will carry in stock during the spring season. They will supply these patterns in any cut quantity or by the roll, and the list is well worth preserving.

WILLIAM E. LEINHAS & Co., of Lowell, Mass., are stated to have offered their creditors, about 170 in number, 20 cents on the dollar. Many have refused and obtained attachments. Sheriff's officers have seized a lot of goods which had been smuggled out of Lowell and stored in a shed in North Billerica. On January 27 about $1,200 worth of carpets, &c., were found behind a partition in Pawtucketville and seized. The goods had been placed there and then walled up, plastered and papered. Still another lot was found in a barn in Grand street, Lowell. Leinhas & Co. will doubtless pay more than 20 cents.

BISSELL.—Mrs. M. R. Bissell, president of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, is wintering with her family in Nice.

BROWNE.—Mrs. John Browne, mother of Henry Browne, of S. Sanford & Sons, died last week.

CHICK.—I. W. Chick, of John H. Pray, Sons & Co., Boston, has been re-elected a director of the Phœnix Furniture Company, Grand Rapids.

COYNE.—Mrs. Catherine Coyne is president of the John Coyne Furniture Company, 534 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn. Mr. Worth, formerly with Adams & Spencer, of Grand street, is manager. The late John Coyne left two sons, who are now learning the business, to which they will eventually succeed.

FOWLER.—Robert Fowler, well known in the carpet trade through his former connection with George E. Hamlin & Co., and later with E. S. Jaffray & Co., is now manager of the credit department of B. Altman & Co., Sixth avenue, this city.

HALDEN.—George R. Halden left on February 3 for Butte City, Mon , to assume charge of the carpet department of the M. J. Connell Company.

HANKINSON.—G. W. Hankinson is now with Siebeckér & Watkins, Scranton, Pa.

JOHNSON.—James A. Johnson, of W. & J. Sloane, who is already the father of several young ladies, has changed his designs. The new pattern is a boy and, like his father, will doubtless prove a seller.

JUDD.—C. B. Judd, vice-president and general manager of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Company, is preparing for his annual cruise on his new 53 foot naphtha launch. Mr. Judd is an indefatigable worker, and feels it necessary once a year to find relaxation in this way.

KIRBY.—John Kirby, of the H. B. Claflin Company, has been spending a few days with his brother, the well-known Washington, D. C., contractor, who has been seriously ill.

MANDEL.—Emanuel Mandel, of Mandel Brothers, Chicago, sailed from New York for Europe on the 23d ult.

MCMANUS.—H. D. McManus, manager of the carpet department of the Liebmann Company, Brooklyn, is developing a very gratifying retail business for that concern.

MORIARTY.— Richard Moriarty, of Jordan, Moriarty & Co., Twenty-third street, who has been seriously ill, has now passed the crisis of his disease, and it is hoped that he will shortly be on the highway to recovery. His brother Edward, who has also been very sick, is much better, and will soon be able to resume his duties in the store.

NYE. — Geo. H. Nye, of the Nye & Wait Carpet Company, Auburn, N. Y., has been elected president of the Cayuga County National Bank.

PIKE.—Bennett Pike, buyer of rugs for Jordan, Marsh & Co., Boston, has returned from his trip to the Orient, having arrived in New York per the Campania on the 25th ult.

SENIOR.—Fred Senior, for many years with Geo. E. Hamlin & Co., is now with Sperry & Beale.

STINSON—DUNLAP.—Miss Bettie I. Dunlap was married at Philadelphia on the 2d inst. to Robert G. Stinson. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel White and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Keefer were among the guests at the wedding reception.

WHITTALL.—Matthew J. Whittall, the Wilton and Brussels manufacturer, is now making bicycles—temporarily at least. He is the assignee of a Worcester, Mass., bicycle manufacturing concern.

WILLIAMS.—Harry Williams, late with the Umpire Furniture Company, Fourteenth street and Fifth avenue, New York, and in former years with Sheppard Knapp & Co , is now in the retail department of W. & J. Sloane.

VIEWS OF W. W. LAW.

SPEAKING of the situation in the carpet trade, Mr. W. W. Law, of W. & J. Sloane, said recently that his concern was well sold up in all grades of carpeting, and that all the advances in prices which had been made were being thoroughly maintained, no consideration being given to offers of less than the present figures.

Mr. Law evidently believes that the trade is now on a solid basis, for he is about to take a five or six weeks' vacation abroad. He sails on the Mediterranean line steamer Normannia on the 19th inst., and will visit Gibraltar, Algiers, Naples and Genoa, returning to New York in April next.

LOW PRICED RUGS.

FRANK G. ROGERS, 24 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, is a leading specialist in the manufacture of rugs made from carpet samples. The quality of these rugs is of the best, as they consist of samples and ends of the very finest carpets cut into rug sizes and neatly fringed. On page 94 Mr. Rogers quotes particularly low prices on Wiltons and Body Brussels rugs, and as a further inducement offers a trade discount on lots of ten, twenty-five and fifty dozen. His sales on these goods are constantly increasing, as there is always an outlet for rugs at the low prices at which he offers them.

A STATUE of John Bright, the great English statesman and carpet manufacturer, was unveiled in Westminster Hall, London, on the 11th inst.

A VERY handsome and useful pocket memorandum book has been issued by the Fries-Breslin Company, the Smyrna rug manufacturers, of Camden, N. J., and a postal to them will bring one.

SAMPLES of the extra fine Hartford Axminsters alluded to previously in these columns are now shown by Reune Martin & Sons, 114 Worth street, New York. These goods are made on the new improved Crompton loom and are intended to compare with any Axminster shown in fineness of material and closeness of pile.

WHITE & SPATE, the cut carpet wholesalers, of 31 and 33 West Twenty-third street, New York, have leased a floor in the building 119 to 123 West Twenty-third street, and are putting in an electric carpet sewing machine. They will hereafter be able to sew carpets "while you wait." This additional room will also be utilized for stock, as the firm's handsome and spacious showroom at 31 and 33 West Twenty-third street is crowded to the ceiling. White & Spate, it should be remembered, are also selling agents for Samuel White's Centennial Mills Ingrains and Brighton Mills Smyrna rugs, and buyers visiting New York will find their salesroom a most convenient place in which to view these excellent goods.

SMITH'S SMYRNA RUGS.

We present in this issue an illustration of one of W. T. Smith & Son's 30 inch Oriental grade Smyrna rugs. These rugs are quoted at the low price of $1.45 each for the 30x60 inch size, and 60 cents each for 18x34 inch mats. They are shown in about a dozen patterns, mostly of the floral order and in bright, warm colorings. That the price of $1.45 each is low can be realized from the fact that it is over 65 per cent. discount from the list price of $4.25. This Oriental grade is made in sizes from single door up to 30 inch only. In their Gold Eagle grade, a higher quality than the Orientals, Smith & Son show twenty-five patterns, made in sizes from single door up to 36x72 inches. This line includes a big range of animal and other live figure patterns. The firm are bringing out several new patterns in large sized Smyrna carpets up to 9x16 feet. They offer a 9x12 one piece carpet at $21, which is $3.50 less than any carpet of that size heretofore made by them. It is well worth any buyer's attention to test the values of these goods and also of the other special offerings made in Smith & Son's advertisement in this issue. A sample order is the best way to test them.

HOEFLICH & WILSON SETTLE, NOT HOEFLICH & ASHBRIDGE.

An apparently inadvertent error in the February number of another trade journal quoted Hoeflich & Ashbridge as having finally settled with their creditors at 50 cents on the dollar, cash. The firm name should have read Hoeflich & Wilson, as the firm of Hoeflich & Asbridge was dissolved several years ago, Mr. Ashbridge retiring. Clarence B. Ashbridge is in business alone, manufacturing Ingrains, at 2413 Howard street, Philadelphia, and had no connection whatever with the failure of Hoeflich & Wilson. He has always paid 100 cents on the dollar, and his present successful business indicates that he will continue to do so.

The Union League Club of Philadelphia has a rug 106x6 feet, made by Yates & Co., Wilton, England. It is literally hand made, each tuft being inserted separately in the Oriental manner. The price of these rugs varies from $10 to $100 per square yard.

First Local Tradesman—Is old Doobody there a man to be trusted?

Second Do. Do.—Well, I should say so. I know this—if you trust him once you'll trust him forever.—Fun.

They are telling of a Boston man (but not Boston type of man) who went to his lawyer and told him to fix all his property in his wife's name, and fix it so that even he could not get it. When the lawyer presented his bill he said: "I can't pay that bill, for I have not a cent to my name."—Fibre and Fabric.

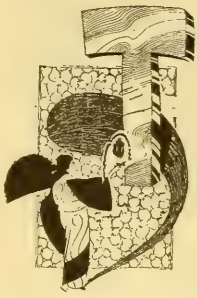
Jay—Halloa, Gay, delighted to see you, my boy! I hear you have a position with my friends Skinner & Co.?

Gay—Oh, yes; I have a position as collector there.

Jay—That's first rate. Who recommended you?

Gay—Oh, nobody. I just told them that I once collected an account from you, and they instantly gave me the berth.—Tit-Bits.

PHILADELPHIA'S COMMERCIAL MUSEUM.



The new Commercial Museum at Philadelphia is an institution which deserves the cordial support of all manufacturers, for it proposes to render for them services of inestimable value and which could not be so well, if at all, performed by individual initiative, however enterprising and energetic. Briefly stated, the museum's purpose is to bring before domestic manufacturers, dealers and consumers the varied products of the world, and obtain and publish all possible scientific and useful information which will guide them in their choice. Besides this, the object is to exhibit manufactured articles and samples, with full information pertaining thereto, from all markets which American goods ought to enter or control, and to furnish useful hints to home producers concerning opportunities in foreign lands for products of American industry.

One of the most important features of the museum, and one in which it is confidently anticipated to equal or surpass the best of the European museums, will be the bureau of information. Arrangements have been made with the Department of State to enlist the consular officers of this country in aid of the museum; and, in addition to this, the museum will have its own scientifically trained correspondents in all foreign countries, who will forward reports as to conditions of markets and of trade, thus enabling merchants and manufacturers to keep in touch with the conditions ruling in the markets of the world.

The manufacturer or dealer who desires to import the raw products of foreign countries, such as wools, hides, skins, food products, &c., will be shown the samples in the museum, and through this bureau will be advised as to the prevailing prices in the country of origin, the means and cost of transportation, quantity available and conditions under which the particular products desired can be procured.

It would be impossible to commend too highly this feature of the museum's work, and judging from the character of the men who are in control of its operations it seems perfectly safe to predict for it a success more brilliant than has been achieved by any other institution of its kind.

HARTFORD WILTONS IN CUT QUANTITIES.

Reune Martin & Sons, 114 and 116 Worth street, New York, are prepared to furnish cut quantities of Hartford Wiltons at $1.55 per yard. They carry stock of the patterns cut and can fill orders at once. They invite correspondence regarding samples and list of patterns.

Julia M. Mack's furniture and carpet store at Norristown, Pa., was burned out on the 11th inst. Loss, $2,000; partly insured.

Bover & Lease's dry goods and carpet store at Waterloo, Ind., was destroyed by fire on the 12th inst. Their loss amounts to $30,000.

THE UPHOLSTERY MARKET.

THE week just closing has apparently been an off one, and very few large buyers have been in the market, but the season thus far shows a large increase in business over the corresponding period of former years.

In lace curtains the increase in business in the East has been largely in the better grades of goods at the expense of the lower ends. The same tendency is noticeable in the recent purchases of Western houses. The constant inquiry is for something new and anything that possesses the slightest claim to novelty is quickly taken up.

Fancy nets continue to sell freely up to 35 or 40 cents. Beyond that dealers demand something else, and sash curtains are again coming into request.

The demand for heavy draperies has been somewhat larger than is usual in spring. Dealers in furniture coverings have also had a good fortnight.

The crowding of an extra holiday—Lincoln's Birthday—into the shortest month in the year, and one which already has Washington's Birthday, does not meet with wild acclaim at the hands of the upholstery trade, who are wont to regard February as one of their own choice possessions.

VISITORS to the metropolitan salesrooms within the past fortnight included: Messrs. I. Marks, of Marks, Rothenberg & Co., Meridian, Miss.; D. Samuels, San Francisco; E. W. Van Wagenen (wall paper), for D. McCarthy & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; Charles A. Birkle for the Fair, Chicago; H. S. Judkins, for the Joslin Dry Goods Company, Denver, Col.; E. R. Du Bose, of the Chamberlin, Johnson & Du Bose Company, Atlanta, Ga.; L. H. Guldman, Denver, Col.; John C. King, Rochester, N. Y.; C. V. Patterson, of Chamberlain & Patterson, Natchez, Miss.; J. A. Suydam, for Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co., Kansas City; C. G. Hutzler, of Hutzler Brothers, Baltimore; H. M. Hinman, for H. J. Hatch & Co., Cleveland, Ohio; A. H. Dainty and W. E. Clark (retail), for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago; E. M. Clarke, for the Carter Dry Goods Company, Louisville; E. M. Walmsley, for the Havens & Geddes Company, Terre Haute, Ind.; S. H. Cramer, for Sterling, Welch & Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Charles Trankla, of Trankla, Jamieson & Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.; E. S. Brown, of E. S. Brown & Co., Fall River, Mass.; B. L. Young, for D. McCarthy & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; T. K. Stanley, for B. Nugent & Brother, St. Louis; W. H. Wright, for Woodward & Lothrop, Washington, D. C.; E. G. Miller, for G. M. McKelvey & Co., Youngstown, Ohio; Ralph Sachs, for S. Kann, Sons & Co., Baltimore; L. Furchgott, of Kohn, Furchgott & Co., Jacksonville, Fla.; W. C. Kilburn, for the Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Company, St. Louis.; W. P. Cowperthwait, for Goldsmith Brothers & Co., Scranton, Pa.; W. B. Hedge, of Hedge & Shepard, Lafayette, Ind.; B. Strauss, of Kaufmann, Strauss & Co., Louisville; F. Meckes, for John Meckes, Cleveland, Ohio; S. Finkelstein, of O'Farrell & Finkelstein, Athens, Ga.; J. P. Verhine, Union City, Tenn.; E. E. Shauer, for Mandel Brothers, and Miss Margaret Keane, for the Tobey Furniture Company, Chicago; H. W. Hildreth, for Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, Salem, Mass.; Morris Benson, of the Adam, Meldrum & Anderson Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; T. J. Laflin, for F. M. Brown & Co., New Haven, Conn.; D. A. Godfrey, for Joel Gutman & Co., Baltimore; Charles Ilfeld, Las Vegas, N. Mex.; Chandler Jordan, for Jordan, Marsh & Co., Boston; E. Monash, Denver, Col.; E. Edsall, for the Pittsburg (Pa.) Dry Goods Company; S. Seelig, of Seelig, Bruen & Co., Helena, Ark.; J. Gutman, of Julius Gutman & Co., Baltimore; George J. Carter, for R. H. White & Co., and D. C. Theall, for Wm. S. Butler & Co., Boston; R. T. Curlin, Union City, Tenn.; R. B. Harris, for the Doggett Dry Goods Company, Kansas City; R. B. Collins, for Clarke & Co., Peoria, Ill.; E. D. Phillips, for Newcomb, Endicott & Co., Detroit.

France possessed tapestry factories as early as 400 A. D. The fabric produced at that early period was a coarse embroidery done by hand and with rude needles, the threads used being gold and silver. They were used as hangings and altar cloths. In the year 900 a loom was invented for weaving the same fabrics, but was slow in being adopted, as we find it recorded that 400 years later the hand embroidery was still in the ascendant.

The design known as the fleur-de-lis and composed of three separate figures bound in one, and for that reason supposed to be emblematic of the Trinity, dates back to the twelfth century. It was embroidered upon a velvet fabric of delicate blue color, lined with vermillion. A corporation was formed in Paris at that early period for the purpose of producing, it would seem, that particular fabric and design only.

Hees, Macfarlane & Co. will build a new factory at Detroit.

Simons and Volmer Brothers, two upholstery concerns at Harrisburg, Pa., have united under the style of Volmer & Simons.

Thomas Kilpatrick & Co. have succeeded the Kilpatrick, Koch Dry Goods Company at Omaha, Neb. The New York office of the firm is at 258 Church street.

The American Trimming Syndicate is the name of a new concern incorporated at Newark, N. J., by Peter C. Argyro and Joseph S. Ward, with a capital of $200,000.

A fire broke out in Edward Heade's upholstery store at 208 South Third street, Brooklyn, on the morning of the 9th inst., and caused a damage of $100 to the building.

Schwartz & Grashauser have opened an upholstery establishment at 19 East Scott place, Elizabeth, N. J. Both members of the new firm were formerly with James C. Ogden.

Joseph Plunkett, dealer in brass bedsteads, &c., 114 West Fourteenth street, New York, assigned on the 3d inst. to Maximus A. Lesser, giving five preferences for $416. He succeeded Reuben Shepherd in 1884 and claimed an investment of $7,000 in stock, &c.

Hoyle, Harrison & Kaye are receiving their usual liberal share of the season's trade on upholstery piece goods, curtains and table covers. Their equipment of modern and latest improved machinery makes it impossible for anyone else to surpass them in rapid and economical manufacture. C. B. Young & Co., 88 Worth street, New York, are their selling agents.

No shade requires more careful handling than green. But if the proper tint is found the effect is delightful. To make a success of rooms in green delicate tints must be employed. A shade of green which has recently obtained much favor is jade green, which, with a liberal use of white, makes a decoration for a room particularly delightful and agreeable, especially for summer cottages.

McMaster, Eldridge & Maugle, Philadelphia window shade manufacturers, are very busy at their shade cloth factory, and are turning out the largest product in their experience. Mr. McMaster has recently visited the trade in Western Pennsylvania, Mr. Eldridge in New Jersey, and W. R. Murfin is still on the road and sending in good orders. Their orders are for the best oil opaque and cambric shade cloth, and the many new customers testify to the merit of the goods.

Steinecke & Farren, 90 White street, New York, have been succeeded by the Steinecke Upholstery Trimming Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $30,000. The works are at Linden, N. J.

The stock of the H. W. Ladd Company, Providence, R. I., valued at $143,000, was sold by auction on the 1st inst. to local banks holding $110,000 of the firm's paper. After the sale the representative of R. H. White & Co., of Boston, claimed that the bid of $26,000 was his. To avoid litigation the stock was sold again to Marsden J. Perry, representing local banks, for $38,000. The company will be reorganized, with ex-Governor Ladd at the head.

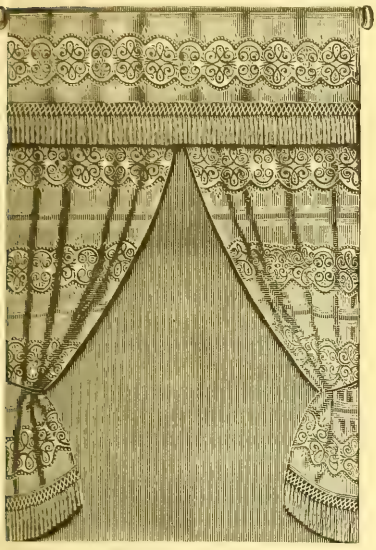
The upholstery department of Henry Offermann, Fulton street, Brooklyn, will be opened on March 1 with a complete new line of goods under the management of C. Watson. It will be located on the third floor of the Fulton street front, and will have a ground space of 90x60 feet, well lighted and fitted up with all modern improvements. The department will be thoroughly reorganized, and with a new stock and competent management will be a large factor in the upholstery trade of Brooklyn.

Chas. Parkin, formerly with J. Colby & Co., is now dealing in decorative fabrics, art embroideries and East India goods at 241 Wabash avenue, Chicago. He represents F. B. Bhumgara & Co., A. E. Bulkley, Keifer & Petingney and Turnbull & Stockdale, Limited.

The annual ball of the employees of Henry Offermann, Brooklyn, was held on January 31, at Saengerbund Hall. It was the third occasion on which the employees have gathered together, and they passed a pleasant evening. The hall was handsomely decorated for the occasion. The dancing did not begin until 10 o'clock, when the president of the association, G. W. Dupignac, led the grand march, accompanied by Miss Dupignac. Over 100 couples participated in the march. There were thirty dances on the program. The officers of the association are: President, G. W. Dupignac; vice-president, John L. Price; recording secretary, C. M. Bernstein; financial secretary, William T. Lloyd; corresponding secretary, George E. McGrath; treasurer, William F. Gerrity; sergeant-at-arms, William Henderson. The floor manager was Thomas H. Walsh, and his assistant was Ferdinand E. Cootz. The committees in charge of the ball were as follows: Floor—Michael F. Walsh, chairman; R. Archer, E. Krancher, F. Murray, George Tiville, K. Dayton, James F. Jessup, E. Cooney. Reception—Michael Hanlon, chairman; G. H. King, Walter Cook, William Johnston, W. F. Daley, Leo Ferda, James Lynn, E. McLaughlin. Arrangements—Guerdon C. Lawrence, chairman; Joseph Cosgrove, William T. Caldwell, J. C. T. Luerssen, William Henderson, R. H. Burger, A. G. Calder, Herman Altgelt.

LIGHT CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES.

Eben Sugden, 69 Worth street, New York, is now devoting his special attention to the manufacture of light weight curtains, draperies, lambrequins, scarfs, piano and table covers. The goods are designed for popular trade and are at medium and low prices, in a great variety of designs and colorings. Mr. Sugden shows a very large assortment of patterns in tussore, art muslin and crepe effects, fringed at top and bottom, and particularly desirable for summer use or for chambers. He also offers a great variety of fancy lambrequins in tussore, art muslin, crepe, silk and silk madras. These lambrequins are all complete and ready for use. Mr. Sugden requests applications for samples and prices, and will give such inquiries prompt attention.



CURTAIN FROM EBEN SUGDEN'S STOCK.

In our Special Notice column will be found an advertisement from an experienced and well-known salesman, signed "Business," who desires to represent upholstery or drapery accounts in Boston and New England, either on commission or salary.

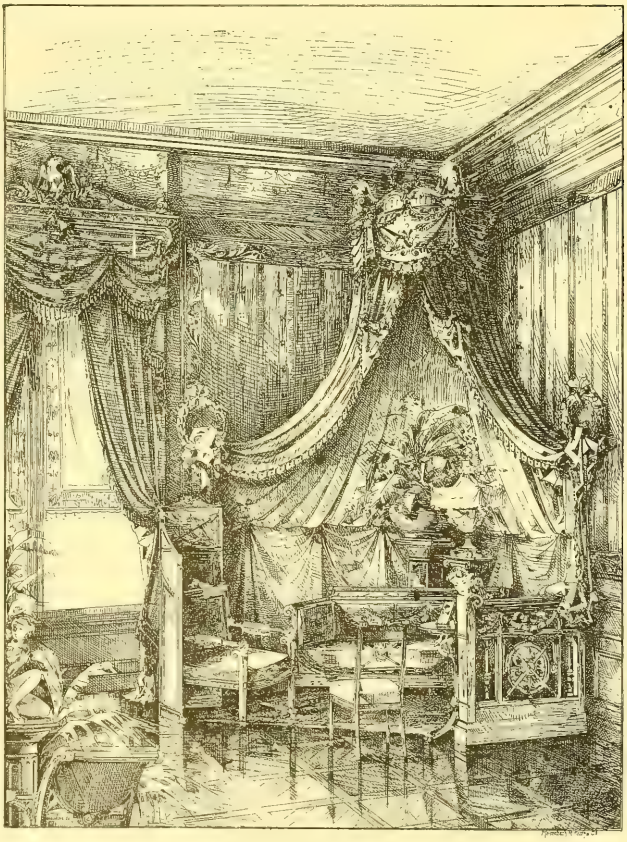
E. V. Pike, Philadelphia, manufacturer of chenille curtains and covers, is represented in New York by John Black, 115 Worth street; in Chicago by C. H. R. Davis, 221 Fifth avenue; in Baltimore by T. Holborn, at the Exchange Bank Building; in St. Louis by J. R. Jacobus, 422 Washington avenue, and in Minneapolis by J. J. Windrim & Co.

J. B. Ryer, Son & Co. present an extensive list of the various goods needed in a complete upholstery and drapery department in their new advertisement on page 79. They not only offer these goods at lowest market prices, but also carry a stock of everything quoted, and can therefore fill wants exceptionally quickly. Whether you desire to place a stock order or prefer to send in frequently for small quantities Ryer, Son & Co. say they can suit you, and will gladly furnish samples and quotations and prove this assertion. Their leader in tapestry curtains at $2.65 per pair continues to be a big seller, and they have many other equally strong attractions in prices and styles in lace, tapestry, velour and cotton Derby curtains.

MORE SPACE FOR THE WEMPLE COMPANY.

The Jay C. Wemple Company have just added to their already large establishment, at 537 and 539 Broadway, an entire loft over their store, 38 feet front by 200 feet deep. This additional room has become necessary through the overtaxing of their old quarters by their immense stock of window shade goods, and now that they have secured more room they will still further increase their stock of everything required by a window shade dealer. This concern have done a great deal in recent years in reducing the time consumed in filling window shade orders. They have not waited for business, but in the dull periods of the year have continued operations at their factories and accumulated stock, which is readily taken up when activity in trade sets in. If you want an attractive and useful pocket memorandum book send a postal to the Wemple Company.

The American Pin Company show on page 72 an illustration of their No. 4958 adjustable bracket extension rod, which is a quick seller. There are many new ideas in upholstery hardware shown in their spring line, in which the quality and finish are of a superior character and the prices are the lowest that can be obtained. James J. Sullivan, manager of the New York office, 441 Broadway, can interest all buyers who will favor him with a call.



CORNER DECORATION—EMPIRE STYLE.

BACK-YARD DINING ROOMS.

The attempt to grow flowers in the back yards of city houses is being abandoned and the valuable spaces utilized for other purposes. An enterprising reporter who has been looking into the matter has discovered one instance in which a fair designer had contrived a billiard room, which when built was exceedingly pretty and very cosey. It only had the fault of being quite too small to allow of a billiard table being set up therein. Still, it was a pretty room and proved useful, although not for billiard playing.

Some few months since, when Mr. and Mrs. Bradley-Martin gave a ball to introduce their daughter, now the Countess of Craven, they found even their spacious residence too small to accommodate the guests they wished to invite. Over their yards, and the adjacent ones as well, a ballroom was erected, which was so cleverly planned and decorated that it won the unanimous praise of everyone.

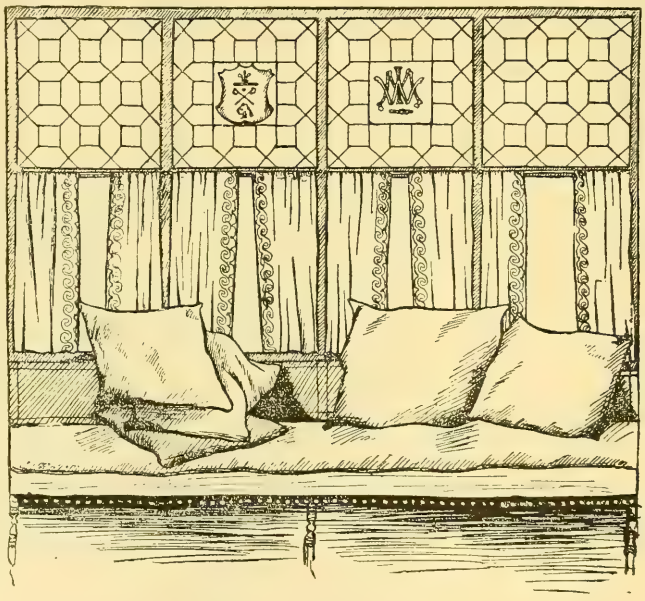
In an ordinary sized city house a good sized dining room is not always to be found, and it is only recently that many house owners have decided that they would rather build over their back yards and sacrifice them to handsome dining rooms. Some charmingly effective rooms have been obtained in this way, and the proportions are always so good as to delight the individual who tries the experiment. To be sure, building up in this way may be a little hard on the adjacent property holders, but every man for himself must needs be a law in these fin de siecle days, and if you don't shut out somebody else's view you may be assured your own will be taken from you.

A house in East Ninth street has just had added to it a most attractive dining room, which looks as though it really belonged to an old English mansion, so cleverly has it been designed and the design carried out. The corners are rounded, not square. The walls are hung with tapestry and the high stained glass windows and old carved mantel (a veritable antique) look as though they had been just where they now are for at least a couple of centuries. The former dining room is now a library, and, done in white wood and pale green, is a comparatively light room, although the one window, which is all the extension has left possible, does not give a great deal of sunshine.

Another yard which has been sacrificed to a dining room makes a most delightful room. All along one side facing east is a large window, or, rather, windows, with deep window seat. The upper window sashes are of stained glass, and on one is a coat of arms and the other a monogram. The lower sashes are of plain glass and have dainty sash curtains. The window seat is cushioned, and has besides several pillows.

The walls are hung with old tapestries and all the woodwork in the room, of which there is a great deal, as a heavy wainscoting runs all around, is of oak. This style of furnishing would make any room dark and gloomy, but the large east window counteracts it.

Not only at night, when the lights are lighted, is this room most attractive, but at morning and noon as well, and there is no need of eating by gaslight, no matter how gloomy the day, which is the fate of many an individual in this city who owns a $70,000 house.



A BACK-YARD DINING ROOM WINDOW.

Homer Le Boutillier & Co.'s store, at 1412 and 1414 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, which adjoins the Hazeltine Building, the seat of the big fire on the morning of the 2d inst., was considerably damaged by falling walls, water, smoke, &c. The loss on the building amounts to about 15 per cent. of the insurance, which amounts to $100,000, and the loss on stock amounted to about 20 per cent. of policies aggregating $295,000.

Geo. T. Hopkins & Co. have removed from 257 Canal street, New York, to 170 and 172 Centre street, and will do a jobbing business in window shades and wall paper.

The following advertisement recently appeared in an English country daily: "Wanted, by a first-class furniture establishment in the North of England, a gentleman moving in best society, to give information as to engagement of marriages, &c., that may lead to furnishing orders; good commission; communications strictly confidential."

THE TRADE OF THE UPHOLSTERER.*

Making a French Counterpane.

A FRENCH counterpane, such as is shown in Figure 154 of the engravings presented herewith, is cut in the following manner :

After getting the size of the bed by means of the rectangle a b c d Fig. 153, we allow all around it sufficient material to permit the counterpane being tucked under everywhere between the mattress and the bedstead. When the bed stands with one side against the wall, or against another bed, we require less material on that side than on the outside, where the cover must extend down below the upper edge of the bedstead. At the head and foot, just enough to tuck between the mattress and bedstead, is sufficient. The piece of material covering the rolls is sewed so that the seam comes precisely under the centre of the roll, is as wide as the roll, and just long enough to reach around it, as at e and f in Fig. 153.

Of the two rolls, one is filled with hair or down, and the other, a dummy, is made of pasteboard, and is taken off at night along with the cover.

In making the pasteboard roll it is a good plan to fasten the board upon circular pieces of seasoned whitewood. At the two ends of the roll the wooden disks should be three-quarters of an inch thick, but the others need not be more than half an inch thick. When the pasteboard has been fastened over the disks one or more layers of wadding should be added, and this should then be covered with heavy unbleached muslin stretched tightly, basted, and then sewed.

This is the simplest form of French counterpane, as shown in Fig. 154. It may be decorated by quilting, scalloping, laying into folds, or other methods of draping.

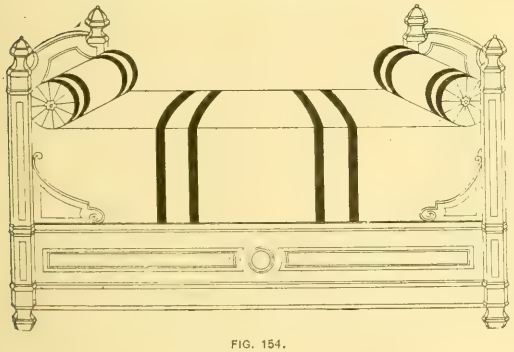

FIG. 154.

Counterpanes of thin material, such as tulle or gauze, must have a firm basis, e. g., a frame with strong linen or muslin stretched over it, and in this case the light cover is generally underlaid with colored glazed muslin. If they are draped, all the rules regarding festoons may be applied to them.

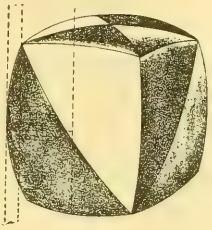

FIG. 155.

Fig. 156 illustrates the method of cutting the puff, Fig. 155. Anyone familiar with the cutting of awnings and the principle of geometric construction, involving transfer of all heights and widths to the plane surface, will master this pattern without detailed instructions.

A SILK EXHIBITION.

AN exhibition of English furniture and figured silks will be held at London in April next. The Draper, of that city, says : "At one time the manufacture of figured silks gave employment to 60,000 weavers in the east of London, and as recent changes of fashion have caused a demand for eighteenth century patterns in these fabrics, and the designs of the early days of George III. are now being revived or adopted, the East End weavers, of whom there are still some left, may, it is hoped, come in for a share of the work. Notwithstanding all that has been said and done of late years to expand the silk manufactures of the United Kingdom, the imports of silk goods continue to increase, and, as we have pointed out in another article, the totals for the past year show an increase in value over those of 1894 of nearly two and a half millions sterling—the actual total of all kinds for the twelve months having been £15,237,566. There is therefore plenty of scope for British manufacturers."

CANAL STREET, although one of the busiest of New York's streets, is without a single business building of the most recent type. You may see southward from Canal street, at no great distance, the new city's upward march, the rapid spread of towering structures in buff brick, granite and marble ; but the business of Canal street is carried on in structures that date back from two to five decades. Men still vigorous in advancing old age recall the time when Canal street was a fashionable retail thoroughfare. It is now all sorts of a thoroughfare, as full of varied interest as almost any other business street, and by reason of its unusual width capable of striking architectural effects when it shall come, within the next dozen years, to be rebuilt on a thoroughly modern scale.

Just beyond Broadway Canal street begins to rise toward its highest point at its junction with the Bowery, and even now the observer at the northern corners of Broadway may guess how impressive an urban picture that slope will present when it shall be lined with adequate business buildings, as it is to be if we take the New York Sun for an authority. A broad-gabled, old-fashioned brick building remains at the corner of Mott street as a reminder of the earlier town of the time when Bleecker street was filled with fashionable houses and everybody shopped down town. The furniture manufacturers begin east of Broadway, and with them various allied trades, the cabinet hardware dealers, with their dainty displays in brass and bronze, the upholsterers and dealers in draperies, and the like.

DUPLEX SHADINGS.

The Oswego Shade Cloth Company are now manufacturing their celebrated Chouaguen oil opaque shadings in duplex colors in addition to the regular line of solid colors. These duplex colored goods show a different color on each side, and the company offer them in five different combinations in all widths up to 48 inches inclusive. Sample books will be cheerfully sent on application to their headquarters at Oswego, N. Y.

BUFFALO FRINGE WORKS' NEW YORK SALESROOM.

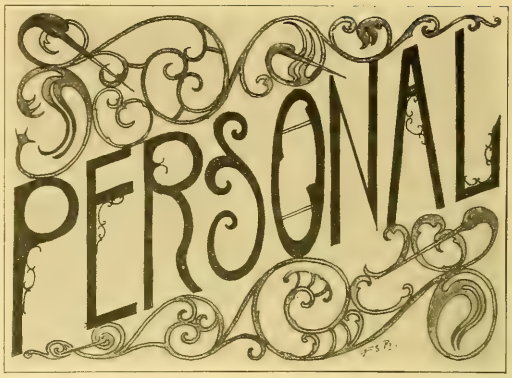
The Buffalo Fringe Works will show their complete lines of upholstery trimmings and "Decorative" rope portieres during February at 458 Broadway, corner of Grand street, with T. I. Birkin & Co., the lace curtain manufacturers. Morris Bernhard, the proprietor, is on hand daily to meet the trade.

THE GEORGE S. STEWART COMPANY'S SCREENS, CURTAIN POLES AND FURNITURE.

As manufacturers of fine furniture, screens, tabourets, easels, fretwork, curtain poles, rings and fixtures, &c., the George S. Stewart Company are in a position to offer strong inducements to buyers. The goods made by this company are very attractive and comprise many choice and exclusive novelties and specialties, all of which are offered at prices which enable the retail dealer to realize a good profit.

The company's assortment of screens, curtain poles, fretwork, &c., is especially extensive and will well repay examination. The line is on view in the company's salesrooms at 6 West Fifteenth street, New York; at 10 Columbia street, Cleveland, and at Chicago. Write to them for their catalogue and price lists.

The ninth annual entertainment of the employees of R. H. Macy & Co. was given at Lenox Lyceum on the night of the 24th ult. under the direction of the Macy Mutual Aid, a benevolent society of which over 700 of Macy & Co.'s employees are members.



Beaumont.—Wm. H. Beaumont is now representing the Manhattan Print Works, printers of textiles.

Blatter.—T. Blatter, of Titus, Blatter & Co., sailed for Europe on the 8th inst.

Bradbury.—Geo. T. Bradbury, manager of M. C. Spencer & Co.'s upholstery department, left on February 11 for Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks. He had for several weeks been seriously ill in the hospital, but was much improved when he left.

Evans.—William T. Evans, of Mills & Gibb, is the founder of the Evans prize of $300 for "the most meritorious water color painted in this country by an American artist." It was awarded this year to W. L. Lathrop for his "Twilight," which is No 274 in the Water Color Show.

Halden.—George Halden, well known as an upholstery department manager, has taken charge of the M. J. Connell Company's upholstery and carpet department, Butte, Mon.

Hopewell.—John Hopewell, Jr., senior member of the firm of L. C. Chase & Co., agents for the Sanford Mills plushes, is one of the foremost citizens of Cambridge, Mass., the rapidly growing municipality just across the Charles River from Boston. Mr. Hopewell is now being urged to represent his district at the Republican National Convention, and if he becomes the delegate there will be no doubt about his personal choice, as he is a warm friend of Speaker Reed.

Pinney.—D. C. Pinney, head of the Pinney, Casse & Lackey Company, was in Boston this week. Mr. Pinney counts some of the Boston houses among his best customers, and has many strong friends throughout the New England trade.

Ratterman.—Chas. B. Ratterman, of C. B. Ratterman & Co., Cincinnati, is known as one of the most discerning buyers that comes to the market, and is rapidly expanding the business of his firm. O. F. Ratterman, his brother and partner, returned from a several months' visit to Europe recently and brought back many new novelties in upholstery and drapery goods.

Uhlhorn.—Theo. Uhlhorn, who has been with Henry Battermann, of Brooklyn, for the past fifteen years, has resigned his position as buyer of the upholstery department for that concern.

Vanderveer.—R. E. Vanderveer, for several years a traveler for the Stewart Hartshorn Company, resigned his position with that company on February 1 and is now representing the Manhattan Soap Company.

Williams.—H. La Barre Williams succeeds the late William Eilbeck as Philadelphia representative of Johnson & Faulkner. He has a wide acquaintance with the trade in the vicinity.

A fashionable physician who occupies a handsome residence up town, just off Fifth avenue, has every window in his home hung with bamboo curtains. Muslin is shirred on the lower half of the window in the front to insure privacy. This is perhaps the professional man's fad that heavy draperies are unwholesome.

AN IMPORTANT BOSTON SELLING AGENCY.

The firm of Boutwell & Russell commenced business under that title on January 1. Prior to that Willis M. Boutwell had been the New England agent for Barnes & Beyer and other prominent manufacturers, and L. E. Russell had been traveling for Wm. & J. Robertson. Mr. Boutwell has been aiming to establish in Boston a first-class upholstery and drapery agency, feeling sure that the New England trade would support an establishment that could offer the same inducements in character and assortment of goods and in prices as can be obtained in New York, or at mill headquarters. That Boutwell & Russell can offer such attractions is proved by the following list of leading accounts for which they are sole New England agents: Barnes & Beyer, chenille, tapestry and velour curtains and table covers; Wm. & J. Robertson, silk draperies, and Madras goods; Neuburger, Heine & Co., Swiss lace curtains; W. E. Meats & Co., Nottingham lace curtains; Shaw & Peck, table linens.

They have one of the handsomest and best appointed offices for the upholstery commission business to be found in either Boston or New York. It is located in the Jefferson Building, 564 Washington street, opposite the Adams House, is superbly fitted up, perfectly lighted and has all modern conveniences for displaying samples. Boutwell & Russell have made an excellent start and certainly deserve the substantial support of New England buyers.

BOUTWELL & RUSSELL'S OFFICE AND SALESROOM.

Robert Adams, who as R. & H. Adams, at 16 Greene street, was the largest manufacturer of mosquito nettings in the country, made an assignment on January 6 to Charles E. Shede.

Very few upholstery houses of any importance have failed to see the opportunities for profit in handling odd pieces of furniture which, while not occupying the space necessary for the display of chamber suites and other bulky articles, serve to set off and enhance the beauty of upholstery and drapery, while at the same time attracting to themselves the attention of buyers of such articles. No house in America shows a wider range, greater novelty in designs or more attractive prices than the Udell Works, of North Indianapolis, Ind. Their catalogue will be sent to any dealer on application.

Wendell & Homan, of Fifth avenue and Fifteenth street, are now prepared to furnish designs for the trade made by one of the most competent artists in the country.

The Dry Goods Exchange, representing the following houses throughout the country, has removed from 78 Walker street to 60 and 62 Lispenard street: G. W. Anderson & Co., Portsmouth, Ohio; W. C. Bernadi, Pittsburgh, Pa.; C. H. Bissell & Co., Southington, Conn.; M. Boyle, Natchez, Miss.; J. J. Boyle & Co., Natchez, Miss.; the Cohen Co., Richmond, Va.; Coyle & Richardson, Charleston, W. Va.; Hutzler Brothers, Baltimore, Md.; McGhee Brothers, Clarksville, Tenn.; Geo. W. Marston, San Diego, Cal.; Munson & McNamara, Wichita, Kan.; J. P. Quinn, D. G. Co., Little Rock, Ark.; W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., Raleigh, N. C.; Taylor & Galpin, Atlanta, Ga., &c.

The building occupied by the Nebraska Dry Goods Company, Omaha, was gutted by fire on the 11th inst. The stock, which was insured for $30,000, was damaged to the extent of 75 per cent. of that sum.

The spring road business of the Philadelphia store of the Meriden Curtain Fixture Company has been of a satisfactory volume and is keeping up very well. Mr. Springer and Mr. Harned, Jr., went out again on the 10th inst., and the ground is kept well covered. City trade, as usual at this time, is not active, but when it does open up local buyers will find the large stock of window shades carried at 1006 Filbert street of great advantage.

A. G. & J. A. Storey, of Talladega, Ala., retired from business some years ago. Now A. G. Storey, a son of J. A. Storey, of the old firm, revives the business, and was in town last week buying an entire new stock. He will occupy the premises in which the old firm did business for over thirty years.

Murdoch's Nephews, importers and commission merchants, have removed from 380 to 381 and 383 Broadway, New York.

Cushman Brothers & Co., Boston, are utilizing the February lull in accumulating stocks of window shades for the active spring trade, which will aid in serving their customers promptly. They are prepared to give quotations that will compare with any other figures named.

S. M. Schwab, Jr., & Co., corner of White and Church streets, New York, are extensive manufacturers of denims, and having been prompt to recognize the growing tendency to utilize this fabric for upholstery and drapery purposes they have now on view a remarkably attractive assortment of denim curtains, table covers, draperies, wall hangings, &c., in new, handsome and original styles and colorings, which will well repay examination. They show some choice and highly desirable specialties in printed draperies in piece goods, including a number of Japanese effects, which excel the imported goods in appearance and are sold at a lower price. Buyers will find a big variety of quick selling specialties in Schwab & Co.'s salesrooms.

Robertson & Hall, Philadelphia, have removed to Lehigh avenue and Front streets.

GRILLES AND WINDOW SCREENS.

The progress that is being made in the production and use of grille work is something astonishing. From the simple diamond work figures that characterized the first production, the industry has grown to the extent that now it not only commands the first talent in producing designs, but draws upon century old figures and adornments to make up the variety the demand calls for. Ancient Roman scrolls are reproduced perfectly, and other designs of a far back date appear again in the modern grille work. Heretofore the grille has been used as an ornament at the top of doors and windows, but in these later days it is made useful as well as ornamental. Exquisite designs executed in brass are now used as screens, as in Figure 5, at the base of windows that extend down to the floor. The dwellers in the modern lofty apartment houses appreciate this last production, as it is a perfect safeguard for children as well as grown people, who sometimes lean too far out of the window.

Fig. 1 represents a screen fitted up at the Alhambra, in London, by an English company making Saracenic and Byzantine fretwork. Fig. 6 represents similar work done by Albert Gall, of Indianapolis.

There are numberless places where grilles and fretwork are desirable in the modern house—the ordinary narrow hall, open doorways between bed and dressing rooms and in the folding doorways between drawing rooms. The introduction of a perforated grille in such cases is always attended with success. This class of work is so light in effect and so picturesque that it never fails to please, and it is more than probable that it will be much more largely used in the near future. Grilles are fragile, of course, but then they are usually destined to rest out of harm's way, so that this fact does not militate much against their popularity. Where greater strength is required it would be possible to make these grilles of two or three veneers glued together, with the grain of the wood running in opposite directions, or they might be made of zinc and painted. Two of the designs are Louis Quinze in character, and in these it will be seen how admirably the French style lends itself to the fret cutter's saw.

The window of a bedroom or nursery built low, within a foot or two of the floor, is a menace and constant anxiety to a mother with her children, and to avoid any accident a pole or board is frequently placed across the window. It is not an ornament and for that reason it is adopted as a last resort. Some of the brass manufacturers, however, are introducing window grilles that are very ornate. We have noticed of late quite a number of schemes for the safety of children who will lean out of a window, but none of them has been more easily adjusted or cheaper than the ordinary wood grille, which builds up a barrier that is a great safeguard. The window looks well if the grille is at the top as well as the bottom, and the corners can be further ornamented by pieces which give a result similar to our illustration.

The diversity of design that it is possible to produce in the arrangement of the fretted grille is practically limitless. Prevailing styles, of course, govern the particular type of design that is and is to be fashionable. For example, most of the fretwork screens at present in vogue are generally Louis Quinze in character; as is, for instance, the design Fig. 4, which is shown herewith. The small wheel-like ornaments of this design will have to be produced carefully. It would be necessary to "spring" the little spindles into their places after the fret is cut.

The very fragile nature of these grilles offers scope to the ingenuity of manufactures for suggestions as to the best means of production. The employment of three thicknesses of veneer glued together is undoubtedly the best solution of the difficulty, but this is naturally a somewhat costly procedure, and when we remember that, as a rule, these frets are well out of harm's way and are generally covered with two or three coats of paint, it almost seems as though such precautions are hardly necessary in these matters where economy and competition are so much in evidence.

An English writer says :

"It is a question to our minds whether linoleum would not form a good substitute for wood ; anyhow the experiment might be tried. It would cut easily and would take paint well, and it would also be proof against 'cross-grain' difficulties. Its pliableness would be a disadvantage in extreme widths, but this might be overcome by a few additional supports here and there."

Chas. W. Breneman & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, offer for the spring trade large lines of opaque shade cloth and mounted window shades. Their stock of shade cloth comprises all widths and colors and they can offer exceptional inducements to buyers. Write to them for prices, &c.

MONUMENTAL CITY MEMS.

BALTIMORE, FEBRUARY 10.

The business of the Mullarky & Harty Dry Goods Company, dry goods and upholstery, Augusta, Ga., has been placed in the hands of J. T. Willis as temporary receiver. A year ago Mullarky & Harty, who are brothers-in-law, became involved and their business went into the hands of a receiver. After some weeks things were straightened out and the Mullarky & Harty Dry Goods Company was formed, with $29,000 capital, and most of the stock taken by the members of the firm and members of the two families in Augusta and Savannah. At the same time a store known as the Bon Marché sold out and the new Mullarky & Harty Company were purchasers of the stock. It appears that they gave in payment for the goods eighty-five shares of stock in the Mullarky & Harty Company. These shares of stock were transferred by the owners of the Bon Marché to foreign creditors of their own, and it seems that Bradberry, Gredix & Co., of London, are moving through their attorneys for a receiver. They allege that the conduct of the business by Mullarky & Harty is not satisfactory to them as minority stockholders.

Charles G. Hutzler, of Hutzler Brothers, dry goods and upholstery, made a business visit to Gotham the 4 th inst.

Trade is moving well with W. E. Arnold & Co., manufacturers of window shades. They show a very attractive line for the coming season.

It is rumored that a new concern, making a specialty of artistic upholstered work, contemplates starting in the western section of the city this spring.

E. Ingles, salesman with Albert Brager, dry goods and upholstery, was placed under arrest the 8th inst. on the charge of making false returns of sales.

The Wood & Wilson Company, dry goods and upholstery, Jacksonville, Fla., has been incorporated by W. J. Wilson and others, with a capital stock of $20,000.

It is stated that Washington (D. C.) capitalists are negotiating for the Deis furniture factory, Alexandria, Va., for the purpose of overhauling and operating the same. It is reported that William B. Moses, the well-known District furniture and upholstery merchant is interested.

Richard Cromwell, of the upholstery goods and furniture hardware firm of C. Sidney Norris & Co., was elected a director of the Savings Bank of Baltimore for the ensuing year last week.

The house of F. H. Lapsley & Brother, manufacturers of window shades, occupies a high position in this city. The goods made by this firm are noted for elegant design and thorough workmanship.

W. D. Love, formerly engaged in the dry goods and upholstery business in Columbia, S. C., first on his own account and afterward as a member of the firm of Love & Co. and McCreary, Love & Co., died of pneumonia at his home in Columbia the 5th inst.

In upholstery goods the demand is about commensurate with expectations, and the orders beginning to arrive foreshadow an early and stirring movement in this department. Jobbers are generally confident of a good trade for the coming season and are making every preparation for it. Furniture hardware, in all its varieties, seems to be meeting with a fair demand.

The case of the Charles Simon's Sons Company against Hutzler Brothers, which has been on trial several days before Judge Dobler, was concluded on the 4th inst. with a verdict for Hutzler Brothers. The suit was brought against Hutzler Brothers for $5,000 alleged damages to the property of the Charles Simon's Sons Company by the breaking of a drain pipe in the bed of Clay street.

Rachael, Michael and Benjamin Fainberg were arrested the 4th inst. on the charge of stealing goods from the upholstery warehouse of Goldstrom Brothers & Pimes. Subsequently Marcus Kustino, an upholsterer, who is said to be the husband of Rachael Fainberg, was arrested on the charge of receiving the stolen goods. The residence of the accused, on Ensor street, was searched by officers and a large amount of upholstery goods belonging to other Baltimore houses was discovered.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Elbridge R. Hartshorn, chief upholsterer for Shepard, Norwell & Co., Boston, died on the 26th ult., at the age of sixty-nine years.

Superintendent Merwin Samuel Tillotson, of Adams & Co.'s Sixth avenue, New York, dry goods establishment, died at his home in Coram, Suffolk County, N. Y., on the 31st ult. Mr. Tillotson was born at Jericho, L. I., fifty years ago, and had been identified with the dry goods business for the past thirty years, both in Brooklyn and this city, and was recognized as an invaluable man in the trade. A delegation representing his associates of this city attended the funeral, which took place at Coram on the 4th inst. He leaves one brother and three sisters.

MEYER'S THREADS.

JOHN C. MEYER & CO., 87 Summer street, Boston, are an omnibus thread house; that is, they carry almost every requirement of all trades in threads. They positively have everything required by the upholstery, drapery and window shade trade, whether manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer.

Meyer & Co. have a model establishment for carrying stock, and can fill orders the day they are received, a feature well worth remembering. Why not obtain their samples and prices?

EAST INDIA ART WARES.

S. J. TELLERY & CO. had a very attractive display of Bombay carved black wood furniture, bric-à-brac, draperies, &c., at the New York Exposition. It was their first exhibit, and their success was so pronounced that they will doubtless be found in the next exposition. There were over 100 different pieces shown, besides a number of the latest designs on paper, and good orders were taken for immediate and fall delivery. Buyers were quick to realize that the prices were astonishingly low, and the make and styles of the goods were of the highest class.

Tellery & Co. propose to keep a stock of their East India art wares at their New York store, 159 Fifth avenue, for the trade, and say their prices will be devoid of all fancy charges, enabling dealers to handle the goods with excellent profit. Eight hundred carvers are employed by the firm in their Bombay and Delhi factories, an evidence of their ability to supply India furniture in quantities and at attractive prices.

They are also large manufacturers of rugs, and have already proved to rug buyers that their prices cannot be beaten. Their factories turned out 157,500 square feet of rugs last year, which they say is by far the largest quantity made by any East India concern. The products of S. J. Tellery & Co. are sold through Van Gaasbeek & Arkell, 935 Broadway and 159 Fifth avenue, New York, who are the sole agents for the United States.

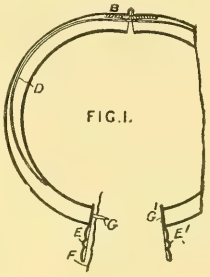
No. 15,295. August 10, 1894. Curtain Rings. — W. Woolf, 138 Green lanes, Stoke Newington, Middlesex. Patent issued January 15, 1896.

The ring is hinged at B, and the ends E, E' are provided with roughened plates, with spikes G and holes G', between which the curtain F is gripped. The ends E, E' are held together by a spring, D, or by a ring, H, fitting over the extensions C, or by any suitable fastening. The hinge may be dispensed with, the ring being sufficiently elastic to allow the ends to open and grip the curtain.



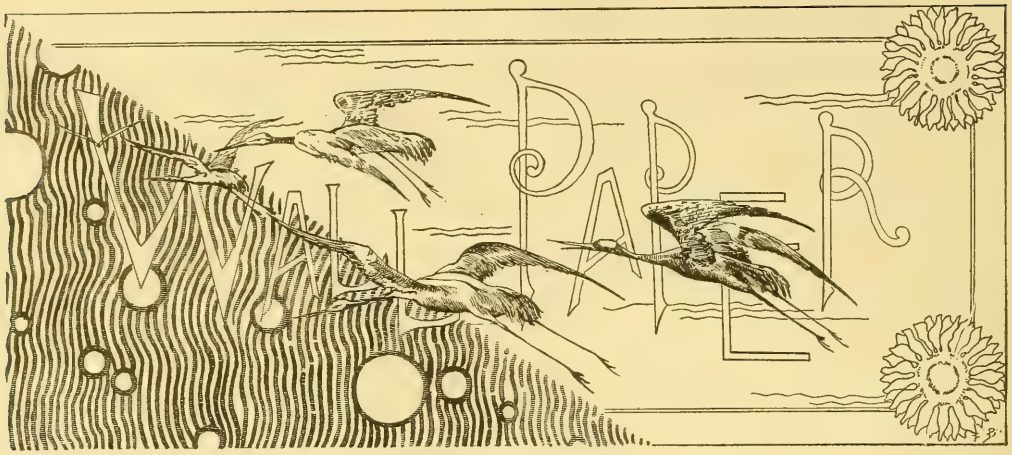
No. 16,302. August 27, 1894. Wall Decorations. — W. A. Ebel, 27 Ravensbourne road, Catford, Kent. Issued January 29, 1896.

Relates to damp proof wall coverings in imitation of artistic fresco and hand painted mural decorations. Milled or glazed paper or other felted material is coated on both sides with a mixture of color, japanners' size and boiled oil, and the bath is sprinkled with hot silver sand, sea sand, or the like. For hand painted effects, the surface is printed on in oil colors by means of hand blocks or machine rollers. For the fresco effect, the printed surface is strewn with the silver sand or the like, and a coating of silica in solution may be applied over the sand. The material may be left plain or embossed, and is secured to the wall by cement. An india rubber or bituminous coating may be applied to the back of the material before sanding it.

On one of the beer mugs in a Swiss inn is the legend "Three quarts of beer and you will be in Paradise." This a popular lace curtain buyer translated into "One quart of Swiss beer and you'll be in the hospital."

Geo. F. Dittman & Co., of St. Louis, sued J. Lescher, of Little Rock, Ark., for $74.90 on account of goods sold. Lescher did not dispute the bill, but had an offset in the shape of money advanced to the traveling salesman of Dittman & Co. with which to pay a hotel bill. Judge Martin instructed the jury that the doctrine of subrogation could not apply in this case under the law, and, in effect, a commercial house was not responsible for the hotel bills or other debts of its traveling salesmen. Judgment for plaintiff in full amount.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilkes-Barre Lace Manufacturing Company, Wilkesbarre, Pa., was held last month, and the following directors and officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. W. Hollenback, George S. Bennett, Liddon Flick, J. W. Driesbach and Levi I. Shoemaker, of Wilkesbarre; Joseph Godfrey, Scranton; Peter Reid, Passaic, N. J.; Clarence Whitman and H. A. Dunning, of New York. J. W. Hollenback was elected president, George S. Bennett vice-president, Clarence Whitman treasurer, and H. A. Dunning secretary.



TRADE TALK AND GOSSIP.

At the recent annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Paint and Wall Paper Company, Milwaukee, the following officers were elected: Albert N. Eggers, president; E. H. Steller, vice-president; L. P. Weber, secretary and treasurer; G. A. Marggraf, manager.

..Francis Read died at Providence, R. I., on the 23d ult., at the age of eighty-five years. Mr. Read carried on the wall paper business at Providence for over fifty years at the same store. He retired some years ago.

..L. A. Bailey, Cleveland, Ohio, has added wall paper to his stock.

..Ward & Logan, Newburgh, N. Y., are succeeded by Logan & McDonald.

..A. C. Johns has started in the wall paper and picture trade at Rockford, Ill.

..E. Robinson & Son have bought the business of J. W. Freeland, Marion, Ohio.

..Z. Miexsell has sold out his wall paper and furniture business at Wellington, Kan.

..W. W. Hopkins & Son, Emporia, Kan., have sold out to Whitehead & Neighbors.

..Fred. I. Littlefield, wall paper dealer, Helena, Mon., died there on the 30th ult.

..J. H. Lumbert & Son have started in the paint and paper hanging business at Falmouth, Mass.

..Clayton Brothers, as managers for A. J. Burnham, Chicago, have opened a wall paper store at Aurora, Ill.

..Aler & Gary, Zanesville, Ohio, have dissolved partnership, Mr. Gary retiring. The business is continued by Mr. Aler.

..It is reported that the Waldron wall paper machinery shops will be moved from New Brunswick to Highland Park, N. J.

..Harry H. Chapman, wall paper dealer, Rochester, N. Y., died in that city on the 20th ult. at the age of thirty-seven years.

SCENERY PAPER.

WHAT is called scenery paper is wall paper upon which there is a panoramic picture of historical scenes, landscapes, sea views and miscellaneous subjects. It is put on the wall above the wooden wainscoting, and when properly done presents an attractive appearance. It is one of the newest things in wall papers, and has caught the fancy of New York. One of the favorite styles is a Watteau design. The shepherds and shepherdesses, with their gamboling lambs, their beribboned crooks, are an attractive decoration for any room.

An entirely new thing in wall paper is the Persian design. It has Oriental stripes and flamboyant figures, the impress of the far East in every line and curve. It gives a rich and restful aspect to the apartment in which it is used. It will cost a pretty penny to have your library and dining room papered in the Persian style, for the proper things to go with Persian paper are embroidered portières and window curtains, and they are expensive. There are no borders for Persian paper, which goes from top to bottom of the walls, and gives the effect of great height to the room.

Scenery paper will be used more for country than for city dwellings. It is a summery thing, and gives a pastoral air to the rooms. It was the custom to paint the walls with the designs that are now seen on the paper, but the paper will be cheaper than fresco work, while giving just as good an effect. The forest scenes are particularly beautiful. Many of them show the huntsmen in bright colored costumes, running down the deer or wild boar.

Commission and Wholesale Carpetings,

. . . . . Boston.

Three Vital Points . . .

Are necessary to insure a perfect roller such as . . . .

The Improved Hartshorn Wood Roller.

FIRST—No Tacks Are to Be Used.

The patent shade holders furnished free with Improved Hartshorn Wood Rollers eliminate the use of tacks in the most satisfactory manner possible.

SECOND—Provision for Mounting Shade Cloth Absolutely True.

The groove in this roller is the only place where the shade can be fastened to the roller. As the groove is as straight as machinery can make it, the cloth must be fastened in a straight line.

THIRD—Prevention Against Tearing Cloth from Rolls.

Owing to the scientific construction of the new roller, when the shade cloth is fastened upon the roller in the groove with our shade holders, the resistance which it offers is so strong that when shade and roller are hung it is almost impossible to tear the cloth off.

This Roller received specific indorsement in our award of a Gold Medal and Special Diploma of Honor by the Judges of the Atlanta Exposition.

Our new Descriptive Catalogue for 1896 is now ready. Free on application.

THE NEWEST STYLES

. . IN . .

Lace Curtains

ARE SHOWN BY

A. NAUMANN,

AT HIS NEW SALESROOM:

Spring and Mercer Streets,

NEW YORK.

One eminent and popular house that has tried all makes announces them to be

"The Best Window Hollands Made."

Another equally large Importer of great experience states:

"The goods have always been and are now fast colors."

Another firm in the very front rank of the business describes them as

"Unequalled in quality, unshrinkable and of finest dyes."

While another firm of Importers, probably one of the largest shade goods houses in the world, characterizes them in these terms:

"JOHN KING & SON'S Famous Scotch Hollands."

JOHN KING & SON'S

ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1775

Celebrated

Scotch Window HOLLANDS

ILLUSTRATING the high consideration these popular goods hold in the estimation of the most experienced importers of shade goods in the country, the attention of the trade is invited to the above opinions, published in the columns of this and other journals, over the signatures of the respective firms.

Enterprising but unscrupulous parties unable to reach the exalted standard of these celebrated goods, pay them the flattery of imitating the wrappings. It is the Goods, not the wrappings, the trade is after. See that Bands, Tickets and Tabs of every piece are marked

Wholesaled from every Shade Goods Importer and Leading Carpet and Upholstery Importer in the Country.

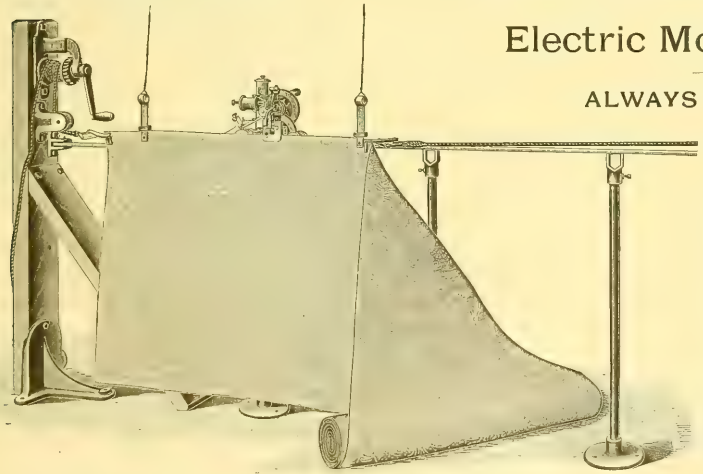
The Taft Carpet Sewing Machine.

The First and Only All Round Carpet Sewing Machine ever invented.



Hand or Power Machines for Electric Motors or otherwise.

ALWAYS AT THE HEAD.

THE accompanying cut represents a machine that will sew Ingrain carpets over-stitch; practically a perfect imitation of hand sewn work. Being more even and stronger, will stand any amount of strain. Can be laid either side up. Will not rip Will give perfect satisfaction. This machine is equally as good on all other carpets, Tapestries, Brussels, Wiltons, Moquettes and Straw Matting. The machine can be changed in five seconds from over-stitch to straight stitch and vice versa.

Will, without any change, overcast all raw edges, sew together two raw edges and overcast them down; in fact, does all the work in its different branches with one operator, and is so arranged that a girl weighing 100 pounds can handle any carpet with ease and sew several hundred yards per day. The machine is simple, durable, easy running and a rapid sewer. No carpet house can afford to be without one.

SEWS CARPETS FOR LESS THAN ONE-HALF CENT PER YARD.

THE ONLY MACHINE THAT WILL OVER-STITCH INGRAIN CARPETS.

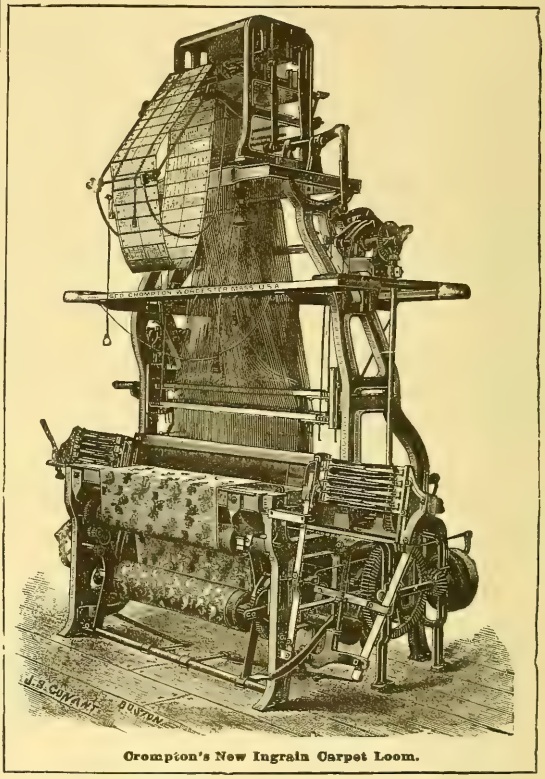
CROMPTON LOOM WORKS,

WORCESTER, MASS.

The Original and Most Extensive Works for the Building of Carpet, Fancy Woolen, Cotton and Silk Looms in This Country.



Crompton's New Ingrain Carpet Loom.

CROMPTON NEW INGRAIN CARPET LOOMS.

THE attention of manufacturers of Ingrain Carpets is called to the consideration of a new Carpet Loom just put on the market. It carries four (4) shuttle boxes at each end of the lathe; any one of the series at each end can be brought into line with the shuttle race at any pick, under the dictation of the Jacquard cards. The Jacquard is of the most approved construction and moves the warps kindly. The let off and take up motions bring out perfectly matched goods. On two ply work it makes sixty (60) yards per day. The apparatus for moving the boxes cannot be surpassed for its simplicity and efficiency. This Loom has no equal in speed and simplicity from four (4) to seven (7) colors.

CROMPTON ART SQUARE LOOM, for 3, 3½ and 4 yard goods, produces the best results and has no rival.

CROMPTON'S UPHOLSTERY LOOM, with Improved "1886" Box Motion, is capable of high speed and nice adjustment for its special line of goods.

CROMPTON LOOMS for Fancy Cassimeres, Worsteds, Flannels, Blankets, Jeans, Silks, Tapes, Ginghams, Fancy Cottons, &c., &c. Crompton "1888" and Noble Wool Comb.

PATENT RUBBER BINDING.

No. 1 Double Width and No. 1 for
COCOA, RATTAN AND NAPIER MATTING.
No. 2 Double Width and No. 2 for
CARPETS, RUGS, OIL CLOTHS, Etc.

Sample and Price List forwarded on application.

Frames for holding the Fabric and Thread and Needles, specially prepared, for sale.

PATENTED AUGUST 25, 1885.

This Patent Rubber Binding holds the ends of Matting, Carpets, etc., down in place, does not curl up like other flexible bindings, is not affected by dampness, will not break when shaken and thrown about, and is very durable and easily adjusted.

The Many Advantages of this Patent Rubber Binding give it the preference over any other heretofo e used on Matting and Carpet runners for Hotels, Stores, Steamboats, Offices, Elevators, Street Cars, Railroad Cars, etc., etc.

It is Made in ¾, ⅞, 1, 1¼, 1½, 1¾ and 2 lengths and is perforated to facilitate the sewing. The most inexperienced person can sew it on perfectly.

This PATENT RUBBER BINDING can be obtained from all the Leading Carpet and Upholstery Dealers.

..... Why Carry a Stock of Wiltons?

Whittall Wiltons.
Lowell Wiltons.

Our line comprises private patterns in the newest designs and colorings. It includes

HALLS AND STAIRS, ROOM PATTERNS AND GENERAL BORDERS.

Cut quantities of these goods are supplied to the trade at a slight advance above the roll price.

We also carry and supply in cut quantities the following:

Bigelow Axminster,
Smith Axminster,
Smith Savonnerie,
Smith Moquette,
Smith Velvet,
Smith Extra Velvet,
Beattie Velvet,
Bigelow Body Brussels,
Lowell Body Brussels,
Whittall Body Brussels,
Whittall Victoria Body Brussels,
Stinson Velvet,
Roxbury Tapestry,
Smith Tapestry.

These Carpets can be sold to advantage by you with very little expense and no risk by the aid of our sample method.

It is not necessary for the customer to carry our complete line of samples; any number of patterns may be purchased. There can be but very small expense connected with the trial. Samples (when the patterns are discontinued) can always be sold at a fair percentage of the cost.

The patterns sampled by us are carried for at least one year, thus giving the opportunity of using same for Spring and Fall seasons.

Remnants and soiled goods are unknown to the customer when our plan is adopted.

The space required is small, as the stock is carried by us, this stock being drawn on by the customer as sales are effected.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Wiltons, Brussels, Ingrains.

LOWELL CARPETS have been justly celebrated for more than half a century. For the guidance of buyers the word "Lowell" is woven in white capital letters in the back of our Wiltons and Brussels at each repeat of the pattern. The fabrics are of the best quality, designs and coloring.

Our Middlesex Wiltons have the word "Middlesex" woven in the back. The word is registered as our Trade Mark in the United States Patent Office.

The popular Lowell Ingrains are wound on a hollow stick made in two solid pieces, with the words "Lowell Man'g. Co." stamped within, a patented United States Trade Mark.

Bigelow Carpet Company,

ORIGINAL POWER-LOOM MANUFACTURERS OF

WILTON AND BRUSSELS

CARPETS.

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1878, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements, and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Wiltons or Body Brussels.

These Goods can be obtained from all first-class dealers.

Devon Carpet Mills.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE!

We commenced the manufacture of Carpets fourteen years ago and christened our mills the "DEVON MILLS."

When we introduced our Tapestry weave Ingrain, several seasons ago, we named it "PURITAN."

Recently there appeared in the market poor imitations of our goods bearing the names "DEVON" and "PURITAN." This is described as a coincidence.

☞ Would there have been any coincidence if our goods had not acquired a national reputation?

The Logic of Facts.

We have recently said something regarding the quality of our Linoleum, not the least feature of which was the reference to oil. THE FACT IS, WE ARE THE ONLY MAKERS OF LINOLEUM WHO ALSO PRODUCE LINSEED OIL, and we therefore positively know the kind of oil used in our Linoleum and that it is the best. The logic of facts is demonstrated in the composition of the BLABON LINOLEUM. The ingredients are of a superior kind, the thickness standard, and the patterns and colorings representations of advanced art in Floor Coverings. . . .

Blabon Linoleum.

The statements that thickness does not count are delusive. The more cork and linseed oil used the greater the thickness and cost and the better the goods. We have seen some Linoleum (imported) that could not stand on end in the roll; it lacked substance because the materials were not there. You cannot make Linoleum by simply painting a textile fabric. Toughness, Elasticity and Wear are obtained in the Blabon Linoleum. Any goods sold at lower prices than ours are far more inferior in quality than they are lower in price. When you buy of the Jobber ask for BLABON'S Linoleum, and be assured by us that you are getting unbeatable value.

Floor Oil Cloth.

The same care and attention referred to as being applied to the production of our Linoleum is likewise given to the manufacture of our Floor Oil Cloth. Our own make of linseed oil goes into our Oil Cloths, and our equipment of plant for rapid and economical manufacture is unsurpassed. We will not say here that we are the largest makers of Floor Oil Cloths, but we can justifiably enter any contest for that designation. In Styles of Oil Cloths, too, we invite any comparison.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT, PAGE 45.

☞ Our readers are urged to remember that we are always desirous to receive communications of interest to the carpet or upholstery trades, such as changes in firms or managers, the building or opening of new stores, improvements in old ones, the adding of new departments, improved methods of doing business, new inventions, suggestions as to the cutting, making and laying of carpets, the designing and fitting of draperies, or inquiries and dissertations relating to the technical or commercial details of the trades to which this periodical is devoted.

STATE OF TRADE.

While trade is not especially active at this time, a number of buyers may still be found in the market, and the business being transacted is as large as is generally expected at this particular period of the year, when first orders have been placed, as a rule, and retailers are not yet cutting up goods enough to call for duplicate orders. Nearly all the mills are running on full time and prices are firm in every grade of carpeting.

The defeat of the tariff bill by the votes of fanatics in the Senate, who are much more anxious to secure the debasement of the nation's currency than to protect its industries, is of course a disappointment to manufacturers in every line of trade, but the result can have no influence on prices. The market for wool and all other raw materials of the carpet trade continues firm, with no probability of lower prices, and carpeting bought at the present figures ranks among the cheapest merchandise in the market.

THE REMNANT SUPPLEMENT.

Our Remnant Supplement was published on the 15th ult., and a copy of it was mailed to every subscriber to THE REVIEW. The Supplement is something with which no carpet dealer can afford to dispense, and it can be obtained only by subscribing for THE REVIEW. As the edition will soon be exhausted, dealers who desire a copy and are not counted among our subscribers are advised to send us their subscriptions at once. That the dealers appreciate its value is clearly demonstrated by the constant increase from year to year in the number of firms that contribute their lists to its pages.

CANADIAN DUTIES ON GOODS IN BOND.

It is probable that the United States will eventually adopt similar regulations regarding goods in bond to those adopted by the Canadian Government, the change being indicated in a recent letter of the Treasury Department in reply to an inquiry from Canada. The inquiry was as to the practice of the United States in determining the dutiable value of goods imported from Canada which had originally come from outside of Canada and been held there in bond before exportation to the United States. The reply was to the effect that the United States under existing practice found the dutiable value without consideration of duties which might have been levied under Canadian law if the goods had entered into consumption in Canada.

It was added, however, that it was impossible to state how long this practice would continue, in view of the fact that the Canadian customs officials follow a different rule. Their rule is to assess duty on goods which have been enhanced by the paymeut of the duties levied under American law, and the result is to make a very material difference in the appraised value of certain goods. Several complaints have reached the State Department and the Treasury on this subject, and it is understood that it has been a subject of diplomatic representation, but thus far no notice of change in the Canadian policy has been received by Secretary Olney or Secretary Carlisle.

THE MATTING MARKET.

Exports of straw matting from Hong Kong and Canton to New York and Baltimore from May 1, 1895, to January 1, 1896, amounted to 293,933 rolls, and since then the ships Amy Turner and Emily Whiting and steamer Polyphemus have sailed from Hong Kong for this country with over 20,000 rolls, altogether making the total shipments to January 23 amount to 315,341 rolls. During the same period of 1894 the importations amounted to 226,317 rolls.

Prices of matting are very firm, and the cheaper grades are remarkably scarce, manufacturers being inclined to devote themselves more to the finer qualities, the demand for them being larger than ever before. Dealers are more anxious than ever for quick deliveries, which may be regarded as an indication that the retail trade will open early and actively in this line of goods.

THE NATIONAL BANKRUPTCY BILL.

The sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee having charge of various bankruptcy bills has about agreed to a measure on the subject. A number of bills regarding bankruptcy have been introduced in the House and referred to the committee. The sub-committee in taking up the subject decided to consider both "voluntary" and "involuntary" bankruptcy. After a careful consideration of the various measures the sub-committee has practically agreed to report a bill on the lines of the "Torrey bill." This provides for both voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy; defines who may become bankrupts; the duties of bankrupts; the protection of bankrupts and their extradition.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co. are out with a characteristic circular in which they offer to make a rebate on Extra Supers purchased since November 15, 1895, and which have been delivered on spring account. They explain that there have been a variety of prices during the season, and that all should be entitled to the same price for equal quantity of goods where dating is made on spring account irrespective of time of purchase. It is quite in keeping with their honorable method of doing business, which largely explains why they have so quickly recovered their wholesale business which they voluntarily gave up eighteen months ago.

THE CARPET WOOL MARKET.

The market is quiet and prices of most grades remain unchanged. Latest quotations are as follows:

	Cents.		Cents.
Aleppo, unwashed..	8¾ to 9	Donskoi, washed....	13 to 19

Hugh Bowes & Co., writing from Liverpool, England, on the 13th ult., say:

Since our previous report the wool markets have presented no new feature; consumption of most classes remains on a considerable scale, and although the tone may be a shade quieter future prospects are looked upon as encouraging.

For the next auctions of East India wool, opening here on the 17th prox., about 26,000 bales are expected to be available, which will probably meet with a demand on a par with January series, as our home users continue to be well engaged, and we may reasonably look for substantial support from both Continental and American consumers. Of withdrawn wools held over from January there are 2,033 bales on hand, most of which could readily be placed but for high limits imposed by shippers.

DOBSON'S CUT WILTONS.

J. & J. Dobson have recently added a cut Wilton department to their business, and are now prepared to sell 1½ yard sample lengths of their patterns in Wiltons to anyone in the country, and to cut any quantity desired. As manufacturers of Wiltons it is obvious that they can always keep up a stock and can ship the cut quantity on the same day the order is received. They have a remarkably handsome line of patterns in original effects and high novelties, things entirely exclusive with them. H. C. Heisler, of their traveling force, has been going over the country placing the Wilton samples with carpet dealers, and has met with excellent success. Full information as to patterns and prices will be supplied by addressing J. & J. Dobson, Philadelphia, Pa.

C. C. Bailey & Co., 90 Canal street, Boston, continue to win popularity with the New England trade. The lines they represent have been selected with discrimination, and include everything needed for a general carpet stock.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals held, in the recent case of McGraw v. Town of Marion, that a town ordinance requiring all transient persons, other than citizens of the town, to pay a license tax for the privilege of selling goods or merchandise of any kind at auction or retail in the town, is unconstitutional and void, because it discriminates against the residents of other States; that a municipal corporation is answerable for the damage done to any person by its officers in enforcing an unconstitutional ordinance or by-law, and that therefore one who has been imprisoned by a town marshal for his failure to pay a fine imposed under a void ordinance has a right of action against the town therefor.

The J. P. Quinn Dry Goods Company, Little Rock, Ark., has removed its New York office to 256 Church street, Room 76.

Hobson Brothers, dealers in carpets and furniture, West 125th street, will open a branch store at Eighth avenue and 131st street.

H. G. White, whose office is at 190 West Broadway, has been appointed resident buyer for W. H. Rieke & Sons, Paducah, Ky.

Whalen Brothers, Brooklyn, are making a new departure, having, both in their Smith street and Grand street stores, added men's and women's clothing to their stock.

At the King sale on February 1 an Armenian prayer rug of the seventeenth century, with floral and other designs in needlework and appliqué on a light ground, and with an inserted panel of red velvet, sold for $200.

Secretary Carlisle was entertained at the Uptown Merchants' Club on the afternoon of the 25th ult. by John Sloane, president of the club. Among those present were Hicks Arnold, Henry T. Sloane and James McCreery.

Buyers of either Calcutta or domestic coir mats and mattings can hardly be said to have inspected this market until they have seen the samples and obtained the quotations of Darragh & Smail, the old established India house, of 177 Water street.

Among the passengers by the Antilla, which sailed for Nassau, N. P., on February 26, were Samuel Stinson, of Stinson Brothers; Jas. F. Hope, of Thos. Potter, Sons & Co., and Robert Beattie, of Robert Beattie & Son, who will spend a month in the Windward Islands.

The police are looking for a woman "wearing a big shawl" who is supposed to be the person who went into Bloomingdale Brothers' art department on the 27th ult. while the superintendent was at lunch and cut from its frame a painting by Mirolle, of Paris, entitled Fishing, and valued at $800.

Mrs. Julia A. Van de Linda, who claims to have a half interest in the firm of A. P. Stevens & Co., carpet cleaners, at 64 Court street, 247 Willoughby street and 61 Fourth street, Brooklyn, applied to Justice Van Wyck on the 24th ult. to compel Augustus P. Stevens to account, and for a receiver. The plaintiff says her husband transferred to her on September 15, 1885, a half interest in the business. She says the receipts of the firm amount to $30,000, and that there has been no accounting since 1885. The defense is that Van de Linda had no interest to transfer to his wife, having drawn out more than the $2,500 he had put in.

On March 10 Elwin S. Piper celebrates the tenth anniversary of the establishment of his business in his present location in the Eastern District of Brooklyn. He has the satisfaction of knowing that last year was the best of the whole, and that his January business was better than that of '95. Manager McChesney is building up the carpet department in excellent shape.

Robert Beattie & Sons are showing a superb line of their high grade Velvets for the spring trade, and buyers have shown their appreciation of the goods by prompt and liberal orders. To see the finest results possible in Velvet manufacture call at the New York salesrooms of the Messrs. Beattie, Constable Building, rooms 600 and 601, Fifth avenue and Eighteenth street.

Baumann Brothers will on May 1 vacate the premises 22 and 24 East Fourteenth street, where they have been in the carpet and furniture business for fifteen years. What stock is left at that time will be divided among the Third, Sixth and Eighth avenue stores. Mr. L. Baumann thinks the furniture business has been steadily drifting away from Fourteenth street. He has at present no intention of opening further up town.

T. J. Keveney & Co. have every reason to be well satisfied with the season's business. Jas. & Geo. D. Bromley's lines of Ingrains, Art Squares, &c., are sold far ahead, as are also the Worcester Carpet Company's lines of Wiltons and Brussels. These two manufacturing concerns showed through Keveney & Co., their selling agents, the finest lines ever brought before the trade by them, and buyers have evidently been quick to appreciate the goods.

Morris Nason, 599 and 601 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, who began business as a dealer in furniture and carpets there in 1869, has been succeeded by Morris Nason & Sons, having on February 1 taken his sons, Ernest M. and Peter V. Nason, into partnership. Both the new members of the firm have been associated with their father's business for some time, Ernest having had charge of the financial affairs of the house for the past eight years, while Peter has been the general buyer for five years. The business will be conducted on the same lines as heretofore.

Arnold, Constable & Co. are offering for immediate delivery a large lot of Japanese jute carpets of standard quality at remarkably low prices. This will be the last of the Jap rugs, as the mills at Saki are virtually closed down and working on special orders. The same department is showing a line of cotton warp double dyed matting of very fine quality and ordinary cotton wraps which will be sold much below the market price. The goods are now here.

The personal staff of Governor Griggs, of New Jersey, entertained him and Mrs. Griggs at dinner on the 20th ult. at the Waldorf, this city. Among those present were Col. William Barbour and Mrs. Barbour, and Col. Henry Potter and Mrs. Potter.

At a meeting of the Baumann Brothers and Ludwig Baumann & Co.'s Mutual Aid Association, held at Central Opera House on February 20, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, M. C. Burke; vice-president, Samson Fried; recording secretary, Dennis J. Healy; financial secretary, H. J. Krauss; treasurer, Bernard Rush; trustees, Sidney J. Baumann, J. H. V. Ditmars, Jacob Hartman, Henry Weiss, J. Baumann, P. M. Lennon, Miss Harriet Lachmann, L. P. Hollander, G. Salter, C. Richter, A. Selig, J. Harrison. This society, comprising the employees of four stores, known as Baumann Brothers, Fourteenth street; Ludwig Baumann & Co., Eighth avenue, Thirty-fifth to Thirty-sixth street; Ludwig Baumann & Co., Sixth avenue; Ludwig Baumann & Co., 121st street and Third avenue, was organized about a year ago. On the 25th ult. it held a grand ball at the Central Opera House.

Among the buyers in town during the past two weeks were: Messrs. Mark Henry, for Schlesinger & Mayer, Chicago; Zach. Offset, for the Stewart Dry Goods Company, Louisville; C. A. Hengerer, of the William Hengerer Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; Lee J. Schiff, for I. E. Bernheimer & Co., Kansas City; Joseph J. Carroll, of Carroll & Co., Newark, Ohio; J. J. Cole, of J. J. TAFT'S CARPET SEWING MACHINE.

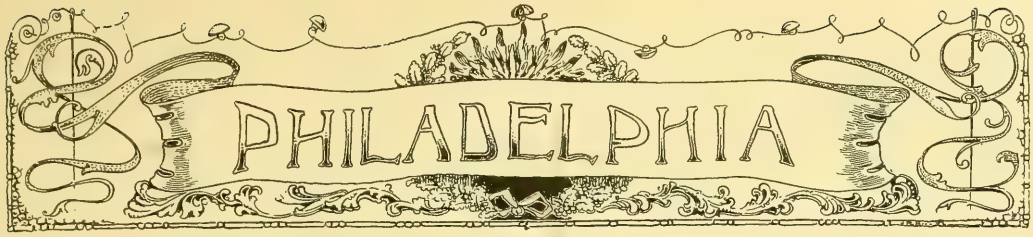
On page 103 of this issue will be found some important and interesting statements in regard to the Taft carpet sewing machine manufactured by J. C. Taft, 40 Friendship street, Providence, R. I. It is an all-round carpet sewing machine, adapted for every kind of carpeting, and it can be run by hand or power, electric motors or otherwise. It will perform rapidly and perfectly every operation required in the sewing of carpets, and has never failed to give thorough satisfaction wherever tried. Among the prominent houses who are now using the Taft machine are:

Jordan, Marsh & Co., Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., the Atkinson Furnishing Company, Boston; the Callender, McAuslan & Troup Company, A. Cornell & Co., J. M. Dean & Co., Providence; Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., A. H. Revell & Co., Chicago; Hall, Headington & Co., Baltimore; Lindsay, Morgan & Co., Leopold Adler, Savannah, Ga.; Fakes & Co., Fort Worth, Tex.; J. M. Bass & Co., Gainesville, Tex.; Redington & Co., Waterville, Me.; Hooper, Son & Leighton, Portland, Me.; A. G. Conroy & Co., Western Furniture Company, Cincinnati; New England Furniture and Carpet Company, Minneapolis, and Smith & Farwell, St. Paul.

Write to Mr. Taft for circulars, testimonials, &c.

"You are very much behind in your work, Mr. Adder," said the employer to his bookkeeper. "I know it," said Mr. Adder, meekly; "but my corns hurt me so I couldn't foot up those columns to save my life."—Harper's Bazar.



....The M. A. Furbush & Son Machine Company are filling an additional order for rug looms for the Fries-Breslin Company, Camden, N. J.

..Dornan Brothers, Monitor Mills, Howard and Oxford streets, are moving along filling present orders, of which they have enough to keep their looms at work for some time to come.

....Henry Holmes' Sherman Mills, Trenton avenue and Auburn street, are running on extra time to fill their orders. They have enough booked to keep their looms busy up to April 1, if not longer.

....The Byzantine rugs manufactured by McCallum & McCallum are more popular at the present time than ever before, and heavy shipments are being made. Style and quality are sure to win popularity.

....Wm. Judge & Brothers, Harrison Mills, Columbia avenue and Leib street, are completely sold up, their salesroom being decidedly bare of goods. Orders recorded will keep them busy for two months or more.

....Thomas Develon's Sons have their room, 501 Bourse Building, open continuously, and samples of all their productions can be seen there at any time. Their show of Agras is large and exceedingly attractive.

....Schofield, Mason & Co., Fifth and Cumberland streets, are very busy filling recent orders for their excellent Wiltons and Body Brussels. Their artists are also busily engaged in getting out new designs and shadings for the coming season.

....Samuel White, of the Centennial Mills, Columbia avenue and Front street, is quite busy in recording orders for all his various productions, both at the mills and his rooms at the Bourse. As for the rug output, there is never any let up in that.

....Charles F. Pease, Boston, of Pease's binding fame, was a recent visitor in Philadelphia. Mr. Pease's bindings are of superior quality and very satisfactory to all who use them. He is also agent for the "Lincoln rug adjuster" and the "Kingston rug and carpet fasteners."

....Thomas Develon's Sons' Victoria Mills, Lehigh avenue and Hancock street, are extremely busy at the present writing in shipping goods recently ordered. Their room in the Bourse Building is permanently open and the trade will find samples on exhibition there as well as at the mills.

....Among visitors to the Bourse during the past fortnight were: Charles Birkle, of "The Fair," Chicago; Mr. Hurley, of Gateley & Hurley, Camden, N. J.; Mr. Britton, of Gateley & Britton, Reading, Pa.; W. S. Porter for Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago; Jacob Steinbach, Long Branch, N. J.; Mr. Cauty, of the Brownfield-Cauty Carpet Company, Butte, Mon.; Mr. Williams, buyer for W. J. Sandberg Company, Chicago; Mr. Lichtenthaler, of Glase & Lichtenthaler, Reading, Pa.; Captain Duncker and Chas. Duncker, of the Trorlicht, Duncker & Renard Company, St. Louis; G. W. Lattig, of G. W. Lattig & Co., Anita, Ia.

....If the Hon. Matt Quay is elected President, a friend of Alexander Crow, Jr., predicts that the latter will carpet the route from Meadeville, Pa., the home of Mr. Quay, to the White House, with Fairmount Extra Supers. Mr. Quay and Mr. Crow have been firm political and social friends for many years past.

....George Kelley, carpets, furniture and upholstery goods, now at Eighth and Arch streets, will remove to a new and spacious store, Nos. 624, 626 and 628 Market street. The store is a handsome iron front, five stories in height and very imposing in appearance. The entire third story will be occupied by the carpet department.

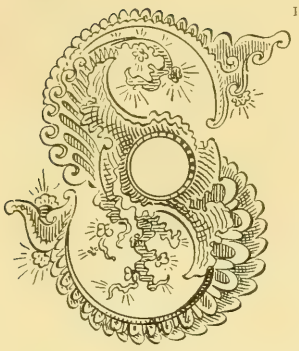
....The Bromley Brothers Carpet Company, ever mindful of the quality of their goods, and with an eye to making them more than ever popular with the trade, have just purchased and put in operation one of Lorrimer's most efficient yarn scouring machines at a cost of $5,000. Bromley Brothers have had a most satisfactory season in all their departments.

....Alexander Crow, Jr., the manufacturer of Fairmount and Caledonia Extra Supers, has his salesroom in the Bourse in full operation and the lines can be seen there daily. Just now his road men are making their headquarters there, the force comprising C. W. Marshall, J. Allison Ott, Wm. Metzger, Clement R. Read and Eugene Landenberger. The Fairmount Mills have shared very well in the spring trade on Ingrains.

....Prominent in the window of V. E. Archambault & Son, Eleventh and Market streets, is a Delft blue linoleum in a very handsome small figure. The whole thing is entirely unique, inasmuch as it differs from anything heretofore produced in that class of goods, especially in the matter of coloring. Another merit of the new production is the fact that it is made in a greater number of widths, viz., 1½, 2, 2½ and 4 yards. Messrs. Archambault & Son have exclusive right to both patterns and color.

....Extensive alterations have been made in the front of the large double store building at 624 and 626 Market street, which is to be occupied next week by George Kelly & Co., whose housefurnishing store is now located at 808 and 810 Market street. The improvements consist of the removal of the ugly pillars in the front of the building and the substitution of large plate glass show windows on either side of the entrance. The entrance itself has been remodeled and will be in the shape of an archway two stories high. The door will set back about 10 feet and marble tiling will lead up to it. The two large plate glass windows will be 10 feet wide and 11 feet high, while those in the doorway will be 8 feet wide and of the same height. The interior will thus be made much lighter.

REMNANTS.



Simmons & Dozier have started in the carpet and furniture business at Norfolk, Va.

Frank H. Young's carpet cleaning and upholstering establishment at 1402 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., was burned out on the 8th ult. His stock of mattress hair, feathers, upholstery goods, tools and a large quantity of carpets were wholly destroyed, his loss being, he says, not less than $10,000. There was no insurance on the stock or carpets.

Harkey & George, Dardanelle, Ark., are succeeded by J. M. Harkey & Co.

The firm style of A. A. Carmack, of Brownsville, Pa., is now Carmack & Co.

The Decker Furniture Company, Fort Brook, Fla., succeed Gray & Decker.

Charles Boynton has retired from the firm of R. Thompson & Co., Nunda, Ill.

The Red River Furniture Company, Los Angeles, Cal., is succeeded by J. B. Raine & Co.

John W. Gallan has sold his stock at Vassar, Mich., to T. M. Stevens and Clinton E. Mott.

Roth & Smith, furniture and carpet dealers, Russell, Kan., have dissolved partnership.

L. W. Schroeder's furniture and carpet store at Alma, Kan., was burned out on February 5.

E. H. & E. O. Pierce, Flint, Mich., succeed Pierce Brothers & Co., dry goods and carpet dealers.

The Smith-Dennison Company's carpet stock has been bought by W. T. Griswold, Warren, Ohio.

Gest, Greenwald & Co. succeed Greenwald & Boyd, dry goods and carpet dealers, Falls City, Neb.

Damage to the extent of $4,500 was caused by a fire in the store of C. A. Schoene, Milan, Mo., recently.

The assignee of M. Lara & Co., Minneapolis, issues a circular saying that he has been overwhelmed with inquiries regarding the condition of affairs. He says that the most precise and pertinent is a letter of John Gay's Sons, to which he replies in full.

Foster & Crosner have opened a carpet and furniture store at Bedford, Ind.

Charles C. Hileman, Greensburg, Pa., will build an annex 25x70 feet at the rear of his already large building.

The estate of the late James L. Edson, of Edson, Moore & Co., Detroit, Mich., is said to be worth $210,866.33.

Carney & Willis, Portsmouth, Va., have dissolved partnership, and the business is continued by F. W. Carney.

Herman & Beasley, Pattonsburg, Mo., and the Corstophen & Trotter Company, Bolton, Miss., have dissolved partnership.

A. J. Wilde, furniture and carpet dealer, McKeesport, Pa., has just completed the erection of a new building which he is now occupying.

Toll & Anderson, Pomeroy, Ia.; Charles Frederick, Winesburg, Ohio; I. Berman, Luling, Tex., and F. E. Porlaskey, Alma, Mich., have sold out.

It is reported that W. Rich & Brothers, Atlanta, Ga., intend to close out their carpet and furniture departments and enlarge their other departments.

Theodore Gehley's carpet store in York, Pa., has been renovated and the upper floor strengthened, to sustain better the weight of the stock of carpets.

The stock of the W. A. McArthur Company, Limited, Sheboygan, Mich., has been sold to John E. Krafft & Co., who have removed it to Sault Ste. Marie.

The furniture and carpet stock of John R. Nye & Co., Pierre, S. Dak., was burned on February 12. The loss on stock amounts to $6,000; insurance, $3,000.

H. McDonald's furniture and carpet store at Chatham, N. Y., was visited by fire on the 12th ult. It had its origin in a defective flue. Loss, $1,500 on stock, $250 on building. Insured.

J. Grimm & Co., late of Richmond, Ind., have moved to 605 Market street, Chattanooga, Tenn., and will open a carpet, lace curtain and mattress renovating and upholstering establishment.

George B. Clarke & Co., who recently opened in carpets and furniture at Bridgeport, Conn., have temporary quarters at 127 to 131 Fairfield avenue. On April 1 they will remove to 24 and 26 Fairfield avenue.

John McKeown, Braddock, Pa., will move into a new store now building for him, his present quarters being too small to accommodate his increasing business. Mr. McKeown has a large trade in both carpets and furniture.

The four story building at 176 Washington street, Binghamton, N. Y., which was occupied by the Binghamton Housefurnishing Company, was gutted by fire on the 25th ult. The loss on stock amounts to $60,000; insurance about two-thirds.

In the Gowing Sewing Machine Company's advertisement on page 94 will be found details of the new attachment just out which will attract the attention of dealers in Ingrain carpets. This new attachment will overstitch exactly like hand work and can be adjusted by a single change of parts.

The Montrose (Col.) Furniture Company, incorporated, was closed February 4 under mortgage of $10,000, held by the Bank of Montrose. The liabilities on stock, other than that held by the bank, are nominal, upon buildings and real estate. There are about $6,000 secured by mortgage held by the First National Bank. As soon as present difficulties can be straightened, the business will be resumed under new ownership.

A fire in the store of J. R. Nye & Co., Pierre, S. Dak., recently destroyed stock valued at $6,000. Insurance $3,000.

The Crane estate at Carbondale, Pa., has been settled, and the business will be conducted under the name of the Israel Crane Company.

Nelson F. Jenison, for eighteen years one of the leading dry goods merchants of Lansing, Mich., has sold his business to Reynolds, Jewett & Knapp. Mr. Reynolds is a member of the firm of Reynolds Brothers, of Charlotte, and Jewett & Knapp are dry goods merchants at Albion.

Wood & Hall, furniture and carpet dealers, Fall River, Mass., have made an assignment to A. H. Hood. Their stock in trade, less a mortgage of $2,250, is valued at $3,750. Accounts supposed to be good for $3,000 have an estimated cash value of $1,000. Available assets, $4,750. Liabilities above mortgage and taxes, $16,000. It is hoped to effect a settlement outside of the Insolvency Court. The firm has been very unfortunate almost from its beginning, sustaining reverses by fire from which it never recovered.

Forbes & Wallace, dry goods, carpet, upholstery and furniture dealers, Springfield, Mass., have dissolved partnership, A. B. Forbes retiring. Mr. Forbes became connected with the business in 1866, when he joined forces with John M. Smith. Eight years later Mr. Smith retired and Andrew B. Wallace became Mr. Forbes' partner. Mr. Wallace, who will continue the business under the old firm name, was born in Scotland fifty-four years ago and gained his first experience in this country with Hogg, Brown & Taylor, at Boston, with which firm he was connected from 1857 to 1870. In the latter year he went to Pittsfield and to Springfield in 1874. In his continuance of the business Mr. Wallace will have the assistance of his son, Robert M. Wallace.

The Hyman Company, Cincinnati, one of the best known instalment furniture companies in the West, gave a bill of sale on February 3 to Adolph Klein, covering its entire assets and good will. The consideration is given as $24,000. The firm occupies a large building between Race and Elm on Fifth street, and is officered as follows: David W. Hyman, president; J. L. Ruskin, vice-president and general manager. It dealt originally in furniture, but branched out so as to include everything, from jewelry to dress goods, carpets and stoves. Joseph Wuest, the holder of notes executed by the company to the amount of $673, brought suit in attachment for $125 worth of merchandise and for recovery on the notes. N. Duchscher & Co., carpet and furniture dealers on Plum street, near Fourteenth, entered suit at Magistrate Winkler's Court on February 3 for $126, amount due them from the Hyman Company for goods sold and delivered.

"What we need to do," said the new director, "is to establish a sinking fund." "Humph!" said the old director. "When you've been in here a little while longer you'll have more sense. What we need is a fund that can keep its head above water."—Harper's Bazar.

Yardum Brothers & Co. invite attention on page 97 to the fact that they make a specialty of fine Oriental carpets and rugs. They have a resident partner in the East who can buy goods of values and patterns that at the prices will reward the attention of high-class dealers.

Aldrich.—Edward Aldrich, who since his retirement from the carpet business has been managing the Lenox Lyceum café, is convalescing after several weeks' illness in a hospital.

Bailey.—The case of a carpet man who is a double of Senator Hill is paralleled by the striking resemblance of John T. Bailey, of Wm. Berri's Sons, to ex-Secretary of the Navy Benj. F. Tracy. It is no infrequent occurrence for Uncle Jack, as he is called by his familiars, to be hailed as "General," and even members of his own family have been unable to distinguish between the photographs of the two.

Birch.—Col. William Maybury Birch, the general superintendent of Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn, is very proud of his uniformed employees. There are thirty-nine drivers and thirty-nine boy assistants, whose uniforms are given them by the firm. The porters and elevator men are also in livery, and there is a fire brigade of 118 members. Colonel Birch inspects the whole force three times a week.

Currier.—S. D. Currier, the Youngstown, Ohio, carpet man, is doing some ingenious advertising. A late specimen is a column in a local paper which, under the heading "Cats and Ingrain Carpets," quotes a story from The Review, and then leads up to his own stock.

Dunne.—E. L. Dunne, of A. A. Vantine & Co.'s matting department, is congratulating himself over the fact that he has not lost a roll by fire or flood. He feels sure he can sell all the matting he can get.

Faull.—H. W. Faull, for the past six years one of the leading salesmen in W. & J. Sloane's retail department, has accepted a position with G. V. S. Quackenbush & Co., Troy, N. Y.

Graff.—A. A. Graff, the furniture and carpet dealer, who recently became a theatrical manager, will extend his business in this line next season. He will lease the Jacobs Opera House in this city for the next five years, and has an option on a theatre in Cleveland. He now controls a theatre in Newark, N. J., and is manager of the Octoroon Company. It is said that he will also put another company on the road soon.—Syracuse (N. Y.) News.

Hoerner.—Julius Hoerner, of the Valley Dry Goods Company, Vicksburg, Miss., who, on the authority of Wm. E. White, of Joseph Wild & Co., is the handsomest carpet man in the State, was in town last week buying his spring stock.

Hunter.—Wm. Hunter, American agent for Alexander Morton & Co., returned from Europe on the steamer Etruria the 16th ult. Mr. Hunter went to Scotland to visit Morton & Co.'s mills there.

Lewis.—Joseph Lewis is making so great a success of the carpet department of Bloomingdale Brothers that the house has doubled the space formerly allotted to his use.

Mackay.—Henry Mackay, of Joseph Wild & Co., is thoroughly identified with all important social or public movements in the pleasant town of Bay Ridge, where he resides. He, with several other gentlemen, has just secured the incorporation of a Presbyterian church society in that place.

Minard.—William E. Minard, formerly of Minard, Bedford & Minard, is now with Lucky, Platt & Co., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mullen—Strong.—J. Frank Mullen, advertising manager for the California Furniture Manufacturing Company, San Francisco, and Miss Laura Strong were married at the residence of the bride's mother in that city on January 28.

BOSTON BUDGET.

BOSTON, FEBRUARY 26.

George Manning has gone to Lynn to take charge of McGrain's carpet department.

J. D. Kelly is on the sick list.

R. H. White & Co. have secured the contract to supply the carpets, rugs, upholstery and furniture for Stetson's new hotel, the Savoy.

H. H. Cotton is on his annual visit to his old home in Cowansville, Canada.

Genial John Fellows is making quite a record in bowling at the Newtowne Club, Cambridge.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. have just recarpeted the warerooms of Paine's furniture store.

John C. Randall, of the firm of John H. Pray, Sons & Co., has gone to Florida for a month or two.

Frank F. Hodges, the fibre carpet manufacturer, and Stephen B. Simons, two well-known Boston business men, started on Saturday last for a trip through Florida. They will stop at Hotel Ponce de Leon, St. Augustine, and the Royal Ponciana, Palm Beach.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co. report a large and increasing business in their cut carpet department, and give as the reason that they have a cut order stock, set out entirely distinct from either their wholesale or retail stocks, which does away with all chance of disappointment in prompt delivery of goods from their samples. F. J. B.

ALEX. MORTON & CO.

WM. HUNTER, agent for Alex. Morton & Co., of Darvel, Scotland, has some interesting things to say on page 94 of this issue in relation to his offerings in new Axminster whole carpets and rugs, upholstery tapestries and nets, Madras and Indian crepe curtains and yard goods, &c. Mr. Hunter has these goods on view in his New York salesroom, 874 Broadway, and they should be seen by every buyer in the trade.

J. W. McFARLAND.

J. W. MCFARLAND, of Pittsburg, who, as stated in our last issue, has started as a commission merchant and manufacturers' agent for the sale of carpets, furniture, wall paper and housefurnishing goods generally, is well known to our readers. He has been in the wholesale and retail furnishing business for about eight years and in the carpet business longer than any other person now in the trade in Pittsburg.

He is a native of Pennsylvania and went to Pittsburg a generation ago, and, after being for five years clerk for W. McClintock (father of Oliver McClintock, of the present firm of O. McClintock & Co.), founded the house of McFarland, Collins & Co., which was succeeded by J. W. McFarland & Co. in 1877. There have been many sudden and unexpected changes and vicissitudes in the trade in Pittsburg and elsewhere during his time; he has sold Wilton carpets at $5.75 per yard and from that down to $1.50; has made money and lost money, but during all the changing conditions of business he has held his trade and has always paid 100 cents on the dollar.

A NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., carpet dealer advertises "Misfit carpets to fit any size room always on hand."

CHICAGO CARPET NOTES.

CHICAGO, FEBRUARY 26.

Simon Mandel, of Mandel Brothers, is spending a few weeks in the South. Under his management the carpet department of his firm has grown to be one of the largest and best in the city.

Several of the Chicago Carpet Company's road men have gone out again. They are looking after the firm's sample trade.

Mr. Miller, of the Chicago Carpet Company, has been visiting in the East for a few days.

Schlesinger & Mayer have fallen into line and are about to increase their stock of rugs. Mark Henry has just returned from Constantinople, where he bought a large amount of Oriental rugs.

Very few buyers have been in town recently. Among them were: H. H. Miles, of H. H. Miles & Co., Topeka, Kan., and W. V. Story, of Lafayette, Ind. R. H. H.

CHICAGO CARPET COMPANY.

IN the carpet jobbing trade of Chicago, the Chicago Carpet Company has quickly attained an especially conspicuous position, a result not at all surprising in view of the great extent and attractiveness of its offerings, many of which are exclusive with this company. It shows the complete line of Smith Savonneries, Axminsters, Velvets, Gobelins, Moquettes and Tapestries. It is the exclusive Western agent for the Eagle Supers and sole Western jobber of the Agra carpets. It also shows its own brands of Brussels and Extra Supers, comprising Government Standard Brussels, and Clairmont, Fairfax, Mumm's and Government Standard Extra Supers. Its offerings include likewise, Nairn linoleum and very extensive lines of Chinese and Japanese mattings, Smyrna rugs, Art Squares, oil cloths, cocoa mattings, &c.

With such lines as these the company is certainly in a position to offer the strongest possible inducements to all buyers.

J. W. DIMICK COMPANY.

OPENING the season with new and exceptionally attractive lines of Wiltons, Body Brussels, Velvets, Tapestries, Wilton rugs and their patent reversible Brussels Ingrains, the J. W. Dimick Company have every reason to be satisfied with their business to this date on the road and at their salesrooms in the Constable Building, Fifth avenue and Eighteenth street, New York. Any dealer who has not seen the Dimick Company's line should do so, for it will well repay inspection.

WILD & CO.'S ORIENTAL RUGS.

A. H. CAMPBELL, manager of Joseph Wild & Co.'s Oriental rug department, returned recently from a trip to Constantinople and Asia Minor, where he was very successful in procuring a great number of choice rugs and carpets for his department, in which the stock is now even more extensive and varied than it has ever been in any previous year. Mr. Campbell's offerings now embrace every desirable make of Oriental rugs and carpets, both modern and antique, including Persian, Indian and Turkish weaves, in an immense range of sizes and patterns.

BUSINESS IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, FEBRUARY 25.

J. Crawford Lyon, of Lyon Brothers & Co., left the 10th inst. for California and Japan.

Mr. Kahn, of Kahn Brothers, Bolivar, Tenn., and T. J. Abel, Decatur, Ill., were in town a few days ago, and R. T. Corbette, Atlanta, Ga., was purchasing goods here the 21st inst.

J. T. Billmyer, Shepherdstown, W. Va., is in town.

Minch & Eisenbrey purpose making extensive improvements, rendered necessary by their growing business.

S. Hecht, Jr., & Sons are offering an attractive line of carpets and mattings, comprising rich and varied patterns.

Trade is in excellent shape with L. & H. Jones & Co., and they are handling all kinds of floor coverings to advantage.

Albert W. Greene is visiting Western Maryland, with the view to engaging in the carpet and furniture business in that section.

Nathan Dunbracco, Jr., of the carpet and furniture firm of Evans & Dunbracco, was married to Mrs. Hattie E. Price the 12th inst.

Emerich & Newburger, the carpet and furniture dealers, contemplate making needed improvements in their store on West Baltimore street in the near future.

Grotjan, Lobe & Co. held a large trade sale of China and Japan mattings, carpets, floor and stair oil cloths at their warerooms on West Baltimore street the 14th inst.

The store of E. W. Dickerson, general merchandise and carpeting, Meherrin, Va., was destroyed by fire the 19th inst. Loss on building and stock, $3,000 ; no insurance.

Rountree & Co., general merchandise and carpeting, Quitman, Ga., have dissolved by mutual consent, A. J. Rountree of the firm retiring. S. S. Rountree will continue the business.

The American bark Fred P. Litchfield, from Hong Kong, China, with a full cargo of straw matting and Chinese produce, consigned to Lyon Brothers & Co., arrived here February 13.

William H. Scott, carpets and furniture, is making extensive alterations in his old store, No. 313 North Howard street, in order to bring it up to the standard of his new stores on the same street.

The store of H. F. Stowell's Sons, general merchandise and carpeting, Federalsburg, Md., with its contents, was destroyed by fire the 18th inst. Loss on building and stock of goods, $2,500 ; covered by insurance.

The George Behm Company, carpets and furniture, Canton avenue, have bought all the outstanding accounts and part of the stock of J. T. Newman, formerly Newman & Scally, carpets and furniture, South Broadway.

R. L. E.

THE Interstate Casualty Company, of which Geo. E. Hamlin is president and in which several prominent carpet merchants are stockholders, offers unusual inducements for accident insurance. It is not a mutual company, but is organized on regular business principles with abundant capital, and by fair and liberal treatment of its insurers is building up a large and constantly increasing business. A valuable feature is the partial disability clause in its policies. Particulars as to its various forms of insurance can be obtained by addressing the company at 62 William street, New York city.

FIRE IN THE FARR & BAILEY COMPANY'S WORKS.

SEVEN of the twenty-three buildings comprised in the floor oil cloth manufacturing plant of the Farr & Bailey Company, Camden, N. J., were destroyed by a fire which broke out in the coating and printing mill on the 15th ult. The loss is estimated at $30,000, but is covered by insurance. The firm employ 150 hands and all of them performed valuable service in preventing the spreading of the flames to the main buildings.

The flames did not consume any vital portion of the works. Three days after the fire the company were turning out 75 per cent. of their usual product, and in a week afterward were producing 90 per cent. Mr. E. L. Farr says that there will be no trouble in filling spring orders or in seasonable deliveries, and there will be sufficient time to restore any portion of the plant desired before the time for fall deliveries.

EUGENE HIGGINS' NEW YACHT.

THE new steam yacht Varuna, building for Eugene Higgins, president of the E. S. Higgins Carpet Company, is a model of her kind.

Her length on load water line is 260 feet, and her greatest breadth 34 feet. Her two sets of engines, with four cylinders each, will together develop over 4,000 horse power, and her rate of speed will be about 17 knots.

The principal apartments are contained under a long bridge dead amidships, which also incloses the openings to the engine room and stokeholes. The owner's stateroom occupies the entire breadth of the vessel at the front or break of the bridge deck. Other large staterooms, reception room, cloak room and attendants' room occupy the alleyways alongside of the boiler casing on the starboard side. The dining saloon is in the centre of the ship, or, rather, at the port, slightly abaft the centre where the pitching motion is least felt.

The vessel is lighted throughout by electricity. The salle à manger, drawing room, &c., will be splendidly fitted up and upholstered from special designs by competent artists and decorators.

ENAMELED LINOLEUM.

LYON BROTHERS & Co., importers and shipping merchants, Baltimore, call particular attention to Lancaster enameled linoleum. This new and desirable floor covering has been constructed to meet the wants of a large number of buyers who demand permanent brightness in their waterproof and grease-proof floor coverings. In Europe, where waxed floors are the rule, they are in wide and general use.

Imitations of hardwood floors are among the designs, and are used abroad as surroundings for rugs, presenting the same appearance as a polished hardwood floor, and requiring no labor to keep them in order. Lancaster enameled linoleum possesses novelty, utility and durability, and is one of the most attractive new things now on the market, dividing attention with Lancaster reversible oil cloth.

Many handsome patterns are shown, and among them may be seen, as above stated, accurate reproductions of hardwood floors largely used in Europe, presenting to the eye the effect of a polished hardwood floor without the attending noise and cost, and without the same difficulty in keeping clean, as its lustre is not easily dimmed.

FROM THE FIBRE TO THE FLOOR.

Principle of the Flyer System.—(A) Fig. 5 is the bobbin of roving from the previous process, standing loosely on a pin which is firmly set in the framework. The strand of roving (J) passes between the rollers (B), (D) and (C) as shown. The object of the rollers (D) is simply to convey the roving from one point to the other; the rollers (B) and (C), however, affect the draft, which is accomplished by running the roller (C) at a higher speed than that of roller (B). The twist is put in by the combination consisting of the band (N) and the flyer (H). The moment the strand of roving emerges from the last pair of rollers the twist is imparted by the flyer which is revolving at a rapid rate. The strand is twisted once around one of the side pieces, termed "legs" of the flyer (H), as shown in the sketch; then it passes through a twizzle at the extreme end and around the bobbin (G).

Cap Spinning.—Cap spinning is different from that of the flyer. The spindle is stationary, and a tube which receives the bobbin is placed on it. A rotary motion is communicated to this tube by the use of a whirl and belt. The twist is put in the yarn as the bobbin revolves.

Ring Spinning.—The bobbin is attached to the spindle in this case, and consequently revolves with it. A small piece of steel bent in the form of a half-circle, and termed the traveler, effects the winding operation. The twist is communicated by the revolutions of the bobbin. In the ring spinning process the bobbin imparts motion to the traveler, while in the flyer system the bobbin is actuated by the flyer. The shape of the bobbin is regulated by the up and down motion of what is known as the "rail."

Mule Spinning.—This method of communicating twist to the product of the card or wool comb will be understood by referring to the illustration (Fig. 6).

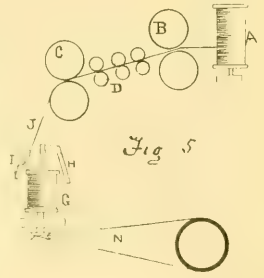

Fig 5

Principle of Mule Spinning.—Around the cylinder (B) is the cotton belt (C). This belt circles the pulley (D). As the pulley is attached to the spindle (E) it follows that when the former goes the latter must go with it. Hence, when the frame is started the shaft causes the cylinder (B) to turn; this starts the belt (C), the belt turns the pulley (D), and the spindle (E) goes too. As high as 5,000 revolutions per minute are made by the spindle. In the sketch is the spindle (E), on this spindle is the wooden bobbin (F), on this bobbin is the yarn (G). (I) designates the strand of yarn in process of being spun. (J) is the top of the spindle. There is a mechanism by which the yarn can receive a definite amount of twist; also a method by which the yarn may be wound onto the bobbin after it is spun. All this is done automatically.

Warping.—Warping consists in arranging the yarns in position for weaving. Some carpet are woven direct from spools in racks, others from warps. The latter are sized.

Principle of the Sizing Apparatus.—The preliminary operation of arranging the yarns in one great body is practically known as the dressing or warping process. It consists in adjusting the yarns longitudinally on the loom beam in such a manner as to facilitate their free delivery through the harnesses of the loom during the operation of weaving. This is accomplished by systematically arranging the previously prepared spools of yarn in the spool creel of the dressing machine, for the purpose of producing the desired pattern. The apparatus for applying the sizing to the yarns is shown in Fig. 7. (C) represents the yarn and (F) the fountain containing the sizing compound through which the yarn passes. As the compound is in the form of a liquid it readily adheres to the yarn as it passes through beneath the roller. The object of the large copper cylinders is to furnish heat i th which to immediately dry and harden the sizing on the surface of the yarns. The small rollers (D) are the ones which effect the pressing. Of course all these cylinders and rollers are held in position by a system of nicely arranged bearings. The warp for the loom is at (E).

Weaving.—Weaving, the art of interlacing one system of threads at right angles with another, is the most important branch of carpet manufacture.

Principle of the Loom.—(A) Fig. 8 is the breast beam of the loom, and (B) the lay. (C) beams on which are the warp yarns. (F) is the breastplate over which the woven carpet passes on its way to the cloth beam (H). (I) is a device which works the lay to and fro while the loom is in motion. (L) is an upright lever for communicating motion from the crank shaft of the loom to the jacquard attachment above. (K) are the heddles, which are operated by the hooks of the jacquard head. (D) indicates the location of the eyes in these heddles, the use of the latter being to hold the warp yarns in position, and to elevates and depress them according to the requirements of the pattern, and for the formation of the shed (E) through which the filling is conveyed by the shuttle.

Jacquard Attachment.—What is generally termed the Jacquard machine, is in reality an attachment. The accompanying diagram, Fig. 9, demonstrates its principle. The letter (A) in this sketch designates the upright wires, the top portions of which are bent in the form of a hook. The lower ends have small holes through them in which the strings of the harness (F) are fastened, and the latter are tied to the heddles of the loom. The hook ends of these wires rest above the knives (C). A device which is operated from the loom imparts motion to these knives.

PRINCIPLE OF THE JACQUARD ATTACHMENT.—When these knives operate and the hooks are in the condition shown, each would be lifted carrying the harness strings (F) with them, and consequently whatever warp threads are drawn in the eyes of these harnesses will be elevated. The cylinder (K) is a square shaped contrivance which extends the full length of the attachment, and comes in contact with each of the cross wires (C). A series of cards uniformly linked together and represented by (L) is the agency used for pressing the cross wires or needles forward over the knives (B). These cards have holes in them wherever necessary. Therefore when an automatic contrivance causes the cylinder to move forward against the heads of the needles, which it does at every revolution of the loom, all the blank spaces in the card cause the needles to move forward, thus bringing the hooks of the upright wires over the knives, for the needles and upright wires are connected and hence must move together. All the holes, however, have the opposite effect, for the ends of the needles slip through and they are allowed to remain in their original position, in which case the hooks of the upright wires do not come in contact with the knives, and consequently do not rise with the latter. All the warp threads belonging to the depressed hooks remain down, and the shuttle passes over them. The moment the cylinder retires the springs (H), which are maintained in proper position by the upright pin (I), and fixed in the frame (G), cause them to return back far enough to allow the hooks of the upright wires to clear the knives. The arrangement (E) is for the purpose of furnishing a support to that end of the needles. This is the principle of the Jacquard attachment.

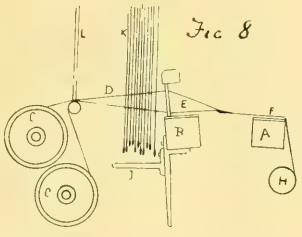

Fig 8

THE CARDS.—The preparation of the cards for the pattern is a distinct department. Special help are employed in the work. The machines for stamping are supplied with a series of finely adjusted steel punches, which are so arranged that they penetrate into the cardboard and make a round, smooth hole. The most expensive operation in Jacquard loom weaving, because of the necessity of the employment of the most laborious and time consuming skilled labor involved, has always been the transferring of the sketch to a readable design upon print paper and hence by another tedious process upon the cards. Various devices have been introduced to accelerate and consequently cheapen this process, but while the piano stamper and repeater have done much in the way of economizing time, they can only be regarded as an extension of the old method of hand stamping. The irksome task of transferring a theoretical representation of the fabric in the loom into a readable form upon print paper still remained, and to develop it into a weavable form on the cards the eye of the card cutter, in the process of reading on, must still cover every thread and pick it contains. Even with the employment of the greatest skill and the exercising of the greatest amount of care perfect accuracy is rarely attainable, especially in designs of some intricacy of construction. However, a comprehensive idea of this technical work may be gathered by conferring with the following designs : Brussels carpets are classified according to "frames," and the position of the different colors as well as the number is regulated by them. There are three, four, five and six frame Brussel carpets.

NEW GRAND ARMY RUG.

THE Bromley Brothers Carpet Company, Philadelphia, have brought out a new Grand Army (emblematic) rug which is certain to be in immense demand, for it is admirably adopted for any Post room, institution or American home. It is 30x60 inches, reversible and made of the best quality stock in lustrous and lasting colors. The pattern is exceedingly handsome and appropriate. Dealers should write to the Bromley Brothers Company for their circular, in which this rug is shown printed in colors, the effect of Smyrna rug weave and colorings being reproduced in a most admirable manner. This specimen of fine color printing must be seen to be appreciated.

ON page 100 of this issue W. & J. Sloane call attention to their very attractive offerings of Masland & Sons' Brussels and Ingrains, comprising a wide range of entirely new and especially desirable patterns in which the demands of every class of trade are very successfully recognized.

GEO. WEHN & SON, who operate the Pittsburg, Pa,. agency of Boyd, Harley & Co., have had a good spring trade, with more counties to hear from yet. They carry some stock for the accommodation of their trade, and are now offering special inducements in Japanese rugs.

THE demand for P. J. Murphy & Co.'s floor oil cloth has kept every printing table in their works at Camden, N. J., running to the fullest capacity since the opening of the spring season. The product has found an established outlet on the merits of the goods in quality and good selling patterns.

THE Worcester Cross Carpet Company, Limited, is the name of a new corporation formed at Kidderminster, England, to acquire the plant and business formerly carried on by H. R. Willis & Co. The Shuttle of the 15th ult. says that the new company starts under more advantageous conditions than any other carpet company ever formed in Kidderminster. The board of directors includes Messrs. H. R. Willis and E. C. Willis.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. A. C. Potter.

Mrs. Adeline Coleman Potter, widow of the late Thomas Potter, founder of the extensive oil cloth manufacturing establishment now conducted by Thomas Potter, Sons & Co., died at her residence, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, February 14, 1896.

Mrs. Potter was born in Philadelphia August 21, 1818, and was the daughter of George and Catherine Cameron Bower. During the Revolutionary War, her grandfather, Gen. Jacob Bower, raised and equipped a company of volunteers at his own expense while he was yet but a sergeant in rank. The company enlisted for the war and served under Washington to the end, the sergeant coming out of the conflict bearing the title of major general. He was one of the original members of the Society of the Cincinnati, formed during the first administration of Washington. Mrs. Potter was also a relative of the late Gen. Winfield Scott. A devout member of the Presbyterian Church, she was noted also for innumerable acts of unostentatious charity and benevolence.

She leaves a daughter and four sons, viz., Col. Thomas Potter, Jr., president of Thomas Potter, Sons & Co., Inc.; Wm. Potter, ex-United States Minister to Italy under President Harrison and first vice-president of the company; Henry Potter, second vice-president, and Charles Potter, third vice-president of the company.

Mrs. Potter was married to Mr. Thomas Potter April 26, 1845. Mr. Potter died September 29, 1878.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Ralph Graham, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Chestnut Hill, assisted by his father, Rev. Dr. Graham, of Philadelphia. The interment took place at Central Laurel Hill.

Thomas Varker.

Thomas Varker, formerly of the firm of Lord & Taylor, committed suicide in this city on the 24th ult., by shooting himself. He was born in Cornwall, England, in 1825 and came to the United States when sixteen years old. Soon after his arrival he became a clerk in the firm of Lord & Taylor. At the age of twenty-three he was made junior partner, and later a financial partner. He retired from business in 1881. His suicide was undoubtedly due to a temporary attack of insanity. He leaves four daughters and two sons.

Henry C. Bowen.

Henry C. Bowen, owner and editor of the Independent and at one time a prominent figure in the New York dry goods and carpet trade, died at his home in Brooklyn, on the 24th ult., of heart failure, at the age of eighty-four years.

Mr. Bowen was born in Woodstock, Conn. He came to New York when twenty years old and secured employment in the silk house of Arthur Tappan & Co. In 1838 he left this firm and started in business as a member of the firm of Bowen, McNamee & Co. About twenty years later Mr. McNamee retired from the firm, and it became Bowen, Holmes & Co. When the civil war broke out the country merchants in many cases repudiated their debts, and the firm was obliged to suspend. Mr. Bowen then retired from the dry goods business and devoted his attention entirely to the Independent, in which he had been interested for several years. He was at one time also the owner of the Brooklyn Union. He made the Independent a very valuable property, and continued to manage and edit it until his death.

He leaves a widow, who was his second wife, and eight children by his first wife survive him.

Mrs. Nannie Field, wife of Marshall Field, the Chicago merchant, died at Nice, France, on the 23d ult. She had been in poor health for several years.

Edmund D. Fenner died at East Orange, N. J., on the 26th ult. Mr. Fenner was sixty-eight years old and had been connected with the firm of Field, Chapman & Fenner, New York, for many years.

John T. Mitchell, of Urbana, Ohio, who had been ill for several weeks, died on January 20, aged fifty-two years. He had been a resident of Urbana all his life and was formerly a member of the firm of Hitt, White & Mitchell, now Hitt & Fuller, and of the firm of Hitt & Mitchell. Ten years ago he retired from the latter firm and removed to New York, but two years ago returned to Urbana and went into business again. He leaves a widow, two daughters and a son.

James L. Crane, whose death on the 12th was noted in our last issue, did a large carpet and furniture business at 181 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn. He died of heart failure while on his way to meet his wife, who was attending church service. He was born in Jamaica, L. I., and was sixty-three years of age. During the war he commanded the transport Commodore Perry. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters. His brother is John M. Crane, president of the Shoe and Leather Bank, New York city.

Michael Francis Mullins, youngest son of John Mullins, died in Jersey City, February 14, at the age of twenty-six. He was manager of the Jersey City branch of Mullins & Co., who also have carpet and furniture establishments in Brooklyn, Newark and Paterson, N. J. He had an interest in the firm. The funeral services were held in St. Mary's Church, Jersey City, on the 18th ult. His father and mother were on a trip in California when his condition became serious, and they were summoned to his bedside just before his death.

Hiram Pugsley, the oldest merchant and one of the most prominent citizens of Peekskill, N. Y., died at his home in that town on the 16th ult. after a brief illness. He was born near Peekskill sixty-eight years ago, and early in life became a clerk in the dry goods and grocery business. Later on he enter into partnership with Edmund Halleck. Upon the death of that gentleman, a few years ago, Oscar Griffin became a member of the firm, and the business was continued under its present name of Pugsley & Griffin. Mr. Pugsley was a director in the Westchester National Bank and a trustee and vice-president of the Peekskill Savings Bank. He was twice married and leaves one son.

The attention of New England readers is invited to the advertisement of Bennett & Brickett, manufacturers' agents and commission merchants in carpets, mattings, oil cloths, rugs and sundries at 26 Chauncy street, Boston. They offer special inducements to New England merchants to to buy direct from the mills, and offer a lot of Smyrna rugs at the lowest prices yet quoted for the same size of goods.

BOSTON SALESROOM OF S. SANFORD & SONS.

BOSTON SALESROOM OF S. SANFORD & SONS.

The illustration herewith gives a good idea of the appearance of S. Sanford & Sons' Boston office at 523 Washington street. It is in charge of Harry B. Richmond, who, as everyone in that section knows, is highly esteemed by the trade and who has ably distributed the Sanford goods throughout New England for several years past. The office is one of the best arranged and most spacious branch salesrooms in the country. Every pattern of S. Sanford & Sons' line is on view, and the liberal floor space affords opportunity to properly appreciate the beauty of the styles and colorings. Sanford's Tapestries and Velvets have grown steadily in favor with the New England trade and will doubtless rival any other make in the quantity used in that territory.

A. A. Vantine & Co. elsewhere announce a special sale of Japanese jute rugs at these surprising prices : Myrta, 7¼ cents a foot in bale lots ; Dantsu, 5½ cents, and Zendaka, 5 cents. They also make a special offering of Chinese and Japanese mattings in controlled patterns.

D. P. ERWIN & CO.

An up-to-date establishment in every respect is the jobbing house of D. P. Erwin & Co., Indianapolis, Ind. This firm carries an immense stock of carpets, rugs, mattings, floor oil cloths, linoleum, &c., and calls the attention of buyers to its offer to supply their wants in carpets at reduced freight expenses, and at prices competing with any other city in the country. Dealers will find in its offerings judicious selections from all the most desirable makes and patterns in floor coverings, and buyers will find that to do business with them will be both convenient and profitable.

Elsewhere will be found an advertisement of what is claimed to be the finest Keeley Institute in the world. It is located at North Conway, N. H.

Thomas Huston & Co.'s line of Extra Supers is in all respects the best they have ever brought out, comprising a remarkable range of extensive styles and novelties, well calculated to maintain and enhance the high reputation of the Globe Mills. See the firm's advertisement on page 95 of this issue.

TRADE GOSSIP

The Linn & Scruggs Dry Goods and Carpet Company, Decatur, Ill., are now occupying their new building at the corner of East William and North Franklin streets, that city.

Vogel & Snaman have a model retail carpet and curtain establishment on Penn avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. It is finely lighted and is noticeable for the neat and clean manner in which the stock is kept.

Joseph Watson, of Panton & Watson, Duluth, Minn., has retired from business and his place in the firm has been taken by William White, formerly of Donaldson & Co., Minneapolis. The firm name is now Panton & White.

Edward Groetzinger, Pittsburg, Pa., has recently put in a Singer electric carpet sewing machine, and is finding steady work for it in his wholesale cut order and retail business. Mr. Groetzinger lately completed a notable contract in carpeting and draping the Alvin Theatre of Pittsburg.

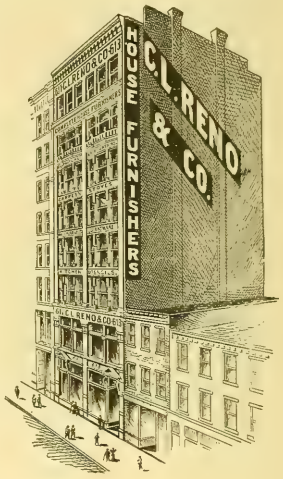
The entire establishment of Lowry & Goebel, Cincinnati, is being renovated and improved. New floors and ceilings are being put in, and the street floor presents an altogether new aspect with its 60 foot wide plate glass front. The improvements will be completed in ample time for the opening of the spring retail season.

The Truesdell Furniture Company, Muskegon, Mich., having disposed of its business stock, book accounts and fixtures to C. B. Mann, for some time its manager, has filed with the county clerk a notice of cessation of business. Mr. Mann expects to continue the business at its present location, 99 W. Western avenue. The Truesdell Furniture Company succeeded Jacob Hetz & Co. in 1887.

The Worcester Furniture Company has recently been incorporated, with W. S. Hawkins as president and treasurer, and Samuel S. Taylor as secretary, and will succeed to the business of the C. F. Adams Company at Worcester, Mass. The new enterprise will locate in the new building on the corner of Southbridge and Myrtle streets, and will start having the large and well established trade and good will of the Adams Company. It will also collect all the accounts of the old firm. Mr. Hawkins is well known to the Worcester trade as the manager of the C. F. Adams Company, who has built up a large trade and made this house a popular housefurnishing headquarters. Mr. Taylor has been associated with the old firm as cashier and bookkeeper for several years. The new store will be stocked and opened up for business early in March.

The firm name of Carl & Levan, Lockport, N. Y., has been changed to Carl, Levan & Carl, Edwin L. Carl having become a member of the firm. The new concern will move from its present quarters to the store No. 27 Main street, and will open March 1 with a fine line of Ingrains, Brussels, Body Brussels, Moquettes, Velvets, Axminsters and Gobelins, as well as a very large line of draperies and lace curtains. The firm is now composed of Charles W. Carl, C. D. Levan and Edwin S. Carl. The latter gentleman is well known throughout the city and county, having been nine years with M. N. Haskell and four years with W. T. Ranson & Co.

The new furniture, carpet and general housefurnishing store of C. L. Reno & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., was opened on the 17th ult. It occupies an entirely new building, 611 and 613 Smithfield street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. The structure is eight stories and has a frontage of 40 feet, and is equaled by few establishments in Pittsburg for perfect light. The whole second floor is devoted to carpets, and the third floor to curtains, fancy goods and crockery. The other floors are taken up by a complete assortment of furnishing goods. The general management is in the hands of H. L. McElroy, recently with Kauffman Brothers, and Mr. Reno is also giving his active attention to the business, which is steadily increasing.



The firm of J. S. Seaman & Co., dealers in carpets, furniture, draperies, &c., Reading, Pa., composed of Jonathan S. Seaman, Frederick S. Seaman, Alfred S. Seaman and William A. Lipphard, was dissolved by mutual consent on February 18, and Jonathan S. Seaman was appointed to receive all moneys due the partnership and to whom all demands on the same are to be presented. Frederick S. Seaman and Alfred S. Seaman retired, and Jonathan S. Seaman and William A. Lipphard have associated with themselves C. W. Elkins, who will continue the business at the same place, under the firm name of Elkins, Seaman & Lipphard.

Samuel S. Kerr, the new manager of the Kauffman Brothers' carpet and upholstery departments, Pittsburg, has made an excellent start in his new position. He increased the sales of January and February over the same months of last year, and will inaugurate new plans for enlarging the business during the active spring months. The carpet and upholstery stock has been removed down to the fourth floor and now occupies a finely lighted space 140x120 feet on the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. Mr. Kerr went from the store of James Moriarty, Cleveland, to Pittsburg on January 1, and had held a prominent position with Mr. Moriarty for some time past. He has made a very favorable impression on the firm and department employees of Kauffman Brothers. Henry Kauffman, of the firm, is taking a special interest in these departments and intends to develop them to still greater proportions.

Sibley, Lindsay & Curr, Rochester, N. Y., have secured the contract for supplying the new court rooms in that city with carpeting. They will furnish 1,900 yards of Bigelow Wilton. They have also recently supplied the Lawrence Inn, Gouverneur, N. Y., and the Nicholls House, Bath, N. Y., with Brussels and Velvets, the selection of the goods for both houses being left entirely to the judgment of Mr. Turpin, the manager of Sibley, Lindsay & Curr's carpet department.

The business of the Queen City Carpet and Furniture Company, Springfield, Mo., has been succeeded to by Conrad Eckas, under his own name. The Queen City Carpet and Furniture Company was well and favorably known in the wholesale trade as a progressive and prosperous concern. It had ample capital and an excellent credit record, having always paid 100 cents on the dollar. Under the experienced management of Conrad Eckas the business will doubtless become even more extensive and profitable than ever before.

There is in course of erection at McKeesport, Pa., by R. E. Stone, the carpet, furniture and housefurnishing goods dealer, a six story structure fronting 32 feet on Market street and extending back to Strawberry alley 140 feet. It will be when completed 114 feet high and the highest building in the city. Steel, stone and brick will be used in its construction, and it will be virtually fireproof. It will have freight and passenger elevators and speaking tubes, be heated by steam, supplied with water from an artesian well on the premises, and in all respects a fin de siècle structure, costing all told $75,000. The projector and owner of this fine structure is one of the youngest of the Tube City's business men, but by persistence, push and confidence in the common people he has succeeded beyond all competition. R. E. Stone is a native of Pennsylvania, having first seen the light of day at Brownsville, Fayette County, thirty-four years ago. His first experience in mercantile life was as a drummer for Keech & Reno, of Pittsburg, and he was a successful salesman. He is the father of the instalment business in McKeesport and commenced there in a modest way about ten years ago. He had a partner for a few years, but for the past five years has been carrying on the business alone, and by judiciously advertising in the local and neighboring papers has increased his trade until he is by far the largest dealer in housefurnishings in the Monongahela Valley.

Dornan Brothers have the salesrooms of the Monitor Carpet Mills in the new Bourse Building in Philadelphia, with New York offices at 108 Worth street and in Chicago at 147 Fifth avenue. They can justly claim that their product, which has been distributed to retailers for over thirty years, requires no puffing. They make only standard qualities and their styles are surpassed by those of no other concern in the world.

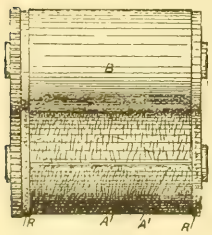
No. 16,217. August 25, 1894. Floor Coverings.—Ireland, D. W., 10 South Gray street, Edinburgh. Issued January 29, 1896.

American cloth, linoleum, india rubber, gutta percha, or like material is united to felt, &c., to inform a soft material with a washable surface.

No. 16,222. August 25, 1894. Embossing.—Hofmeier, J., 2, V, Straussengasse, Vienna. Issued January 29, 1896.



Paper, calico, oil cloth and the like are embossed by means of a machine comprising an embossing roller, A, and impression roller, B. The pattern plate, carrying a leather grain or other pattern, is bent around A and secured at one end by screws, A¹, or other means, the opposite end being free to expand or contract. The plate is held down at the sides by rings, R, or other means which will not interfere with the free expansion or contraction of the plate.

No. 16,233. August 25, 1894. Rugs and Mats.—Winsor, G. F., 66 Hill street, Peckham, Surrey. Issued January 29, 1896.

Natural wool mats are imitated by sewing wool or other fibre, dyed or undyed, to a carpet or other backing.

No. 16,376. December 28, 1894. Linoleum.—Thomson, D. E., Gillespie Street Works, Gilmore place, Edinburgh. Issued January 29, 1896.

Relates to machines for making inlaid or "through and through" linoleum. The ground fabric a is passed beneath a cutter, d, which cuts out spaces for the reception of the tesseræ which form the pattern. After leaving the cutter the sheet a travels together with the canvas backing k on the table c^5. The table c^5 consists of strips of wood secured to metallic bands passing round drums, c^3, c^4. An intermittent motion is given to the table by means of the pawl c^7 acting on the ratchet c^6, the stoppage of the table exactly in the position necessary for the insertion of the tesseræ being effected by the tapered rod p^6 engaging in notches, p^1, in the disk p, which is fixed on the spindle of the drum c^4. The tesseræ are cut from the material b, b^1 by the cutters e, e^1. During the cutting operation the cutters are vertical and the material is pressed against them by the beams f, f^1. After cutting the cutters are turned down into the horizontal position and the tesseræ ejected through the guide plates k^4 into the spaces destined to receive them. While the tesseræ are being ejected the material b, b^1 is fed downward, and in some cases a transverse motion is given to it to enable more of the material to be used up. After all the tesseræ have been placed in position the fabric is passed under a hydraulic press, g, to consolidate it, and finally between rolls t, t^1. The head g^2 of the press and the rolls t, t^1 may be steam heated. If the fabric should have a tendency to stick to the head of the press it is detached by the roller r, which is moved rapidly forward. The ground material a may be dispensed with, and the fabric built up of tesseræ only. In this case the cutter d is put out of action, and strips of material to form selvedges are fed on to the canvas.

No. 16,456. August 29, 1894. Jacquards.—Holdsworth, S., Henderson House, Chester road, Kidderminster. Issued January 29, 1896.

In jacquard apparatus for the manufacture of carpets, &c., such as is described in Specification No. 10,811, A. D. 1888, the card cylinder c, Fig. 2, has an additional movement at right angles to the needles, so that each card, being suitably perforated, may be made to do the work of two. The cylinder is mounted upon a sliding rod, c^1, by which it is moved to and from the needles, and it is moved up and down by sliding bolts, p^1, operated by cranks and levers r^1, r, r^2, r^3, r^4. The crank lever r also controls the action of the cylinder operating catches k, k^1 by means of the rods t^1, t^2, pivoted spring lever, t^4, and rod, t^3, the catches themselves being actuated by the cord s in the usual way. The plate d, Fig. 8, which carries short needles, e, is mounted upon the face plate b by means of pins, d^1, working in bearings, b^1, at the bottom, and a catch, d^2, to engage with a projection, b^2, at the top.

IMPORTS OF CARPET WOOLS, CARPETING AND OTHER FLOOR COVERINGS.

THE H. B. CLAFLIN COMPANY.

It takes a goodly crowd of buyers to make much of a show on the big carpet floor of the H. B. Claflin Company, but while everything is done quietly and without bustle the footings tell. It is at this season of the year that the great mass of middle class buyers select their goods. While of course the volume of trade during February has not equaled that of January, which was the best month ever known in the department, the sales of the past fortnight are much larger than those of the corresponding time last year.

With the mills the house controls and those from whom it is the largest purchaser, the range of fabric and patterns is so enormous that the buyer for the highest class carpet establishment could easily and safely pick out his entire stock without leaving the floor.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO.

On page 2 of the cover Arnold, Constable & Co. offer for immediate delivery a very extensive line of Japanese mattings and a large assortment of Japanese jute carpets. As especially prominent importers of such goods Arnold, Constable & Co. are in a position to offer the strongest possible inducements to buyers. Their line of mattings embraces all grades and an immense range of novel and exclusive styles at very low prices, while in Japanese carpets they show specialties of exceptional interest as regards both quality and styles.

M. H. Marcus & Brother, of 154 and 156 West Twenty-seventh street, New York, are finding large sales for their patent adjustable stair pads. They are also sales agents for the Lewis carpet linings. Their prices for the spring season have been reduced to a point which will compel attention at the hands of close buyers.

As previously announced by us, Herbert Plimpton has become sole agent in the United States for the Kirkcaldy Linoleum Company, Limited, and Shepherd & Beveridge, of Kirkcaldy, Scotland, and has their lines now on view at his New York office, 100 Worth street. Mr. Plimpton's offerings comprise a great variety of new and highly desirable patterns in linoleum, cork carpets and floor oil cloth.

Despite the large increase in the machinery plant of the Fries-Breslin Company made last fall, the spring sales of their Smyrna carpets and rugs have kept ahead of the production. The company are making every effort to satisfy the trade in deliveries and will aim to give all customers a portion of their goods at least for the opening of the retail season. The sales on their new grade of carpet size, Monarch Smyrnas, have been beyond all expectation, and are an evidence that a popular priced and reliable quality of large size Smyrnas will sell readily. The company will resume the enlargement and rebuilding of the old portion of their plant at Camden, N. J., as soon as the cold weather is gone. Everything is running to full capacity at the main works in Camden and at the two factories outside.

ART IN A FLOOR OIL CLOTH CATALOGUE.

The very handsome insert page in the front part of this issue of The Review is almost a facsimile of the front cover of the new catalogue in colors just issued by the Farr & Bailey Manufacturing Company, the floor oil cloth manufacturers.
